Mr. McInnes introduced a bill to impose a poll tax of $500 on every Chinese and Japanese entering Canada, and to increase the share of revenue to British Columbia to be derived therefrom.

Sir Henri Joly introduced a bill to amend the Weights and Measures Act. He said one of the objects of the measure was to provide that the bushel in Canada in certain specified articles should be uniform with the weight prevailing in other countries. The bill also proposed to make changes regarding the verification of weights and scales, and to provide for the inspection of scales at collieries.

The bill was read the first time.

Sir Henri Joly introduced a bill to amend the Adulteration Act by providing an easier and safer mode to get at parties guilty of adulteration. It would require the production of the names of manufacturers.

Another bill proposes to amend the Gas Inspection Act by providing for the classification and grading of gas companies upon the number of meters belonging to the company, instead of upon the number of customers using the gas. Another measure introduced by Sir Henri made it illegal for a man to have an illicit still in his possession, and still another bill provided that the handling of petroleum in unmarked packages would be an infringement of the law. These bills were read the first time.

Mr. Mulock introduced a bill to abolish the Civil Service Superannuation Act and to substitute therefor a system of retirement. This retirement fund would be created by deductions from the salaries of officials and invested to their credit, interest to be computed half-yearly at the rate of 5 per cent. The fund would be the property of the officer, or his legal representatives. This retirement fund could not be touched by creditors, neither would it be assignable while a civil servant was in office.

Sir Charles Tupper read a telegram he had received from Sand Point, B.C., calling attention to the lack of postal and customs facilities on the line of the Crow's Nest Railway.

The Minister of Customs and the Postmaster-General said they would look into the matter.

The Railway Question Again.

Mr. Maclean moved the adjournment of the House, in order that he might, in respect of "The Railway Situation," as outlined in the Globe, impress upon the Government the necessity for enacting some provision for the protection of the public by allowing all railways running rights over any new lines. The Grand Trunk Railway, in particular, should have running rights over and new railway chartered to reach the Province of Manitoba; so should the C.P.R., and if this be done the public will be protected. Furthermore, there ought to be a complete control taken by the Government over the rates on any railway receiving a charter from this time out. It will not do to put in a general clause, such as is called the model clause, which is inserted in some bills, but there should be a specific clause giving a full protection to the people, and full running powers to any railway in the country that may desire to obtain them. The country lying between Winnipeg and Port Arthur is the key to the whole transportation problem. It is like a funnel through which all traffic between the East and West must pass, and the Government have the opportunity to-day to protect the public interest in a way they never had before.

Dr. Sproule thought nobody would deny there was a growing popular feeling in favor of better Parliamentary control of railways. He outlined the principles he would like to see enforced to secure this.

Mr. Blair said he had promised last session that a railway commission would be constituted by act of Parliament, but it had been impossible during the recess to take the question up. The experiment might be made with a commission having larger powers than the Railway Committee of the Privy Council, but he could not hope even that would provide an ideal remedy. There would always be trouble and disputes, more or less. In the case of the trouble between the C.P.R. and G.T.R. in regard to the Pacific Junction, the Railway Committee could do nothing, because, while the C.P.R. had discontinued the use of that line because they thought the G.T.R. were treating them unfairly, yet the C.P.R. had not made complaints.

The matter then dropped.

The Yukon Railway resolution was advanced a stage, and after deciding to take up the bill in committee on Tuesday, the House, pretty well fagged out by the all-night sitting, adjourned for the day at 6 o'clock.

Central Prison Reservoir.

Toronto, March 12.—The emptying of the water mains at the recent Central Prison fire demonstrated the need for further fire protection there. Instead of laying a larger main, it has been decided to construct a reservoir in the square enclosed by the prison buildings and put in a stationary pumping engine. The reservoir, which is now in course of construction, will be 100 feet long, 52 feet wide and 17 feet deep. Its capacity will be over half a million gallons, and the roofs of the buildings will be drained into it.

Drummond R. R. Investigation.

Ottawa, March 12.—The Senate has decided not to proceed with the enquiry into the Drummond County Railway matter until the special committee of the House of Commons has made its report. Sir Mackenzie Bowell's motion thus stands over till Monday, March 21.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. Mills stated that the plebiscite bill would be introduced within a fortnight.

A NURSE'S STORY.

Tells how she was cured of Heart and Nerve Troubles.

The onerous duties that fall to the lot of a nurse, the worry, care, loss of sleep, irregularity of meals soon tell on the nervous system and undermine the health. Mrs. H. L. Menzies, a professional nurse living at the Corner of Wellington and King Streets, Brantford, Ont., states her case as follows: "For the past three years I have suffered from weakness, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart. The least excitement would make my heart flutter, and at night I even found it difficult to sleep. After I got Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I experienced great relief, and on continuing their use the improvement has been marked until now all the old symptoms are gone and I am completely cured."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure Anæmia, Nervousness, Weakness, Sleeplessness, Palpitation, Throbbing, Faint Spells, Dizziness or any condition arising from Impoverished Blood, Disordered Nerves or Weak Heart.

THE PRESS GANG.

A Number of Interesting Questions Discussed—The Newspaper Postage Question—An Excursion This Year.

Ottawa, March 12.—The question of newspaper advertising was discussed from a variety of standpoints at yesterday morning's session of the Canadian Press Association. The subject was broached by Mr. F. James Gibson, advertising manager in Messrs. A. A. Vantine and Co.'s great store in New York. Mr. Gibson is a former Canadian, one of the many who have achieved marked success in the United States. "The publishers' duty to the advertiser" was the title of Mr. Gibson's paper.

Newspaper Postage.

The imposition of postage on newspapers was discussed for a short time. Mr. J. S. Willison favored leaving the matter to the individual publisher, to take such action as suggested itself when occasion arose. This view met the sentiment of the meeting.

The Quebec Press Association will, as a whole, be admitted to membership in the national body.

Hon. Clifford Sifton has offered to arrange an excursion for journalists to the coast. The Executive Committee will confer with him on the subject.

OVERWHELMING PROOF.

Another Witness for Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Record Grows.

London, March 7—A commission appointed to examine into the vast amount of evidence given in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, as the only sure cure for Bright's Disease, Diabetes and all other kidney diseases, would find the people a unit in favour of this God-sent remedy.

London has had hundreds of cures through Dodd's Kidney Pills. And the record is growing longer and stronger daily.

Fred J. Palmer, Nelson street, reports that after suffering the agonies of an advanced stage of Diabetes and Kidney disease for five years a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have not failed once in London.

Queer Heart Feeling.

Queer feelings in the heart are daily complained of by multitudes of people—don't know the cause, but it makes them nervous irritable and unfit for either work or pleasure. Mr. B. A. Ross, Ailsa Craig, Ont., explains it. He says: "It came from la grip. I was irritable, worried, dizzy, short of breath and such a queer feeling in my heart that I thought I would give up the ghost. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills changed all this, and I am free to-day from all these troubles."

DEPUTATION TO TORONTO.

The Fire Underwriters' Association Interviewed Satisfactorily Yesterday.

Mayor Davis and Councillor White, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, returned last evening from Toronto, where they interviewed the Fire Appliances Committee of the Fire Underwriters' Association in regard to the extra expense which would be entailed in having Peterborough placed in Class "A."

At present the town is in Class "B," and the Association has been anxious to see a fire alarm system introduced, as well as several other improvements, but the deputation represented to the committee that there were so many telephones in use in private dwellings in Peterborough that the facilities for turning in an alarm could not be surpassed. It was also pointed out that if the town was deficient in some of the requirements of Class "B," advantages were possessed which more than offset these deficiencies.

Before the deputation left, the committee was thoroughly satisfied, apparently, that Peterborough was well qualified for Class "B," and the matter of placing the town in Class "A" will come up at the annual meeting of the Association.

AN ADDRESS.

Accompanied by a Presentation to Mr. George Dawson.

A number of the friends of Mr. George Dawson assembled at McCallum's Restaurant last evening and partook of an oyster supper, which was tendered the guest of the evening ere his departure for the Klondyke.

During the evening the following address was read by Mr. Ed. Cookson:

PETERBOROUGH, March 11th, 1898.

George Dawson, Esq.,

DEAR FRIEND,—It is with mixed feelings that we learn of your intended departure from Peterborough.

We regret to learn that a tried friend and whole-souled companion under all circumstances is about to leave us, but yet we feel that with your ambitions, a larger field than Peterborough is desirable in which to allow you more scope for your energy and ability.

In the far off Klondyke, where men of sterling character and straightforward business methods are needed, we feel sure that you will make your mark and by reflecting credit on your native town make amends to us for your absence, which we assure you will long cause a void in your large circle of friends.

The Great West lies before you! Go forward and remember that our best wishes are attending you under all circumstances.

We ask your acceptance of this small token of our friendship.

Mr. Marvin Kennedy then presented Mr. Dawson with a handsome compass.

Mr. Dawson suitably acknowledged the gift, and a number of his other friends present expressed themselves in complimentary terms to him.

TAXES PAID ON THE INSATLMENT PLAN.

THAT IS HOW THEY WILL BE COLLECTED THIS YEAR.

One Half to be Paid on the First Day of August and the Other Half on Nov. 15th—Discounts and Penalties Arranged.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council held last evening, the question of the payment of the taxes in instalments was again brought up, and two following motions discussed:

Mr. McWilliam's motion:

That the taxes be payable in two equal instalments, the first on the 1st of August, and the second on the 1st of December; that if the second instalment is paid with the first on or before August 1st that a discount of two per cent. be allowed on the second instalment; that the first instalment be not paid on August 1st, 5 per cent. be added to it, and if the second instalment be not paid on Dec. 1st, 5 per cent. be added to it.

Mr. Langford's motion:

That the taxes may be paid in two equal instalments the half or whole up to August 1st with a two per cent. reduction; from that date to Sept. 15th the half or whole may be paid at par; that up to Nov 15th the half or whole may be paid with 2 per cent. added; that after Nov 15th 5 per cent. be added to all taxes unpaid, inclusive of the 2 per cent. previously added.

Town Solicitor Edwards pointed out that Mr. Langford's motion was illegal according to the statute, and as Mr. McWilliams motion was not exactly what the council wanted, the latter, seconded by Councillor J. M. White, moved the following, which appeared to meet the requirements of the case fully:

1. That the statute labour tax and dog tax be payable on the first day of August, 1898.

2. That all other taxes be payable in two equal instalments, one half on the first day of August, and the other half on the 15th day of November, if the first instalment be punctually paid.

3. That for prompt payment of all or one half of such taxes on or before the 1st day of August a discount be allowed of two per cent on the whole or half, as the case may be.

4. That upon the first instalment, if unpaid after the 1st day of August, 2 per cent be added.

5. That upon all taxes unpaid after the 15th of November, there be added 5 per cent., including the percentage already added, if any, on the first instalment.

The new market bylaw was then taken up, and Market Clerk R. H. Green, who was present, pointed out several deficiencies and omissions, and the following additional changes were then inserted: Potatoes sold by bag, 3c; hogs, calves and sheep each, 5c; all potatoes and also meats sold by the quarter or greater quantity to be weighed hereafter. Charges on weighing meats to be: Up to 5 lbs. 1c; from 5 to 20 lbs, 2c; from 20 to 50 lbs, 3c; from 50 to 500 lbs, 5c.

The matter of devising some method for the destruction of caterpillers was brought up and various schemes mentioned. As the Finance Committee were instructed to report on the matter, no steps were taken. Toronto has already spent $1,500 in trying to get rid of the pest, and Councillor Cobb says he has a man who will clear the town of them for $50.

"THANK GOD FOR TEA."

A Cup of "Good Tea" and its Healthfulness—Useful Hints Where to Get it and how to Prepare it.

There have been many controversies on the subject of tea in relation to health, which have thrown much light on the judicious use of this popular herb. Sydney Smith in his memoirs says: "Thank God for tea! What would the world be without tea! how did it exist? I am glad I was not born before tea." If we take up certain well known effects which tea produces, we may find lying under them properties of which good use may be made. If there is excessive weariness, or chill, or flagging of the body or mind, or both, it will be found the real remedy to give a cup or two of "good tea." But when we come to talk of "good tea" which has such a healthy, rousing, stimulating action, we come to the chief difficulty of prescribing how this decoction must be attained. In the first place tea is only known by the drinking of it, just as the pudding is known by the eating of it. There isn't a tea sold that will give better value than an English blend of tea, sold by E. F. Mason & Co., 429 George street, which this firm has been introducing in Peterborough. It has been mixed in London, Eng., which is the tea market of the world. What they don't know about tea there is hard to learn. Mason & Co. have the benefit of their experience and know they can rely on the blenders. It is a clear, fragrant tea with a delicious aroma all its own. The flavour and strength of these teas is due in a a great measure to their being entirely prepared by cleaning machines and their absolute freedom from adulteration and colouring. They are untainted by the impurities inseparable from tea-twisting by unclad, unsavoury Mongolians. Those who try these special English blends will miss the greasy Chinese flavour, and a short acquaintance soon demonstrates the pure and cleanly article, the refreshing, soothing and wholesome article that can truthfully be called "good tea."

But having found out where good tea may be procured, does not constitute the whole secret of brewing a good cup of tea. One may count it good gain to have known where the finest pickings of the tea field may be procured, and yet be altogether unskilled in the art of drawing off a good decoction therefrom. It is of great moment to speak of the state of water which is used in making tea. "Hard" water, as it is called, is not as good as "soft." Mr. Mason has found this one of the hardest difficulties to contend with. The blend of tea that he has supplied to several persons in the same neighbourhood has been found to produce far better results in the hands of some of the neighbours than in others. Why this should be it was at first difficult to understand, but after careful investigation and suggestions by the English blenders. it was found that the kind of water used in brewing the tea was the chief cause of the difficulty. The "hard" water that contains a large quantity of lime and iron will not make good tea, no matter how excellent the brand may be. It arrests the distilling process and spoils both strength and flavour. It is not so difficult to meet this evil where the only water to be had has a great deal of lime in solution. Boiling this water makes it deposit much of its lime. Mr. Mason advises that if a very small bit of soda is mixed with it in boiling, it lets down its lime more quickly and completely. "Soft" water full of decayed vegetable and animal matter, will not do so well as pure soft water. The waterworks water of Peterborough is much better than the well water for making tea, although it also is charged with limestone, but not to the same extent as the well water. Anyone may easily notice the difference between the luminess of our well water and the waterworks water by inspecting the inside of their tea kettles. Use the best soft water available with these English blends of tea referred to at E. F. Mason & Co., and you will be pleased. Every housekeeper of course knows that she must regulate the amount of tea to the size of her family, and after having warmed the tea pot, put in a teaspoonful of tea for every two cups of infusion required. Let it draw for five or seven minutes on the back of the stove—but not to boil. It is always best to use water that has not been boiled before, and use it just when it first commences to boil.

HURRAH FOR THE BOYS!

The Contest is Booming—So is the Boys' Branch.

The score stands to-day:—Blues, 130 points; Reds, 80 points.

The Blues are elated at the signs of victory. Their motto is:—"Pluck, Stick-at-it-ness and Victory."

The Reds are only creeping as yet. Redmen seldom run, but they often get there.

The boys' rally last night was a splendid one. Mr. Archie Fronde gave an able address on "Believe." The boys joined in the discussion.

When the secretary gave out last night the announcement regarding the annual camp. There was a storm of applause.

Now is the time to join the Association.

SONS OF ENGLAND.

The Grand Lodge in Session at St. Catharines—The Local Representative is Mr. Harry Beale.

Mr. Harry Beale is representing Lansdowne Lodge at the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Sons of England, which is being held in St. Catharines.

The election of officers took place immediately after the opening of the morning session yesterday and resulted as follows:

Grand President—E. Parnell, jr., London, acclamation.

Grand Vice-President — C. Hodgetts, Toronto, defeating F. R. Jackson of Montreal and J. Aldridge, of Toronto.

Grand Secretary—J. W. Carter, Toronto, acclamation.

Grand Treasurer—B. Hinchcliffe, Toronto, acclamation.

Auditors—George Clay, Toronto, and H. Furze, Montreal, acclamation.

Trustees — T. Elliott, Brantford; T. Sargeant, Toronto; J. Boxall, Lindsay.

Deputy Supreme President for South Africa, T. N. Dyer, King William Town, South Africa.

District Deputy Grand Presidents for Toronto—Centre Toronto, R. Patching; West Toronto, Geo. Stardy, ; East Toronto, W. H. Randall.

The interest in the election of members of the General Purpose Committee may be guaged from the fact that there were 49 nominations for the 20 seats. The following were the successful candidates, the largest vote being polled for Mr. John Aldridge, who received 69 votes:—John Aldridge, Toronto; J Gibson, Ingersoll; J Fry, Sarnia; T Elliott, Brantford; A Tattersall, Montreal; Frank Vipond, Toronto; J W Kempling, St Catharines; Geo Clotworthy, Toronto; J C Swait, Toronto; J W London, Belleville; W Hancock, Hamilton; A Hannaford, Hamilton; Sam Wilkinson, Toronto, S J Davis, Ottawa; Richard Ivens, Toronto; H Leverton, Hamilton; W Irwin, Brantford; S W Burns, Toronto; W J Partridge, Toronto.

At a meeting of the General Purposes Committee held at the close of the session Mr. Aldridge was re-elected chairman for the ensuing year.

In the contest for next place of meeting Ottawa, Galt, Sarnia and Windsor strove hard to capture votes—the Windsorites presenting every delegates with a silk ribbon bearing the legend, "Windsor, 1899." Alas for prophecy, the returns showed 68 votes for Ottawa, 11 for Galt, 16 for Sarnia and 16 for Windsor.

In committee of the whole "lost" was the fate of 90 per cent. of sessional paper clauses considered.

A warm discussion was waged over the Hospital Board and official organ clauses. The committee rejected the proposal to give subordinate lodges power to form hospital boards. The proposed increase in taxation for the official organ met the same fate.

Clauses 85, 88 and 89, proposing different innovations in the administration and charges of the beneficiary department, fell by the way, as did the proposal to debar alterations in the constitution for three years.

RALLY OF BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE.

THE PASTORS AND DEACONS ALSO HOLD A CONFERENCE.

A Number of Interesting Addresses Were Delivered During the Day by Prominent Speakers.

A successful rally of the Young People's Societies of the Peterborough Association was held in the Lakefield Baptist church on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the 8th of March.

The day was all that could be desired, so far as sunshine was concerned, but the attendance was not as large as had been hoped for, owing to the bad roads throughout the country.

In the absence of the president, Rev. V. H. Cowsert of Belleville, the pastor of the church, Rev. H. S. Erb, was appointed to preside at both sessions.

After opening exercises the Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, M.A., Port Hope, gave a very instructive and interesting address on "The Relations of the Pastor and the Local Union."

This question, he said, has two sides. The title may be read in two ways. It may mean the pastor's relation to the local union, or the relation of the local union to the pastor. Instead of choosing one or the other of these let us consider both.

THE PASTOR SHOULD BE,

1. A friend. He should know personally every member by name and by heart as well. He should so bind himself to the members that they will each one consider him a personal friend to whom each one of them would be willing to go for sympathy and for advice. This is not always the case.

2. An adviser. The pastor ought to be in a position to advise. He is generally somewhat older than the young Christians of the union. He has had special training and experience in Christian work, and special opportunities of observation, whereby he ought to be possessed of special knowledge. Here there is a claim which the pastor should have upon the young people. He should be willing to advise and they should be willing to be advised.

3. A patient leader. Young people are impulsive. They are energetic, and aggressive. They like to do something and do it quickly. Their blood is hot and they do not like to be held back from carrying on their plans. Very apt are they to chafe under restraint and threaten to "smash something" if they don't get their own way.

Years ago before the B. Y. P. U. was ever dreamed of, the young people of a Baptist church conceived the idea of having a meeting of their own, apart from the general prayer meeting. The church objected and the young people persisted. Then the church consented on condition that the pastor and a certain deacon, or both, should ALWAYS BE PRESENT.

Then the young were angry. They would not be guarded as though they were children. They would not be treated as incapables. The pastor and the deacon went patiently on, and allowed the storm to blow over without showing any sign of disturbance. That pastor and deacon are both in Glory; those young people are now pastors and deacons, and deacon's wives and church workers, and there came no calamity upon the cause, because the leaders were patient.

4. A watchful leader. The pastor, if he understands his business and his opportunity, will seek to draw out the talents of his young brethren and sisters.

Now consider the Union and the Pastor. What will the members of the Union do for their pastor? They will (1) be his friends.

2. Kindly advisers. It does not follow that because a man is a pastor, he is therefore a Solomon. Pastors are not always wise. They sometimes devise unwise plans. They sometimes make mistakes. It happens then that clear sighted, clear minded, single hearted young people can give the pastor wholesome and needful advice at times, and wise will be the pastor who will receive this advice and act upon.

3. Patient followers. Endurance is not always on the side of the pastor. He it is who sometimes becomes unruly and on the patience of the young people. He may be given to scolding. Don't scold back, but pray for him. He may be hasty in word and deed. Don't retaliate, but give him time to cool down and repent. He may be overbearing. Be you forbearing. Thus patience will have its perfect work, and you may lead the pastor to a higher degree of grace, and help him to a better frame of mind. May the Lord bless our local unions, and may these suggestions start a train of ideas in the minds of the listeners, and lead to a brisk discussion of this very important topic.

Then followed an address by Rev. W. Pear of Norwood, on "The Union in our Country Churches," in which the speaker gave his own experiences as to the blessings obtained through the carrying on of young people's work. The last address of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. T. Watson, of Colborne, on "A Vision." Young and old were touched and helped by the thoughtful, beautiful and inspiring words of Mr. Watson on "Profound Vision."

The evening session was opened with a bright song service, led by the pastor of the church. Rev. Mr. Edmison of the Lakefield Methodist church, then led in prayer. Two addresses were then delivered, the first by Rev. C. E. McLeod of Gilmour Memorial church, on "Our Young People's Educational Work."

The speaker said that we cannot boast of the great age of our educational work as Baptist Young People, but we can boast of the high standard and strong vitality. It has passed the dangerous period of existence and is now of the promising age of six years, and we hopefully expect that before it there lies many years of successful work. At the convention of young people which met in Indianapolis in 1893, the Christian Culture Courses were adopted as the distinctive feature of Baptist Young People's work.

In speaking of this work I wish to consider three things: 1. What the work is; 2. What it aims to do; 3. What it has accomplished.

WHAT THE WORK IS.

The Christian Culture Courses consist of three distinct courses, which may be conducted as one whole or separately. 1. There is first the Bible Reader's Course. In the report of the state of our churches which is read at our annual conventions one of the saddest facts recorded is the dearth of family worship in our Baptist homes. That it is so in their churches does not make matters better. Nothing can make up for the lack of this most vital essential in the home. We need not wonder if the work drags, for how could it do otherwise in the face of such a condition? I believe there is hope for the future in the work of our young people. They are having impressed upon them the importance of Bible study and prayer. They are learning, what perhaps many of their elders were never taught, that the salvation of Christ is not only forgiveness of sins, but the development of Christian character.

I believe you will agree with me when I say that such development can only come where the word of God is read, and pondered and practised.

Ignorance of the word of God is to be found not only amongst old, but also amongst the young in our Baptist churches. A young lady of 18 was asked by her teacher what the name of that child was which was found among the rushes of the Nile. After thinking for a while she replied, "Jesus Christ." What will correct this ignorance? Engaging in the earnest study of just such a course as the Bible Readers' Course, daily portion.

I DO NOT ASSERT

it positively, but am of the opinion that much of the so-called liberality and broad charity that we meet with comes from ignorance of the truth upon which we profess to stand. Nothing that I know of will correct that tendency so well as the carrying on of the work of Sacred Literature Course. The plan of the Sacred Literature Course is to provide in thirty weekly lessons, a clear, concise and complete statement on the subject for the year, which serves along with the Bible as the guide of the student in the course.

There is the third Conquest Missionary Course. This course provides for the enlightment of our young people in the work of the Lord at home and abroad. The work of our own missionaries in all lands is brought before us week by week. We have learned of India, China, Japan, Africa, and the Islands of the sea from these lessons as perhaps we would never have learned.

The second thing I want to speak of is, what our educational work aims to do. The great difference between it, and that of Chautauqua is, that we do not educate for education sake, but for efficiency in Christian service.

We are now anxious that our young people should acquire knowledge for its own sake, or should acquire knowledge for the intellectual entertainment it would give, but we are anxious that by the training provided they may obtain a true conception of the end for which they have been redeemed.

The aim is a four fold one. 1. To instruct and abolish the ignorance that prevails regarding God's word, our distinction principles as Baptists, and our mission work at home and abroad. 2. To kindle the enthusiasm of young people in the work which is dear to Jesus. 3. To deepen the spirituality of our young people so that their influence may tell on those about them. 4. To lead them into active service for Jesus Christ for the salvation of souls.

The third thing I want to speak of is what our educational work has accomplished. I wish I could take you with me in spirit to some of the great conventions that I have attended. They are having testimony meetings—one after another rises to tell of the great blessings that have come to them. Pastors speak of the help the work has been to them.

The second address was given by Rev. A. T. Dykeman of the Murray street church, Peterborough, on "Our Society's Monogram." The address of Mr. Dykeman was interesting and profitable. The meeting was closed with prayer by Rev. H. S. Erb.

BAPTIST PASTORS CONFERENCE.

The Quarterly Conference of the Pastors and Deacons of the Baptist churches in the Peterborough Association, was held in the church in Lakefield on Wednesday, March 9th, 1898. The president, Rev. A. T. Dykeman, of Peterborough, occupied the chair.

The public session began at 10 a.m., with a short service of prayer and praise. Verbal reports were given by Pastors Watson, Colborne, Dayfoot, Port Hope, MacLeod, Gilmour Memorial, Erb, Lakefield, and Dykeman, Peterborough, respecting the work in their fields. The reports were on the whole of an encouraging nature.

Pastor Dykeman presented a helpful paper on "The Pastor's Life." The importance and sacredness of the pastoral office were emphasized, and the necessity that those who occupied it should be men of blameless character, earnest and devout in spirit. A discussion followed on the paper in which the Superintendent of Home Missions, Rev. J. P. McEwen, and the members of the conference took part. This brought the morning session to a close, and after prayer the meeting adjourned.

The afternoon session was opened with a service of prayer and praise conducted by Deacon G. W. Mann.

Pastor Dayfoot gave a very interesting and instructive address on "Savanarola, the Prophet of Florence."

Pastor Watson read an important paper on "Hindrance to Baptist Progress in this Association." He indicated a number of the hindrances that block the way of the onward march of the Lord's work. A very helpful discussion followed the reading of the paper.

Pastor MacLeod read a paper on "Foreign Missionaries and our Relations to Them." He spoke of the character of the men and women who are engaged in the work, and showed they were our brothers and sisters and our substitutes.

This brought the afternoon programme to a close, and after prayer the meeting closed.

The evening meeting began at 7.30 p. m. Pastor MacLeod conducted a song service, after which Rev. J. P. McEwan, Superintendent of Home Missions, gave an earnest address on the work of Baptist Home Missions in Ontario and Quebec. A collection was taken up, after which the conference adjourned.

MAKE OLD DRESSES NEW!

Diamond Dyes the Simplest and Easiest Way of Home Dyeing.

Their Great Superiority Over all Other Ways of Home Dyeing—A Ten cent Package Will Colour From one to Five Pounds of Goods—Colours that Will not Wash Out in Strong Soapsuds.

Success in home dyeing depends wholly upon the kind of dyes used. With Diamond Dyes, if the simple directions on the package are followed carefully, and the special dyes for cotton are used for cotton and mixed goods, and the wool dyes used for woolen, there is absolutely no chance of failure.

Diamond Dyes are very simple and easy to use, and by using a stick to lift the goods while in the dye bath, there is no need of soiling the hands. For beauty, brilliancy, and fastness, no other dye stuffs, whether for home use or for the dye-shop, equal the Diamond. The latest scientific discoveries are used in their manufacture, they are guaranteed the strongest and fastest of all known dyes, and their solid colours will not wash out in the strongest soapsuds, nor will they fade when exposed to the sunlight.

Try Diamond Dyes once, and see how easy it is to make old and faded dresses, waists, ribbons, coats, etc., look like new.

WOMAN'S WAY.

Gert's Gossip on Timely Topics.

Good gracious! what's our town council good for any way? They are continually holding gossip club meetings to talk over electric railways to Bobcaygeon, to pave George street and to collect taxes by instalments. Life isn't all beer and skittles; and excursions round the lakes not all of life. Whether we pay taxes in a lump or by instalments our city fathers will be sure to see that the lump or slice is large enough, and what's the good of paving George street like a palace if we can't get to it? I wanted the worst way to get down street to do some shopping, but Mrs. Streets Wanlker, who couldn't live without a daily trip down town, told me that the street crossings were too horrid for anything—slippery, slimy and ankle deep in filth. She said that her husband had told her that it was as bad for a lady getting down town as getting to Dawson City, and he had a joke about calling Peterborough "Dawson" city—I don't just know why, but something on account of a certain chairman of a council committee. I wonder who the president of the Street Committee is, if he has a wife, and whether she doesn't pull his hair for allowing the street crossings to remain in such a wretched condition when there are lots of men anxious to work who could be got to keep them clean? And they wouldn't elect women to the council—O dear, no! I wonder then how some old women happen to get into the council after all.

Certainly, no strong glasses are needed to convince any one that of all the lifeless institutions our street railway stands preeminently at the head. Whatever spirit it had has been buried out of sight during the winter. What are we going to do about it? I had been working harder than usual this week and wanted a new suit for my boy. The street cars were silent as the tomb; I could telephone for a cab, of course, but didn't feel that I could afford to add to my expenditures for that afternoon. So I walked. Snob walking!—hopped, stepped and jumped, rather—to get clear of the slush and wet. There are men who profess to be able to tell a man's character from the way he wears out his boots. I wonder if any of these fellows who pretend to understand this science of scarpology were around this afternoon, and if they could tell a woman's character the same way they tell a man's. Well, I went in with my boy to Mr. LeBrun's and asked to see some of their fine tweed suits for the early spring months. I wanted a nice serviceable suit for school, but good enough for Sunday wear for a while until the warm weather. I think they have a better selection of boys' suits this year than any year before, and I've been fitting my boys here for going on eight years. It is my husband's favourite store when he wants a good suit made up. I liked the new checks they have, but for bigger boys than mine. The plain Scotch tweed mixture of undecided colours, I find suits my boys the best. They are sensibly cut, and the suit I picked out fitted him as if it had been made especially for him. And I'll say this much for Mr. LeBrun, that the making, finish, linings, and button holes were as neatly and satisfactorily done as I could make myself. The suit made such a dear little man of my boy. It pleased me better than any other shopping I did that afternoon. If the street railway doesn't move I guess I'll have to learn to ride a wheel—I can't afford to trundle along in the ways of my forefathers.

I was almost tempted this week to take advantage of the cheap fares to Toronto to do some shopping. Mrs. McA—— went up on the C.P.R. on Thursday evening to be in time for the "Friday bargains," and I am just as glad I didn't go now. She was disappointed with her visit; says she could do just as well at home; besides she likes our own clerks better, and you haven't to be hurried and jammed so. Anyway, I do not approve of running off to the city to spend your money out of town, even if one could do "a little better." I had been looking at a pretty open-face watch in Schneider's last week, and, of course, I had an idea that I could do better in Toronto. But by friend Mrs. A.—— had bought two watches in Montreal not long ago from the same dealer, and gave one to each of her girls—the two eldest of the family. In two weeks one of the watches had become hopelessly unreliable and one had ceased to go altogether. Well I remember I had pretty nearly the same experience with my boy's watch that I bought some years ago not a hundred miles from Peterborough. However, I have faith in Mr. Schneider, besides he is always on the spot if it should show any of the vagaries of the feminine timepiece, he will be on hand to rectify it. Perhaps even more astonishing than the watches themselves is the loyal trust which women put in them. If a woman knows that her watch and the sun have radically different ideas about the arrival of noon, she will go by her watch every time. I have known a good many of my friends who have selected their watches at Mr. Schneider's and I can't recall a single poor timepiece among them all. I'll stay at home and buy the watch I was looking at.

RUNNING SORES.

There is nothing that will so waste and wear away the health as a running sore. Burdock Blood Bitters heals and dries up sores and ulcers, no matter how large or of how long standing, by cleansing the blood of all impurities and sending rich pure life-giving blood to the diseased part, thereby supplanting the decaying tissue with healthy healing flesh.

Mr. Stephen Wescott, Freeport, N.S., found (Burdock Blood Bitters) a wonderful blood purifier and gives his experience as follows: "I was very much run down in health and employed our local physician who attended me three months, finally my leg broke out in running sores with fearful burning. I had thirteen running sores at one time, from my knee to the top of my foot. All the medicine I took did me no good, so I threw it aside and tried B.B.B.; when one-half the bottle was gone, I noticed a change for the better, and by the time I had finished two bottles my leg was perfectly healed and my health greatly improved."

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief until I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

HE IS A RAT DRIVER.

LUMINOUS PAINT SUCCEEDS WHERE BELLS, TAR AND TRAPS FAILED.

A Man Who Makes Good Money Clearing Warehouses and Other Concerns Around New York of Troublesome Rodents—Began the Business In Stockholm.

Haibtues of Riverside drive, between Seventy-fifth and Eightieth streets, on very sunny days have noticed a middle aged man carrying a case, which appears to be about three feet long by one foot deep and two feet wide. It is apparently a black leather case with an ordinary grip handle to the upper part, and the man, seeking some unfrequented piece of wall, generally one of the embrasures, places his case on the wall, smokes his pipe and loiters around, looking at the ever changing river and its traffic. If others come around, he moves on, but if not he may stay there from two to three hours in the full sun. He is a rat catcher, or rather a rat driver. He works only in large warehouses and does not touch the smaller dwelling houses or flats except in rare cases.

He is a Scandinavian whom nothing will warm to conversation but his native tongue. His case is wood on the back, ends and bottom and wire on the front and top. There are neat spring shades which roll down over front and top. In this cage are eight or ten large rats. If any one comes near, down go the shades, but as long as the coast is clear the shades are up and the rats are running around basking in the sunlight. If he takes you into his confidence, he will tell you that it is with these rats he clears buildings. The other day he said:

"When I was living in Stockholm, the large granaries were full of rats, and a reward was offered to clear them. Many tried. Traps were set by the hundred.

"One man built a room as large as an ordinary parlor, cased it with tin and fed the rats with oatmeal scented with oil of aniseed, gradually laying trains of this feed to the room until he had all the rats on a string. Then he fitted an automatic drop to the entrance, and when his rats were feeding he caged them all, several hundred. The first man who did this went into the room with dogs to kill them and was nearly eaten himself, like that farmer out west a few weeks ago. The second man starved and then poisoned his, but in a week there were just as many rats as ever. The supply was inexhaustible from the rivers and quays. Poisoning was no good because of the terrific smell, and so I took the matter in hand.

"I thought it over and finally set a trap and caught some rats. Then I tied a piece of wire round their necks, to which I slung a little tinkling brass bell, and then I let the bell ringers loose in the building they had been caught in. They knew the runs and went to join their friends and relatives, who of course ran from the bells. The more they ran the more ran the bell carriers, until the building was 'hoodoo' in rat language and not a rat would enter.

"If I could have lured back my bell carriers, all would have been well; but, familiarity breeding contempt, the rats grew accustomed to them and in a few months were back again, and as building after building had been cleared by this trick there was not a rat in the city who did not know of the bells. Then I tried tarring some rats with strong smelling coal tar, which rats cannot bear and will avoid if possible, and this answered for awhile, but a fire occurred, and a rat, tar coated, ran out of the blazing building with his fur ablaze and, going into another building not in danger, set it on fire—wood gets very dry in those old buildings over there—and so an ordinance was passed prohibiting the use of tar.

"I had made money, and I came to this country. I did well for some years, but in the depression my capital ran short and I failed; so then I took to clearing business places of rats again and am doing quite well. The first thing is to learn the lay of the building where the rats come from. If a grain elevator is near, clear the elevator and trap those in the other places. Rats very seldom run around more than one building, except as an overflow. Then, having determined that point, try the tar, then the bell, and after that these fellows in the cage. They are coated with luminous paint, and being exposed to the sunlight here can be taken to a building tonight, loosed and will fly through the runs, spreading fear wherever they go and creating a stampede. If you have ever seen luminous paint effects, you can readily understand it. The great beauty of this plan is that the rats do not live more than 24 to 48 hours after a coating with this paint, so the novelty never wears off. It is a preparation of lime, which I discovered for myself, and has to be newly made and mixed like a varnish. This closes the pores of the skin, and after chasing around to catch up with the flying relatives the rat is in a sweat, and that finishes him, and they never get used to it. Will a rat sweat? Well, you cage a rat, and then let a terrier roll the cage around for a few minutes, and you will see a rat as damp as if dipped into a pail of water. I get as high as $20 a month for keeping some places in this city clear of rats, and I work several other cities as well. The only thing I am afraid of is the society (Prevention of Cruelty to Animals), but I have nearly made enough to start in my own business again, and then I will cease rat driving. Sell my business? No, I may want again in this city of ups and downs."—New York Sun.

A MILD MANNERED PIRATE.

An Ex-Clerk Who Joined the Fierce Sea Rovers of the Spanish Main.

"The Buccaneers of Our Coast" is the title of a series of narrative sketches that Frank R. Stockton is writing for St. Nicholas. In speaking of John Esquemeling, who joined the buccaneers and became their historian, Mr. Stockton says:

It must have been a strange thing for a man accustomed to pens and ink, to yardsticks and scales, to offer to enroll himself in a company of bloody, big bearded pirates, but a man must eat, and buccaneering was the only profession open to our ex-clerk. For some reason or other, certainly not on account of his bravery and daring, Esquemeling was very well received by the pirates of Tortuga. Perhaps they liked him because he was a mild mannered man and so different from themselves.

As for Esquemeling himself, he soon came to entertain the highest opinions of his pirate companions. He looked upon the buccaneers who had distinguished themselves as great heroes, and it must have been extremely gratifying to those savage fellows to tell Esquemeling all the wonderful things they had done. Esquemeling might have earned a salary as a listener.

It was not long before his intense admiration of the buccaneers and their performances began to produce in him the feeling that these great exploits should not be lost to the world, and so he set about writing their lives and adventures.

He remained with the pirates for several years and during that time worked very industriously getting together material for his history. When he returned to his own country in 1673, he there completed a book which he called "The Buccaneers of America; or, The True Account of the Most Remarkable Assaults Committed of Late Years Upon the Coasts of the West Indies by the Buccaneers, etc. By John Esquemeling, One of the Buccaneers, Who Was Present at Those Tragedies."

From this title it is probable that in the capacity of reporter our literary pirate accompanied his comrades on their various voyages and assaults, and although he states he was present at many of "those tragedies" he makes no reference to any deeds of valor or cruelty performed by himself, which shows him to have been a wonderfully conscientious historian. There are persons, however, who doubt his impartiality, because, as he liked the French, he always gave the pirates of that nationality the credit for most of the bravery displayed on their expeditions, and all of the magnanimity and courtesy, if there happened to be any, while the surliness, brutality and extraordinary wickedness were all ascribed to the English.

How a Chameleon Changes Color.

The chameleon is a little lizard who possesses the wonderful power of changing his color to suit his own convenience. Florida produces several species of these lizards in abundance. This is the process by which the little lizard effects his changes:

Certain colors through the medium of the optic nerve produce a contraction or expansion of the pigment or color cells. The result is a protective tint or one which resembles that upon which the animal is resting. The eye receives the stimulus or impression, which passes from the optic nerve to the sympathetic nerve, so reaching the various series of the lizard's little color cells under the skin.

The pigment cells are distributed all over the body with more or less regularity, and upon their contraction and expansion depends the prevailing color of the animal.

The scientist discovered this by blindfolding a lizard and found that when it could not see the color of the surrounding foliage it ceased to change its own color.—St. Louis Republic.

It Was Only the Old One.

A rough, awkward handed Lancashire girl was broken in by a benevolent lady, who tried to do a good turn for everybody, and in an evil moment she was given to clean two very ancient openwork silver salt cellars with those rich and rare old royal blue glass receivers inside. One was over 100 years old, the other had been broken and recently patched, of which fact the girl was aware. She broke the other old one, and when she told her mistress she said she was "glad as how it was only the old 'un."

A CATCH.

[From the tragi-comedy of "The False Artificer."]

We know what is, but what will be
We know not. No one ever know.
The gods themselves cannot foresee
(If gods there be) what men may do.
Prophecies are arrows shot in the dark
At an unseen mark.
If they miss it, we let them go;
If they hit it, as sometimes they will
When the night winds thither blow,
We magnify the skill
Of the hand that held the bow.
The only thing we know
Is that we live and die,
Not the inscrutable why!
Poor puppets of crumbling clay,
The world goes round and round,
And we go with it—here today,
Tomorrow underground!

Soiled Woolen Gowns.

Spots and marks on woolen gowns are easily removed by rubbing them well with a cake of magnesia. Hang the gown away for a day or two and then brush thoroughly. If the spot has not entirely disappeared, repeat the process. Other gowns besides those of wool can often be cleaned by this means, and laces that are slightly soiled are freshened by rubbing them well with magnesia and allowing it to remain on the lace for a short time.

In the olden times it was no uncommon occurrence for sentitive, delicate women to be beheaded for trivial or imaginary offences. In this respect the world has made great strides. Nevertheless, women still suffer death in a slower and more torturesome form, and for no offence whatever, save a little ignorance, or possibly, a little neglect.

The woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organs, whether she realizes it or not, is being slowly but surely tortured to death. She suffers almost continually with sick headache. She has pains in the back, what she calls "stitches" in the side and shooting pains everywhere. She experiences burning and dragging down sensations. She becomes weak, nervous and despondent. She neglects her home, and is petulant with her husband. If she consults the average physician, there is not one chance in ten that he will hit upon the real cause of her trouble. He will attribute her bad feelings to stomach, liver, heart or nervous trouble. A woman in this condition should consult some eminent and skillful specialist who has had a wide experience. Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has, with the assistance of a staff of able physicians, prescribed for many thousands of women. He has invented a wonderful medicine for ailing women, known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has stood the test for thirty years. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood, making them strong and well. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the nerves. It transforms weak, nervous women into healthy, happy wives and mothers.

"I was an invalid for over a year with change of life," writes Mrs. C. Smith, of Orr, Cascade Co., Mont. "Had pains across the pit of my stomach and such extreme weakness I could hardly walk. I took one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and five of his 'Favorite Prescription' and am entirely well."

MR. SMIFF'S PROSE POEM.

A Gushing Tribute to Ontario's Climate.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—That interesting scribbler of rhyme, and barrack room jingle, who spoke of this country as the Lady of the Snows, should come over and spend an afternoon with us and bring his scribbling pad with him. It is a pity he hasn't his woodshed empty and the sleighing gone. Up in the back fifty-acre, so to speak, the Yukon section for instance, it is said to be a bit nippy at times, and around Davis' Straits, the morning air, through January, may be a trifle bracing, but as for Ontario, our own galorious buxom, blushing Ontario, she is in the banana belt, and we have our arms around the belt, you bet. This great Midland district has not had at any time this winter more than good sleighing, and to-day the sleighing is gone. The caw, caw of the crow floats in upon the semi-responsive ear, as the rising sun steals over the eastern forest tops, to pierce the lattice with its radiant rays, and awake our slumbering senses to refreshed activity. Lady of the Snows, indeed, why in another week the papers will be ringing in the old perennial stories about bars and beetles destroying the peach crop.

A MEDICAL CYCLONE.

A Cyclone of Popular Approval Seems to be Sweeping Over the Province From East to West in Favour of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Peterborough praise of the good effects of these pills is unstinted, and is heard on all sides. Our leading druggists report sales at a rapid rate, and give as a reason the uniform satisfaction obtained from the use of the pills by everyone who tries them. In addition to this, there is the fact that several prominent citizens of Peterborough have been cured of distressing complaints and cured quickly and permanently.

The principle upon which these pills act is apparently to restore the blood to a healthy condition and to revitalize and energize the nervous system, the motto chosen for these Pills, that is: "They restore the snap, vim, energy and strength you have lost," is perhaps the most correct description of their effects. They take a worn-out human frame and bring it back to a condition of perfect manhood or womanhood, as the case may be, and they do this by natural means, they do not stimulate for the time being, but they re-create vital force, energy and abounding health for the whole system.

One of the most prominent cases which have come under our notice is that of Mrs. Nellie Willard, George street, Peterborough. In grateful acknowledgment of her restoration from a state of nervous prostration and general physical weakness to health and strength, Mrs. Willard gives Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills the credit in a letter, written at Peterborough on March 4th, 1898.

PETERBOROUGH, March 4th, 1898.

GENTLEMEN,—Acting on the maxim "give credit where it is due," your pills have done me all sorts of good. When I began taking them two months ago my physical and nervous system was completely run down and exhausted. My blood apparently was like water—at any rate it imparted no strength to my body. It was only by the strongest exertion of my will power that I could overcome my physical weakness sufficiently to attend to my household duties; even then the nervous tension and the drain on my little strength and vitality was so great that I was completely exhausted on account of the impoverished condition of my blood. My heart became weak and not strong enough to perform its life preserving duties, the result being that my nights were sleepless and I became a victim to acute nervousness. From the time I got up until I retired I was in a state of constant nervous apprehension (without cause except my ill health.) I felt sick and miserable all the time, and so despondent that life did not have any bright side.

Early last January I began taking the Dr. Ward's Pills—not expecting any benefit, but willing to take anything that might restore my health and strength. I took them according to directions (four pills every day). In less than one week I could tell that at last I had found the medicine my enfeebled system needed, so continued taking them, and in consequence I am to-day a well and hearty woman. They made my blood healthy and strong, restored my heart to full strength, enabling it to distribute the healthy, strong blood made by your pills, through my system, eradicated sleeplessness, nervousness and all other distressing, life destroying symptoms caused by loss of oxygen in the blood. To be concise, from a very sick woman without strength, stamina or vitality, in eight weeks they have given me vigourous health and strength.

Yours truly,
MRS. NELLIE WILLARD,
George street, Peterborough, Ont.

Out in the surrounding districts also, the fame of these wonderful Pills has spread like wild-fire.

From Campbellford the following account reaches us:

Alderman J. H. Kent, the popular liveryman, who has been in business for 30 years in Campbellford and who is well known all over Northumberland county and Eastern Ontario, and who has for eight years, and is now serving in the council, evidently thinks well as Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, for he writes as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—In response to your enquiry as to my opinion of your Blood and Nerve Pills, I have no hesitation in saying that I do not think they have any equal as a medicine for restoring strength and vitality to enfeebled systems, impoverished blood and weak nerves. They invigorate the body, impart strength to the blood, nerve system and heart, and remove insomnia or sleeplessness, and do it quickly and surely, besides they are a splendid tonic for those who have lost appetite.

One year ago my daughter was confined to her bed for seven weeks with typhoid fever which left her physical and nervous system very weak, so much so that she was unable to go out all winter. Her nerves were very weak, she could not stand any noise, she was very pale and had no strength. She could not rest at night and had no appetite, her whole physical system was run down and it seemed impossible for her to regain the strength and health she had lost through the fever.

Some few months ago she commenced taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and her restoration to health and strength caused by them in a short time, is remarkable. She thinks, and so do I, that they cannot be equalled as a cure in cases of impoverished blood, excessive nervousness sleeplessness and loss of appetite.

I heartily recommend them to any one who has lost strength and vitality and who may be suffering from inability to get restful sleep, and loss of appetite, who wishes to get strong and well, quickly and cheaply, for I am sure they will not fail to restore strength and health in a short time.

Yours truly,
J. H. KENT,
72 Front Street,
Campbellford, Ont.

It is little wonder that so much is being said about the merits of these Pills, their own effectiveness having caused them to become the leading medical specific in a remarkably short space of time.

We understand that the price of these Pills is 50c per box, sufficient for two weeks treatment.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

THE WHEEL.

Peterborough is out for the Ontario Provincial Meet to be held on the first of July this year and so far as heard from Ottawa is the only place in the field against us. The Ottawa wheelmen are placed in a peculiar position in the matter, as it is the Amateur Athletic Association of that city which is applying for the Meet, whereas the Ottawa Bicycle Club pledged its support to Peterborough long before their city ever thought of trying to get it, so that the wheelmen are divided against themselves and a large portion will vote, as promised, for Peterborough.

The local club has sent out the following circular to the members of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association:

To the Members Canadian Wheelmen's Association Province of Ontario:

GENTLEMEN,—With you rests the decision as to where the first provincial meet, that of 1898, shall be placed. The Peterborough Bicycle Club asks your support and hopes to gain your approval, and has pleasure in placing before you its claims for your support.

Give the Club its Dues.

Peterborough has put up good rattling fights for the Meet. Twice it has been beaten—Waterloo one year—Quebec another. Pluck and sand deserve recognition. The club relies on its record in this respect.

Peterborough has grown up with the Association. Its membership has kept pace with the best. It now stands fifth largest in the Dominion.

Peterborough has never sulked, but even when beaten, has gone on and rallied up an increased membership and has backed the Association. "What is best for the general interests" has carried weight with Peterborough.

Give its Enterprise a Lift.

Peterborough will place at your disposal one of the finest tracks and best grounds in Canada. Coulter's mile in 1895, unpaced, 1.57½, shows what the track offers. Half-mile, perfect bottom, full track width. Fenced; with ample grand stand accommodation, and all within a half-mile of centre of the town.

A Low Cost Trip.

Peterborough is so centrally situated that the thousands may reach it at a small expense. The C.P.R. and G.T.R. offer capital facilities. Either line from East or West, and the G.T.R. from North and South, pass many trains through the town. You can reach Peterborough as early as 5 a.m. from the East and leave as late as 11:30 p.m. You can reach Peterborough as early as 8:30 from the West and leave as late as 8 p.m. Trains in between from all directions. Cheap holiday fares will be the rule. Figure out how little expense you can come to the Meet.

Hotel Accommodation.

The visiting wheelman likes to know that he has a roof over his head—though he doesn't always use it. Peterborough has 22 hotels. Don't fear lack of accommodation. A complete system of billets will be made out and provision will be made to engage in advance for all who apply in time accommodation either at hotels, boarding houses or private families. If you write in time your wishes will receive attention.

Peterborough's Attractions.

To the wheelman who wishes to enjoy a holiday as well as attend the Meet, Peterborough offers unrivalled attractions. Through the generosity of wealthy citizens we have the most extensive park system in Canada. Capital places for pleasure or exercise. A splendid ¼ mile track in the East Nicholls Park. Jackson Park is a beautiful spot. Peterborough has capital roads leading out to the well known summer resort Chemong Park, a half hour's ride—and to Lakefield—a 10-mile spin—below Stony Lake. The latter lake is the favourite camping ground and holiday place for thousands. Hundreds of fine cottages adorn the islands. Good hotels abound.

Down-the-river trips are enjoyable. Idyl Wyld and Jubilee Point on Rice Lake are favourite summer resorts. Boats run on close time during the day. The boating and fishing at these places is first-class.

The Meet Doings.

Peterborough will put up a full quota of races and contests. The prize list will be liberal and—to the winners—remunerative. There will be ample chance for all. If you live to get here you will see some of the best sport on wheels that the last ten years has disclosed. The club will be assisted by a committee of leading citizens, who will see that everything is put on right up to the handle.

The Outlook.

As the first of July falls on a Friday there is the advantage of practically three days for an outing. Friday can be given to the meet, and Saturday morning as well; Saturday afternoon will take the visitor to any of the popular resorts in the neighbourhood, where Sunday can be pleasantly and restfully spent. Early boats and trains will enable the visitor to reach home on Monday morning in time for work.

Wee1men—Support Peterborough, and the best interests of the Association, and send the meet to Peterborough.

HOCKEY.

A Port Hope exchange gives the following account of a game played in Millbrook on Friday: "The Ontario's sent a team out to Millbrook last night to battle with the local hockey team. Shortly before 8 o'clock the two teams lined upon the ice before Referee Renwick. The game started off with a rush, the smallness of the rink puzzling the visitors. Combination was not indulged in. The puck, for the greater part of the first half was in the Millbrook territory, Port Hope scoring twice, Millbrook once. After a short rest play was resumed and the quality of hockey was an improvement on the first half of the game. The game was by no means free from roughness, Millbrook being the aggressors. Ten minutes passed before Millbrook tied the score. Port Hope tried again and again to score but without success although the puck was travelling around dangerously close to the Millbrook goal most of the time. Port Hope played a strong individual game, and had it not been for Dan Tucker, (Wasson, of Peterborough), in goal, and their centre forward, (Crossley, of Peterborough), Millbrook would not have been it. The time agreed upon was 20 minutes each way and at the end of which the score was 2—2. The visitors having to catch the train could not continue play.

BAFFLED THE DOCTORS.

But no Power to Resist the Healing Tide—South American Kidney Cure Never Fails.

"For fifteen years I was racked by severe kidney troubles. For weeks at a time I was unable to go about so severe were the pains in my side. All remedies failed me, and my case baffled physicians. I was induced to try South American Kidney Cure. It worked like magic, and in a very short while the pains left me, my strength returned, and I am well."—Mrs. V. Matthews, Greywood, N. S. Sold by H. SCALES LIKE A FISH Terrible Condition of a Baby from a Scaly Skin Humor.

Our baby boy was born July 1, 1894. In the fall his legs became rough, from some skin trouble, from his knees down to his toes, also his arms, breast, and abdomen. We tried a great many different kinds of remedies, but without success. In the summer of 1895 it became a little better, but in the fall, and all winter, it was a sight to behold. He had scales on his body and arms like a fish, and almost black. In fact we were ashamed with it, but could not help it. We were almost in despair until we had used CUTICURA REMEDIES for about four days, when we noticed an improvement. Every time my wife washed him, her apron became covered with a scale-like skin. To-day it is gone, his skin is as smooth as any child, and we owe it, with the blessings of God, to CUTICURA REMEDIES. If you can use this testimony, we give our full consent.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, gentle applications of CUTICURA (ointment), and mild doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, greatest of blood purifiers and humor cures, constitute the only infallible external and internal treatment for all forms of skin, scalp, and blood humor known.

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Pure Tea Store, 393 George street. After critically examining the tea, she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another gentlemen says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and our own raising of Pickled, Smoked, Salted Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and at price to suit all. Come to the best, get the best, and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 393 George Street.

ROARING, RAGING RIVERS RIPPING

AND CAUSING IMMENSE DAMAGE.

Breakwater at West London Collapses—People Have to Flee for Safety—The Grand River Vies With the Thames in Doing Harm at Galt and Brantford—Particulars.

London, Ont. March 14.—The River Thames burst through, Sunday afternoon, the breakwaters and flooded the suburb of West London. Thousands of dollars worth of property was destroyed, and many people narrowly escaped with their lives. At midnight the water was still rising and the full amount of destruction could not be ascertained.

For many years West London has had annual battles with the river. A system of breakwaters has been built, which encircles the town, and was supposed to defend it from spring freshets. Friday the Thames rose several feet and Saturday night's rain raised the river still higher. Sunday heavy rains in the northern part of the country sent a huge volume of water down the north branch. Towards evening the water was backing up in the streets of West London, which are considerably below high water level. Some of the residents became alarmed and fled.

All day yesterday 200 men with teams, under the direction of Mayor Wilson, had been dumping loads of earth along the breakwater to strengthen it against the steady inroads of the water. Shortly after 7 o'clock a portion of the breakwater trembled. The water rushed at it savagely and tore out a section forty feet long, throwing men and horses to one side, as it poured through. The men and horses scrambled to safety, as the torrent swept on and down the streets. In half an hour the whole of London West was submerged to a depth of five or six feet. A score of row boats were secured, and the work of removing those who were penned up in the cottages began. From roofs and out of second-storey windows women and children were brought to places of safety. Down every street lanterns twinkled as the boats rowed towards the signals of distress. Fortunately, many, fearing the danger, had already left, so that the boats were able to remove all who wished, and by 11 o'clock all had been rescued.

Four hundred houses were surrounded by six feet of water, and nearly 1,500 people were driven from their homes. Along the stream are several mills, the owners of which will suffer a large loss, while the damage to private property will run into the thousands.

On the city side of the river the water rose eight feet since Saturday night, and should it continue it threatens to flood the city electric light plant and destroy hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property.

For many years past the village of London West has been treated to a spring bath, but this year the river is higher than it ever has been since the memorable water spout of July, 1883, when a score of people were drowned. Yesterday there was no loss of life, but the water has risen equally as high, and has reached many places that were supposed to be inaccessible.

THE GRAND AT GALT.

Ice Jam Gave Way and Bridges and Trees Were Swept Down—Heavy Loss to Business People.

Galt, March 14.—One of the largest and most disastrous floods in the memory of our oldest residents is passing down the Grand River through Galt. The river was considerably swollen above its normal condition at this time of the year all day Saturday, and the residents of Galt came to the conclusion that they were going to have a very mild experience in the matter of floods this spring, but their expectations were disappointed. Sunday morning about 7.30 o'clock the monster ice jam at Blair gave way and came rushing down through Galt at a frightful speed, carrying everything movable along with it in its almost irresistable force. Blocks of ice 18 inches thick and as large as the side of a house, whole trees, roots and branches attached, a foot and a half at the trunk, hewn timber, loose boards, fence rails, and out-houses by the score were carried along in the rushing and roaring torrent. A great amount of damage to property has been caused.

The first bridge to go down was the smaller one near Blair Station on the public road leading to Preston. The next bridge to suffer was the upper bridge in the town of Galt. The middle span was carried entirely away and the other two spans are badly damaged as well as all the stone piers. Loss estimated at $5,000. The flooring and stone piers of the Main street bridge and the lower bridge in Galt have been damaged to the extent of probably $100 each. The wooden bridge known as the "foot bridge," about two miles down the river from Galt, was washed away.

Factories and private residences located on the river banks have suffered considerable damage. The volume of water in the river increased rapidly, and to such an extent as to overflow the whole of the low lying portions of North and South Water streets to the depth of two feet. The inmates of several private houses had to be carried out to places of safety.

The basement of Cherry Bros.' flouring mill was full of water, causing damage to stock, and the stone work of the mill-race was badly washed out. Basements of all the manufacturing establishments situated on the river are full of water and huge ice boulders, but damage, if any, cannot be definitely stated until the water goes down sufficiently to enable an examination to be made. It is known, however, that the Galt Knitting Company will be heavy losers, as their dying works, a brick addition built out into the river at the rear of the mill proper, was completely wrecked and the first floor, occupied by the operatives, was covered with water two feet deep. Clay Bros., grocers, in the Imperial Block, claim a loss to stock of over $1,000. Traffic on the Galt branch of the Grand Trunk Railway, which runs parallel with the river, is at a standstill. No trains could get through the water on Saturday last, and it is reported that the track is so badly washed out that it will require two weeks' work to put them into proper shape again.

WEST BRANTFORD A LAKE.

Firemen and Other Citizens Had to Fight the Raging Waters All Sunday and Were Beaten Out at Last.

Brantford, Ont., March 14.—Saturday night a heavy rain caused the Grand River to again go on its annual Sunday rampage. At an early hour yesterday the water began to rise and about 9 o'clock the flats were almost covered with water and most of those living on the flats, anticipating the flood, moved to safe quarters during the night. At 11 o'clock the firemen went with the life boat to the flat and took off the only occupant in the badly flooded section.

In West Brantford the water had risen to such a height that it had a very dangerous outlook for citizens in that section. At the juncture of Oxford street and the G.T.R. crossing the water got over the tracks and soon had a patch washed out about two feet deep and about 15 feet long. Men and teams were soon at work and with sand bags got the gap filled and water stopped. At the northwest part of the show grounds the water had risen so high that it was running over the top of the dike. Here also men and teams are at work making matters more secure. These two washouts at one time made it appear very serious for the people of West Brantford. Fortunately the water has fallen about 12 or 15 inches. This, with the repairs workmen are making at both places, has saved West Brantford from a very serious flood. The firemen with lifeboat and hook and ladder wagon were in West Brantford during the afternoon.

It is reported the Cockshutt Bridge, about two and a half miles south of the city, went down early and the farm lands in that vicinity are covered with water six to ten feet deep. No loss of life is reported so far. If the water in the river continues to fall as it is now doing the prospect is there will be no further damage. The citizens turned out in good numbers to see the flood.

Looks Like a Lake.

After dark the water in the Grand River began to rise and by half past 9 it had reached the top of the dike. The men at work repairing the dike at the northern extremity of West Brantford had to abandon their work. The water began to come over the top, and they were in danger of being caught. Warning was given immediately to the citizens of West Brantford to move out.

At 10 o'clock the fire bell rang, calling for assistance, and the firemen with lifeboats, wagons, and citizens with wagons, proceeded to aid in the rescue. Quite a number have moved out, but there are still some remaining.

At 10.30 it was reported the dike had gone. The water is now running through West Brantford at a good speed, three to five feet deep, and sidewalks are floating. The Grand Trunk have an engine and some flat cars and about 20 men at work filling in with earth the part of their track that has been washed out. The night is dark and it is very difficult to see where and what damage is being done. West Brantford looks like a large lake.

Washouts Down East.

Ottawa, March 14.—Rain fell incessantly in this district last night, filling rivers and creeks to overflowing and putting country roads in a frightful condition. Two washouts are reported on the Canada Atlantic Railway at South Indian and Eastman's Springs. The train from Montreal was considerably behind time last evening.

A SATURDAY SHOOTING.

Fred Holden of Morrisburg Mistaken for a Burglar and Shot Fatally by a Relative in Whose Employ He Was.

Morrisburg, March 14.—Saturday night Fred Holden, a young man of this town, was accidentally shot in mistake for a burglar. He died Sunday morning. About midnight or shortly after a light was discovered in the office of Bradfield Bros. & Co.'s hardware establishment. Burglars being suspected, Mr. Harry Bradfield was notified, and with the assistance of a couple of constables well armed, surrounded the store. A few moments later a form was seen to come out of the office, and Mr. Bradfield, who was stationed at the front door with a Winchester rifle, fired. The man dropped to the floor, and a lamp was secured. It was found that the suspected burglar was none other than the firm's clerk and grandson of the senior partner, and that a terrible mistake had been made. A physician was summoned, and it was found that the ball had passed through the upper part of one leg and lodged in the other. The bullet was easily extracted. The patient, from loss of blood, together with the awful shock, was in a very weak condition, and passed away about noon yesterday. Great sympathy is expressed for the sorrowing mother and family, and for Mr. Bradfield's unfortunate connection with the sad affair. The deceased was only twenty years of age, was well liked and very popular. His untimely end has cast a gloom over the entire community.

KLONDIKE RUSH CONTINUES.

Over a Thousand People Left Vancouver on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Vancouver, B.C., March 14.—Still the rush northward continues. Vancouver during the past few days has seen over a thousand people leave on the various steamers. Two vessels departed for Wrangel last night with a large number of passengers.

The Coquitlan, which got down from Wrangel Saturday, reports that the men belonging to the Yukon Railway contractors' party have not moved from Stikine Island.

Small steamers can now go up the river and land their passengers on the solid ice, so that with the exception of the quantities of slush that make traveling hard, things are looking more hopeful.

Dervish Force Advanced.

Cairo, March 14.—A dervish force has advanced to within 10 miles south of the River Atbara, which enters the Nile at Ed Damar. The British camp is about the same distance north of the river.

An Iron Famine in England.

London, March 14.—The iron trade has been considerably stirred by an article in the Statist, pointing out that the exports and home consumption of iron have exceeded the whole output of the United Kingdom by nearly half a million tons and predicting a big iron famine before the end of the year. The Statist says: "There is quite a large probability that we may have to fall back upon America at no distant future to make good our deficient supply—on America, once our largest buyer of both pig and finished material."

Epidemic of Fires in Toronto.

Toronto, March 14.—About 4.25 o'clock Saturday morning fire was discovered in 27 Front street east, occupied by the Dominion Wire Manufacturing Co., Robert Carrie, storage warehouse, and the Zopess Chemical Co. It also spread to Larkin & Co.s tea warehouse. The combined damage amounts to $150,000, fairly well insured.

Since this fire ten fires have been kept within reasonable bounds by the fire brigade. The firemen have certainly had a very heavy two days.

The Paris at Southampton.

Southampton, March 14.—The American Line steamer Paris, Captain Watkins, which sailed from New York on March 9 for this port, and was due here on the morning of March 9, arrived Sunday morning, reaching her dock at 2.45 o'clock. She reports that the delay was due to the breaking of the starboard shaft, rendering the starboard propeller useless. The shaft broke in the stern tube at 11.45 o'clock on the morning of March 4, when 375 miles from Sandy Hook.

Welsh Colliers Having a Boom.

London, March 14.—The Welsh colliery owners are having a good time. The British Admiralty continues to place large contracts, and orders are rolling in from private steamship owners. British coaling stations all along the long route to the far East are now overflowing with coal.

The Italian Government has just contracted with British firms for the entire coal supply of the Italian fleet for the remainder of this year.

CANADA'S RAILWAYS.

The annual report of the Superintendent of Railways and Canals of Canada is replete with interest. The number of railways in actual operation, including two Government roads, is 141. Some of these, however, being leased, the total number of controlling companies is eight-one. The number of miles of completed railway last year was 16,686 an increase of 300 miles, besides 2,218 miles of sidings. There are 16,500 miles of railway in operation. The paid up capital is $921,858,232, an increase of over twenty-two millions. The gross earnings amounted to $52,333,226, an increase of $1,807,707; and the working expenses aggregated $35,168,655, leaving the net earnings $17,184,611. There were 16,171,338 passengers carried in the course of the year and the freight traffic amounted to 25,300,311 tons, an increase of over one million tons. The accident returns show that seven passengers were killed.

The Government of Canada has expended on railways prior to and since Confederation some $129,944,318. This includes $25,000,000 to the Canadian Pacific Railway. Other railway subsidies amounted to a further sum of $16,390,389, making a total expenditure of $139,335,405. In addition there has been an expenditure of $69,522,382 for working expenses. Of this all but $13,881,400 was expended during the last thirty years. The revenue derived from the government roads during the same period amounts to $61,-196,803.

The Canadian Pacific railway has now under traffic in Canada 6,314 miles of railway, including leased lines. Its gross earnings were $41,242,638 and the expenses for working expenses were $12,576,800, making the net earnings $8,665,838, an increase of $317,860 over the previous year. These figures are taken from the sworn statements of the company furnished to the department.

The gross earnings of all the government roads for the past fiscal year amounted to $3,060,074.35, and compared with those of the preceding year, show a decrease of $80,604.12. The gross working expenses amounted to $3,177,269.61, a decrease of $77,173.08. The net loss on the operations of the year was $117,205.23.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In 1794 the habitual users of the English language did not number more than 30,-000,000; in 1897 their number was estimated at 110,000,000.

Mr. Adam Beck, the defeated Conservative candidate in London, takes his beating so badly that he has resolved upon a desperate move. He has decided to marry a Hamilton woman. Toronto journals will regard this as a fall from grace.

Mr. Dryden, says the Farmers' Sun, made a good Minister of Agriculture. He possessed a practical knowledge of his subject, which was invaluable to him, and which he put to good use in the service of the Province.

Mr. H. Robillard, late Conservative candidate in Russell, doesn't "take much stock" in the cry that Hardy must resign and that Whitney will win. A short time after the Ontario elections Mr. Robillard made this remark to a newspaper reporter: "If the Government is sustained I will not be a candidate." Later on Mr. Robillard was waited upon by the Opposition leader, but his continued refusal to run shows that he could be induced to take no stock in the cry, "Whitney must win!"

Hamilton is getting tired of being jibed by Toronto, and in reprisal has resolved to carry the war into Africa. The Ambitious City has administered Hogtown a shot between wind and water—that is to say, beer. The Hamilton brewers have arranged to introduce their lager beer in Toronto, with the result of bringing down the price of a "modest quencher" to three cents a dose. Hamilton journals, though loyal to the quality of their local brand of beer, will not hesitate to call it hog wash when it is placed on tap in the Queen City.

CANADA AS "PIONEER."

"Canada as Pioneer" is the topic of a leading article in a recent issue of The London Outlook. The Outlook says:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues know well how to take occasion by the hand." When, last year Canada set a splendid example to the other colonies in repaying past British generosity by giving British manufacturers a favoured footing in her markets, fossilized British treaties with Belgium and Germany wrecked her good intentions. Thus rebuffed, Canada might have abandoned her pro-British policy and made friends with Washington. She might easily have done so had she been willing to join in tariff discrimination against the mother country. Putting aside all temptations, she kept faith with us, and this week we have the official announcement of her intention to amend her tariff, so that after August 1 the originally planned tariff reduction of 25 per cent.—shall apply to—and only to—imports from Britain and such British colonies as by their fiscal treatment of Canada are entitled to the concession. At present British treaty entanglements compel Canada to extend any tariff reduction to practically all countries except the United States, but in five months time these treaty entanglements lapse, thanks to Mr. Chamberlain's courage, and thenceforward Canada limits her favours to her friends.

TIRES AND GOOD ROADS.

Experiments made at the Ohio agricultural experimental station have proved that wide tires materially lessen the draught of wagons used for farm purposes. On meadows and pastures the results also were strikingly in favour of the broad tires. When meadows are soft, from 3,000 to 4,000 pounds may be hauled on the broad tires with the same draught as that required to haul a load of 2,000 pounds on the narrow tires. The beneficial effects of wide tires on dirt roads was strikingly shown in the tests. The results of these carefully conducted experiments prove almost conclusively that the broad tire is the better one for those having heavy teaming. Now that it has been proved to the farmers that it would be very much to their interests to use the wide tire at home, there seems to be nothing in the way of its use on the roads. And the general use of wide tires would vastly benefit country roadways.

OGILVIE IN BRITAIN.

Wm. Ogilvie, lecturing on the Klondyke in Great Britain, will prove the best immigration agent that Canada has ever had. He is able to tell of the wealth of that country as no other living man can, and his word will be taken as that of no other person would, for he went in and out acting as judge and law-giver for the miners, and was so far superior to the thirst for gold that he did not take a claim or exact a cent of tribute from the lucky ones for whom he performed valuable services. Truthfulness and sincerity are unfailing accompaniments of qualities that such conduct betokens, and the British people who have the money and the courage to make an attempt to win a fortune from the valleys of the Arctic circle will take the story that leaves his lips as pure gospel. The result will be to encourage capitalists, as well as the adventurous ones; so that there will be a rapid development of that great golden region.

YOUNG'S POINT.

Mr. C. Young has resumed work in the saw mill and has a full force of men employed. He expects to run the mill steadily all summer.

The fine weather still continues here and the crows are coming around once more, which is a sure sign of spring.

Messrs. Jas. Carroll and Will Young are going into the sugar making business. They have tapped a number of trees on their farm here and have been boiling down the past two days.

The "Young Pointers" are giving an entertainment in Heard's hall on Thursday the 17th inst. They are putting on a couple of plays, also singing, dancing and recitations, and expect to give a good concert.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Norwich, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills, cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 cts.

IN WASHINGTON'S DAY.

Picturesque Costumes Worn at the First Inaugural Ball.

Writing of "With Washington In the Minuet," Mrs. Burton Harrison gives an interesting description of the first inaugural ball in The Ladies' Home Journal. In telling of this memorable fete she gives an interesting peep at the costumes worn by the belles and beaux of a century ago. "For a hint of the costumes worn," she writes, "we must furbish up the impressions of Colonel Stone, who, strange to say, appears to be the chief chronicler of toilets whose data are handed down in print: 'One favorite dress was a plain celestial blue satin gown with a white satin petticoat. On the neck was worn a very large Italian gauze handkerchief with border stripes of satin. The headdress was a puff of gauze in the form of a globe, the headpiece of which was composed of white satin having a double wing in large plaits and trimmed with a wreath of artificial roses falling from the left at the top to the right at the bottom in front, the reverse behind. The hair was dressed all over in detached curls, four of which, in two ranks, fell on each side of the neck and were relieved behind by a floating chignon.'

"In color of attire the men of those days were not, as now, simply a foil for the gay tints of their womankind. 'A light blue French coat, with high collar, broad lapels and large gilt buttons, a double breasted marseilles vest, nankeen colored cassimere breeches, with white silk stockings, shining pumps, and full ruffles at the breast and wrists, together with a ponderous white cravat with a "pudding" in it, were then evening dress a la mode in New York.'

"Washington's usual costume on dress occasions was a coat and breeches of plain black velvet, with a white or pearl colored satin embroidered waistcoat, white or buff gloves and a long sword in a scabbard of polished white leather, which was worn under the coat. He invariably carried in his hand a cocked hat, and his knees and feet were adorned with silver buckles."

Mattress Pincushions.

Mattress pincushions, says a writer in a Philadelphia paper, can be made in any materials, may be embellished with more or less embroidery, and are made in various sizes, oblong or square. The smallest that I advise making should be 9 by 6 inches. Having decided on the size, the stuffing and lining must be done, and for this get coarse house flannel, which must be cut carefully and exactly to the size of the mattress. It takes several yards of flannel, as it must be very firm and hard, and when all pressed together should be quite an inch thick. These layers must be firmly sewed together, as the success of these pincushions entirely depends on their being firm and hard at top, at bottom and at the sides. Another necessity is the perfect regularity with which they are cut, the edges generally requiring to be sheared with very sharp scissors. It is possible to stuff the lining with horsehair or bran instead of flannel, in which case the covering must be made first; otherwise, sew the flannel into a case of cheap loose woven calico, through which the pins pass easily, using tape one inch wide for the sides.

Having completed this, the outer covering is a matter of taste, but plain materials are best. A good satin, silk or moire looks well, and indeed some of the finest flax linens of pale shades come out well when embroidered in white. A small design in one corner looks nice worked in silks, with gold and silver thread and a few beads or spangles if liked, but keep the embroidery to one color. There is no need to describe how to proceed, except that in putting the side pieces on they must be even, well stretched and tacked before oversewing with fine silk. These mattresses will take pins of every size at the side, with ordinary black and white at top, and the result when quite complete is well worth the trouble of their manufacture.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Not a day passes on which the newspapers do not record the death of one or more persons from Bright's Disease. Already its victims number hundreds of thousands. Day by day the awful total grows larger. No class is safe from this destroyer.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

Death of Mr. Dupont, M.P.

Ottawa, March 14.—Profound regret is expressed in political circles at the death of Mr. Flavien Dupont, M.P., of Bagot, as the result of the recent railway accident, which removes from the arena of Federal politics one of the best known figures among the Quebec contingent. In the House of Commons he was known as a forcible and eloquent speaker. He never attempted an address in anything but his native tongue. Mr. Dupont had reached the age of 51 years. He was born at St. Simon, Que., and first sat for the County of Bagot in the Local Assembly in 1876. He entered the House of Commons in 1882, and sat continuously until the time of his death. The flag is half-mast on the Parliament buildings in his memory.

Thin, Pale, Inactive Blood and Weak Nerves, the Underlying Cause.

Most of the suffering and sickness which fall to the lot of women to endure, are the result of deranged nerves and watery blood. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills banish all the ills and weaknesses to which women are so subject, by their action in strengthening the nerves and multiplying the number of the vital red blood corpuscles. Miss M. Skullion, 50 Turner St., Ottawa, Ont., says:—"I was greatly troubled with my heart, together with extreme nervousness for many years. These complaints brought about great weakness and feeling of tiredness. My blood was of poor quality, so much so, that I became pale and languid. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me after all else failed. They built up my system, enriched my blood, strengthened my nerves and restored me to health and vigor."

FREEDOM FOR CUBA

Seems to Be the Watchword in the U. S.

WAR THOUGHT TO BE VERY NEAR

The United States Have Got Past the Precautionary Stages of Preparation for the Worst and Are Now Businesslike in Their Dread Preliminary Actions — Key West Sure.

Washington, March 14.—Senator Proctor is hurrying back to Washington convinced that nothing but the independence of Cuba will satisfy the world. There is now no disguising the fact he was sent to the island as the confidential commissioner of the President, and he is filled with horror at the sights he witnessed there in his investigation. A despatch received here Saturday says:

"Senator Proctor is satisfied."

This, it is believed, leaves no doubt that President Harrison's Secretary of War is in favor of a vigorous intervention by the United States to stop the war in Cuba with its consequent suffering. He has investigated the strength of the insurgents and the weakness of the Spanish authorities, two questions upon which the Administration and the Congress desire to be accurately informed at this immediate time.

The Senator is keeping his counsel. But from the source of his message quoted it is accepted here that his judgment is for the freedom of Cuba by the most effective means that can be adopted.

Substantially the whole regular army of the United States will be brought to the Eastern seaboard with all possible speed.

Cavalry, artillery and infantry will be moved to the posts in the Atlantic and Gulf States.

Only sufficient troops will be left in the West to prevent any possible Indian uprising.

Orders to thus mobilize 24,000 trained soldiers are in preparation and will be issued by the War Department as soon as plans for transportation can be made.

This action of the authorities furnishes conclusive evidence that the Government has advanced beyond the stage of preparing for trouble as a precautionary measure. It now anticipates trouble and expects it.

Preparations have advanced beyond that point even. It has been decided substantially that upon the breaking out of war Major-General Merritt shall assume command of any military force sent to Cuba.

In that event Gen. Miles, in addition to his duties as Commander-General of the army, will assume also Gen. Merritt's duties in the department of the east.

For the first time since the war talk the War Department has resorted to the use of cipher in sending dispatches to the army posts regarding the contemplated movements of troops.

KEY WEST SURE

That War Between Spain and the United States Will Be a Fact Within a Week.

Key West, Fla., March 14.—War within a week. That is the absolute belief of nearly every official at this station. There is not a man here but who expects to see active service, and that right speedily. There is not a man here but who openly so expresses himself.

This belief is strongly borne out by orders from Washington. As a result of these orders there is now lying here one of the most formidable fleets of warships ever got together in the world. It is the most formidable ever got together in fighting condition in American waters.

More than this, it is ready for service at a moment's notice. All has been done, practically. When the Marblehead gets back from Tampa with her cargo of ammunition, and the next steamers arrive from the north, the fleet will not only be supplied with full emergency allotment of fighting materials, but the magazines for reserve at the Tortugas and at Key West will also be practically fully supplied.

There is a persistent report here, which cannot be set down as mere rumor alone. The report says that there is an understanding between the Insurgent Administration and the Administration at Washington. The statement is officially made by the Cuban agent here that President Maceo of the Cuban Government has been notified of the possible outcome of the present crisis and thus placed in a position to act in conjunction with the United States forces in case of war with Spain.

The same official states that President Maceo has been assured that it is the intention of the President of the United States to bring the matter to a head within a week through the recognition of Cuban independence.

Court Did Little Work.

Havana, March 14.—The court of enquiry did little work Saturday. The members examined two divers, went over drawings, plans and photographs in the cabin of the Mangrove, and read over the stenographers' copy of some past testimony. The water was very rough, making the work of the divers difficult. It is hard to see any marked advance in the work of the wreckers.

On the Hunt for Ships.

London, March 14.—A special despatch from Rome says agents of the United States Navy Department have been visiting the shipyards at Genoa and Leghorn, to buy warships, but have found none available.

An Appeal to Europe.

Paris, March 14.—The Paris Saturday says: "The European concert which prevented the partition of Turkey owes it to Spain not to allow her to become the first victim of pan-Americanism."

Calculating the Possibilities.

Madrid, March 14.—The Imparcial says: "There is still time to prepare a few men-of-war, and it is perhaps possible to buy a few vessels abroad, but in any case we have some merchant ships which could do a lot of harm to American commerce, and we have still time to arrange to carry on a privateering war, from which as much renown may accrue as from the guerilla warfare which vanquished Napoleon."

Continuing, the Imparcial exhorts the Government to allow the present crisis to pass over, and to turn the time gained to good use, concluding: "If our flag goes into mourning, let us at least be able to put some pieces of crape on the American's obnoxious flag."

The Liberal gives the following as the present strength of the Spanish navy: Protected warships 17, unprotected 20, gunboats 80, torpedo destroyers 14, torpedo boats 14, transports 25.

Half an Hour Under Water.

New York, March 14.—The submarine boat Holland, which is lying at the Raritan dry docks at Perth Amboy, was given another preliminary trial Saturday evening, with John P. Holland, the inventor, the engineer and another man aboard. She disappeared beneath the water and remained down at a depth of about 14 feet for nearly half an hour, and then reappeared at the surface. It has been decided to exhibit her in the lower bay this week.

CAPE COLONY ELECTIONS

On Thursday Will Tell Whether Oom Paul or Cecil Rhodes Will Be Supreme—The Latter Confident.

London, March 14.—Next Thursday's elections in Cape Colony are being awaited with keen interest here. To the official mind the case resolves itself into a struggle between Mr. Cecil Rhodes on the one hand and President Kruger on the other, President Kruger acting through Mr. Hofmeyer, the leader of the Afrikander Bund. Mr. Rhodes tells his friends here that he is confident of winning, and so securing British predominancy in South Africa. Should he lose, the South African question would be likely again to become acute, for the movement to oust Britain from her supremacy then would have behind it a British colony with all its constitutional powers.

Where Oom Paul Made a Blunder.

London, March 14.—The New York Times correspondent cables his paper:

"Although the public hears continued rumors of impending trouble with the Transvaal, it is only in the city, where such a great proportion of the speculative enterprises are tied up with South African interests, that you find a serious view taken of the subject. Even here there is a silver ring to the cloud, for it is now regarded as certain that Germany has ceased sympathizing with the Boers, or wishing to make difficulties for England in that quarter. President Kruger has a quaint kind of cunning all his own, but it played him sadly false in this matter, for, instead of allowing the Germans on the Rand to think they were being better treated than the English were after the Jameson collapse, he let his burghers proclaim German patronage to be even more intolerable than the idea of British suzerainty, and to oppose German business schemes as sharply as others. The result has been to infuriate the German in the Transvaal and to fill the German home papers with their complaint and protests till the Boers now think of a new reichfreund to whom the Kaiser will certainly send no more telegrams."

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattrass; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much o praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

ALMOST ASPHYXIATED.

A Harvey Street Family Awakened Just in Time by a Crying Child—Narrow Escape.

Mr. H. W. Gray's household, Harvey street, had a very narrow escape from asphyxiation on Sunday morning and the danger is not considered over yet.

It seems that on Saturday night when retiring Mr. Gray forgot to close the top of the stove after putting the coal. In the morning the family were awakened by the persistent crying of one of the children. Mrs. Gray found herself unable to get up on account of dizziness and although Mr. Gray felt somewhat unsteady himself, he arose and started to build a fire. He got thoroughly alarmed when he found himself unable to do it on account of dizziness, and as the rest of the family were all in the same condition he opened the windows and doors to let in all the fresh air possible and noticing the top of the coal stove open he closed it and suspecting the cause of the unusual sickness, he hurried for Dr. Burnham.

Dr. Burnham found Mrs. Gray, the youngest boy and Miss Graham, who lives with the family, all very seriously ill, being affected with violent retching and vomiting. The two younger children were not so bad and Mr. Gray seemed fairly free from the effects. At about eleven o'clock in the morning Mr. Gray suddenly took ill and finding too many patients on his hands Dr. Burnham called in Dr. Clarke for a time.

This morning the family and Miss Graham are all apparently doing well, but have to be watched carefully, as the after effects of gas poisoning are often more dangerous than they at first seem to be.

COLTS' ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Members of the Hockey Club Decide not to Disband but to Permanently Organize.

A junior organization has been formed in town, which is deserving of every success. The members of the Colts' Hockey Club, who have made such a good name for themselves this winter, have decided to stick together, not only in hockey but in other branches of sport—cricket, wheeling, tennis and rugby. The new association is to be known as the "Colts' Athletic Club." The following officers were elected:—

Honorary President—Mayor Davis.
President—Mr. A. A. Hollingshead.
Vice-President—Mr. C. G. Graham.
Secretary—Stanley Bradd.
Treasurer—Parkes Crossley.
Committee—H. McBain, W. McDonald, Harold Armstrong, Frank Bradburn, Eddie Grahaam and Roy Armstrong.

Red, black and white were decided upon for club colours.

LAWN TENNIS.

Lindsay Will Endeavour to Have a League Formed.

At a meeting of the Lindsay Lawn Tennis Club the other night, the secretary was instructed to communicate with clubs in neighbouring towns, such as Uxbridge, Port Perry, Millbrook and Peterborough, with a view to the formation of a Midland league.

It is the intention of the Lindsay Club to divide the members into pairs, each pair to play every other pair, and those winning the greatest number of events to be awarded the double championship of the club; this system is along the same lines as the curling club, and will doubtless add greatly to the interest in the game.

A HEAVY LOSS.

Fire Badly Damages the Stock of E. A. Mason & Co. on Sunday Morning.

Fire broke out at two o'clock Sunday morning in the premises on George street occupied by E.F. Mason & Co, as a grocery and flour and feed store.

The brigade was on hand and succeeded in quenching the flames before much damage was done by fire. The smoke, however, was very dense, and filled both departments of the store in such volumes as to do irreparable damage to much of the stock, which will be rendered thereby totally worthless, with the exception of the canned goods.

The fire originated in the cold air register connected with the furnace, and it is supposed that on Saturday evening a match or cigar may have been dropped down accidentally and smouldered there in the dust, which generally accumulates in such places. Shortly before two o'clock next morning the flames burst out and ate their way up through the flooring, also burning out a number of the supports beneath, but getting no further.

The stock is valued at about $4,500, and as there is only $2,000 insurance, placed with the Sun Company through Messrs. Cox & Davis, the loss to Mr. Mason will be quite a heavy one.

The apartments overhead, occupied, by the Catholic Literary Society, were also invaded by the smoke and the papering destroyed.

SUNDAY CARD PLAYING.

A Trio of Poker Players Have to Pay a Fine for Sitting in a Game.

Three young men were fined two dollars and costs each this morning in the police court on the charge that "they did on the Lord's day gamble with cards."

The appearance in court of the trio was brought about in a peculiar way. It appears that whilst they were playing cards, the game was watched by a fourth party, and after his withdrawal a brush was missed from the room. On seeing him again he was threatened with arrest if he did not return the brush, but he denied ever having taken it and becoming alarmed by the threats went to the Chief of Police himself and telling him of the matter, protested his innocence. The Chief asked him what he was doing in the room in question, and he told of a "little game" which he was watching.

When he saw his accusers again and he told them of having seen the Chief, they wished to arrange matters so as to let the affair of the missing brush drop if nothing was done concerning the card playing. Of course the Chief could not consent to a compromise of this description, and so the three young men were up in court this morning.

CLOCKS ARE DOWN.

Shelving Falls in Sanderson's and Does Considerable Damage.

On Saturday afternoon, whilst some clocks were being adjusted on the new shelving which has recently been put up in W. A. Sanderson's jewelry store, the centre shelf began to sag suddenly and some of the clocks slid off. Two of the clerks endeavoured to support the shelving but they could not be everywhere at once and about twelve feet of it broke down, throwing a large number of clocks to the floor. As the clocks were wooden the damage is not as great as though they were of heavier material, although the glass in all was smashed and some of the cases broken. The shelving was put up insecurely through the fact that the wall is of brick and the wooden plugs put in to hold the screws were not large enough.

Old Men and Kidney Disease.

Aged persons troubled with weak back, impaired kidneys, pain in the back and base of abdomen, scalding urine, with a small quantity of water at a time, a tendency to urinate often, especially at night, should use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. You know the Doctor's reputation, you know the value of his work, and that Dr. Chase would not risk his reputation on an unknown and untried remedy. Every druggist in Canada sells and recommends them.

TO PAY THE DEBT.

Rev. D. O. Crossley Makes a Proposition to the Members of the Charlotte Street Church.

Rev. D. O. Crossley, of Charlotte street church, after the sermon last night introduced a financial scheme for the payment of the debt on that church.

He presented it to the congregation in the style of a blackboard exercise, and gave figures representing debt and payments to be made.

The scheme is most unique and commends itself at once as the best that could be adopted. Mr. Crossley asks for $6,000, and then guarantees the payment of $12 000 in eight years from the $6,000 subscribed and the surplus from the ordinary revenue of the church. He certainly showed clearly enough that it could be done. The subscription list was opened last evening and some $2,700 was realized. The effort of last night will be followed up until the required amount is secured.

The sympathy not only of the congregation, but also of the town will be with the pastor of Charlotte street church in his effort to clear the church of debt.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Dr. Torrance spoke in St. Paul's last evening on "The New Birth."

In St. Paul's last evening the well-rendered anthem was entitled "O, Lord, Most Merciful."

The men of St. John's partook of corporate communion at 8.30 o'clock yesterday morning.

"As Flows the River," was the title of a pretty duet sung by Miss Lillie Pascoe and Miss Mabel Winters yesterday in the George street Methodist church.

Thursday next will be St. Patrick's Day and at St. Peter's three masses will be celebrated—at 7, 8 and 10 a. m. Rev. Father O'Sullivan will lecture at the last mass.

At St. John's church on Sunday evening Rev. E. V. Stevenson gave the fourth in his Lenten series of addresses upon the parable of the Prodigal Son. The feature particularly impressed was the truth that in every sinful and vicious life we shall sow what we reap—physically, morally and spiritually. These excellent addresses contain much food for reflection, and cannot but have a beneficial effect, especially upon the young worshippers in St. John's.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

A Deputation Wants the Canal Completed to Lake Simcoe.

The Premier, Messrs. Blair, Mulock and Sir Louis Davies on Friday received a deputation which asked that a vote be taken this year for the amount required to complete the Trent Canal from Lake Simcoe to Balsam Lake. Among the members present were Messrs. McHugh, Lang, Hughes, Bennett, Craig and Prefontaine. Consideration was promised. Mr. Mulock especially spoke strongly of the useful nature of the Trent system.

A LITTLE OF IT WOULDN'T BE BAD HERE.

According to the correspondent of a London paper, the Germans are pretty advanced in the suppression of unnecessary noises. Berlin leads the van. Railway engines are not allowed to blow their whistles within the city limits. There is no loud bawling by hucksters, and a man whose wagon gearing is loose and rattling is subject to a fine. The courts have a large discretion as to fines for noise-making. Strangest of all, piano-playing is regulated in Berlin. Before a certain hour in the day and after a certain hour in the night the piano must be silent in that musical city. Even during playing hours a fine is imposed for mere banging on the piano. If a dog barks unnecessarily his owner is notified to muzzle him or kill him. The only person in Germany allowed to make all the noise he likes seems to be the Kaiser.

An interesting letter from Leipsig to the Globe tells how largely and creditably Canada is represented at this great musical centre. In the long list of ladies and gentlemen pursuing their musical studies there is to be noted those of two well known in Peterborough—one Mrs. Paul Stoveling, daughter of Mr. Wm. Lech, and the other, Mr. Edward Jacques, of Brantford, formerly organist in St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, and the George street Methodist church.

In its report of the nomination speeches in Russel on Friday, the Ottawa Free Press (Liberal) says: Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., for Peterborough, was introduced to reply to Mr. Matheson, and although he had only fifteen minutes he most effectively upset the gallant colonel's sophistry, greatly to the delight of the audience. * * * Mr. Stratton completely riddled Col. Matheson's arguments and closed an able address amidst very hearty applause. The Ottawa Journal (Independent) says: Mr. Stratton, M.P.P., of Peterborough, who followed in an amusing and clever speech, was heartily cheered upon rising. Mr. Stratton is a splendid speaker, and created a most favourable impression.

LIGHTED BY ELECTRICITY.

An "Axient" Way of Lighting Coaches.

The Canadian Pacific has equipped the sleeping car "Winchester" with a system of electric light generated from the axle. The C. P. R. has been experimenting with various systems of lighting for some time, with a view of determining the one best adapted for use in the car service. The results procured from the apparatus used on the "Winchester" are said to be very promising. Although the current is generated from the axle, there is no flickering or irregularity in the light. This regularity is brought about by a system of storage, which regulates the current, no matter what the speed may be, and also provides for stoppages of the car. The "Winchester" is the first car to be honoured with the new electric system, and it is said there are only two or three vehicles similarly equipped on the continent.

STONY LAKE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We hear that James Robb, Esq., postmaster of Stony Lake, has sent in his resignation as postmaster. He has held the position ever since the office was established at Stony Lake in 1871, and has therefore been postmaster for twenty-seven years. We do not know whether his successor has been appointed yet or not. It will be difficult to find anyone in the neighbourhood who will fill the office as satisfactorily as he has done.

Mr. J. A. Robb was in Peterborough last week on the jury at the Spring Assizes.

The patrons of the Stony Lake Dairy Company turned out one day last week and put in a quantity of ice for the the use of the factory during the coming season.

It's not the cough, but what it may lead to, that makes it so serious. The cough may be cured, the serious consequence prevented by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Price 25 cents, at all druggists.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

THE WHEEL.

Letters are coming in from all places conveying pledges of support for Peterborough in its race against Ottawa for the Provincial Meet on July 1st. London, Hamilton and Waterloo are with us, and although Montreal has not a vote in this Province, they will lend their influence.

The Ottawa Journal says: It will be learned with surprise by wheelmen that there is a strong possibility of the Ottawa Bicycle Club supporting Peterborough for the C.W.A. meet of this year, against the O. A. A. C. Club, which is also an applicant.

Speaking of the matter this morning, a prominent member of the Ottawa Club said that the O. A. A. coming into the field for the meet, placed them in rather a disagreeable position. Disagreeable, because, he said, on the one hand, the club have either to oppose the interests of their own city or break a pledge made to Peterborough before the O. A. A. C. became an applicant for the meet.

It is stated that a couple of years ago when Quebec and Peterborough were the hot applicants for the meet, the Ottawa Club was strongly canvassed by both places. The Ottawas supported Quebec, as in the interest of wheeling in the east, but, it is said, promised to support Peterborough the next time the city became an applicant.

The matter has not yet been discussed, but this member says it is likely that the club will support Peterborough.

THE RING.

In speaking of the T. A. C. boxing tournament the Mail and Empire says:—C. G. Graham, Peterborough Hockey Club, and John L. Scholes, jr., next met for the featherweight championship. Scholes was the taller, with the advantage in reach, while the Peterborough boy was much the stouter of the two.

Round 1—Scholes landed lightly on Graham's head to open with, and the latter led strongly, rushing the Toronto boxer to the ropes and sending in a light swing for the head. Graham landed on Scholes' head a second time, the round ending with exceptionally clever work on both sides.

Round 2—Graham started by fighting Scholes to the ropes, giving him some hard drives, while at the same time the Peterborough boxer guarded strongly and well. Graham sent home a drive on the head, but Scholes brightened and followed his opponent to the ropes, bringing the blood, the Peterborough boy slipped to the floor. With his long reach Scholes was able to get in a lot of telling stiff-arm punches, which gave him the advantage in the round.

Round 3—Graham got to Scholes' wind, rushing him back well and jabbing strongly, but the Torontonian's shiftiness stood him in good stead. Graham was very game and landed right and left to close the round, but the scientific work of Scholes counted enough in his favour to give him the championship.

CRICKET.

A largely attended meeting of the cricket club was held on Saturday evening in the Oriental hotel parlours. The matter of the club identifying itself with the proposed Midland League was discussed at some length but no definite action was taken in the matter.

RUGBY.

"Rugby Football Teams in Eastern Ontario," says the Kingston Whig, "in view of the past treatment at the hands of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, think it time for a change. Other clubs beside the Granites of Kingston have suggested the formation of an Eastern Ontario League, which is now about an assured development. The Granites sent in their resignation to the O. R. F. U. last fall, but the last meeting of that organization breaking up in an unsatisfactory way, it was not accepted. The team though have no desire to remain in the union, but rather lean towards an Eastern League. Teams from Peterborough, Kingston, Brockville, Ottawa, and one team from Montreal will form a strong league. How are teams of these places disposed to such a formation?"

PEDRO TOURNAMENT.

The members of the Victoria Club hold a smoker on Wednesday evening next, when the president and vice-president will choose sides for a pedro tournament. Every member is expected to be present.

HOCKEY.

A Lindsay hockey player who is about "to quit the game" expresses himself as follows:

I've bid good-bye to hockey
Though I've played it now for years—
It has won me many triumphs,
It has cost me bitter tears.
I've been pounded, I've been jumped on,
But I've played on just the same,
Giving crack for crack, and check for check—
For I loved the bloomin' game.

Two molars then were in my head,
That ain't there any more,
My knee's a little out of place,
My back is always sore.
I've broke an arm and split my head,
Got pounded times galore,
But, somehow, I'd come 'round again—
And play the game once more.

We'd always been a-gettin' licked
By fellows half our size,
You'd never hear of Lindsay boys
A-winnin' of the prize.
The people didn't like to come
And see our fellows "dease,"
But things have come our way at last—
We've done them every one.

We've played for years for victory,
But came out in the rear
When books were made and balanced
At the closing of the year.
But '98 is different, boys, for we are on the top,
We've never lost a bloomin' game—
Now I'm going to let her drop.

For the last game gave me warning
Of my deathbed drawin' nigh,
The puck it put me off to sleep
And I nearly lost an eye.
My shins were fearfully pounded,
But I didn't mind a bit;
Yes, I'm going to take the warning—
Cut my hair and going to quit.

Listowel's protest against Waterloo, on the ground that Forrester, of the latter club, had once skated for money, was sustained on Saturday, and the latter club forfeits the intermediate championship as a result. A number of affidavits were presented by Listowel, backing up their charges, and they were of so conclusive a nature that the O.H.A. sub-committee, consisting of President Martin and Secretary Beaton, could not do anything but throw Forrester out. He played point and goal for the Waterloo team during the season.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mr. James McManus, of Smith, on Thursday.

Mr. James McManus, a much respected citizen of the township of Smith, died at his home on the Communication Road on Thursday afternoon, 10th inst.

Mr. McManus has been in declining health for two years, but death came unexpectedly at the last. He was well known and held in high esteem by all who knew him.

The deceased was sixty-two years of age. He was a native of the County of Fermanagh, Ireland, and came to Canada with his parents when a boy, the family taking up a homestead in Eastmore. Afterwards they removed to the county of Haldimand, but after living there sometime Mr. McManus returned and settled in Smith, where he has since lived. He leaves a widow, four sons and five daughters. The eldest son, John, resides in Cavan, James in Smith, Barnard and Sandford living at home. Thomas, another son, died about a year ago. The daughters are Mrs. John Curran, of Port Hope; Mrs. Burdick, of town, and Mary and Nellie, also of town, and Jennie of Rochester.

The funeral took place yesterday from St. Peter's Cathedral. This morning the Rev. Archdeacon Casey celebrated high mass for the repose of his soul. Requiescat in pace.

OTONABEE.

The Late Miss Annie Gertrude McIntyre.

On Thursday afternoon, March 10th, after a short but painful illness of brain fever, Annie Gertrude McIntyre passed away at the family residence. The deceased was the only daughter of Mr. John H. McIntyre, of Otonabee, and a niece of Mrs. G. H. Howson and Mrs. O. Kindred, of town.

Her death was a great shock to her parents and friends, among whom she was held in the highest esteem. She was twenty years of age; was connected with the Methodist church at Keene and was beloved by all her associates.

The funeral, which was largely attended took place on Saturday afternoon, to the Keene cemetery, Rev. Mr. Liddy conducting the services. Poor Annie's sudden death has cast a gloom over the community in which she dwelt, but all will try to realize the truth, that it was

"Well done of God, to halve the lot,
And give her all the sweetness;
To us the empty room and cot,
To her the Heaven's completeness.

"To us, this grave—to her, the rows
The mystic palm trees spring in,
To us, the silence in the house,
To her, the choral singing."

WHEAT IS WEAKER.

The Conditions Are Bearish—Large Receipts of Live Stock at Toronto—The Local Prices.

Friday Evening, March 11.

Wheat is weak.
July wheat, puts 87⅝c, calls 88⅜c.
The stock of spring wheat at Liverpool is exhausted.
Heavy rains in the West and Southwest make prospects for coming wheat crop better.
On the local market there was a large run of cattle—half of them Buffalo stockers.
The Chicago wheat market verged on a panic this afternoon. July dropped 1c without a trade at one stage. It closed nearly 2c below the opening.

Leading Wheat Markets.

Following are the closing prices to-day at important centres:

	Cash.	May.
Chicago	$1 02¼	$1 04
New York	1 05⅞	0 98¾
Milwaukee, No. 1 North.	1 01	1 02
St. Louis	0 97¼	0 99
Toledo	0 97	0 99
Detroit	0 98	0 98
Duluth, No. 1 Northern	0 97¼	0 97¼
Duluth, No. 1 hard	0 98⅝	....
Toronto, red	0 93	....
Toronto, No. 1 hard	1 10	....

Toronto Grain and Produce.

Flour—The trade is dull. Straight rollers in barrels, middle freights, are quoted at $3.65 to $4.

Wheat—Little export demand. No. 2 red, north and west, quoted at 85c. Goose wheat, north and west, sold at 90c. No. 1 hard, north and west, held at $1.10 North Bay.

Barley—Quoted at 33c west and 34c east. Malting barley, 36c to 37c.

Oats—Quiet and steady. Choice heavy white will bring 29c to 31c, north and west.

Bran—Firm. Bran sells at $12.50 to $13.50 and shorts at $14.

Corn—No. 2 yellow American on track at Toronto 37c asked; Canadian, Chatham, 31c to 32c asked.

Oatmeal—Car lots of rolled oats in bags on track at Toronto, $3.60.

Peas—Are scarce and steady, 57c north and west and 58c east.

Rye—Offerings light at 50c west and 52c east.

Buckwheat—Quoted at 35c to 37c outside.

Toronto St. Lawrence Market.

The receipts of grain were light, 1300 bushels all told.

Wheat easier, 300 bushels selling as follows: White 80c, red 80c straight, and goose 80c to 80½c per bushel.

Rye steady; one load sold at 53c per bushel.

Barley easier at 39c to 40c for 500 bush.

Oats firm; 300 bushels sold at 27c.

Peas firmer, 200 bushels selling at 56c to 61c.

Hay easier; 25 loads sold for $8 to $9 per ton.

Straw easier, 6 loads selling at $6 to $6.50 per ton.

Dressed hogs, deliveries light, prices easier at $6 to $6.15 for light and $5.75 for heavy.

Toronto Live Stock.

The receipts of live stock at the Western Cattle Market to-day were heavy, 72 loads all told, composed of 800 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 15 calves and 2234 hogs.

Considering the large run of cattle, of which fully one-half were feeders and stockers, trade was fairly brisk, with very little change in prices.

Export cattle sold at $3.85 to $4.25, export bulls $3.25 to $3.75, the latter price being paid for extra choice only.

Choice picked lots of butcher cattle sold at $4 to $4.12½, loads of good $3.65 to $3.80, medium $3.40 to $3.55, and common $2.85 to $3.15 per cwt.

Milch cows, 30 were sold at $25 to $40 each, prices being easier, especially for the common class.

Calves sold at $2 to $8 each.

Sheep, supply equal to demand, selling at $3 to $3.50 for ewes, bucks $2.50 to $3, lambs $4.75 to $5.40 per cwt., lambs, each, $3 to $5.50.

There was a large run of hogs, which sold at $5 for best selections, $4.75 for light fat, and $4.50 for thick fats; prices have a downward tendency, and about $4.90 will be the limit for next week.

Too many thick fat hogs are coming forward. Farmers will get better prices and help the trade if they will give their hogs more exercise by letting them run out, instead of keeping them penned up. It is not fat but meat that the English trade requires, and, while many hogs are just about the right weight, they are too fat. This is caused by feeding too much grain and too little exercise, and too few roots being fed.

East Buffalo Live Stock.

East Buffalo, March 11.—Cattle—Receipts light, only a few odd head being on sale. Market quiet and weak for all kinds.

Hogs—Receipts 31 cars; fairly good demand, and prices for all grades fairly steady, with the average prices of yesterday for good grades, with pigs dull. Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 25 cars of fresh and seven loads held over. Market slow and ruled weak for all kinds, with heavy grades and clipped stock particularly slow and hard to sell. Native lambs, choice to extra, $5.55 to $5.70; fair to good, $5.25 to $5.50; culls, to common, $4.75 to $5.15; yearlings, common to choice, $4.50 to $5.10. Native sheep, choice to selected wethers, $4.60 to $4.75; good to choice mixed sheep, $4.30 to $4.50; common to fair, $4 to $4.25; culls to common sheep, $3.15 to $3.90.

British Markets.

Liverpool—Close—Spot wheat steady; futures quiet at 7s 10¼d for March, 7s 9¼d for May, and 7s 2d for July. Maize quiet at 3s 4¼d for March, 3s 3½d for May, 3s 2¼d for July, and 3s 4½d for Sept. Flour, 19s 6d.

London—Close—Wheat off coast, less active; on passage, in demand. Maize off coast, nearly dull. Passage, firm.

Paris—Close—Wheat, 21f 75c for August. Flour, 59f 60c for May.

Sometimes the most careful women are the most careless. Many a woman bundles herself up, to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She allows a slight disorder to become worse, to slowly sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of trouble seem to her unimportant. She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints" was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N.Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies.

Queer Heart Feeling.

Queer feelings in the heart are daily complained of by multitudes of people—don't know the cause, but it makes them nervous irritable and unfit for either work or pleasure. Mr. B. A. Ross, Alma Craig, Ont., explains it. He says: "It came from la grip. I was irritable, worried, dizzy, short of breath and such a queer feeling in my heart that I thought I would give up the ghost. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills changed all this, and I am free to-day from all these troubles."

STATE OF ONTARIO.

The Recounts as They Affect Political Standing.

THE LIBERALS STILL GAINING.

The Count Now Is: 49 Liberals, 40 Conservatives, 3 Doubtfuls, 1 Patron and One Vacant—Liberals Have More to Win Than Lose—Details of the Recounts.

Toronto, March 12.—The closeness of the recent election and the slim majority of the Government have lent additional interest to the recounts through the province, of which there has been a rather larger number than usual. There were recounts yesterday in North Toronto, Ottawa, West Huron, Lennox and South Perth. The standing of these constituencies when the official declarations had been made was as follows:

North Toronto, Conservative, by 24.
Ottawa, Conservative, by 2.
Lennox, Liberal, by 33.
South Perth, Conservative, by 5.
West Huron, Liberal, by 3, on the declaration, but really Conservative by 6, counting in ballots of sub-divisions of which the deputy returning officers had forgotten to sign the returns.

It will thus be seen that the Liberals had more to win than lose. There was a winning chance in South Perth, West Huron and Ottawa, while there was little chance of the Liberal majority of 33 in Lennox being wiped out. In North Toronto, too, Mr. Marter's majority, though small, was too large to hope to wipe out on a recount. Only in North Toronto and Lennox were the recounts finished, and in each case, one Conservative, the other Liberal, the majority announced by the returning officer was increased by ten.

In West Huron the errors of the deputy returning officers were rectified, and Mr. Beck was leading by a majority of one when court was adjourned for the night. This may possibly disappear to-day.

In Ottawa Mr. O'Keefe, the Liberal, who was two behind Mr. Powell at the official declaration, made a net gain of four over his rival, and thus stood two ahead when the count was adjourned.

In South Perth Mr. Monteith's majority of five was reduced to three, but was not concluded last night.

The results in West Huron, Ottawa and South Perth must therefore remain in doubt until to-day, but there is evidently a very chance of one, if not more, of these ridings coming over to the Liberal ranks. Indications are that the Conservatives will keep West Huron and South Perth and lose Ottawa.

It is much to be regretted that in the case of Nipissing an irregularity similar to that in West Huron occurred, whereby the returning officer was compelled to throw out the ballots for a sub-division. In the case of West Huron it was a matter of small actual importance, as a recount was certain to rectify the matter, as it has done; but in Nipissing, while Mr. Loughrin's legitimate majority of 99 is too large to be in all probability affected by a recount, yet there is just ground for the Conservative candidate feeling aggrieved that he is denied the test of a recount. This is denied him as a result of the irregularity which raised Mr. Loughrin's majority from under 50 to over, and put it out of the class for recounts.

The nomination in Russell took place yesterday. Liberal and Conservative candidates were placed in the field, the Conservative, however, being necessarily a forlorn hope, as he replaced at the last moment the candidate who had been in the field for several weeks, but was not disposed to run after it became apparent Mr. Hardy had a clear working majority. The election takes place on Friday next.

The classification of parties to-day, therefore, ranking as doubtful the three constituencies in which the recounts are unfinished, is as follows:

Liberal	49
Conservative	40
Patron	1
Doubtful	3
Vacant	1

Canadian Copyright.

Toronto, March 13.—A meeting of the Canadian Copyright Association was held in the Board of Trade committee rooms yesterday afternoon, when, among others, there were present: Dan A. Rose, vice-president; J. Murray, R. L. Patterson, A. S. Irving, W. Copp, George N. Morang, Bernard McEvoy, R. T. Lancefield, secretary; D. T. McAinsh, and Atwell Fleming.

After the chairman had sketched past progress it was decided to take immediate steps to urge on the Government to settle the question on the basis of the draft bill agreed upon by this association, as representing Canadian interests, and by Mr. Hall Caine, as representing the British authors and that the executive of this association take requisite action in the matter and interview the Government at once.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. Ross Robertson, M.P.; vice-president, Dan A. Rose; secretary, Richard T. Lancefield; treasurer, A. F. Rutter.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

THERE WAS CHEATING.

And Simpkins Was Compelled to Tell How He Knew It.

Over the river a virtuous spasm came upon the authorities, and a lot of "game" were "pulled." Among other witnesses for the state the name of Simpkins was called.

Mr. Simpkins, who was a pasty faced young man, rose from his seat and walked to the witness stand. After the oath had been administered to him and the usual preliminary question had been asked, he was told to go on and tell his story.

"It was this way," said Mr. Simpkins, "I like to play a little poker once in awhile, and I went up into this room and sat in a game. There were four others besides myself playing. Things ran along pretty evenly for awhile and then one of the men—I have since learned that he was the proprietor of the room—began to win heavily. I watched him and became convinced that he was cheating. Finally I knew he was cheating and drew out of the game. Then I sat and watched him for awhile, and I saw him deal big hands to the man he wanted to beat, and then deal himself bigger ones. It was scandalous. He stacked the cards and held them out, and did all sorts of disreputable things. I saw this and am prepared to prove it. If there is anything I abhor, it is cheating at cards."

"Wait a moment, Mr. Simpkins," interrupted the prosecuting attorney. "What was it that first attracted your attention to the fact that cheating was going on?"

Mr. Simpkins fidgeted a bit in his chair and then said, "Why, I was in a pot with this man, and when it came to a showdown, he had four kings!"

"And why did that convince you that he was cheating?"

"Because—because"— stammered Mr. Simpkins, and then he stopped short.

"Answer the question, Mr. Simpkins," put in the judge.

Mr. Simpkins grew red in the face. "Because," he finally said, "why, I knew he was cheating because he showed down four kings and at the very same time I was holding out two kings for the next hand."—Fargo Forum.

THE PENNY IN CHURCH.

Such an Offering, Except From the Poor, Is an Insult to God.

"The important part which the penny plays in the average church offering is known to every one who has ever been interested in church finances," writes Edward W. Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "And that it is a part entirely out of proportion to the necessities is felt and realised by many a church treasurer. Scores of people who could afford to drop a nickel or a dime into the church offering content themselves by giving a penny. The feeling is either that the smallest offering 'will do,' or the matter of church finances is not given any thought. There is a failure to realize that a church is the same as any other business institution, and it must have money for its maintenance.

"There is such a thing as too literal an interpretation of the phrase that 'religion is free.' Of course it is free, and let us hope that it will always be so in this country. But to make religion free costs money—and this isn't an Irish bull, either. There are those to whom more than 'the widow's mite' given to the church would mean doing without some absolute necessity of life. The penny of such a one is the most welcome gift to any church, the most noble offering which any one can make. But from those who can give more than a penny, and who are giving only the penny, such an offering is an insult to God and to his church, and the sooner people see the matter in this hard, true light the better. I am almost tempted to say that the great majority of churches could, with perfect justice, rule out the penny from their offerings. Were this done the nickel would be the prevailing offering, and to how few persons, when one stops to consider the question, would such an offering be a hardship or an impossibility? A yearly offering of $2.60, calculating that one attended church once each Sunday or twice with one offering of 5 cents, would galvanize the church finances of this country."

Couldn't Be Done.

"Boys," began the Sunday school superintendent impressively, "I hope none of you will ever get into the reprehensible habit of alluding to your father as 'the old man.' When you grow up, no matter how big or old you may be, you should always look up to and respect the silver hairs of your father, who has grown bent and gray working for you in your helpless infancy. Now, all of you who think you can do this, please raise your right hands."

Up went every hand except one.

Sternly eying the delinquent, the superintendent solemnly observed:

"Why, young man, I am horrified—absolutely horrified—as well as astonished at your behavior. Don't you wish to raise your hand and put yourself on record as being willing to respect the gray hairs of your father when you grow up to be a man?"

"No. No use tryin; can't do it nohow," unblushingly responded the lad.

"Why not sonny?"

"'Cause he ain't liable to have no gray hair. Dad's bald," chirped the youthful philosopher triumphantly, and amid a general titter the discomfited superintendent gave it up and passed on to something else.—Strand Magazine.

OVERWHELMING PROOF.

Another Witness for Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Record Grows.

London, March 7—A commission appointed to examine into the vast amount of evidence given in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, as the only sure cure for Bright's Disease, Diabetes and all other kidney diseases, would find the people a unit in favour of this God-sent remedy.

London has had hundreds of cures through Dodd's Kidney Pills. And the record is growing longer and stronger daily.

Fred J. Palmer, Nelson street, reports that after suffering the agonies of an advanced stage of Diabetes and Kidney disease for five years a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have not failed once in London.

THE SIAMESE GIRL.

Her Garments Are Scanty, and She Is an Inveterate Smoker.

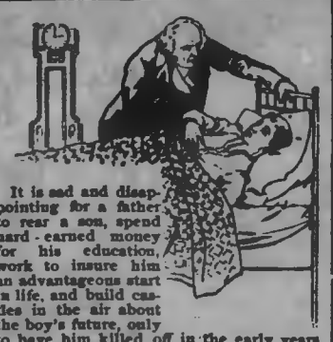
From the moment of her birth a Siamese girl is treated with less consideration than a boy. For several years after quitting the realms of "babyland" she dresses very slightly indeed (I refer more particularly to the lower classes, though the rule applies more or less generally). Next she adopts the sarong, or waist cloth, and on top of this is placed a bright colored scarf of considerable length and breadth, which is customarily crossed and recrossed over the breast and under the arms. These two garments constitute the whole of a Siamese girl's wearing apparel unless she chance to wear a scanty vest of linen. Rings and bracelets are inevitable, provided she be of class enough to afford them, and in a few cases the costume is finished off with a flimsy pair of slippers, into which the stockingless feet are thrust.

The average Siamese girl is an inveterate smoker of cigarettes from a very tender age. When quite a baby, too, she, in common with the rest of the population, is taught to chew the leaf and nut of the betel palm—at least she does not require to be "taught" this unlovely but (if we may believe what we see) fascinating pastime. Since, however, she knows full well that she will be esteemed passee, not to say ancient, at the age of 30 she concentrates the whole of her intellect upon the serious business of either entering the palace or getting married. But if it be the latter, the marriage in Siamese middle and upper class life is the most elaborate function that an English girl could imagine. The negotiation—what we should term the "courting"—is generally conducted in the first instance through an old beldame. It is this old woman's business to discover among other things whether the "stars in their courses" are propitious toward the happy event and whether the respective birthdays of the bride and bridegroom fall suitably to the date fixed for their union, for in all such matters the Siamese would appear to be even more superstitious than their Buddhist belief might reasonably be expected to make them.—Gentleman's Magazine.

STARTERS OF RESTAURANTS

A Business Operation by Which Some Men Make Considerable Money.

"It may seem strange to say so," remarked a lawyer the other day, "but it is true, nevertheless, that there are men in the city who are getting rich by establishing restaurants that do not pay.



It is sad and disappointing for a father to rear a son, spend hard-earned money for his education, work to insure him an advantageous start in life, and build castles in the air about the boy's future, only to have him killed off in the early years of manhood by the dread disease consumption.

Until recent years consumption was considered an incurable disease. Now it is known to tens of thousands that Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases if taken in the early stages of the disease. It also cures bronchitis, laryngitis, throat and nasal troubles and all allied diseases of the air-passages. It is the best blood-maker and flesh-builder, the best general tonic and nerve restorative. It gives a keen edge to the appetite, corrects the impaired digestion, promotes the flow of digestive juices, facilitates the production of chyle in the lower stomach, or intestines, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It tears down old and inert tissues and builds up new, firm, muscular tissues of health. It strengthens the heart's action, promotes the circulation of the blood to every part of the body and deepens the breathing, thus supplying the blood with vitalising oxygen. Thousands have testified to its merits. The dealer who offers something else as "just as good" is dishonest.

"I never was very strong and then I had La Grippe," writes Mrs. Gracie G. Smith, of 480 19th St., Salem, Oregon. "I had a cough and felt tired all the time. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' I have better health now than for many years."

Thirty-one one-cent stamps cover the customs and mailing of a paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

This is the way they do it: A cheap shop is rented and fitted up as a restaurant at a cost, say, of $250. Food valued at about $100 is purchased, and some judicious advertising is done. More food is sold for the money than than customers can get anywhere else in the neighborhood. The result is a crowded restaurant, though the proprietor is losing money steadily. When he has a first class line of patrons and he appears to be doing a big business, he advertises the place for sale. Ill health or a desire to move south, east or west is one of the excuses. Customers appear promptly, and the proprietor usually sells his place for $1,200 or $1,500, half in cash. His investment has not been more than $400, so he clears from $800 to $1,000. Of course the place proves a failure, and the purchaser loses his money. The restaurant starter, however, moves to another portion of the city and repeats his enterprise."

The lawyer said that he recalled one man in particular who had started no less than ten restaurants in the last six months, all of which he sold. With two exceptions the places did not pay, and the men who bought them were compelled to close them.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Schoolyard.

To spend large sums of money on architectural beauties and stone carvings of historic ornaments—which have but little attraction for children—to make a school building look like a palace and then to leave the schoolyard looking like a desert or the top of a bituminous lake, without a single attractive flower or one bit of beauty, are inconsistencies which seem possible only in the modern system of education. Weather beaten houses in the country, log cabins on the frontiers, railroad stations in the Great American desert and all over our country have their beautiful flower gardens, and it refreshes one's soul to see them, but there is no such source of refreshment, inspiration and instruction where children are being educated in the "essentials."—Henry Lincoln Clapp in Popular Science Monthly.

DR. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE

Working Wonders in Toronto.

Gave MRS. BINDON her hearing when Specialists failed.

About 3 years ago, Mrs. Bindon, of 11 Maitland St., Toronto, was attacked with la Grippe, which affected her hearing to such an extent that she was completely deaf. It was a serious affliction and she tried many remedies and consulted a prominent specialist on ear diseases, but derived no benefit. By a happy circumstance she was led to use Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and before she had completed 3 boxes her hearing had partially returned.

She persisted in the application of the remedy, so confident was she of ultimate cure, and by the time 12 boxes had been used her hearing was completely restored. For 3 months now she has been free from deafness, and no emancipated sufferer was ever more delighted than Mrs. Bindon. On Sunday she goes to church and enjoys the service, a thing she was unable to do before Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure gave her back her hearing.

C. P. R. TRAIN DERAILED.

Three Coaches Smashed—Sir Frank Smith and Senator Longheed on Board.

Kingston, March 14.—A Canadian Pacific passenger train of four coaches was derailed three miles east of Sharbot Lake on Saturday morning about 10.45 o'clock. A spreading rail was the cause of the accident. Three passenger coaches were overturned and thrown into the ditch by the side of the roadbed. These coaches are considerably damaged and the track, ties and roadbed have been torn up for a distance of 200 yards. Nobody was hurt. There were twenty passengers on the train, most of whom were in the coach behind the baggage car. This coach was thrown on its side and brought up against a large bouldor.

Sir Frank Smith and Senator Longheed were the only passengers in the rear car and, though badly shaken up, escaped uninjured.

Burglars at Elora.

Elora, Ont., March 14.—At an early hour Sunday morning some professional burglars gained an entrance through the door of the waiting-room of the Grand Trunk station of this place. They then forced their way through another door leading into the office and blew the safe open, evidently by the use of dynamite, leaving it a total wreck. Fortunately it did not contain much cash, and the burglars only realised a few dollars for their trouble.

The store of R. M. Boswell, general merchant, was also entered early this morning by burglars, supposed to have been the same parties. The amount of goods stolen is not yet known.

Listowel Had a Blaze.

Listowel, March 14.—About two o'clock Sunday morning fire broke out in William McKeever's grocery store on Wallace street, which was destroyed with stock; and A. Hermiston's furniture store, with a small portion of furniture saved; also a portion of Kidd's livery stable was burned. It is impossible at present to find the amount of insurance and loss, but the risks were mostly carried by the Waterloo and other mutuals, which will not cover the loss. The origin of the fire is unknown, but supposed to be from a defective flue or pipe.

QUEER AMERICAN RIVERS.

One Florida River That Seems Undecided Just What to Do.

F. H. Spearman tells of "Queer American Rivers" in St. Nicholas. The author says:

Every variety of river in the world seems to have a cousin in our collection. What other country on the face of the globe affords such an assortment of streams for fishing and boating and swimming and skating—besides having any number of streams on which you can do none of these things? One can hardly imagine rivers like that, but we have them, plenty of them, as you shall see.

As for fishing, the American boy may cast his flies for salmon in the arctic circle, or angle for sharks under a tropical sun in Florida, without leaving the domain of the American flag. But the fishing rivers are not the most curious or the most instructive as to diversity of climate, soil and that sort of thing—physical geography, the teacher calls it.

For instance, if you want to get a good idea of what tropical heat and moisture will do for a country, slip your canoe from a Florida steamer into the Ocklawaha river. It is as odd as its name, and appears to be hopelessly undecided as to whether it had better continue in the fish and alligator and drainage business or devote itself to raising live oak and cypress trees, with Spanish moss for mattresses as a side product.

In this fickle minded state it does a little of all these things, so that when you are really on the river you think you are lost in the woods, and when you actually get lost in the woods you are quite confident your canoe is at last on the river. This confusion is due to the low, flat country and the luxuriance of a tropical vegetation.

To say that such a river overflows its banks would hardly be correct, for that would imply that it was not behaving itself. Besides, it hasn't any banks—or, at least, very few! The fact is, those peaceful Florida rivers seem to wander pretty much where they like over the pretty peninsula without giving offense, but if Jack Frost takes such a liberty—presto, you should see how the people get after him with weather bulletins and danger signals and formidable smudges. So the Ocklawaha river and a score of its kind roam through the woods—or maybe it is the woods that roam through them—and the moss sways from the live oaks, and the cypress trees stick their knees up through the water in the oddest way imaginable.

BRIBING THE SENATE.

A Disgraceful Despatch Sent Out From Montreal.

STATEMENT UTTERLY UNTRUE.

The Members of the Appointed House Above the Cold Cash Form of Bribery—Senators Likely to Strongly Resent the Canard - The Yukon Bill Will Probably Carry.

Ottawa, March 14.—Very strong language is being used by public men in condemnation of the disgraceful despatch sent out from Montreal to the effect that a fund of $500,000 is available for the bribing of the Senate into acceptance of the Yukon Railway contract. Charges of personal corruption have been levelled from time to time against individual members of Parliament, and sometimes with perfect justification, but this is the first occasion on which the suggestion has been made in the press that the members of a branch of the Parliament of Canada could be bought wholesale with cold cash. The story is but a slight advance upon similar infamies appearing in the American papers occasionally and sent from Montreal or Ottawa, but it was supposed that no reputable Canadian paper would be found to print such an unwarranted falsehood. The Senators for the most part are benevolent looking old gentlemen, who, having all deserved well of their party, if not of their country, have entered upon a sinecure, carrying with it the title of honorable and $1,000 a year. They are good average men, average in ability and in morals, and as ninety-nine average citizens out of a hundred would scorn a bribe in the form of cash, it is safe to say that there is probably not one man in the Senate of Canada who could be approached with safety by a bribe-giver. A glass of wine, an invitation to dinner, a position to a poor relation, a retainer to do legal business, a helping hand into "society," are more seductive forms of influencing votes, and it is possible that measures are often promoted in Parliament by human devices of this sort, but as yet Ottawa is no place for the cold-cash argument. The Senators are likely to resent strongly the Montreal canard.

The Bill Probably Safe.

As a matter of fact it is probable that no undue influence of any sort will be required to carry the Yukon bill through the Senate when it reaches that body. Of late the Senate has received a considerable infusion of mercantile blood, and it looks as if the business men on both sides may unite to secure the passage of the bill. Sir Frank Smith, Mr. Forget, Mr. Drummond and others of strong Conservative views will, it is thought, point out how dangerous it would be to the business interests of Canada to reject the bill and make no provision for an all-Canadian route into the Yukon country. It is doubtful whether even Sir Mackenzie Bowell, however he may seek to amend the bill, will counsel its rejection. The bribery yarn may have been invented with the object of giving a soft fall to those who have been so confidently asserting that the Senate would throw out the bill.

MAY TAKE BOTH OTTAWAS.

The Recount So far Gives Mr. O'Keefe, Liberal, a Majority of Five Votes.

Ottawa, March 14.—The Ottawa recount is half over. The result up to the present time is that Mr. Powell's majority of thirteen has been wiped out, and Mr. 'OKeefe, the Liberal, now leads by five votes. As he has gained right along there seems to be little doubt that he will be declared elected at the conclusion of the recount. The explanation given of the change in Mr. O'Keefe's favor is that a large proportion of the deputy returning officers were Conservative, and where doubt as to the validity of a ballot existed gave Mr. Powell the benefit of the doubt. Mr. Powell's declared majority was two, but seven sub divisions were left out, in which he had eleven more, because the deputies forgot to make proper entry. Even supposing these seven sub-divisions are counted, as they probably will be, Mr. O'Keefe is now ahead.

Mr. Beck Leads.

Goderich, Ont., March 14.—Judge Masson resumed the West Huron recount at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, and concluded at 4 p.m. All the disputed ballots have been decided except one in which the number had been torn off. This ballot is marked for Beck, and with it he has a majority of 2. Judge Masson will give a final summing up on Monday at 2 o'clock.

South Perth Recount.

Stratford, March 14.—The South Perth election recount is still unfinished. An adjournment has been made until Monday. Owing to the secrecy of the proceedings it is impossible to give any idea of the result so far.

What has been gleaned from reliable sources goes to show that Mr. Moscrip's chances are very bright.

Mr. Conmee's Election.

Port Arthur, March 14.—Returning Officer Thompson declared Mr. Conmee elected for West Algoma Saturday, the majority being 391, with no irregularities.

No wholesale house can buy cheaper than we do; we save all middlemen's profit, we don't even have to add a buyer's expenses. If you think Laurier's or McKinley's name in a Hat is worth 50c or a dollar extra, all right, but if GOUGH'S is good enough then save your dollars and buy your Hats from GOUGH.

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Prize Tea Store, 328 George street. After critically examining the tea, she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another question an says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and our own raising of Pickled, Smoked Rolled Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and at price to suit all. Come to the best, get the best, and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 328 George Street.

AMAZONAS AND BREU

These Are the Names of the Two New U.S. Ships.

BUILT IN BRITAIN FOR BRAZIL.

Of the Cruisers Just Bought One is Ready for Sea—The Other Will Be in the Same Condition Shortly—A Desirable Acquisition to the U. S. Navy.

Washington, March 15.—A week's negotiations closed yesterday by the purchase by the Navy Department in London of the two fine cruisers built and building at Elswick for the Brazilian Government. Possibly the officials took more pleasure in closing up the business in this manner because of the knowledge that the Spanish agents had been striving to secure these very ships, to whom it is said they would be of much greater value in case of trouble than to the United States. The next question is how to get the ships home, and that has not yet been settled, according to the Secretary of the Navy. The United States flag will be hoisted over the new ships within a week, probably, and just as soon as the crew can be put aboard the Amazonas she will start for the United States. The other vessel will follow at the earliest possible moment. The terms of sale are secret. The availability of the two Brazilian ships was first brought to the attention of the Navy Department by Mr. Lane, agent of the Maxim-Nordenfeldt Company, who was authorized to dispose of these ships, and two others in course of construction in France. Mr. Lane said yesterday that the two ships purchased would be a most desirable acquisition to the American Navy, as they were the latest and best products of the famous Armstrongs' yards.

One of the ships is complete in every respect, has her coal supply and ammunition on board, and steam can be raised at any time. There will be no trouble in bringing this ship across, as an adequate force from the local yards can be secured for the service. It is said the coal and ammunition on board passed with the sale to the United States. The ammunition is not of the kind in use by the United States navy, so that the supply of ammunition is a necessary adjunct to the new ships. The other ship has been launched, but it will take some time to make her ready for sea. Mr. Lane believes, however, that there will be no difficulty in bringing her over immediately, if it is desired to make the move without delay, as the hull of the ship is so well along that she could be towed and her own sail power utilized for the trip across.

BRITAIN MADE NO OFFER.

Mr. Curzon Replies to the Questions of Mr. Michael Davitt Concerning Alliance With the U.S.

London, March 15.—In the House of Commons yesterday the Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, Mr. George N. Curzon, replying to Mr. Michael Davitt, anti-Parnellite member for South Mayo, as to whether Great Britain had offered to lend men-of-war to the United States, said the Government had not made such an offer.

Answering a series of questions which Mr. Davitt put with the view of eliciting whether there have been any negotiations for an alliance between Great Britain and the United States, or whether Great Britain has offered to mediate in the Cuban crisis, Mr. Curzon said these questions were of such a nature that it was inexpedient to reply to them.

Mr. Curzon's reply that Mr. Davitt's questions were inopportune was received with a loud "Hear, hear" from the Unionist benches.

Mr. Davitt, in an interview on the subject, said: "I put the question as to the ships because it was not proceeded with last week. I wanted to elicit the truth. I knew, of course, that the statement made to the effect that warships would possibly be loaned was as absurd as the rumored alliance of re-approachment, and I received exactly the answer I expected. Mr. Curzon is too clever a diplomat to give any answer which would dispel the idea that an American alliance is on the tapis, as of course it never will be. Mr. Curzon knows it, but it serves England's purpose to let the continental nations think it is possible in the near future."

Spanish Squadron Has Sailed.

London, March 15.—A special despatch from Cadiz, Spain, announces that the Spanish squadron has sailed from that port. It is understood the Spanish warships are going to Porto Rico, where they will await the orders of Capt.-General Blanco.

Spain Bought the O'Higgins.

London, March 15.—The Press Association says Spain has purchased the battleship O'Higgins, built by the Armstrongs for Chili, but the Chilian Charge d'Affaires says a Chilian crew is expected here next week to take the O'Higgins to Chili.

LORD SALISBURY MUST REST.

Mr. A. J. Balfour Taking Charge of Foreign Office Business.

London, March 15.—It is officially announced that the Marquis of Salisbury was greatly fatigued by Friday's Cabinet Council, and a return of weakness, following the attacks of influenza, supervened, with the result that Sir William Broadbent, the famous physician, advised the Premier to take a complete rest in the South of France. Mr. A. J. Balfour, the First Lord of the Treasury, and Government leader in the House of Commons, so far as necessary, is now dealing with the Foreign Office business. The Press Association says it is authorized to declare that the rumor that the Marquis of Salisbury contemplates resigning either of his offices is absolutely groundless.

The Marquis starts for Beaulieu in about a week's time and will stay there about a fortnight.

CROW'S NEST COMMISSION.

No Reports on the Complaints of the Laborers Yet.

Winnipeg, March 15.—The commissioners appointed to investigate complaints regarding the state of laborers on the Crow's Nest Pass Railroad—Judge Dugas of Montreal, Mr. Frank Pedley, Superintendent of Immigration for the Dominion Government, and Mr. John Appleton, President of the Trades and Labor Council of this city—returned yesterday from the Crow's Nest Pass, where since January 20 last they have been taking evidence at different places along the route of construction. The inquiry has been of a very exhaustive character, embracing the quality of food supplied, housing accommodation, prices for supplies, hours of work, rate of wages, etc. Interviewed, Mr. Frank Pedley said: "We visited altogether thirty-five camps, 800 miles driving being necessary for this. We slept at the camps and ate with the men. I can say one thing, that there was no necessity for complaint as to the quality of the food supplied. We took evidence from contractors, camp doctors, accountants, foremen, mounted policemen, and of course the men. The statements at times were of a very conflicting character. We have no results. We are doing all in our power to obtain the fullest information, and then it will be time enough to speak as to results. We sit here for a couple of days; we shall then probably sit at North Bay, Mattawa, Renfrew, Hull, Ottawa and Montreal."

Walked 65 Miles to Court.

Toronto, March 15.—Charles Robinson of Eudora on Saturday received a subpoena to appear at court here as a witness in the case of the Queen v. Cook. He hadn't any money, but believing the summons to be imperative, set out to walk to the city. The distance from Eudora to Toronto is 65 miles, but Mr. Robinson was on hand for the opening of court at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Serious Blaze at Gananoque.

Gananoque, March 15.—Yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the furniture factory of the Gananoque Furniture and Undertaking Company, destroying everything. The building was valued at $3,500; insured for $1,000 in the Waterloo Mutual Company. The machinery and contents, valued at $8,000, were not insured.

Are Canadian Reserve Men Liable.

London, March 15.—A rumor was circulated here that the men of the navy reserve residing in Canada would be called out simultaneously with those of Great Britain and Ireland when the latter were summoned to the colors. Enquiry at the war office has utterly failed to substantiate the report, and military men generally discredit it.

Cotton Workers Return to the Mills.

Taunton, Mass., March 15.—The 1,100 operatives of the Whittenton Cotton Mills returned to work yesterday. They seemed glad of the opportunity to resume. The monetary loss to them during the strike has amounted to about $40,000.

FLOODS IN ONTARIO.

The Raging Waters Have Caused Much Damage.

PEOPLE HOMELESS AT OTTAWA.

Some Idea of the Damage Done at Brantford, Galt, London West and Hespeler—The Floods Abating, But Still People Fear for the Future—A Concise Statement.

Ottawa, March 15.—The rapid thaw of last week, supplemented by heavy rains, has caused a great rise in that part of the Rideau River which flows through and near the city, with the result that the low lying lands on the east bank of the river are submerged and thousands of acres are under water. The villages of Janeville, Clarkstown and the southern end of New Edinburgh, all of which are only separated from Ottawa by the river, are badly flooded, and several hundred persons are practically homeless to-night, their homes being so surrounded by water as to be only reachable in boats, and many of them are so unsafe as to be uninhabitable.

The flood is the worst in forty years, and the damage to property is very great.

To-day the ice below the railway bridge was blasted away and the water immediately commenced to flow freely into the Ottawa, and it is still falling almost as rapidly as it rose.

Abated at Galt.

Galt, Ont., March 15.—The Grand River flood has abated and the quantity of water in the cellars of numerous stores and private dwellings is gradually becoming less. Every store on Main street has water in the cellar, owing to the water being forced back through the sewers. Cherry Bros.' storehouse, adjoining the mill, and containing two hundred barrels of flour, was swept away last night, carrying with it another span of the upper bridge. The loss to Cherry Brothers will amount to about $2,000. The other smaller individual losses will aggregate about $8,000, making a total of $10,000, besides the loss to the municipality, which will be in the neighborhood of $7,000. The Galt, Preston & Hespeler Street Railway is unable to run between Preston and Hespeler, owing to the washed-out track on that section of the road. The Grand Trunk Railway have 100 men at work on their line between Galt and Doon repairing the roadbed and replacing rails. It will be several days before traffic can be resumed on that branch of the road.

The Flood at Brantford.

Brantford, March 15.—The water in the Grand River continued to rise until an early hour yesterday morning, when it appears to have attained its highest, at which it remained for some time. In West Brantford the water continues to rush through the streets at great speed. The streets are badly cut up with washout holes, and sidewalks are floating across the street. Communication is made with boats.

The G.T.R. suffered considerably, their track being washed a few feet out of place and considerable of the earth washed away. They had a gravel train and gang at work repairing.

Much Trouble at Hespeler.

Hespeler, Ont., March 15.—Not for many years have the waters of the Speed been as high as they have been to-day. The river is swollen to many times its normal size, and many acres of low-lying farm lands between here and Preston are under water. Several departs in the Brodie Woolen Mills, Hespeler; Speedsville Woolen Mills and Ferguson & Pettinson Woolen Mills at Preston have been closed to-day on account of the flood. The G. & H. Electric Railway between Preston and Hespeler is inundated in several places and a number of washouts have occurred, consequently there was not a car up yesterday. Preston was in darkness last night, as all the electric light wires between there and Blair, where the power station is situated, are down. The river is slowly receding, and it is expected that the worst is over.

London West Is Safe.

London, Ont., March 15.—All danger from flood in West London is past. After midnight last night the water began to fall, and last night it was well within its banks.

The reports sent to the Toronto papers, stating that 1,500 people were made homeless, were pure exaggeration.

THE RECOUNTS.

The West Huron Appeal Decided in Mr. Beck's Favor.

Goderich, Ont., March 15.—Judge Masson yesterday delivered a lengthy judgment on the disputed ballots in the West Huron election. The result of all is to leave Mr. Beck with two majority. Mr. Garrow filed an appeal against the rejection of three ballots marked for him, and against four ballots allowed for Mr. Beck. Mr. Hays will appeal generally on behalf of Mr. Beck, so that the whole matter will come before the court in Toronto.

Monteith Is Safe.

Stratford, March 15.—The recount in the South Perth election was concluded yesterday and Nelson Monteith, Conservative, was declared to have a majority of ten votes.

TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 1898.

THE UNWISDOM OF PORK-PIE POLITICS.

The Provincial Conservatives are verily, like Ephraim of old, "joined to their idols." They made themselves ridiculous over on the cholera scare in regard to the Humber piggery, and though that silly matter has killed the main "guy" of the cry, Mr. St. John, their seems to be a fatal fascination in the subject. The Opposition organs can't let it alone. A few days ago the hogs in the Humber piggery had arrived at marketable maturity and were killed and placed on the market, as usual. Then the false yarn was started that there was cholera in the piggery again. There was not a word of truth in this. The pigs were killed because they were fit to kill, and, besides, it is said that there was hog cholera in the vicinity; the Government concluded to take no risks and the animals were killed. During the recent campaign the lower order of stumpers tried to make a point out of the charge that the Government was injuring the farmers by feeding pigs on the refuse from the public institutions and this competing with farmers in the market. This is almost too absurd to refute. Whatever is realized from the sale of pigs fattened on waste products is clear gain to the Province, as a very large proportion of the provincial funds is returned directly to the people, the latter getting the benefit. And, moreover, the total number of pigs fed at the provincial piggery is a mere trifle to the hundreds of thousands bred throughout the country by farmers. But the piggery agitation has been a cause of real injury to the farmers, an injury for which the Opposition is directly responsible. The senseless agitation, though it was proven to be baseless, was so insisted upon that it tended to create the impression that Ontario pork was diseased. Even if this were not the case, if the public were in doubt there would be a decreased demand, and of course a drop in price and untold injury to the farmers' trade in pork would be the result. This would be particularly the case if the British market shared the doubt as to the soundness of Canadian pork. The British market is our best market, but it must have goods, like Cæsar's wife, above suspicion. We are just getting a footing on this market with Canadian hams and bacon, but if Mr. St. John's absurd pork propaganda gets a hearing there, the result will be an incalculable loss, and we shall have destroyed the work of years in getting a foothold in our best market. In their anxiety to reap a party advantage, Mr. St. John and the Opposition did not hesitate to take a stand that threatened the ruin, or at least serious injury, of one of the most profitable branches of farming operations. If there had been any truth in their cry about the diseased Humber pigs their course would have been unpatriotic and unwise, but when it was without foundation they are guilty of gratuitously and, in a political sense, maliciously injuring the interests of the great farming community. Now, that the elections are over, it is criminal in view of the harm likely to result, for the Opposition organs to seize upon every possible pretext as represented by the false report in respect to recent cholera at the Humber to try to discredit the Government at the expense of the pork-raising industry.

GENERAL PROSPERITY.

Hon. J. C. Patterson, the present Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, who, by the way, recently visited Peterborough, is or was in pre-gubernatorial days a pronounced Conservative, and was at one time a member of the Dominion Cabinet. He belonged to a party that held that since proven, heresy that the advent of a Liberal Government to power meant a landslide of the country to the dogs. A day or two ago, in his official capacity, he had the following remarks put into his mouth. In the Speech from the Throne, read at the opening of the Manitoba Legislature, this paragraph occurs:

> I can congratulate you upon the manifest prosperity that this province and the Dominion generally are now enjoying, and which bids fair to continue. I need hardly point to you the quality of the grain crop last year, and the good prices that were paid for it; the rapid increase in dairy produce and and the very extensive shipments of live stock. These have resulted in a strong feeling of confidence in the future, which is evidenced by the largely increased acreage prepared for the coming season. Owing to these fortunate circumstances, we are entitled to expect—what in fact our information leads us to count upon—an unusually large influx of settlers into the province.

The pleasant part of this unpalatable language to even a sentimental opponent of the Government, is that it is true and the most encouraging feature of the paragraph is its closing reference to the probability of a large influx of settlers. This, if realized, will tend to make the conditions of prosperity permanent. What the Northwest needs especially is population. With increased population the natural productiveness of the fertile and unbounded acres of our great Northwest will be realised upon and an increased demand for the manufactured products of older Canada will make the whole country boom. Give millions more of bodies in the Northwest and we will clothe them if our looms have to run night and day; give millions more of homes and we will build and furnish them; and to do so the wheels of industry will be kept revolving at express speed.

THE fine weather and the winning of two elections in its constituency has led the St. Thomas Journal to go to the extravagance of a new spring dress. In its new attire the Journal looks as neat as a pretty girl in a clean print wrapper. The Journal is a good, live newspaper and well deserves the new outfit it rejoices in. It is well filled with live news, and of a healthy liveliness, too, and its editorial deliverances are broad-minded and clever contributitions to public opinion. We congratulate our confrere on its evident prosperity.

CIVILIZATION, it seems, contrary to popular idea, is not necessarily fatal to the permanency of the Indian races. A census of the aboriginal population of Canada has been taken by two Government officials at the various bands. It shows that, while the Indians are decreasing in numbers, the decrease is most pronounced where the red men are least under the influence of civilization. In Ontario the Indians are growing in numbers, whereas in British Columbia, Manitoba and the Territories, they are disappearing. The total number of Indians in Canada in 1897 was 98,364, as against 99,027 in 1896.

A few days ago the herd of 191 hogs owned by Mr. Arthur Barton was found to be infected, and yesterday Government Inspectors Drs. Smith and Sweetapple superintended the killing of over 150 of them. Of these only 25 were found to be fit for food. The few that were not killed are young, and all of them are affected. Thus far no other herds in the vicinity are known to be diseased.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of material.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. ☞Write us for designs and estimates.

CANADA'S RAILWAYS.

The Problem of a Commission Discussed.

THE DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

Motion Made for a Commission to Regulate Railroads in the Public Interest and According to the Railway Act—Nationalization of the C. P. R. Talked of.

Ottawa, March 15.—The transportation problem which confronts the people of Canada, and especially the farmers of Manitoba and the Territories, made the topic of an interesting debate in the House of Commons yesterday. The subject was practically dealt with by Manitoba members, who voiced the dissatisfaction of the west with existing conditions. They spoke of not only what they termed the railway monopoly, but of the elevator combine as well, and called upon the Government to adopt measures for the amelioration of the lot of those who are obliged to submit to unjust exactions. All agreed that the appointment of a railway commission would do much to provide a remedy for the evils complained of. The Minister of Railways and Canals, while having faith in the ultimate nationalization of railways, proposes in the meantime with his colleagues to address himself to the consideration of a plan of relief. The press of public business, however, will prevent the Government reaching a conclusion in time to submit a measure this session, but it is probable that the railway question will have a prominent place in the debates of Parliament next session. The Government realize that it is a subject beset with many difficulties, but this fact will not deter them from taking it up and making a sincere effort to overcome them.

Mr. Speaker Edgar said that before he called the orders of the day, he wished to mention a matter which is of the nature of privilege, "and which, I see, has been connected by the press with the seat of an honorable member, the member for Richelieu. It is stated that I have received his resignation. If I had received his resignation I should have issued my warrant for a new election before now. The only occasion when I have had any communication from or with Mr. Bruneau this session, was on Friday evening. I had just entered my office when Mr. Bruneau came in. He asked me if I had received a letter from him. I told him I had not. He said he had called to get a letter back which he had written to me. I told him to wait and I would look among my mail, for I had not yet opened my letters. I turned the unopened letters over in his presence, and he pointed to one with his frank upon it. I asked him if it was his writing on the address and frank. He answred me it was. He told me nothing of its contents, and I asked him nothing, but handed him the letter unopened, and he took it away with him. So far as I know it had come to my office through the postoffice, for I had not seen it before. I mention this to avoid any mistake as to facts, so far as I am concerned."

Mr. Sutherland moved that the bill to amend the Act incorporating the Ontario and Rainy River Company be sent back to the Railway Committee. The motion carried.

Mr. Sifton, replying to Mr. Domville, said no special instructions had been given to Major Walsh regarding the disposal of timber in the Yukon district, but he had reported to the department that in his judgment it was necessary to take steps to protect the timber. Two officers had left Vancouver to take charge of the timber of the district. Mr. Sifton told Mr. Bergeron the homestead laws had not been extended to Yukon districts.

Mr. Blair informed Mr. McMillan that the Government had in contemplation to take up the subject of a railway commission and deal with it at an early date. I may say, continued Mr. Blair, that it is not found practicable, owing to the condition of public business, and for other reasons, to submit an order with that object in view during the present session, but I am in hopes that we may be able to do it next session.

A Railway Commission.

Mr. Jameson moved: "That the public interest demands that the railway companies of Canada should, at the earliest possible moment, be brought under the control of a Board of Railway Commissioners clothed with full power to enforce the provisions of the Railway Act and to prescribe and enforce the observance of such regulations as may be necessary in the public interests."

He said that there was no proper tribunal in Canada to enforce the provisions of the Railway Act. New Zealand, Australia and the United States each had a Railway Commission, and in his opinion it was essential that there should be one in Canada to determine railway rates, instead of having the rates controlled by a railway boss in Montreal. The railway rates which prevail in the West had the effect of keeping population away. Manitoba had only increased by 50,000 in five years, half of this being the natural increase. The C.P.R. was earning 10 per cent. on its investments, but it was greatly injuring the West by the rates which it charged.

The Minnesota Act commended itself to Mr. Jameson. It provided that the Commissioners, upon complaint of any person by telegram, investigated the matter informally, and if the complaint proved to be well founded the railway company was notified and a date fixed for a hearing. In case of default of the company to make restitution the fact was reported to the Attorney-General of the State, to impose a penalty. As a general rule the railway company promptly rectified the grievance rather than face the courts. He believed that one Commission, acting thus as a Board of Arbitration, would serve for the whole Dominion.

Mr. Davis supported the motion. The great trouble in the West was excessive freight rates, not so much on the main line of the C.P.R., whose rates could be interfered with, but in the branch lines.

Mr. Rutherford, speaking in favor of the proposal, traced the grievances of high freight rates to the great evil, as he termed it, to heavy bonding on account of construction. He contended that the bond issue should be limited to the actual cost of construction.

Mr. Maclean said he believed this was the greatest issue we have before us in this country to-day. We can deal with this question in a great many ways. In the first place, this Parliament ought to exercise a greater and stronger check on every railway bill presented to this House. The Government should insist that there should not be unnecessary duplication on roads, and they should first insist on the two-cent passenger rate. That would be a great reform and relief to the people. Let the hon. gentlemen embody this change in the first bill coming before this House. On this point he said he would test the opinion of the House at the first opportunity. After contending that the Minister should take steps to ascertain the cost of the C.P.R. in order to regulate the tolls, he said one way in which to regulate railways and to ameliorate the grievances is to give them no further concessions until they remedy the grievances complained of. He then advocated the extension of our present national railway system to Winnipeg. Mr. Maclean said another thing we can do in regard to railway transportation is to lay down the principle that Canada is to take a stand for the nationalisation of her railways. That may be a hopeless program to some, but he knew of no idea in the higher field of politics that is growing with more force than the idea of a nationalisation of railways all the world over.

Mr. Richardson hoped that the House would in the meantime pass his bill to break up the elevator monopoly in the Northwest.

Dr. Sproule said the idea of a Railway Commission was first put forward by Mr. McCarthy, who introduced a bill to create such a body, but was induced to substitute a Railway Committee of the Privy Council. The latter had proved altogether inadequate.

Mr. Blair's Reply.

Mr. Blair resumed this discussion after recess. He said the importance of this question could not be overrated. The transportation question was one of the largest questions with which Parliament could deal, and he would hail with delight any scheme which would ameliorate the grievances of which the people of Canada complained. But this question was not susceptible of easy treatment. The creation of a Railway Commission in England had not afforded the measure of relief which was anticipated. It did not follow, therefore, that the moment a Railway Commission was set on its feet a vast improvement would result. While in full sympathy with a substantial measure of relief, he was not sanguine that the consequences would be as complete and successful as some believed. He could not agree with Mr. Maclean that it would be sufficient to vest in a Railway Commission the powers now possessed by the Railway Committee of the Privy Council. He believed the Railway Act to-day, so far as it conferred powers or machinery on the Railway Committee to remedy evils, was very defective. Take, for instance, the question of running rights. Only one or two minor applications of this nature had ever come before the committee, for the reason, he believed, that counsel of the railway companies had been forced to the conclusion, from a study of the Act, that it was inadequate for the purpose.

Mr. Maclean asked if some provision could be made, for instance, whereby the I.C.R. could be extended to Winnipeg, and the right obtained for the Government road to run its cars to Winnipeg.

Mr. Blair said that was a larger question than probably Mr. Maclean conceived. It would mean that provision must be made for using all the different railways, the station houses and terminals, and for getting the different railway corporations to come to some agreement with the Government, and then, after all this had been done, the Government road would not be able to handle one dollar's worth of local traffic; that must be done by the company owning the line. He sympathized with Mr. Maclean in the view that we should have a national highway. (Hear, hear.) He believed it was a radical error on the part of the Government of that day, and he was not reflecting upon them because public opinion would not have sustained them in taking this further step, when they allowed the transcontinental railway to become the property of a private corporation. (Hear, hear.) He believed the sound policy for the welfare of the Dominion was that at any cost the country should have owned that great highway. (Hear, hear.) Then they could have afforded to treat the people liberally, even though it involved cost. The people benefited would have been those who went west to find a home, and to settle on its broad acres. People would have been induced to go there and stay there if Canada had owned the trunk line. The question of the nationalization of railways was becoming a live question in England, and it was likely to grow in Canada. On the continent of Europe the system prevailed to a remarkable extent. The suggestion that railway companies could be forced to yield to the wishes of Parliament was not as easy as Mr. Maclean supposed; the difficulties were indeed very serious.

With regard to a 2-cent passenger rate, Mr. Blair contended that such a proposal would not reach the C.P.R. and G.T.R., so that, much as the House might sympathize with Mr. Maclean's views, it would be extremely unfair to apply it exclusively to some small railway in a remote region of the Dominion. He moved the adjournment of the debate.

The motion to adjourn the debate carried, and the House adjourned at 9.40.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

Lessen Your Wants.

More of the true enjoyment of life lies in this maxim than is generally thought. We may indeed go to extremes and cut to the quick, like that cynic philosopher who threw away his wooden cup on seeing a vagrant boy drink from the hollow of his hand. But the truth is we create many of our own necessities, and with the growth of luxury new wants come in, not by ones, nor by tens, but by hundreds.—New York Ledger.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

The subject will be "Resolved that is the duty of the state to provide educational facilities beyond the public schools." A pair of strong debating teams will make the occasion one of more than usual interest. The speakers for the affirmative are Mr. D. W. Dumble and Rev. J. G. Potter, and for the negative Rev. S. J. Shorey and Mr. F. D. Kerr. From the merits of the subject and the opportunities it presents for logical and oratorical display a most interesting debate may be expected.

UNSAFE BRIDGES.

Three of Them are Unfit to be Used as Thoroughfares.

Three of the town bridges are in bad shape. Two of them on Donegal and Sherbrooke streets are closed to traffic, as the high water in the creek has swept the temporary props from under them, which were placed there as supports last summer.

The third unsafe bridge is on Smith street near Jackson Park. One of the big stringers is broken in two in the middle and the whole bridge is consequently weakened.

Repairs cannot be attempted until the high water subsides.

Men who are Bald.

See Professor Dorenwend, the well known Hair Goods Artist, who will be at the Oriental Hotel on Wednesday, March 23rd. His system of replacing lost hair on bald heads is really marvellous. Any doubts as to this fact can be quickly dispelled by examining his goods. Over 34,000 are in use and the number is increasing daily.

Don't Shoot the Dog.

Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, calls attention to the warning given repeatedly not to shoot dogs supposed to be mad, as that does away with any chance of finding out whether the animal really had rabies or was only temporarily insane, as it were. He urges that such animals be confined under observation to see if hydrophobia develops, or that a portion of the spinal cord of the animal be sent to him immediately after death for treatment, in order that the existence of the disease may be verified. The doctor is hoping that the Ontario Government will before long establish a Pasteur Institue in connection with the Provincial Board of Health. It is estimated that between $5,000 and $6,000 were expended last year by Canadians taking the treatment at New York.

THE FUTURE OF NICKEL FROM OUR STANDPOINT.

THE NICKEL STEEL COMPANY OF CANADA.

Canadian Profits from Canadian Nickel—Importance of our Great Deposits—War Preparations Cause Increased Demand.

In view of the annual meeting of the Board of Trade to-night, when the relations of Canadian nickel to existing and prospective conditions will be discussed, the following despatch from Ottawa will be of interest:—

Ottawa, March 14—(Special)—Mr. Wood, member for Hamilton, is making preparations for the introduction of the bill incorporating the Nickel Steel Company of Canada, the syndicate of British and American capitalists who propose to erect huge nickel smelting and refining works in Canada, in the event of the Government deciding to put an export duty on nickel ore and nickel matte. The proposal that Canada, which possesses the largest deposits of nickel in the world, shall send out the metal in a refined condition to the great advantage of thousands of Canadian workmen, instead of in a crude shape, is one of more than national importance. There are but two nickel deposits in the world of commercial value, one in New Caledonia, belonging to France, the other at Sudbury, in British territory.

USED FOR PROTECTING WARSHIPS.

Since the discovery that nickel in a small proportion added to steel makes a combination—nickel-steel—of extraordinary tensile strength and capable of resisting a blow that would smash the same amount of ordinary steel into fragments, naval constructors in all countries have begun to sheath their vessels in nickel steel armour, and latterly ordinary plates for shipbuilding have been discarded in many places for nickel-steel. The high price of nickel heretofore has prevented the use of nickel-steel in large quantities for commercial shipbuilding, but with a reduction of price to reasonable figures it is the opinion of experts that nickel-steel will be the metal not only for the warships but for the mercantile marine and the bridge-building of the future. The most important use of nickel for the moment, however, is in the protection of warships, and the immense navies now being created by the great powers will be sheathed in nickel-steel. The production of nickel must be increased enormously in the near future to meet this demand.

The Governor-in-Council was given power last session to impose an export of not more than ten cents per pound upon nickel matte, and the Government may not be inclined to resist the demand that is being made for the imposition of this duty.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY.

Endeavourers of St. Andrew's and St. Paul's Hold a Union Meeting.

The union rally of St. Andrew's and St. Paul's Christian Endeavour Societies was not largely attended, but was very successful.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church some two years ago decided to arrange a monthly topic bearing upon some phase of Church life, work and doctrine, and from time to time the local societies have arranged a united service on the occasion of such study.

The first part of the meeting last night was a prayer and praise service. Mrs. Mein, of St. Paul's church, assisted with a very appropriate solo. The Scripture lesson was Deut. vi, 1—25, and Rev. Dr. Torrance gave a fifteen minute address on the method and spirit in the study of the Word of God. After "Onward Christian Soldiers" had been sung, the Rev. J. McD. Duncan, M. A., of Woodville, delivered an eloquent and instructive address on the personnel of the Westminster Assembly, at which the standards—confession of faith and catechisms—subsequently adopted by the Presbyterian churches were compiled. Mr. Duncan's presentation of the eminent men of various Christian churches of the United Kingdom who composed the Assembly, showed him to be a master in painting the characters of these men so as to leave a telling impression on the minds and hearts of his hearers. His summary of the lives of the three Scottish worthies of the assembly was exceedingly instructive, while his peroration filled every heart with enthusiasm, and encouraged everyone to go forward and live for the principles of righteousness and truth, for which these men were willing to give so much. The address was warmly applauded.

The meeting closed by singing "God be with you till we meet again," and the Rev. Dr. Torrance pronounced the benediction.

Diamond Dyes are the Choice of all Wise Women.

Mrs. G. Lighthall, Vanleek Hill, Ont., in a recent letter says:

"I have used your excellent Diamond Dyes in preference to all other dyes and they have always proved satisfactory. Living on a farm I use them to colour yarns especially, to which they give beautiful and serviceable colours."

In every section of Canada, country, town and city, women do successful work with Diamond Dyes. When an old garment is dyed with Diamond Dyes it is made as good as new. Worthless and imitation and soap grease dyes give muddy and sickly colours. Diamond Dyes colours are always bright, fast and never fading.

HOT TIME IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER

Over the Question of Paving George Street.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY SCHEME.

The People Will be asked to Vote on a Bylaw Giving the New Company a Thousand Dollars a Year For Twenty Years, Providing the Railway is in Operation that Long and Subject to Other Conditions.

The council met in special session last evening with the Mayor presiding and the following Councillors present:—Messrs. H. Best, W. H. White, C. B. Robinson, T. H. G. Deane, W. L. Allen, A. Dawson, J. H. Cobb, J. B. McWilliams, W. H. Langford and J. M. White.

A deputation of ladies composed of Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. (Dr.) Bell and Miss Nicholls were granted a hearing, Mrs. Stuart stated that they appeared on behalf of the Y. W. C. A. to ask that the taxes be remitted for the year.

Councillor Dawson stated that the Y.W.C.A. was being patronized by those drawing salaries of sufficient amount to pay well and as it was not a charitable institution it did not, in his opinion, have a claim on the town.

Councillor Langford, Chairman of the Court of Revision, stated that when the application of the ladies came before the Board it had been thrown out, as this institution was simply competing against the boarding houses of the town and had successfully solicited boarders to leave other houses to come to them. The institution had no claim for charity and the claim therefore could not be considered.

Mrs. Stuart stated that not a single boarder had ever been solicited to leave another house and that it was sought to establish a home for young girls who came to the town as strangers. It was more worthy of support than the Young Men's Christian Association. The girls were not well off who boarded with them. The terms were from two to three dollars per week.

The Mayor asked if the ladies were succeeding in the work as at first planned? There was an impression that a class of boarders was going there who could afford to pay well, whilst the poorer girls therefore did not call to apply for board.

Mrs. Beck stated that the reading rooms were provided with literature in order to give young girls a place in which to spend their evenings if they had no homes. It was not true that the poorer classes of girls were not wanted in the institution. No one would make this statement who had been through the house.

On motion of Councillors Dawson and J. M. White the request of the ladies was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and referred as follows:

From Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson as follows: On behalf of Mr. D. A. Starr, we beg to thank the council for the offer to submit a bylaw providing for guarantee of fifty thousand dollars of bonds to be issued by the proposed Electric Railway Company Mr. Starr regrets that this offer will not assist him, as his company is strong enough to float its own bonds for that amount without difficulty and the placing of a mortgage to the town upon the road would seriously interfere with the general credit of the concern. We hope that some other proposition may be forthcoming as we have every reason to know that the gentlemen who are behind this scheme are able to carry it out."—Received.

From W. Salisbury notifying the Clerk of his having removed both his store and residence since the last visit of the Assessors.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From Frank Smith notifying the council of the death of his dog on which he formerly paid taxes.—Granted on the appellant taking the usual statutory declaration.

2. That lots 1 and 2 north of Dalhousie and west of George street owned by Messrs. Rumble and Pearce, and used for the corporation yard, be released from the sewerage tax this year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY BEST, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

BY LAWS.

Councillors Robertson and W. H. White introduced the bylaw amending the Market Bylaw, which received its several readings and was passed.

Councillors Deane and Allen introduced the bylaw respecting the assessment. It passed its several readings and was signed and sealed, as was the bylaw fixing the rate (17 mills) and authorizing the levying of taxes.

RESOLUTIONS.

It was moved by Councillors Langford and J. M. White, that the Street and Bridge Committee be instructed to engage boys to destroy the caterpillar nests on trees in the town and also to engage a man to look after the work, and that the treasurer be instructed to pay for the nests so destroyed by the hundred at a rate or rates, to be fixed by the Street and Bridge Committee, upon the certificate of the man so engaged to take charge of the work.—Carried.

Councillor Dawson stated that Gaoler Nesbitt had a number of able-bodied men at the gaol, with nothing to do, and that he would be glad to have them at work on the town stone pile, under the same conditions as formerly, when a man was paid to look after the prisoners, and this was the only expense entailed.

Councillor Langford, in speaking to the question, said that he understood that the stone which was broken for the streets was simply done by hand for the sake of charity and to provide work for men who would otherwise have nothing to do. If this was not the case he would urge the purchase of the crusher, which would break the stone at a far less cost.

Councillor McWilliams pointed out that a stone pile was kept at the gaol for the purpose of giving tramps the benefit, and it had answered the purpose well, as the fraternity fought shy of Peterborough now.

On motion of Councillors Dawson and Cobb, the prisoners will be given the work on the ten cords of stone which are now at the gaol.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

Councillor McWilliams introduced the following motion dealing with the letter received during the evening from Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson on behalf of Mr. Starr.

"That this Council is willing to submit a bylaw to a vote of the ratepayers to grant a subsidy of $1000 a year for twenty years to the proposed Electric Railway Company provided the details of the agreement can be satisfactorily arranged."

The motion was seconded by Councillor Deane and carried.

Councillors Best and Dawson asked that the company pay the expense of putting the bylaw to the people, and Councillor Deane spoke about a guarantee being put up, as security that, if the bylaw carried, the work would be undertaken.

Councillor McWilliams pointed out that these were some of the "details" mentioned in the resolution.

Moved by Councillors McWilliams and Dawson that any person selling milk and delivering the same with conveyance drawn by a horse or horses in in the town of Peterborough, be compelled to take out a license and that a fee of $1.00 be charged for said license.—Carried.

HIGH PRICES FOR MEAT.

Councillor McWilliams brought up the matter of the high prices charged for meats. He understood that in Belleville good beef was worth only 8 cents a pound whereas the butchers in Peterborough had recently raised the price of the beef cuts to 15 cents a pound. It would be well for the License Committee to consider this matter.

Councillor Dawson thought that the butcher business in Peterborough was a monopoly. By the imposition of a license, the business was restricted to a few, who raised the prices by agreement until at present meat was dearer in Peterborough than in Ashburnham. If the license was taken off and meat was allowed to be cut up on the market, the prices would come down. Meat was only 9 cents a pound in Ashburnham.

Councillor Deane reminded the last speaker that the butchers had to pay heavy rent and taxes, and if such a course were pursued they would not be able to carry on business.

Councillor Langford asked if meat was so cheap in Ashburnham how was it that the citizens did not go over there for it? He thought the present arrangement was a good one. The butchers were willing to call at the houses for orders and then fill them. They went to great expense in fitting up ice-houses, and were enabled thereby to sell meat when not a pound could be bought on the market.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Councillors Dawson and Hamilton moved that the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to advertise for tenders for the cleaning of the streets this year, with power to act, if they see fit.—Carried.

On motion of Councillors McWilliams and J. M. White the Street and Bridge Committee was instructed to secure plans and ask for tenders for the building of a sidewalk from Water street to the new bridge at Auburn.—Carried.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

Councillor Langford urged that some effort be made to put down permanent pavements on George street. The town was behind other places of the size which had improved their streets in this manner. Strangers coming to the town were surprised to see a town with such sidewalks; and the citizens were ashamed of them. As the Street and Bridge Committee was divided in opinion as to the wisdom of putting down a permanent pavement this year from Brock to Charlotte street on account of lack of funds, he would move that George street be paved between Hunter and Simcoe streets. The motion was seconded by Councillor J. M. White.

Councillor Dawson stated that the appropriation for streets and bridges was smaller this year than for some time past, and as it was proposed to foot the bill out of this appropriation he would oppose it, although he was in favour of the scheme if debentures were issued to cover the cost.

Councillor McWilliams agreed with Councillor Langford. Such a pavement was needed as an object lesson. The sidewalks might also be moved outside the trees on Water street opposite Victoria Park and afterwards money could be raised by debenture to do the rest of the work. The small amount proposed to be paid for out of current expenditure was to be regarded simply as an experiment.

Councillor Langford stated that he had estimated the cost to be about $800.

Councillors Best and Robertson opposed the scheme, the latter figuring that the cost would be $4,800, whilst Councillor Best put the figures at about $2,000.

The motion was then put and carried on the following division:

Yeas—Councillors Deane, Allen, Hamilton, McWilliams, Langford and J. M. White—6.

Nays—Councillors Best, W. H. White, Robertson, Dawson and Cobb—5.

Councillor Dawson rose to his feet as the motion was carried and as chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, saying, "I don't wish to be made a catspaw of by any man in this council. I have had the smallest appropriation for my Committee ever given it and I shan't act any further in that capacity."

TENDERED HIS RESIGNATION

Councillor Best raised a point of order and defied the council to spend the money on George street and leave the outside streets without their share of the expenditure.

The Mayor—"I rule the point raised out of order and I might say that if my vote had been needed I would have supported the motion."

Councillor Best—"You are to blame for this, Mr. Mayor!"

Councillor Dawson—"It was the Mayor who hatched this little scheme and got his agent, Langford, to work it up for him. The mayor is the man who brewed this business, and I tell him so to his teeth!"

Councillor Hamilton—"It is to his credit if he did!"

Councillor Langford—"Mr. Dawson says what is false. I have advocated this scheme for years and have asked the support of the council on the idea every year I ever sat in the council. The mayor never mentioned it to me."

Councillor Dawson—"I defy Mr. Langford to show such a motion on the books about paving George street out of current expenditure."

Councillor Langford—"I always advocated permanent improvements, and the reason for the cost being taken out of

is that only a small portion is being done as an experiment."

The Mayor—I wish to say that I was not the one who started the idea. The man who suggested it was Mr. Langford, and I was astonished when I found the cost was so small. I mentioned it to nearly all the councillors, as I always do any new scheme, in order that I might get all the enlightenment possible on it. At first we thought of doing three blocks, but, in view of the small appropriation for Streets and Bridges, we brought it down to one block. In order to permit anyone saying that I was acting in my own interests in the matter, I might mention that the town's assessment is four millions and that George street in these three blocks is assessed for $700,000 or one sixth of the total and ought therefore to be entitled to one sixth of the yearly expenditure. Out of $15,000 spent on streets and bridges last year, the three blocks were entitled to $2,500, yet no one could say there was more than $300 spent on it, so that the other $2000 due it went to pay the expenditure on the outside roads. If it was to consider my own interests, therefore I would vote for a frontage tax and could easily get up a petition for the imposition of one from the George street property owners. Debentures could then be issued and it would than what I am at present contributing in taxes, but it could then be said I was serving my own ends, which I am not in the council to do. The people have been urging this matter for years and the papers have time and again stated that the amounts which were spent on the streets in repairs was money being thrown away. I referred to permanent improvements when I was elected and I intend to stand by my platform. The remarks as made by Councillors Best and Dawson, were not correct as applicable to me."

Councillor McWilliams—"You never even mentioned the matter to me, yet I am supporting it."

Councillor Dawson—He was the first man mentioned it to me. I am not blocking the scheme, but say it should be done by debentures. I agree that everyone wants the pavements.

Councillor Deane spoke strongly against increasing the debenture debt of the town.

The Mayor—Whilst we are on the subject I might also say that out of 90 electric lights we are entitled to 15 on the portion of George street mentioned, yet we only have four, and out of 124 hydrants have only a few.

Councillor Robertson—"And out of four policemen have only four."

Councillors Best and McWilliams moved that the clerk notify all property owners on George street and intersecting streets between Brock and Charlotte streets, as well as along the creek, that immediate connection with the sewers is necessary.—Carried.

The council then adjourned.

TALL BUILDINGS.

The Skyscraper Considered as a Device For Saving Labor.

In the tall building it is emphatically "a condition, not a theory," that confronts us. The many storied office building is a necessary product of certain economic factors which have operated in spite of the architects, and more intensely in the United States than elsewhere. This is what has made it so peculiarly an American product. Of these economic factors the cost of land, so commonly alleged as the controlling one, has really been the least important. Land in parts of Paris and London is as costly as in New York and Chicago, but the 15 story office building has never come into vogue there, while, on the other hand, buildings of 10 or 12 stories are not uncommon in American cities of the second and third rank, where land is relatively cheap. The causa causans of the skyscraping monstrosity is to be sought in the drive and hurry of American business life, and in the accompanying American propensity to save time and labor. The skyscraper is a huge labor saving and time saving device.

Each building is almost a complete city, often comprising within its walls banks and insurance offices, postoffice and telegraph office, business exchanges, restaurants, clubrooms and shops. The business man can provide himself with clothes, shoes, cigars, stationery and baths; receive and dispatch his mail and his telegrams; speculate on 'change, consult his lawyer and his architect in their offices and transact his own business—all without leaving the building in which his office is located. The express elevator which shoots him up to the sixteenth story or drops him with breathless speed to the basement is a product of this same American haste and economy, and without the elevator the tall office building would be an impossibility. It is the triumphant success of the skyscraper as a time saving invention which has made it so conspicuous and insistent an element in our American architecture. — Engineering Magazine.

Sometimes the most careful women are the most careless. Many a woman bundles herself up, to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She allows a slight disorder to become worse, to slowly sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of trouble seem to her unimportant. She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints" was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N.Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies.

LIVING IN CITIES.

The Apartment House Is Breaking Up American Homes.

I have no mind to harrow up the minds of my readers with any explication of the miseries and mysteries that confront the average housekeeper in the daily maintenance of a simple but comfortable existence for her family. As for herself, an existence at all seems a struggle which at times she would gladly give over. One might define a heroine as the average American woman who does her own housekeeping. But some hint of the unnatural and unhappy state of affairs existing at present may be deduced from the consideration of two economic facts.

First, woman is by nature a home founder and a homemaker. This is not intended as an assertion of personal belief, but as a statement of scientific fact. It was woman—not man—who opened the industrial world. It was woman who made the first rude dwellings and dressed skins and wove textiles for clothing. It was woman and not man who made the first fire and the first utensils for cooking and the first rude tools for industrial ends. All her activities clustered about the hearth and ministered to the home. If the woman and the work had not reacted upon each other so that today women should be by nature homemakers and home lovers, there are still depths for the scientists to sound in the working of heredity and of natural selection.

And yet—here is my second fact—the enormous piles of stone and brick rapidly filling the choice plots of ground in our large cities and shutting out the light of heaven with their gabled tops are mute if not magnificent witnesses to the fact that the investment of capital is all against the perpetuation of the separate home. The shrewd modern investor is willing to put hundreds of thousands against hundreds of dollars that (for his lifetime at least) women are going to prefer the ease of the apartment hotel to the separate house with its privacy, its own table, and—alas—its own service. — Helen Watterson Moody in Scribner's.

THE CARE FREE VIENNESE.

They Rarely Take Life Seriously Unless at a Funeral.

"The native Viennese is a jolly, good natured, shiftless creature," writes Edward A. Steiner, discussing "Austria and Her Troubles" in The Woman's Home Companion.

"No people on the earth are so jolly or so easily and so much amused. Go to the Prater, the largest public park in Europe, and from 100 different beer gardens comes the noise of tooting brass bands and stamping feet and beating drums. Merry go rounds swing old and young, and dime museums and music halls are as full of people as they are empty of decency. Go to the theaters on any night and you will find them crowded by an enthusiastic audience, the galleries filled by noisy students and working girls. The court theaters, which present only legitimate dramas and operas, have also their numerous devotees. Go to the coffee houses, of which there is one on every corner, and you will find them full, especially in the afternoon, with merchants with their noses in the newspapers and clerks sipping their Mocha and officers smoking their cigars and one pushing and card shuffling youths. At night these coffee houses become the rendezvous of the lower element. I have never seen the Viennese serious, unless it be at a funeral, and I suppose that even out of that he manages to get some fun. Yet he is easily excited, and although loyal and law abiding his good nature may quickly turn into a fiery passion, and a Viennese riot is a serious matter for the police."

Raleigh Finger Marks.

It is now 300 years since Sir Walter Raleigh lived in Ireland, but, according to Sir John Pope of Hennessy many traces of his residence there can still be seen. The richly perfumed yellow wallflowers that he brought to Ireland from the Azores and the Affane cherry are still found where he first planted them, by the Blackwater.

Some cedars he brought to Cork are to this day growing at a place called Tiyio. The four venerable yew trees, the branches of which have twined and intermingled into a sort of summer house thatch, are pointed out as having sheltered Raleigh when he first smoked tobacco in his Youghal garden. In that garden he also planted tobacco. A few steps farther on, where the town wall of the thirteenth century surrounds the garden of the warden's house, is the famous spot where the first Irish potato was planted by him.—Chicago Record.

WHISTLING WELLS.

Natural Barometers Which Foretell Storms In Wisconsin.

A freak of nature which is attracting considerable attention is a series of blowing or "whistling" wells located in the northern part of the town of Eureka, in Polk county, Wis. There are six of these hysterical wells, ranging in depth from 130 to 160 feet. The one owned by James Coitin exhibits most remarkable features. This well is 120 feet deep and was dug 15 years ago. The first 20 feet was hardpan and the rest coarse gravel.

Before a rainstorm the wind blows out of this well with great force, making a roaring sound that can be heard a long distance. The wind is so hot that water placed on the cover of the well will boil. The wind blows out only before a storm, and the severity and duration of the storm are always in exact proportion to the force of this current and its duration before the storm commences. It is therefore an accurate and trustworthy barometer, or vice versa, with equal accuracy, but remains quiet in settled weather.

In winter a current of air is drawn in before a change of weather just as forcibly as it blows out in hot weather. This current will freeze the water 120 feet from the surface of the earth as quickly as it would at the surface, and, though many attempts have been made to use a pump in the well, they have all failed, and a number of pumps of different makes have been destroyed by the water freezing and bursting the cylinders and pipes.

The other five wells, which resemble this one in many respects, are all located within the radius of about one mile and vary in depth from 130 to 160 feet.

All sorts of theories have been advanced concerning an underground passage, but no outlet has ever been discovered, and if there is one it must be a great distance away in order to foretell the approach of storms so long a time in advance.—Philadelphia Record.

SAVE THE MOTHERS

Dodd's Kidney Pills Their Only Safety in Female Diseases.

You have seen a flower nipped by frost, fade and die in the flush of its beauty. That is how women die when attacked by any of the diseases peculiar to their sex.

Woman's burdens are woefully heavy. Her sufferings are agonizing. Her patience is grand. Disease preys upon her. The light dies out of her eyes, her steps become slow and dragging; she loses flesh; grows sallow, listless, droops like a flower. Then she dies. Her family is left to the cold mercy of the world.

"Mother's dead!" What a piteous phrase. What sufferings have been endured before it was used. Why should mothers, wives, sisters suffer so? They need not. Dodd's Kidney Pills will quickly and thoroughly cure all cases of Female Weakness. They never fail. They give health, strength, courage: a new lease of life.

A DEAD MAN'S HONOR.

BY CHARLES B. LEWIS.

In the year 1863, which you will remember was fraught with more excitement than any other of the civil war, the firm of Bass, Williams & Girder, which was doing business in a town on the New England coast, appeared in the newspapers in connection with a series of startling incidents. The firm deals largely in fishermen's supplies and in fish and lumber, and in connection with its general store it had a private bank and the town postoffice. George Bass was postmaster, at least in name; John Williams ran the store and Joseph Girder conducted the bank. The "head man" of the firm was Philip Lacy, who was a bachelor and had grown up with it from a boy. He was implicitly trusted, and any one of the partners would have suspended one of the others as soon as Lacy.

On the morning of July 5 in the year named one of the employees opened the store, to find Lacy sitting on a chair in the bank, with a gag in his mouth and his legs and arms tied to the chair. He was released at once, but it was an hour before he could tell his story. He had been in the habit of remaining at the store until a late hour in the evening, looking over books and accounts. On the previous evening, just after 10 o'clock and as he was ready to leave, he had suddenly been attacked by two men, who must have been secreted in the store with that object in view. He was seized from behind and choked into a state of insensibility, and when he recovered he was sitting on the chair, bound and gagged, and the two men were at work on the door of the bank vault. The vault was merely a brick closet, defended by an iron door, which had none too safe a lock. There was no safe inside. All the money of the store, bank and postoffice was placed in this vault at night, and on this occasion besides about $30,000 in greenbacks there were government bonds amounting to $50,000.

The robbers took Lacy's vault key from his pocket and had the door open in half a minute. Each one of the firm had a key to the vault, but Girder and Lacy were the only ones to make use of them. The robbers were not masked, and made no effort to conceal their identity. They went about their work in the coolest manner and when ready to depart did not leave a 10 cent shinplaster behind them. Money and bonds were packed in a satchel, and before going they sat down to a lunch of crackers and cheese and afterward smoked a cigar. They told Lacy that they belonged in New York and had had an eye on the "plant" for several months. They had done him little injury, and the last thing before departing they removed the gag and gave him a drink of water and told him the time. When the man came to tell his story, it was not questioned in a single particular. He gave such a close description of the men that they were recognized by the Boston detectives as Sam Hastings and Charlie Ford, two notorious all around crooks. Indeed it became known that the former had been hanging around the town for a month or more.

It was not until a detective was called into the case that the finger of suspicion pointed to Lacy. The employee who found him gagged and bound suddenly recollected that all the knots were loose and that it was little work to throw the ropes off. Lacy had seemed much exhausted, but this might have been a sham. Lacy had been heard to wish for money to go into business for himself, had said he was tired of working for other folks, had attempted to borrow a considerable sum of money to buy a share in a fishing craft. Once the tide turned against him it was easy to make out a strong case. After a week's investigation the detective was satisfied that the trusted "head man" had robbed the concern and had hidden the booty, and there were so many points which favored this idea that Lacy was held for the crime. Three days after the robbery a boat was picked up in the harbor which had been upset, and when she was righted two dead men were found in her. That they were not sailors was easy to see, and that the craft had been stolen from a town a few miles away was soon ascertained. The coroner's jury decided that the nameless strangers had taken the boat out for a sail and been upset in a squall, and the incident hardly provoked comment. There was the key to the robbery, but no one grasped it. It came to the ears of the detective, but he was working to convict Lacy and paid no attention to outside matters.

Any man who has made a study of crime will tell you that a perfectly innocent man often misleads justice or convicts himself by his demeanor when under charges. When Lacy found that his story was disbelieved, he felt so grieved that he sulked and refused to answer questions and thus made matters worse for himself. There was nothing which he could not have explained, and yet when asked to explain in order to acquit himself his silence was construed as a sure indication of guilt. The fact that he had been fully trusted for twenty odd years went for naught after the detective's report, and he was sent to prison to await the action of a higher court. A week before his trial was to come off he hanged himself in his cell. His suicide was therefore accepted as the strongest proof of all that he was guilty. He left no message behind him, but that made no difference. He had closed the case and practically admitted his guilt, and the public press dropped it at that point. The firm was rich enough to stand the loss and go ahead, and in a year the great robbery was a thing no longer gossiped about.

If Lacy took the money and bonds—and all were agreed that he did—where did he secrete them? That was a query which kept coming up daily until after his suicide. Detectives and others searched in vain for the plunder, and it was finally agreed that he had an outside confederate. This man, whoever he was, had been admitted to the bank; he had tied Lacy up as they found him; he had taken away the plunder to share and share alike. That he had not come forward after Lacy's arrest with money to retain counsel was a part of the plot; that Lacy had not "peached" on him was because he hoped to get clear to enjoy his share of the haul. Everything worked out nicely to make out a case, and but for his suicide the man would have surely gone to state prison for a long term of years. There was just one man in the firm's employ who did not believe Lacy guilty, and he was a clerk in the store, by the name of Thornton. He had not been there over a month when the robbery took place, nor had Lacy spoken to him a dozen times. He was a young man of 20, and so strong was his belief in the prisoner's innocence and so vigorously did he combat the theories of the detective that suspicion was directed against him, and he was discharged. He, however, secured a place with another firm in town and continued to champion Lacy until the matter passed out of the public mind.

It was a year after the robbery and seven or eight months after the suicide that young Thornton got up one morning to tell his employer a queer story. He slept in a corner of the store, on the first floor. He had gone to bed tired out after a long day's work and had slept soundly until midnight, when he suddenly awoke. He had extinguished the light, but yet there was a strange light in the room, and by its aid he saw Lacy sitting by his bedside. That he was terribly frightened and upset may readily be believed, and yet he held his nerve and asked the ghost, as he believed it to be, what was wanted. Lacy did not reply, but beckoned him to follow, and he slipped on his trousers and shoes and followed the wraith through the streets of the town toward the harbor for a distance of seven or eight blocks. The ghost seemed to float along at about four paces ahead of him, looking back occasionally to see if he was following, and he was leading Thornton directly toward an old tumble down fishhouse, when a policeman suddenly seized the young man and inquired why he was abroad at that hour of the night and in that dress. With that the spirit disappeared, and Thornton's explanations were laughed at, and he was escorted back to the store as a somnambulist. His employer could not call it a dream, because there was the policeman's evidence, but he ridiculed the whole affair and put another clerk to sleep in the store. If Thornton was a somnambulist, he was not a safe man to have charge of property at night. The young man took a room two blocks away, and it was a couple of weeks before anything further happened. Then one night soon after midnight he awoke with these words sounding in his ears:

"Harry, I did not rob the safe, but it was done by two men, just as I explained. They came here in a boat from M——, and after getting the plunder they hid it away, intending to come back later on. My honor is at stake, and if you will go with me I will show you where they hid the plunder. They were the two men found in the upset boat."

When Thornton roused up, Lacy was sitting beside him, as on the previous occasion, but almost immediately rose up and beckoned the young man to follow him. Had Thornton been anything but a nervy young fellow the mystery of the robbery would never have been explained. He was upset to some extent by the words and the sight of the man whom he knew to have been long dead, but not so much that he hesitated to follow after. The wraith led him toward the old fishhouse as before, but this time Thornton was fully dressed. He could see Lacy as plainly as he could see the buildings along the streets, although there were no footfalls but his own. He passed several pedestrians, but they saw him alone. The wraith took a straight course for the fishhouse and entered it, and did not again reappear, while Thornton hung about for awhile and then returned to his bed. The tumble down building was not such a place as he cared to enter at midnight.

Early the next morning he went to the firm of Bass, Williams & Girder and told them of his two midnight adventures, and suggested that the fishhouse be searched. He was simply laughed at, but he got a policeman and visited the place, and under a lot of old nets and refuse they found the satchel which contained all the bonds and every dollar of the stolen money. The whilom friends of Lacy were jubilant, but they had the detective to deal with again. One of his theories was that Lacy hid the satchel there; the other was that Thornton was his confederate and had given up the plunder because afraid to touch it. So reasonable did this latter theory appear that the young man was arrested, and he might have gone to prison had not a crook named English Joe got lagged and made a confession. He had known of the plan to rob the concern and was aware that Hastings and Ford were to do the job. They were the men who were lost by the upsetting of the boat. It was believed that they were to leave the harbor by a fishing smack, and that they were pulling about to find her when they lost their lives. They had hidden the satchel temporarily, but it was so well hidden that it had been walked over a hundred times. Articles taken from the dead men's pockets were identified, and after patient investigation no one could longer doubt that things happened exactly as Lacy related.

What was done about it? Well, words are cheap, and, therefore, plenty of men expressed their sorrow for what had occurred. Lacy's body had been buried at the expense of the town. His friends of other days raised a purse and bought a lot in the town cemetery, and the firm which he had not robbed spent $50 for a tombstone to stand at the head of the grave. Perhaps nothing more was to be looked for. The singular manner in which the dead man cleared his honor was long a matter of talk, and for a few days or weeks young Thornton was something of a hero. Then the detective who had had his theories spoiled began dropping a word here and there, with the result that the clerk finally left town under a cloud, and today there are plenty of people in the town who believe and declare that he and Lacy put up the robbery and were to go halves on the plunder. I have looked upon the grave and heard the story of the wronged man a dozen times, and I believe all things occurred as Lacy and Thornton related them.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO, N.Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.

A more pitiful sight than a mother and her child, both captives and shackled in a dungeon, could not well be imagined. There are thousands of mothers and their babes who lie shackled by disease in the dungeon of death.

Without knowing it, or having the faintest comprehension of it, the fault lies with the mother. Too many women enter upon the responsibilities of wifehood and motherhood while suffering from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. A woman who suffers in this way cannot be a capable wife and a competent mother. Before entering upon the duties and responsibilities of these positions, she should see to it that her health, both general and local, is thoroughly restored. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for this purpose. It acts directly on the sensitive organs concerned, making them strong, healthy and vigorous. It promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, heals ulceration, checks unnatural and exhausting drains and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the shattered nerves. It turns the dangers and pains of maternity into safety and ease. It is a medicine that is intended for this one purpose only and is good for no other. Dealers sell it and no honest dealer will suggest a substitute.

"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did me so much good that to-day I am well again and stronger than I have been for years," writes Mrs. Alex. Lockie, of Wise, Isabella Co., Mich. "I have a baby one year old and as fat and healthy as one could wish to see. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' I keep Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in the house all the time. My family take no other kind of pills."

A fine display of northern lights was to be seen last night. For a time the whole northern sky was covered with these tremulous streamers, some of them exhibiting a reddish hue, changing to yellow and purple. In the regions of the north these lights are regarded by the ignorant with superstitious dread, while all agree in placing them among the unexplained wonders of nature.

Barnato's Trustee Shot.

Capetown, March 15.—Mr. Woolf Joel, the trustee of the estate of the late Barney Barnato, the South African millionaire, was shot in his office yesterday morning at Johannesburg by a former soldier. He is dead. The murderer, a man named Feldthein, has been arrested.

Feldthein entered Mr. Joel's office and demanded £2,500. Being refused, he snatched a revolver from a desk and fired. The bullet entered Mr. Joel's forehead and he fell to the ground and expired. His murderer attempted to commit suicide, but failed.

He Fooled With Dynamite.

The Railway Rate War.

Toronto, March 15.—The rate war was a dead issue in railroad circles yesterday, and the only speculations made were as to how soon the whole trouble would end. The American Joint Traffic Association has now got the matter in hand and will thresh it out at a conference to be held in New York to-day, and at which the Canadian Pacific would be represented. The prospects are for peace.

CLINTON STANDS BY DOHERTY.

Bylaw to Loan Him $25,000 to Rebuild Carried Almost Unanimously.

Clinton, Ont., March 15.—The vote on the bylaw to grant a loan of $25,000 to Messrs. Doherty & Co., for a term of 20 years, was taken here yesterday, and resulted in a sweeping majority for the bylaw. The available vote is slightly over 500, and of this number 457 voted in favor of the bylaw and only 10 against it. When the result was known a large crowd marched to the office of W. Doherty & Co., headed by Mayor Holmes, who proposed three cheers for Mr Doherty, which were given with a will. Mr. Doherty responded to the calls for a speech, and said he was more than pleased and surprised at the almost unanimous expression of confidence shown in himself and the factory. He thanked the Mayor and council, the members of the different committees and all who had worked to carry the bylaw, and assured them that the work of re-erection would be proceeded with at once.

Saved from Death!

A WONDROUS STATEMENT BY A MONTREAL MAN.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND Dragged Him From an Open Grave.

When Life Has Almost Fled and Doctors Fail, the Wonderful Spring Medicine Gives a New Existence.

Paine's Celery Compound is a Wonder to All Our Physicians.

WELLS & RICHARDSON Co.,

GENTLEMEN:—Five years ago, while living in Hamilton, Ont., I met with a serious accident, a heavy weight having fallen on me, rendering me unconscious most of the time for seven days. I went to the Hamilton Hospital where the Superintendent took charge of my case and used every possible means to relieve my sufferings. Not getting better, I left the hospital and came to this city, and suffered continuously until last year, when I entered the hospital here and was treated in much the same way as in Hamilton. I was told that my terrible sufferings came from injuries to the head and spine. After spending three months in hospital here I left it as they could not do anything more for me.

I afterward went to the Nuns' Hospital here, and for a time I lost the power of speech.

Last Easter I had a very bad attack and was almost crazy from pain and misery that I wished to die. I asked the Sisters as a last request for a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, as I had heard so much of its curative virtues. They procured it for me and I commenced its use, and in three or four days I was able to get out of bed and move about. I continued the use of the Compound, and it finally banished all the troubles that had made life miserable and unendurable. I am now hearty and well; I can eat and sleep with perfect comfort, and feel like a new being. I have recommended Paine's Celery Compound to many people since, and it proved a source of blessing to them all. It surely and truly saved me from death.

Yours truly,
S. F. AUBRY,
Seigneurs St., Montreal.

The BOOT and SHOE Trade

COMING OUR WAY ON THE JUMP!

We tell it by our Till—we see it in our crowds—we read it in our sales. Selling Boots and Shoes alongside of Clothing, Hats, &c., and under the same roof, lessens running expenses and reduces prices all along the line—that's part of the secret of our big sales, and shoppers have had it proved to their entire satisfaction times without number.

Besides our own efforts to get the nobbiest of stylish Boots and Shoes, manufacturers are on the alert for the largest distributing points, and without a lantern come straight here when they think of Peterborough.

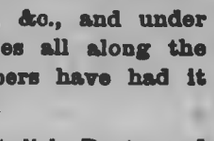
WE ARE SELLING TO "BEAT THE BAND."

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, BOYS & GIRLS, are all remembered. Their wants have all been anticipated. Fine Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Rubbers, and every possible need of man, woman or child.

Keep your feet dry—healthy—warm—corniess painless—these Springy days. Don't wait for another snow storm, but buy your Boots, Rubbers and Footwear now. Bad weather soon finds the weak spots in Footwear.

It isn't a question how much we can get but how little we can afford to sell for, and if you don't find values here the best within your reach, make us pay well for our imprudence. This year we begin with fresh resolves to outdo and excel all our past record.

Your Hat, Sir!



Spring Styles now all in. Don't forget it, whatever else you may forget, before the 17th. Wear an up-to-date Hat, but above all wear a Hat that becomes you. We can sell you as well if not better than any Hatter in this town, because we carry a larger assortment, we sell more Hats, are right in touch with the wearers, know just what is wanted and buying direct from the makers we get them just right to suit the wearer's idea. No wholesale house can buy cheaper than we do; we save all middlemen's profit, we don't even have to add a buyer's expenses. If you think Laurier's or McKinley's name in a Hat is worth 50c or a dollar extra, all right, but if GOUGH'S is good enough then save your dollars and buy your Hats from GOUGH.

THIS IS A HEAD-TO-FOOT STORE.

YUKON BILL PASSED.

Conservatives Offer No Opposition in the Committee.

IT STANDS FOR THIRD READING.

What Does This New Move Mean?—Various Explanations Suggested—Party Opposition, Not Genuine Distaste of the Measure, Proved Against the Conservatives—Drummond Railway Bargain.

Ottawa, March 16. — Conservative journals have been announcing from time to time within the last few days that the Yukon bill would be fought tooth and nail in committee. Some went so far as to say that the bill would not get through the Commons for three weeks or more. It was, therefore, with amazement that Liberals saw the bill go through committee yesterday without a word of comment from the Opposition benches other than a few jocular asides. It stands for a third reading, and will probably be passed to day. Many guesses are made as to the reason behind this sudden change of front on the part of the Opposition. Some people think it is because the business men in the party are getting alarmed at the attitude of antagonism to the all-Canadian route into which they have been forced, and want to get out of a false situation. A more probable explanation is that the Senators are coming around to a position more favorable to the bill and that the Conservatives in the Commons want the bill sent up to the Senate before this movement in its favor becomes too pronounced. In any event yesterday's proceedings go far to prove that the opposition to the bill was a party opposition and not dictated by a genuine objection to its provisions.

First Readings.

The following bills were read the first time:

To incorporate the Toronto and Hudson Bay Railway Company—Mr. Clarke.

Respecting the Windsor and Detroit River Bridge Company—Mr. Gibson.

Respecting the Ottawa and New York Railway Company—Mr. Belcourt.

Mr. Britton moved the adjournment of the House to enable him to read a statement prepared by an Ontario Government official, showing that only 164,000,000 feet of logs were being taken out of the Georgian Bay district to Michigan this year, instead of 828,000,000, as stated by some Conservative newspapers.

Mr. Bennett of East Simcoe maintained that Mr. Britton's object in introducing this outside question was to delay the discussion on the Yukon bill, which has precedence of other measures.

Dr. Sproule advanced the theory that the object of introducing the question into Parliament was to influence the Ontario elections.

This ended the discussion.

YUKON BILL IN COMMITTEE.

Mr. Blair Announces That a Supplemental Contract Was Made With Messrs. McKenzie and Mann.

The House at 4 o'clock got into committee on the Yukon Railway bill.

Mr. Blair announced that, owing to objections raised during the debate, a supplemental contract had been entered into on the 28th of February with Messrs. McKenzie and Mann, embodying certain modifications. First, hon. members opposite were of opinion that the permission to select additional blocks at the end of any odd-numbered block gave the contractors an enormous advantage. The contractors did not think so; neither did the Government; but, the objection having been raised, the privilege to select end blocks would be struck out.

The supplemental contract further provides that after the railway from the Stikine to Teslin has been constructed the company is bound to operate it for five years. As a security for the fulfillment of this condition, the Government will retain one-fifth of the land grant for five years, but the company may at any time secure the allotment of the land by substituting other security.

Other provisions were to the effect that no member of Parliament shall have shares in the enterprise; that only such lands shall be given as may be in possession of the Government at the time of selection, and that a majority of the boards of directors, as in all, shall be British subjects.

Section 15 was then amended to confine the right of expropriation to sites along the line of the proposed railway, and at the termini thereof.

Mr. Blair moved the addition of a clause declaring the said railway to be a work "for the general advantage of Canada."

The motion was hailed with facetious indications of dissent by the Opposition.

The bill as a whole passed the committee stage, was reported as amended, and stands for a third reading at the next sitting of the House.

The bill to amend the Act respecting certificates to masters and mates was put through the final stages, so that to Sir Louis Davies belongs the credit of piloting through the first bill passed this session. The bill respecting Government wharves and breakwaters also passed.

But the Minister of Marine had a more difficult task with the next measure, his bill to consolidate the Acts respecting steamboat inspection and the licensing of engineers. The bill is largely technical and the remainder of the evening was spent in committee upon it.

At 11.30 the committee reported progress and the House adjourned.

NO BOODLING THERE.

Hon. Mr. Blair on the Stand Respecting the Drummond County Railway Deal—Mr. Greenshields' Evidence.

At yesterday's meeting of the Railway Committee the Minister of Railways, Mr. Blair, was present and made a comprehensive statement of the plan for the extension of the I.C.R. to Montreal, which he had gone into, he said, as a purely business arrangement. After going over the matter with his deputy, who informed him that the late Government had had under consideration the acquisition of the Drummond County Railway, Mr. Blair came to the conclusion that it was the best and cheapest way of getting the I.C.R. into Montreal. The Grand Trunk's first offer had been reduced by $16,000.

"Does the contract under the Subsidy Act require the road up to the standard of the Intercolonial?" inquired Mr. Haggart.

Mr. Blair replied that it did not, but under the Government agreement it was required.

Then Mr. Blair went on to observe that a good deal had been said in the press in regard to the corrupt character of the Drummond County matter.

"I negotiated the terms from beginning to end myself, with Mr. Greenshields, and, with the exception of a conversation with Mr. Mitchell, in his presence, the whole of the conversations and negotiations took place with Mr. Greenshields alone. I do not know that any other member of the Government had any conversations on the subject, except, of course, that I reported the progress of negotiations from time to time. The Drummond County people wanted $100,000 a year rental. Now, at no time, and under no circumstances, did Mr. Greenshields say to me, or I to him, one syllable in reference to any election or other contribution in any shape or form."

Mr. Schrieber, Deputy Minister of Railways, gave further evidence as to the value of the Drummond County Railway.

Mr. J. N. Greenshields, when he took the stand, was asked by the chairman about the dealings between himself and Mr. Tarte in regard to the purchase of La Patrie. He said not a dollar of the Drummond County money had gone with it. He had been asked by Mr. Tarte to conduct the negotiations for the purchase of La Patrie from Mr. Beaugrand. As the deal was closed after 5 p.m., Mr. Tarte asked him for his cheque for $30,000 until next day. He gave it, and next day Mr. Tarte and his sons repaid him every cent of it. All the negotiations in regard to leasing the road took place with Mr. Blair, and nobody else; there had been no suggestion of an election contribution, and no member of Parliament was interested in the road. The road, when fixed up to suit the Government, would have cost about $2,150,000.

The committee, after passing a resolution calling upon the Senate committee to furnish any evidence they might have in connection with the matter, adjourned until Friday.

Not Entirely Wanting.

"The chief drawback to your occupation," remarked the intimate friend, "is its humdrum character—its utter lack of excitement."

"Its lack of excitement!" said the bookkeeper, firing up. "You ought to see me when I'm adding up the last column of figures in my trial balance for the year! Nothing to nothing in 11 innings, with two men out and Casey at the bat, isn't anything to it!"—Chicago Tribune.

CANADA AND GERMANY

Growing Importance of the Dominion Abroad.

KAISER WILHELM'S INTEREST.

The German Emperor and the Denounced British Treaty at the Behest of Canada—Lord Strathcona and Secretary Colmer in Berlin About the Matter—A British Commercial View.

London, Eng., March 16.—The growing importance in international affairs of the Dominion of Canada is shown by the present mission of Lord Strathcona and Secretary Colmer to Berlin. Though very little official information can be obtained at the offices of the Canadian Government here, it is learned on good authority that the journey is connected with the lapsing in July next of the treaty of commerce between England and Germany, one of the agreements which the Mother Country denounced at the instigation of Canada. It is reported that Kaiser Wilhelm himself is taking the keenest interest in the question. Indeed, the people of Berlin are stating that the anticipated termination of the treaty had a great deal to do with the Emperor's recent outburst of zeal for colonial expansion which resulted in the occupation of Kiao Chow, in China, as a means of securing new markets to replace the old ones about to be lost.

Goods Excluded.

The minds of intelligent Germans are generally exercised over the fact that on and after August 1st all goods manufactured in the Fatherland will be excluded from the preferential tariff of Canada under which they have for a brief period enjoyed equal privileges with those from England. The Hamburgsischer correspondent of the Berlin Journal says that the effect of this will amount to the imposition of a differential tariff of 33 1-3 per cent. on all German and non-British goods. The mission of Lord Strathcona is to discuss these matters in detail with the German authorities.

ANGLO-AMERICANISM.

Sir William Robinson Says the Aims of Mother Country and Illustrious Son Are Identical.

London, March 16.—Sir William Robinson, who has just arrived in London from Hong-Kong, of which colony he has been Governor since 1891, yesterday warmly advocated an understanding with the United States on the Chinese question, saying the aims of the United States in regard to China were identical with those of Great Britain, and added:

"There is a feeling at Hong-Kong and Shanghai that the Chinese provinces cannot hold together much longer. They are already partly independent, not only of each other, but also of the Imperial Government."

HERE'S A NEW THOUGHT.

All the Preparations of the United States May Not Be Only Against Spain.

London, March 16.—The Sheffield Telegraph in an article yesterday says:

"Are we not rather hasty in assuming that the war preparations of the Government of the United States are directed solely against Spain? American statesmen are very deep. They may be content to let it appear that their armaments, which are really intended for a much greater occasion, are designed against Spain.

"This much is certain. If the United States Government is determined to stand in line with England and Japan in defending China, it would have to make such preparations as are now afoot. England and Japan are ready, and the United States is not. It is a fair assumption that there is at least a tacit understanding between Great Britain and the United States. This would account for Mr. Goschen's extraordinary reluctance to exercise the right of pre-emption over the warships building in England. The best of these are for Japan, our ally, and could not be touched. The United States is presumably anxious to purchase the two ships which were so pointedly pressed upon Mr. Goschen's attention and which he hinted were unsuitable. They are certainly unsuitable to us. If the Americans wanted to buy them a more impolite step is inconceivable at this juncture, when we are promised American support, than our buying them over their heads. Happily, the Government is not likely to be entrapped into such a blunder."

A U. S. THEATRE INCIDENT.

"Star-Spangled Banner" and "God Save the Queen," Sung Simultaneously.

New York, March 16.—The Tribune published the following yesterday:

"A highly successful attempt to excite a patriotic demonstration was made last night at the Empire Theatre. It does not take much to do that, but the present instance was notable, as showing not only loyalty to the United States of America, but friendliness to Great Britain, and that is rather unusual in an American theatre.

"The theatre was decorated last night with American and English flags, outside and in, the colors of the two nations being draped together in a manner emblematic of their present mutually friendly relations.

"After the first act of the play the orchestra played and the members of the company sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and then "God Save the Queen," and the audience not only vigorously applauded both, but heartily joined in the singing. It might not be exactly easy for the oldest inhabitant to remember just

R. Graham & Son's millinery opening on Wednesday, March 23rd and following days, will be especially fine. They are showing a number of imported pattern hats and bonnets, with the leading shapes in straw and other material, also chiffons, nets, flowers, ribbons, etc., in all the leading shades. Their dress goods in single dress lengths and blouse silks are elegant and well worth seeing, and the very low prices that are being asked should make them quick sellers. Miss Symmington will be pleased to welcome the ladies of the vicinity to the opening. Remember the date, Wednesday, March 23rd, and following days.

Messrs. Charles Bickell, Silas Wannamaker and Alfred Mellor left here on Tuesday for Vancouver, B.C.

Next week Mr. James Girvin, wife and children, Mrs. Munro, Mr. John L. Simpson and Mr. Wm. Simpson leave for Deloraine, Manitoba.

The thaw has opened the channel in the lake from here to Young's Point.

The spring freshet caused about sixteen feet of the coffer dam at Lock No. 5 to to break away. Several men were carried down stream by it, but all escaped. Mr. Richard Simpson had his foot badly bruised.

Mr. E. Thompson was in Toronto this week.

The bridge has been blocked up, and will be raised to position for the stone piers to be built under it. The work is being done under the direction of Mr. E. Wade.

While the bridge is being raised passengers and teams will cross the dam, which has been fitted up for the occasion with a good floor and railing on each side, making it in every way suitable for crossing while the bridge is closed.

Mr. Buchanan and his gang of men are busy blasting out the foundations for the piers of the high level bride. A number of men are breaking the stone for the concrete to be used in the piers.

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The new bicycle bylaw which was passed at the regular meeting of the village council on Monday night is one that will certainly bring joy to the hearts of the local wheelmen, and at the same time strike terror into the hearts of those cranky individuals who are always trying to find fault with the work done by our city fathers.

Last summer owing to the way the boys abused the privileges of using the sidewalks, whereby several accidents were caused, the council thought it expedient to pass a bylaw prohibiting the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks.

This was of course a severe blow to the many persons who took advantage of the sidewalks in muddy weather, to go to and from their places of business. In fact it was not until one of our most prominent young wheelmen received the full penalty of the law that the boys began to realise that the matter would be enforced.

On Monday night last Messrs. Geo. Duncan and W. W. Gilliott appeared before the council on behalf of the Bicycle Club and asked that the present bylaw be repealed and that a new one less stringent be passed.

The reeve and most of the councillors fell in with the idea and thought that such a bylaw could be framed with due regard to the safety of pedestrians, and with the result that the sidewalks may be now used by bicyclists, provided they carry a bell, a lantern after night, and not go at any greater speed than four miles an hour. This is certainly a great privilege and it is to be hoped that it will not be abused by the wheelmen of the town. There is no occasion for the sidewalks being used for wheeling when the roads are good, and by using the sidewalks when it is necessary only, the wheelmen of Millbrook may enjoy this privilege for many years to come.

Mr. C. Farwell, M.P.P., for East Algoma is in town, the guest of his brother in-law, Capt. C. H. Winslow.

Mr. Muggins Fallis, of Souris, Manitoba, formerly of this place, is in town.

Mr. Dawson Richardson, of Peterborough, was in town over Sunday.

Mr. Joseph Thorndyke, ex-reeve of Cavan township, held an auction sale on Wednesday, March 16th. Mr. Thorndyke will give up farming.

Messrs. T. B. Collins and Walter Coombe were in Toronto Tuesday.

Mr. Horace Pemberton, of Halifax, N.S., was in town last week.

Miss Florence Sothern is visiting in Toronto.

BALLYDERMOT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mrs. Butler is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Warner of Cobourg.

As part of our village is in the township of South Monaghan there was considerable interest taken in the case between Bower and the Board of Health. There was certainly satisfaction with the decision of the court.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. A. Anderson were held yesterday (10th inst.) at her late residence. A very large number were present, a number having driven a considerable distance. The Rev. Mr. McIntosh conducted the service. He gave a very appropriate address from the words, "Her sun is gone down while it is yet day."—Jer. xv, 9. After the address the body, in a beautiful black casket, covered with several handsome wreaths, was carried out on the lawn so that the friends might more easily take the last view of the remains. As the cemetery is but a short distance from the house Mrs. Anderson with three of his brothers and two of the late Mrs. Anderson's brothers, carried the remains to the cemetery.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Sleighing all gone and travel difficult.

About twenty crates of pigs arrived here to-day for Richardson, shipper, and farmers are all in good spirits over the prices.

One of our oldest residents, Mr. John Tully, father of Wm. and Jas. Tully, clerks of Peterborough, is not expected to rally from his present illness. He is 80 years old.

A great number go by way of Peterborough to Toronto by the C.P.R.

The Carnegie reception last week proved a most disappointing affair, composed chiefly of school boys and girls. The older Conservatives did not take part, believing that life was too short to be mixed up in anything of the kind that there was no call for, only as they supposed, to annoy the Liberals.

Election excitement is about quieted down and the Reformers here and in the country yet feel on the top with the government majority.

MUNYON'S KIDNEY CURE

"Kidney disease is probably the most fatal of all human ailments," says Prof. Munyon. "There is no disease that requires more careful attention. The following are the principal symptoms: Pain in the back, loins or groins, drowsiness, dark circles around the eyes, swelling of the feet and limbs, puffy, flabby face, headache, blurred eyesight, swelling under the eyes, bad taste in the mouth, rough, dry skin, nervousness, sleeplessness, languid, worn-out feeling, loss of flesh and strength, scanty urine, dark-colored, milky or bloody urine, deposits of red sand, gravel or mucous in the urine, frequent desire to pass water and too great a flow. I will guarantee that my Kidney Cure will cure 95 per cent. of all forms of kidney disease. When the disease is far advanced and there are other complications, the patient had better send a four-ounce vial of their urine, with full symptoms. We will then make a careful analysis of the water, and advise the best course to pursue to get well, absolutely free of charge." Prof. Munyon puts up a separate cure for each disease. At all druggists mostly 25 cents a vial.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 11 and 13 Albert street, Toronto, answered, with free medical advice for any disease.

Palmerston, Ont., March 16. — The Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West opened in the Town Hall here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Grand Master, W. M. Lockhart, presided, and there were present about 250 delegates.

The Grand Master, in his address, reviewed the work of the past year, made feeling reference to the memory of deceased members, and expressed pleasure at the removal of the Manitoba school question from the arena of Dominion politics. He spoke strongly against the idea of having a papal ablegate for Canada. He concluded with a patriotic reference to the Jubilee celebrations of last year.

The address was received with enthusiasm, and a committee appointed to frame a suitable reply.

Mr. William Lee of Toronto, Grand Secretary, presented a report, dealing with the routine working of the order. The year's work showed a substantial increase of membership, the initiations being 1,969, joined on certificates from Great Britain and other provincial lodges 428, and reinstated 316, making a total of 1,913 members added to the roll. The losses were: By expulsion 50 and deaths 168, making the total losses 218, thus showing a net gain of 1,700. Three new lodges have been opened during Grand Lodge year.

The report was referred to the special committee appointed to frame a reply to the Grand Master's address.

The Grand Treasurer is Mr. E. F. Clarke, M.P. for West Toronto, and the financial statement he submitted showed the income and expenditure for the year as follows:

Expenditure—Grand Secretary's and other officials' salaries, delegates' expenses to Triennial Council, postage, etc., $2,208.76; balance in hand, $1,486.60; total, $3,690.36.

The auditors' report congratulated the Grand Lodge on the manner in which the Grand Treasurer kept all accounts, and urged the reconsideration of the per capita tax question with a view to its increase. The Grand Treasurer's and auditors' reports were sent to the Committee on Finance.

At 4 o'clock the Grand Lodge adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

DR. WARD'S BLOOD AND NERVE PILLS

Restored the Snap, Vim, Energy and Strength You Have Lost.

These Who Know Speak Wisely.

GENTLEMEN:—

I think it due to you to let you know what a great boon Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have been to my daughter Maggie. Prior to taking your great remedy she had been suffering from excessive nervousness for a long time, and her nerves were in a terribly shattered condition. The action of her heart was so weak that it did not have strength to perform its functions, causing violent palpitation and smothering after retiring. Frequently, on account of this suffocating sensation, she was afraid to go to bed. Slight exertion exhausted her and caused shortness of breath. Her blood was impoverished and lost vitality and she had no appetite. She was wasting away and was very hypochondriacal, feeling dejected all the time. Last December she began taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and she improved at once. Her blood became healthy and strong, and in six weeks her impaired nervous system was restored to its normal healthy condition. Her heart responded to the healthy condition of her blood and nerves and resumed its strong and healthy functions. She now sleeps without any of the dangerous, distressing smothering and choking spells; her appetite is good, and she has gained in flesh. Healthy colour has replaced pallor, and she is now well and strong, thanks to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. I thank you, gentlemen, for the remedy that has restored my daughter to health.

A. GUNN,
Baggemaster G.T.R., Oshawa.

SPRINGTIME SUFFERERS

Gain the Ruddy Hue of Health from

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Weigh Yourself Before Taking Them.

GENTLEMEN:—

A very bad attack of the Grippe one year ago last spring left my system in a very weak state and my nervous system completely unstrung. After getting over the dangerous stage of the disease I naturally expected to gain strength, but unfortunately did not do so. On the contrary my blood became weaker, I daily lost strength and vitality and my nervous system became so weak that it was a constant source of suffering both day and night. I lost appetite, the sight of food nauseathed me, the weak state of my system caused shortness of breath and unnatural action of my heart, such as fluttering and violent palpitation, and my face was like chalk. I was in this condition and constantly getting weaker when I began taking the Dr. Ward Blood and Nerve Pills. I had read the books they distributed and their advertisements in the papers and thought, "Well, I have taken so much medicine without benefit, it is useless to spend any more money." However, I finally made up my mind; it is a forlorn hope, I can but try. If I am not benefitted I will not be hurt, so I bought one box and received great benefit therefrom, so continued their use, and to-day am a well man in consequence. My blood is strong, my face has the ruddy hue of health. My appetite has returned. I sleep well. I have not the slightest indication of nervousness or heart trouble, and from a sick, weak, nervous man, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have transformed me in six weeks to full health and strength. I am yours, very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM WILLARD,
Night Clerk,

Scovil Was Acquitted.

Brockville, March 16.—The whole time of the Assize Court was taken up yesterday with the trial of Thomas K. Scovil of Portland, charged with arson. On the night of Nov. 21, 1896, Scovil's dwelling house and barn were destroyed by fire. The property was insured in two companies, the dwelling for $1,000 in the Caledonia Insurance Company, and $1,000 in the British-American Insurance Company, the contents being insured for $1,150. The barn and contents were insured in the British-American for $500. The charge was that Scovil procured and caused the buildings to be set on fire, the object being to defraud the insurance companies out of the amount of insurances. After discharging Scovil, the judge ordered that he give bonds to appear at the Quarter Sessions and stand his trial for being an accessory after the fact.

A RIDING COMPETITION.

Dr. Poole is Trying to Make Arrangements to Hold one in Connection With the Fall Fair.

An effort is being made by Dr. Poole to make arrangements with the Agricultural Society to hold a riding competition for ladies and gentlemen at the fall fair.

Hurdles would be erected three feet and over in height and the innovation would prove a great attraction at the exhibition.

Quite a number of good horses are owned within a radius of fifty miles of Peterborough and as a competition of this kind has never before been held in the district it would attract a large number of riders to enter into the competition, for which Dr. Poole would offer suitable prizes.

The doctor is a hustler on such matters when he takes them in hand and the equestrians and equestriennes of the vicinity can confidently look forward to the competition being one of the attractions on the cards of the Peterborough Central Exhibition next fall.

The Executive of the County Christian Endeavour Union met Saturday last at the Y. M. C. A. Plans for the coming convention on Easter Monday were discussed. A committee was appointed to draft a programme and make the necessary arrangements for the convention.

In the past this has been one of the brightest conventions of the year and this committee which has it in charge this year will strive to make it a helpful season.

The hearty co-operation of all the local societies is earnestly requested. In all probability the morning and afternoon sessions will be held at the Y. M. C. A. and the evening session at St. Andrew's church.

A Unique Shipment.

To-day Mr. John Ball, market gardener, shipped to Belleville a carload of parsnips and cabbage to Mr. R. J. Graham, commission and produce merchant, Belleville, who will forward the goods to the Klondyke. This is the first shipment of the kind that has ever had such a far-north destination. Dearth of Farm Help.

Present indications point to a dearth of farm help in Ontario during the coming summer, and already farmers in different sections are becoming anxious. The Klondike craze and the subsequent rush to the Northwest has taken off the floating population upon which the farmers usually rely, and during the past week several requests for farm help have reached the Department of Agriculture from different parts of the country, showing that the feeling appears to be pretty general.

BOARD OF TRADE'S LIVELY MEETING.

The Annual Reports and Election of Officers.

NICKEL-STEEL QUESTION DISCUSSED

The Dominion Government Petitioned to Impose an Export Duty on the Ore—The Bell Telephone Company's Application for Permission to raise its rates to be Petitioned Against—Other Matters of Interest.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade was held last evening in the council chamber, with the president, Mr. John Carnegie, in the chair, and the following members present: Messrs. H. S. Macdonald, W. H. Hill, Robt. Fair, R. H. Kells, V. Eastwood, J. H. Burnham, F. D. Matthews, J. J. McBain, P. Shortly, W. Manson, T. A. S. Hay, J. S. Knapman, James Kendry, M.P., Thos. Cahill, R. B. Rogers, Macfarlane Wilson and D. H. Moore.

The report of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. H. S. Macdonald, was submitted as appended:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN,—In making the 9th annual report as the Secretary of the Board of Trade, I have much pleasure in saying that the hopes of those who have occupied my position in preceeding years have been in a large measure fulfilled, and that the interest of the members, as well as the subjects under discussion, show a distinct advance in the scope and growth of the Board of Trade.

During the year 1897 the members on roll have numbered 93, being an increase of 15 over 1896, of these 91 have paid the membership fee to date.

The number of meetings held was determined by the importance of the subjects at issue. It was considered advisable, besides holding the quarterly meetings provided for in the bylaw, to call general meetings when necessary.

The result is that these meetings were nearly all largely attended, and a great deal of interest was shown in the discussion of the questions of the evening.

Outside of the general meetings there were two special features of note, one being the illustrated lecture by R. B. Rogers, C.E., which was not only entertaining but decidedly instructive, in the other the visit of the deputation to Ottawa re. the Trent Canal. The Board decided to run an excursion in connection with this visit and the financial result of it to the Board was an increase in the funds of $77.67.

Notwithstanding the fact that the general verdict is that the Board has during the past year fully served its purposes in the public interest, it cannot be denied that some of the merchants have not contributed to this success in the way that might have been expected of them.

The chief reason for referring to this matter is that in a place the size of Peterborough it is well understood that all those concerned for the town's welfare and in the general public interest, should take hold of an organization such as this, the only real medium in the town and county for making known the opinions of business and professional men, and use it for the purposes, not only of discussion, but as a basis of united action.

I do not take this matter up with the idea of magnifying any complaint but more as a humble request to these gentlemen that in the future they join with the others in their interests in the commercial welfare of the town. It would be to the advantage of the younger men of the town and in the future interests of the town itself, if those young men who have not joined the Board did so. Many of the questions of vital future interest to the town are first broached here and the information arising from the meeting together of well informed and prominent men is sure sooner or later to be of great use and advantage to the town. By taking note of this information and the discussions attending it, young men who are to be the men of the future may render themselves most useful to the town as members of the different councils and boards of management. During the year a number of letters have been written in the interest of the Board's business to manufacturers looking for locations.

I have now to refer to the great loss the Board has sustained in the death during the year of two well known gentlemen, Mr. F. J. Rogers, late manager of the Bank of Montreal, and Mr. R. D. Hamilton, of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co.

The treasurer's statement, which will be submitted to you, shows the Board to be in a prosperous condition financially.

The thanks of the Board are due to the the town council for the use of the Council Chamber, as also to the reporters who have been most faithful in their endeavour to further the interests of the Board. I would suggest that some more tangible form of remuneration than the usual vote of thanks be tendered them.

Your obedient servant,
H. S. MACDONALD,
Secretary Board of Trade.

In moving the adoption of the report Mr. Manson stated that it was the ablest report ever presented to the board, without any disparagement being intended to the previous secretaries. Suggestion were made which the board would do well to look into. Mr. T. A. S. Hay seconded his motion.

On motion of Messrs. R. Fair and H. Shortly, who both complimented Mr. Macdonald on the manner in which he had discharged his duties during the year, an honorarium of fifty dollars was voted to him.

The secretary was loth to accept any remuneration, but by a standing vote it was pressed upon him.

THE OFFICERS.

Officers for the ensuing year were then elected as follows:

President—John Carnegie.
Vice-President—Wm. Manson.
Secretary-Treasurer—H. S. Macdonald.
Chairman of Council—Peter Hamilton.
Auditors—R. H. Kells and V. Eastwood.

On motion of Messrs. T. A. S. Hay and F. D. Matthews, the president, the secretary and Messrs. Robt. Fair and W. H. Hill were appointed a committee to strike the standing committee for the year.

A communication was received from the Under Secretary of State acknowledging the receipt of the resolution for submission to His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, in the matter of Canadian rights in international dealings with the United States.

THE NICKEL INDUSTRY.

Mr. D. W. Dumble was not present to speak to his notice of motion regarding the petitioning of the Dominion Government to place an export duty on nickel ore in order to encourage the refining of the metal in Canada. Mr. Hampden Burnham, however, took the matter up, stating that the company which mined the ore at present and took it to the United States to be refined had obtained from Congress a direct and diabolical discrimination against Canada in the matter, as a heavy import duty on the manufactured article had been imposed by the United States while the ore was admitted free, an endeavour thus being made to prevent the refining being carried on in the Dominion. The United States was willing to take all Canada could give and then put the bars against us. It was a pressing necessity that an export duty on the ore be imposed immediately, as a Canadian Company, if assisted in this manner, was willing to erect refineries at once. In view of the fact that Canada was deriving no benefit from her great nickel resources and that the American company had done nothing but exploit for its own benefit he hoped that the Board would endorse the petition of the Canada Nickel-Steel Company for the imposition of such a duty and seconded by Mr. W. H. Hill he moved

"That the Board of Trade of the Town and County of Peterborough urge upon the Dominion Government the necessity of fostering the refining of nickel and the manufacturing of nickel steel by placing an adequate export duty on nickel ore and metal."

In seconding the motion Mr. W. H. Hill drew attention to the fact that the Canadian lead mines in the Kootenay were the finest in the world, and should also be given the benefit of an export duty. The refining of nickel was debarred in Canada through the fact that although the ore was admitted to the United States free of charge yet a duty of 6c a pound was placed on the manufactured article. He heartily agreed with Mr. Burnham in thinking that action should be taken in the matter.

The resolution was then put and carried.

THE BELL TELEPHONE CO.

The next matter taken up was that of the petition against the application of the Bell Telephone Company to the Dominion Government for permission to raise its rates.

Mr. Knapman said that Peterborough had no cause to complain, as the rates enjoyed here were cheaper than many town of its size in the Dominion. The company had the privilege of raising the rates to $40 if they chose on the 1st of August next, but had not evinced any desire to do so. At present the service was not paying for itself in Toronto, as the company could only charge a subscriber $25, whereas the expenses were much higher than in a smaller place, as it required three operators to do the work which one could do in Peterborough. The distance to be covered and the number of wires complicated matters, and made the expenditure greater. As the matter now stood the

THE MEAT MONOPOLY.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR:—I have before me the report of the council meeting of Monday evening last and I notice Councillors McWilliams and Dawson made an attack on the retail butchers of the town in a way that I think they would not have done had they considered the question more fully. Without time to investigate I believe the comparisons in the price of meat in Peterborough and other places are very misleading and calculated to injure us in the eyes of the public if not answered. I do not know who Mr. McWilliams buys his meat from, but will guarantee that he does not pay more than 12½ and very likely only 10½ per pound. At any rate if he will give me his custom I will beat his quotations all hollow.

I have been in business about ten or eleven years, and when I came I had only about nine or ten firms to compete with. Now I have about twenty-five. In all these years I have never made so little as in the past two years.

In reference to the monopoly that Mr. Dawson speaks about, we never had less than at the present time. Last year about Easter we were forced to raise our prices, and one prominent firm objected and did not raise, but continued to sell at the old price, and although he advertised he was never interfered with. In a little over six months he had to leave for pastures fresh, and now you will find him working for another man at so much per month.

Hoping the council and people will not misjudge us without information,

I remain, yours, etc.,

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

To-morrow will be the anniversary of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, who was born nearly 1,500 years ago, and died in County Down, Ulster, March 17th, 493 or 495, and is celebrated by every true child of the Green Isle as a national festival. The patron saint of Ireland was, as his admirers might say, almost a native Irishman, for the most popular belief is that he was born just across the channel near Kilpatrick, in Scotland. His original name was Succath, which means "the brave," but he was christened Patricius in Rome by Pope Celestine. At the age of sixteen he was carried off to Ireland by a band of marauders and then sold to a chieftain, who made him a shepherd boy. During his life among the sheep on the hill tops he is said to have had visions, and marvellous tales are told of his experiences. In a book which, it is alleged, he afterwards wrote he says: "I was sixteen years old; in a strange land. I remembered my sins, and turned with all my heart to God. He had pity on my youth and my ignorance, and comforted me as a father does his son." He eventually escaped to Scotland, but was again carried off—this time to France. After his second escape he resolved to become a missionary to the Irish, and having first visited France and Italy, where he was ordained, he passed over to his field of labour about 432. He preached Christianity, and is credited with the conversion of Ireland to that faith. He baptised the Kings of Dublin and Munster and the seven sons of the King of Connaught with the greater part of their subjects, and founded the Church of Ireland. According to St. Bernard, he fixed his metropolitan see at Armagh, and appointed several other bishops, with whom he held councils, to settle the discipline of the church. As the author of the canon law, under which Ireland first progressed towards civilization, he may also be said to have been the founder of the State. From his time up to the twelfth century Irish scholarship ranked highest in Europe, and the learned men of the country were much sought after. Many curious stories are told of St. Patrick, and many miracles assigned to him. Leaving aside, however, all that is mythical, enough is known of Ireland's national saint to entitle his memory to the love and reverence which it receives from the people of the Green Isle.

In religious commemorative recognition of the festival three masses will be celebrated in St. Peter's Cathedral to-morrow at 7, 8 and 10 o'clock. The last will be high mass, at which Rev. Father Jos. O'Sullivan will be the preacher.

In the evening a concert of unusually interesting character will be given in the Opera House, at which a programme specially suited to the occasion will be presented.

THE CATERPILLAR PEST.

Mr. Elcome Again Draws Attention to the Harm Which is Threatened.

The following letter has been received from Mr. E. Elcome, taxidermist, who takes a great interest in the abatement of the caterpillar pest:

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Some good work is being done. One citizen alone has taken from a few trees he has 165 bunches. If every one did half as much it would materially decrease if not stop the devastation. Some say it is a big undertaking. It will be a bigger one to restock our orchards and streets with trees. Let us look one moment at these 165 bunches of 100 in a bunch. That means 16,500 caterpillers at least. An eminent naturalist weighed some caterpillars, then weighed food for them, and at the end of the day found they had eaten three times their own weight. Fancy a man doing that—a 150 pound man eating 450 pounds of food a day. Give these 16,500 caterpillars one leaf per day for six weeks, and they will do more than that, and we will have to supply them with 693,000 leaves, which they will eat quicker than they can grow.

A box of caterpillars just emerging from the egg band can be seen in the window of the Peterborough Hardware store.

Yours, etc.,
E. ELCOME,
Taxidermist.

Men who are Bald.

See Professor Dixenwend, the well known Hair Goods Artist, who will be at the Oriental Hotel on Wednesday, March 23rd. His system of replacing lost hair on bald heads is really marvellous. Any doubts as to this fact can be quickly dispelled by examining his goods. There is not the slightest trace of falseness and besides improving one's appearance, they afford protection against colds, neuralgia, etc. The wearer never realises that he has it on it is so light and comfortable. Over 34,000 are in use and the number is increasing daily.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL PRONOUNCED ENOUGH.

THIS IS THE RESULT OF THE PLEBISCITE

Taken at Last Night's Debate—Four Fortnightly Club Orators Keenly Discuss the Question of Sufficiency of Public Schools as Against Higher Education—The Duty of the State Limited to the Public Schools.

One of the most interesting meetings under the auspices of the Fortnightly Club was held in Association Hall last night and the participating members after a period of rest came forth like giants refreshed with new wine and valourously and ably battled for their respective contentions.

The hall was well filled with an interested audience, the majority of which were ladies—a practical disproof of the pessimism that denies a preponderance of good in the world.

The chair in the absence of Rev. H. Symonds was occupied by Mr. Sheriff Hall.

Previous to the debate the ladies had provided a very interesting musical entertainment, consisting of a well performed piano solo by Mrs. Charles McClelland and a nicely sung vocal solo by Mrs. Wallis, both of which were much enjoyed.

The subject of the debate was:

Resolved that it is the duty of the state to provide educational facilities beyond the limits of the public schools.

MR. DUMBLE

was the first to speak. After defining the state "as an aggregate of units forming a community with common interests and a common patriotism," the speaker pointed out that this condition involved a common desire for the welfare of the country. The standard of the units was the standard of the state, from which arose the necessity of cultivating and improving the individual. All the most advanced had taken a hand to mould the character of the population and we had schools and moreover compelled attendance. If it were the duty of the state to impart education where were we to stop? If we stopped at the public schools and put upon private individuals the work of higher education might we not stop at a shorter stage and limit education to the three R's? Without the facilities provided by the state, many of our citizens, prominent in science and other walks would have been lost to the world, which would thereby have been deprived of the benefits of the countless discoveries and advances in art and science which had done so much for the world. If we were to continue to have the advantage of such men for the common benefit, it was the duty of the state to carry on the work by providing intellectual training equal to the work. It was necessary in these regards that men should be brought to the highest point of development, and this could only be accomplished by providing facilities for higher education and these the state only could adequately provide—the fees of students could not be depended upon to maintain universities.

REV. MR. SHOREY

opened the debate on the part of the negative. It would be conceded that it was the duty of the state to provide the greatest good for the greatest number, and when the state carried on her educational work beyond the opportunities of the masses, she was aiding the few at the expense of the many. There was an obvious element of injustice in this condition—if the few desired higher education they should secure it at their own expense. The speaker quoted statistics that only one in every 200 public school pupils reached the high schools, and only one in ten thousand the universities. Was it fair to tax the many for the benefit of the few? It was hard enough to regard with calmness the prosperity of others, but when that superior condition was gained at our expense, the sense of injustice in the state helping others beyond a point the masses could not pass, became acute. In England previous to 1870 they had no national system of education, and the franchise was therefore restricted, but with national schools and national enlightment came the extension of the franchise. The argument that the state offers higher educational privileges to all was insincere, for offers of advantages that could only be taken by the few was practically a mockery. Higher education would still be possible if we made the public schools the limit of state aid. If this were not so we must ignore the work of others than the state university. If we put upon the state the duty of providing higher education we should dry up the streams of private beneficence, which find expression in munificent gifts to colleges and universities.

REV. MR. POTTER,

The second speaker for the affirmative, defined the ideal state as that where the community of interest received highest recognition. There were three classes in every community: the producers, the middlemen and the consumers. The former were by far the more important and necessary to the prosperity of the state, and consisted practically of the farming community. To give them the highest development the instruction of skilled teachers and scientists demanded the provision of higher educational facilities because that involved ultimately the highest prosperity of the state. The speaker eloquently dwelt upon the idea of the importance of the state providing means by which the poor man's son could rise in the world. It was unjust to draw such a line and deprive 83 per cent. of our population from having the chance to get a higher education. The labour problem was complicated by boys leaving school, and entering into competition and shutting out men of families from employment. The objections to higher education came from those without children, from the ignorant, and from those who held the idea that the masses should be "kept in their place." The benefit meant a raising of the standard of intelligence, less bribery at elections, mental and moral improvement, the abolition of class distinctions, improvement of the condition of the state, drawing closer the bonds of society and hastening the time when men should "brothers be and a' that."

MR. F. D. KERR

closed the debate for the negative. He asserted that the fundamental basis of society was that the state should look after general and common interests and that individual interests should look after themselves. The duty of the state was to provide the greatest good to the greatest number. The speaker advocated that the best available teachers should be provided for the public schools, to insure the development of the faculties at the formation stage of life and character. For the benefit of the masses the best teachers should be employed in our public schools instead of being employed to teach the few at the expense of the many. The expense of the state upon university education, for one year, would provide school books for 400,000 public school children for a like period. It was the duty of the state to educate the masses which under our system of government practically governed the country. The state had no right to say to a man that he should have a profession, and had therefore no right to provide it. The state compelled the people to have a public school education, and hence the duty of providing it; when the state has given a thorough public school education, then its duty ends and the obligation of the individual to advance intellectually begins. If we improved public schools at the expense of the higher education we shall bring wealthy men to realize the wisdom of assisting higher education for those who wish to get it. With better public schools we shall have an improved class of citizens destroying the injurious distinctions between the classes and the masses, and altogether bring in about a better and more desirable condition of society.

MR. DUMBLE IN REPLY

spoke briefly, and canvassed the arguments advanced by the negative. He pointed out that man did not live for himself alone, and that the man blessed with higher education showered down benefits upon the whole mass of the people. He also emphasized the fact that the great discoveries in science that had been productive of such untold benefits to mankind, came through the researches and efforts of highly educated men. Our colleges did work that resulted in benefit to the whole people, and therefore the whole people, the state, should in turn support them, and he concluded by urging that we should not adopt a policy that would prevent a young man or young woman of good mind from rising in the world by the help of the state.

The speakers all acquitted themselves creditably, were listened to with close attention and impartially applauded.

The decision was left to the audience; there was a general expression of opinion that the negative had advanced the preponderence of argument, and the decision was then given in favour of the negative.

FIRST VIEWS OF SPRING FASHIONS.

We are very much in advance with our New Spring Millinery and Mantles. Dry Goods stores can, perhaps, afford to be backward with their Millinery preparations, on the plea of backward weather. It is different with a PURELY MILLINERY establishment. We shall prove that backward weather has no more to do with advance MILLINERY Displays than it has with advance Dress Goods displays. We are UP-TO-DATE Milliners. The care and promptness we take in ordering early have made us successful in getting the advance styles opened out earlier, so that even while the March Lions are supposed to be on, you can spend the day with us comfortably.

THE NEW SPRING NOVELTIES can now be inspected and selected; the New Shapes, Styles and Trimmings can now be canvassed, and the complete Hat or Bonnet trimmed and made ready. Our Milliners are busy, and are able to show what the clever hands of woman can do.

THE NEW FLOWERS are a sight to see; and so are the NEW TIES, NECKWEAR, RIBBONS, &c. Not everything is on view yet, as later styles are daily arriving, but next week you may look for our Formal Grand Opening displays.

NEW COVERT COAT

This is the most popular over garment with dressy gentlemen this season. It is a modified type of the real Covert Coat, which is short and boxy. The leading features of the

as it is styled, is that it is not so short as the real Covert, and is much less boxy. In length it ranges from 34 to 35 inches for a man of average height. It must look broad, with well-rounded shoulders, a bottom fullness, the greater part of which will be placed at the sides, which will give the back of the coat the appearance of an inverted wedge. Well vented side-seams, wide double stitching, lapped and strapped seams, collar of the material, shorter than the Chesterfield but broader and squarer in effect.

The material will be Covert coatings in neat drab shades, Venetians and Rainproof Cloth of pleasing mixtures.

PRICES:—$14, $16, $18 and $20, for Spot Cash.

A Dyspeptic's Gratitude.

Anyone who has suffered from Dyspepsia or Indigestion will know what joy it would give to be able to eat three good meals a day and not be punished for it.

Mrs. J. F. Westfall, of Trenton, Ont., was for five years a dyspeptic and thanks Burdock Blood Bitters for curing her after everything else failed. Here's her story in her own words :—

"For five years I have suffered from dyspepsia, and having tried every thing I could hear of without avail until I became almost discouraged I tried Burdock Blood Bitters at last, and I feel it my duty to let the results be known, as it may help some other poor sufferer. B. B. B. completely cured me, and my gratitude to this wonderful medicine is more than I can express."

Sometimes the most careful women are the most careless. Many a woman bundles herself up, to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She allows a slight disorder to become worse, to slowly sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of trouble seem to her unimportant. She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints" was recognised by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N.Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies. Practical.

The great Marchesi, like other famous singers, was the recipient of valuable gifts from an admiring public. Many of these were of a perishable nature, and some were rich and rare. One only bore the character of absolute practicality.

During a concert tour in Switzerland there was one concert in which the prima donna was especially brilliant. She sang a varied programme—a song from Handel, an Italian air, some German songs—and not only through the greatness but the diversity of her gifts roused the audience to a tremendous pitch of enthusiasm.

Many persons crowded up to her when the concert was over, overwhelming her with the profusion of the flowers they brought. After the crowd had dispersed, a bashful looking girl came up, holding a parcel in her hand.

"You delighted me so very much at your last concert," said she, "that today I should like to express my admiration for you in person. Flowers, however, fade. I therefore beg to offer you a lasting and practical souvenir which will keep me in your memory."

With these words she unwrapped a silver soup ladle, presented it and disappeared.—Youth's Companion.

THE FIGHTING GURKHAS.

Something About the Men Who Win Some of England's Battles.

The Gurkhas, to whose valor we owe so much on the Indian frontier, are not afraid of death in any shape or form, have the instinct of instant and unquestioning obedience to orders from superiors and take an actual and physical delight in fighting. It is a popular error to suppose that they are without caste. There are about 12 different castes among them and several subdivisions in each caste, but when serving in British regiments and while on a campaign Gurkhas do not allow their caste system to interfere with their comforts and will eat and drink freely with Europeans and among themselves. They have no objection to taking a pull at a British soldier's flask and will share a "chapatti" with the most menial camp follower. They will gladly take a cigar or tobacco from a European, but on no account must a man of one caste smoke in the company of another.

All Gurkhas trace their descent from the Rajputs of central India, the Thappas and Gurungs especially claiming to have the bluest Hindoo blood in India running in their veins. They have, however, intermarried for generations with Mongolian women. One would imagine therefore that in process of time a distinctly new type, combining the leading characteristics of both races, would have been evolved, but as a matter of fact the vast majority of Gurkhas are either Aryan or Chinese in their cast of countenance. Europeans generally suppose that all Gurkhas are squat men, with broad nostrils, high cheek bones and deep set, narrow eyes. This is not the case. The Second Gurkhas regiment has large numbers of Gurungs and Thappas in its ranks who are of a slight build, with beautifully chiseled and sharp features, Aryans every inch.

Gurkhas have one physical peculiarity—their stature is below the average. As they do not wear beards and their mustaches, in spite of much care, never attain a luxuriant growth, to a casual observer a Gurkha regiment appears to consist of boys, not men. It is on record that when Lord Roberts was marching through the Kurram the Pathan women and children came out to jeer at the striplings whom he was leading, as it seemed, to their certain death, and they only changed their opinion when, largely owing to the heroism of these same Gurkhas, the Afghan army was driven headlong from the Peiwar Kotal.

The colonel of a distinguished regiment used to tell a story of a Pathan who had traveled a long distance to get a glimpse of the terrible soldiers that had defeated his countrymen. When he saw the little boyish looking Gurkhas standing guard at the Bala Hissar, he committed suicide "for very shame," at least—and this is the best part of the story—so the guard declared when asked to explain the presence of the dead body.—London News.

Sam Jones and Talmage.

Sam Jones is the embodiment of an audacity that sometimes comes very near the border line of discourtesy. A clergyman who often assists him in his series of meetings told me the other day this story in the early history of Mr. Jones' evangelistic work: He was invited by Dr. Talmage to hold a series of meetings in the doctor's Brooklyn church. Mr. Jones went to Dr. Talmage's home during the afternoon of the day on which his engagement began and introduced himself. Mr. Talmage looked him over and was evidently a little taken aback at the rather shabby appearance of the evangelist. As it approached evening he said, "Brother Jones, would you take it amiss if I presented you with a new suit of clothes?" "Certainly not," said the accommodating Samuel. He was taken to a clothier and fitted from head to foot, topping all with a high hat.

At church the doctor introduced him as the Rev. Samuel P. Jones from Georgia. Mr. Jones arose with his new hat in hand and repeated, "Yes, the Rev. Samuel P. Jones from Georgia," and added: "And this is the new suit of clothes and this the new hat your pastor has presented to me. If your pastor had as much of the grace of God in his heart as he has pride, he would convert all Brooklyn and would not need me."—Homiletic Review.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows :—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

The Insurance Company Beaten.

Toronto, March 15.—Judgment was handed out by Mr. Justice Ferguson yesterday afternoon in favor of the Bank of Toronto in the long-fought contest over the insurance on the John Eaton stock. The court decides against the insurance company—the Quebec Insurance Company, which was the only defendant in this case—on all points, and gives costs to the bank, to which the John Eaton Company assigned all the policies. The court finds that there was no pretence of arson or any claim established in that respect.

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

A LESSON FROM MEXICO.

Destruction of the Forests Has Brought Drought and Desolation.

The early conquerors of this country and their followers of today have been very wasteful and careless in the disposition of their forests, with the result of accelerating the date when they will be compelled to face a problem of forest preservation at considerable cost to themselves. Denizens of the northwest are familiar with the rapidity with which the valuable timber areas have been denuded, until now there is scarcely a merchantable tree between Arkansas and the Canadian line. Many notes of warnings accompanied this destruction of the northern soft wood forests, but they fell upon unwilling ears. Only after it was too late to stop the mischief did the country begin to recognize the indirect value of forests to agriculture and that no high degree of civilization can exist permanently without some systematic and adequate forest management. In India the destruction of the forests commenced 1,000 years ago, and that country, having at last seen the folly of such waste, is now engaged in the expensive undertaking of reforesting large areas.

The effect upon rainfall and the productiveness of the cultivated tracts has already been acknowledged by investigators. When Cortes first saw the valley of Mexico, it was covered with woods, not dense, but abundant, from the timber line on the volcanoes down to the water's edge. The reckless cutting down of the forests by the Spaniards in the first century following the conquest in 1521 increased evaporation, caused the lakes to dry up, led to frequent droughts, followed by occasional floods, and changed the climate of Anahuac.

Any old rancher will tell stories of streams that flowed when he was a boy and will show the dry arroyo now. They all claim that the tablelands had timber in considerable quantities where now there are barren deserts.

The government has taken some steps in the matter, but it is also necessary for the landowners to assist in this work by planting trees and irrigating them for a few years until they have taken good root. By using good judgment in selecting the trees and in planting in a few years the complaints which are now so frequent of years of droughts will soon become fewer and fewer until they finally cease.—Monterey Globe.

BEAUTIFUL MAGIC LAKE.

The Present Which an Earthquake Made to Tennessee.

Reelfoot lake, which lies mostly in Obion county and partly in Lake, is the largest sheet of water in Tennessee, it being 40 miles in length and from 3 to 5 in width.

This lake, which evokes rapturous comments from even the most indifferent observer, was formed in a few minutes by an earthquake, which, according to the best authorities, occurred between 2 and 3 o'clock on Saturday morning, Nov. 16, 1811. There were two terrific shocks about 30 minutes apart and many lighter ones between and after. The earth rocked violently, a deafening noise like thunder struck terror to the ear, the atmosphere was heavily laden with something like smoke and vivid and almost constant flashes of lightning illuminated the surrounding country, and in less time than it takes to write it thousands of acres of land had sunk far below the level of the mighty Mississippi.

The Father of Waters rushed into the sunken country, and the suction was so great that for three hours the river ran up stream, and rafts and boats below the lake were torn from their moorings and went whirling into the seething, maddening vortex. As soon as the newly formed lake was filled the river went majestically on its usual course, leaving to Tennessee one of the finest fishing resorts in the country, which is annually the Mecca of thousands of sportsmen.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Students' Pranks.

In The National Magazine W. H. Leavitt tells some amusing stories of the pranks of American art students in Paris. Once the students in one atelier hazed a newcomer by taking all his money, putting him into a cab and giving the driver instructions where to take him. When the cab halted, the penniless student alighted and stood on the curb. "Will you be so good as to light a match?" said the student. "I dropped a napoleon in the cab and can't find it." Whereupon the driver whipped up and was away in a hurry.

A new student from Algiers amused the studio for awhile by imitating the sounds of various wild beasts and birds. Then the fickle fellows tired of it. So one day, having prepared a big box with breathing holes in it, they put the mimic in it and kept him there three days, at the end of which time he performed only by request.

Health is Better.

"I had no appetite and could not sleep at night, and I was so tired that I could hardly walk. I saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised and procured four bottles. My health is now better than it has ever been since I was a child, and I have not been sick for a long time" Miss Jessie Turnbull, Cranbrook, Ont.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

THEY DON'T LIKE PAPER.

Savages at First Contact Regard the Fabric With Suspicion.

When savage people first come in contact with the whites, some of the wonders that they see is regarded with more suspicion than large sheets of paper. The native is apt to regard paper as a sort of cloth, and the fact that it tears easily and is worthless for most of the purposes to which cloth is put convinces him that it is a fraud.

One or two Kongo travelers told of the disgust with which the natives at first regarded paper. The Kongo tribes, by the way, are on the lookout for sharpers, and it is exceedingly hard work for anybody to sell them a bad quality of cutlery or cloth. Savages soon find, however, that paper is not intended to serve the purposes of cloth. Then they cease to look upon it as a fraud, but they do not think it ranks high among white man's manufactures, and they have little use for it.

Some time ago a well known explorer was traveling in the interior of Queensland, Australia, where he met many natives who had never seen a white man before.

One day a crowd of natives was in the white man's camp carefully inspecting the explorer and his baggage when a newspaper happened to drop out of his pocket.

The natives unfolded and spread it out on the ground. They decided that it must be an article of wearing apparel, and one of them tried it on. He wrapped it round his shoulders like a shawl and sat down on the ground, arranging his covering this way and that and watching the faces of the crowd to see what they thought of his elegant garment, covered as it was with many thousands of curious marks.

Presently, however, an accident happened. While the savage was rearranging his shawl and trying to bring the corners together in front of him the garment began to tear at the nape of his neck. A howl from the crowd called attention to the disaster. The blanket, or whatever it was, was evidently made of the poorest sort of material.

The savage took his covering off, examined the mischief he had wrought, made the tear a little longer and then with his finger poked a hole through the paper.

That settled the fact that the article was worthless. The newspaper suddenly lost all interest for the natives, who turned their attention to less destructible objects.—Tomson's Weekly.

A horse in the lead pulls in vain when the wheel horse lays back in the breeching. A man's body is a good deal like a team of horses, and must work harmoniously. The head may want to work, and strive ever so hard to work, but if the body is balky and sick the head will make no progress.

The man who is out of condition physically may as well give up trying to work mentally. He will not be able to do good work, or satisfactory work, and in the endeavor to do so will only do himself further harm. The reason that men have nervous exhaustion and prostration is that they try to work the brain when the body is balky. The right thing for a man to do when he finds he is out of sorts physically is to give the mind a little rest, and promptly resort to the right remedy for his physical ailments. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for a balky body. When the head aches, the appetite is poor, the sleep is restless, the nerves are shaky and both body and brain suffer from dullness and lassitude, it is time to resort to this great remedy. It restores the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and nourishes the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It is the best of nerve tonics and restoratives. It makes both body and brain alert and active. Medicine dealers have nothing "just as good."

"I suffered five years with an ulcer and the doctor here could not do me any good," writes Mr. John Jenkins, of Haywood, Madison Co., Va. "I took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and I am well. I would have been in my grave if it had not been for your medicine."

For constipation and indigestion, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most natural and perfect cure ever devised. They act gently but surely, and effect a permanent cure.

Curious Facts About the Toad.

The toad lives 10 to 40 years, does not begin to produce young until the fourth year, but then lays over 1,000 eggs a year. It has lived two years without food, but cannot live long under water. It never takes dead or motionless food. It takes its food by means of its tongue alone, and it operates this so rapidly that the eye cannot follow its motions. It captures and devours bees, wasps, yellowjackets, ants, beetles, worms, spiders, snails, bugs, grasshoppers, crickets, weevils, caterpillars, moths, etc. The stomach that doesn't flinch at yellowjackets, wasps, blister beetles and click beetles or pinch bugs would seem to be prepared for anything in the insect line, and it doubtless is. In 24 hours the toad consumes enough food to fill its stomach four times. A single toad will in three months devour over 10,000 insects. If every ten of these would have done 1 cent damage, the toad has saved $10. Evidently the toad is a valuable friend to the farmer, gardener and fruit grower and can be made especially useful in the greenhouse, garden and berry patch.—Galveston News.

Cingalese Children.

The Cingalese children are said to be more beautiful than those of any other race on the four continents, and some of the little girls, even of the very lowest caste, are irresistibly pretty as they run before you in the streets to beg. They cry out in the sweetest and most plaintive of voices, touching the stomach to signify hunger in a way that would be awkward and vulgar in any other being, but in them it is so winsome that before you know it you sacrifice a rupee to the bad cause of encouraging them in begging—knowing quite well that all they want is a good opportunity to pick your pocket for more.—Outing

20 YEARS OF BONDAGE

Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills Loose the Shackles of Constipation and Stomach Disorders.

In summing up the causes of human misery it will be found that by far the greatest sources of disease originate in derangement of the Stomach and Bowels. People will abuse their stomachs and neglect the calls of nature till they bring on themselves her vengeance. To get back to nature's paths, to have the Stomach and Bowels once more fulfilling their function properly, to clear the system of all the results and consequences of poisons accumulating and circulating in the Blood is the work of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Thos. Miller, Lucknow, Ont., says that he was afflicted with Stomach Trouble and Constipation for about 20 years, during which time he tried almost everything he heard of, but to no purpose. Mr. H. Day, the popular druggist, sent him a sample of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills. The first dose he took did him good, and they have proved so effectual in his case that he recommends them to all those afflicted as he was.

These Pills may be had of all Dealers at 25 CENTS A BOX.

WHEN MOTHER DIED.

We folded tenderly those quiet hands
When mother died,
And softly smoothed the silken, silvery bands
On either side,
And as so often she her vigils kept
We now sat watching while our mother slept
That eventide.

We raised caresses on that placid brow
When mother died
And kissed the lips that never until now
Our own denied.
We talked of patience and of all her care
And grew regretful as our own small share
Shrank down beside.

We idly moaned, "Were she but back again
Our hearth beside
How much unhappiness, how much of pain,
We'd scatter wide!"
"How lovingly!" Ah, me, that it is ever so!
How gleam our jewels as we watch them go
Adown the tide!

Why speak we not to longing, listening ears
So close beside,
The love that brokenly, above their biers,
We all have cried?
Why to so many must that cry of fate
Come drifting earthward with its "Late, too late!
Thou are denied?"

Go, clasp thy mother in thy strong young arms,
Dear boy, her pride!
Cast from thy life each folly that alarms
That truest guide!
Know that her prayers, her love, thy mother's faith in thee,
Thy glory is, a richer legacy
Than aught beside!

A Tough Colored Man.

A recent railroad wreck in North Carolina was caused in a peculiar way. A colored man wanted to get a ride and tried to jump a train of empty flat cars. He missed the car and fell across the track, where the wheels of several cars passed directly over him. His body threw two of the cars off the track, and the strangest part of it is that after the cars had run over him the man was able to get up and walk away. As he looked around him he was heard to exclaim: "Well, well! I never see de like sence I was bo'n. I'll bet my week's wages dat railroad'll sue me for damages."—Atlanta Constitution.

Very happy is Curran's reply to his pompous antagonist in debate who had fatidly asserted that he was the guardian of his own honor; "I wish the honorable and learned gentleman joy of his sinecure."

A SIMPLE WAY OF INDUCING REFRESHING SLUMBER BY RESTORING HARMONIOUS ACTION OF THE NERVE CENTRES.

TO the thousands of people all over the land who are tossing on sleepless pillows night after night, or who pace the bedroom floor with nerves unhinged, and to whose eye sleep will not come, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing rest. They restore the equilibrium of the deranged nerve centres and bring back the shattered nervous system to perfect condition. Then "nature's sweet restorer" comes and sleep is sound and peaceful as a babe's. No one need suffer the terrible agony of sleeplessness, or any derangement of the nervous system when Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can be procured.

Mr. Chas. Tighe, a well-known resident of Mount Forest, says:

"Until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Yeoman's drug store last November, I was very excitable. The slightest trouble set me trembling all over, and it would be a long time before I could calm myself. My heart often beat so fast that I felt as if I would smother, and my nervous system was so completely unstrung that I could hardly sleep at all. Some nights I got no sleep whatever, and I can assure you it is a bad state to be in, as I went to my work feeling weak and nervous.

"I have taken two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerves Pills and they have relieved every one of my troubles. My heart is all right, I sleep well and go to my work strong and refreshed. They have restored my nervous system to health and vigor, and I appreciate the remarkable good they have done me more than I can tell you."

TORONTO AND PETERBOROUGH.

BOARD OF TRADES' LIVELY MEETING.

smaller towns were carrying the larger cities.

Mr. Kendry thought as far as Peterborough was concerned the town was all right as regards the rates paid, yet as Toronto had asked co-operation and the towns all along the line were sending in petitions, it might be as well if Peterborough followed suit.

Mr. Knapman pointed out that if Peterborough took up Toronto's cause there would be nothing to hinder the Company raising the local rates, even if permission was not granted to increase the figures charged elsewhere, as the charter allowed $40 to be charged in towns. Peterborough should not mix itself up in the matter.

Mr. Carnegie said that the Company stated that it was losing money in Toronto, yet it could pay dividends, showing that the smaller towns were keeping up the cities. There was something wrong in this. The petition for Toronto simply asked for an investigation in order that the tariff could be properly regulated. The rates might be raised in the cities and lowered in the towns if too much was being charged in the smaller places now. There was nothing wrong in supporting such a petition.

Mr. Kells said that as far as he could learn there was not the slightest chance of the Bell Telephone Company being given power to raise their rates, as proposed, although they might be granted leave to raise them in the cities. The company's solicitor acknowledged that permission should not have been asked to increase the cost in town. Peterborough, therefore, had nothing to fear, and should not interfere at all. The fact of our sending the petition to Ottawa will draw the attention of the company to Peterborough, and seeing that a cheap rate was enjoyed here, they might see fit to raise it as they had the power to do. It would be better, he thought, to leave well enough alone and not send in the petition.

Mr. Fair didn't see that there was anything objectionable in the petition. It only asked for an investigation, which was certainly needed as the rates seemed improperly adjusted. The cities were evidently not charged enough and the towns too much.

Mr. Thos. Cahill advised letting Toronto fight its own battles. We had nothing, locally, to complain of. Communications continually came from Toronto in reference to all kinds of matters they objected to. What did Toronto ever do for Peterborough that the town should take sides with the city against the company?

Mr. Kells said that the other towns had more reason to kick than Peterborough. They were paying more for their service.

Mr. Kendry pointed out that Peterborough's cheap rate was simply due to the fact that when the old Ontario Company sold out to the Bell Company, one of the conditions was that the rate should be $35 per instrument for five years, when the time expired the company might raise the rates. It was best to let the local petition go in to support Toronto's contention and then the company would not have the power to raise the rates, if they were making fair profits.

Mr. Matthews asked Mr. Knapman if he had any authority to say that after the five years, mentioned in the agreement with the old Ontario Company, had expired, in August next, that the rates would not be raised equal to that of other towns.

Mr. Knapman thought that as he was allowed by the company to take yearly orders single, at $35, this was sufficient guarantee that the rates were not going to be raised.

Mr. Hill stated that a company which could pay such dividends and whose stock was up to 174, should be content and not try to make its rates. When they tried to [illegible] should stand together [illegible]

Messrs. Fair and Kendry moved that the local petition against the raising of rates be forwarded to Ottawa.

Messrs. Cahill and Kells moved in amendment that a man be employed, as in the case of the petition already gotten up, to ascertain the subscribers who were not in favour of the petition being sent in.

The amendment was lost and the original motion carried.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

Moved by Messrs. Burnham and Kendry "That the Board of Trade put on record its sense of the great loss sustained by the Board and the town generally in the death of the late Mr. Robert D. Hamilton and that the profound sympathy of this Board be extended to the widow and family of the late Mr. Hamilton and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Hamilton."—Carried.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The matter of the new electric railway was mentioned and favourably spoken of, but the Board decided not take action until the details of the matter are arranged with the Company. A meeting will be held afterwards and a discussion ensue in order that the ratepayers may realise the advantages or disadvantages of the proposal.

Mr. Burnham was anxious to have the Board pass a resolution asking the town to favourably consider the application of the Y. W. C. A. for exemption of taxes, but as a discussion arose as to whether the question was within the province of the Board, he withdrew his suggestion.

The Board then adjourned.

SKIN HUMOR ON BABY

Head and Entire Body Covered. Itching Intense, Would Scratch Till Blood Came.

Had to Put Mittens on His Hands To Keep Him from Tearing His Skin.

One Application of CUTICURA Soothes Him to Sleep. Complete Cure.

When my little boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash, which was very itchy and ran considerable watery fluid. We tried everything we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin, yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing his skin around his wrists. He got so weak and ran down that he took fainting spells like we would think him dying. He was almost a skeleton, and his little hands were thin like claws.

He was bad about eight months when we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the day time for a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time. I washed him with CUTICURA SOAP, and put on one application of CUTICURA, and he was so soothed that I put him in his cradle. You don't know how glad I felt he felt better. It took one box of CUTICURA, pretty near one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and about half a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT to cure him. I think our little boy would have died only for CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. MRS. M. C. MAITLAND, Jasper, Ont.

Cuticura Remedies have effected the most wonderful cures of torturing, disfiguring, humiliating skin and scalp diseases of infants and children, as well as of adults of every age. The Same Idea in Africa.

London, March 16.—Rev. Dr. Hartzell, Methodist Episcopal Bishop of Africa, has arrived here from Liberia. He left New York in December, 1896, and has since traveled 6,000 miles in West and South Africa, stationing 85 missionaries. Mrs. Hartzell accompanied her husband. Both are well and they expect to sail for New York on March 23. Bishop Hartzell is accredited by President Coleman of Liberia as confidential emissary to Lord Salisbury and President McKinley, to whom he bears letters intrusted to him on the eve of his departure from Monrovia. The gist of these letters is a request for closer relations with Great Britain and the United States, to which countries President Coleman appeals to insure the independence and development of the country.

Here It Cropped Out Also.

London, March 16.—The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of London gave a banquet last evening to Messrs. Hodges, Ferris and Lewis of the Boston Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company. The Earl of Denbigh presided. United States Consul-General Osborne, who received an ovation, rising to reply to the toast, referred to the talk of an Anglo-American alliance, and testified to the friendship existing between the two countries. He said he did not believe that either needed protection, unless against a combination of powers, but should that combination ever occur he was confident that the protection would be generously given. (Cheers.) Mr. Osborne expressed the opinion that the strained relations between the United States and Spain would soon be removed.

"That a representation of this view be made to the Prime Minister by deputation or otherwise."

A Noted Inventor Dead.

The BOOT and SHOE Trade

COMING OUR WAY ON THE JUMP!

We tell it by our Till—we see it in our crowds—we read it in our sales.

Selling Boots and Shoes alongside of Clothing, Hats, &c., and under the same roof, lessens running expenses and reduces prices all along the line—that's part of the secret of our big sales, and shoppers have had it proved to their entire satisfaction times without number.

Besides our own efforts to get the nobbiest of stylish Boots and Shoes, manufacturers are on the alert for the largest distributing points, and without a lantern come straight here when they think of Peterborough.

WE ARE SELLING TO "BEAT THE BAND."

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, BOYS & GIRLS, are all remembered. Their wants have all been anticipated. Fine Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Rubbers, and every possible need of man, woman or child.

Keep your feet dry—healthy—warm—cornless painless—these Springy days. Don't wait for another snow storm, but buy your Boots, Rubbers and Footwear now. Bad weather soon finds the weak spots in Footwear.

It isn't a question how much we can get but how little we can afford to sell for, and if you don't find values here the best within your reach, make us pay well for our imprudence. This year we begin with fresh resolves to outdo and excel all our past record.

Your Hat, Sir!

Spring Styles now all in. Don't forget it, whatever else you may forget, before the 17th. Wear an up-to-date Hat, but above all wear a Hat that becomes you. We can sell you as well if not better than any Hatter in this town, because we carry a larger assortment, we sell more Hats, are right in touch with the wearers, know just what is wanted and buying direct from the makers we get them just right to suit the wearer's idea. No wholesale house can buy cheaper than we do; we save all middlemen's profit, we don't even have to add a buyer's expenses. If you think Laurier's or McKinley's name in a Hat is worth 50c or a dollar extra, all right, but if GOUGH'S is good enough then save your dollars and buy your Hats from GOUGH.

THIS IS A HEAD-TO-FOOT STORE.

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Prize Tea Store, 338 George street. After critically examining the tea she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another gentleman says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and Our own raising of Pickled, Smoked, Salted Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and as price to suit all. Come to the best, get the best, and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 323 George Street.

DIABETIC SYMPTOMS

Have Manifested Themselves in Lord Salisbury.

PREMIER'S ILLNESS IS SERIOUS.

Peremptorily Ordered to Rest by His Physician—The Work of the Foreign Office Falls Upon Mr. Balfour—New York Tribune's Eulogy of the Ailing Statesman—Cable News.

London, March 17.—Lord Salisbury's illness is more serious than is officially admitted, but how serious cannot be known until the effect of his rest is noted. Occasional but not severe diabetic symptoms have, according to medical information, manifested themselves for nearly two years. These have been seriously aggravated by recent illness and over work, and hence the peremptory orders of Dr. Broadbent that he drop everything, notwithstanding the gravity of the national crisis, and seek rest. It was only by pointing out the hopeless result of disregarding this advice that the eminent physician succeeded in inducing his patient to obey his orders. Medical authorities who have been consulted in Lord Salisbury's case emphasize the fact that diabetic symptoms are an only too common complication of influenza this season, but they add that careful treatment in most cases results in their complete disappearance. Moreover, diabetes is by no means the hopeless disease it was considered a few years ago.

Rumors of a reconstruction of the Cabinet are freely bruited, but there is nothing definite yet on which to base these reports. It is the impression in Parliamentary circles that Mr. Balfour, who is temporarily in charge of the Foreign Office, will be subject to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's influence to a greater degree than Lord Salisbury, which will mean a bolder and more impressive foreign policy.

OF WORLD-WIDE CONCERN.

How Lord Salisbury's Illness Is Viewed in the United States.

New York, March 17.—Referring editorially to the temporary retirement of Lord Salisbury, the Tribune says:

"The announcement of Lord Salisbury's illness will cause world-wide concern. His commanding personality, his distinguished career, his vast power in the present critical state of international affairs in four continents, all invest him with greater interest than almost any other contemporary statesman. As a man all the world sympathizes with him, and hopes for his speedy restoration to health. As the executive head of the Government of the greatest empire on the globe, he is, of course, variously regarded, according to the friendliness or hostility of other nations to that British policy of which he is the chief exponent. But even his strongest diplomatic opponents would probably view with regret and apprehension his withdrawal from office, knowing well that they could hope to have in his place no more honorable and manly antagonist than he.

"Lord Salisbury is a statesman upon whom, in his official capacity, this nation may well look with kindly and admiring eyes. He has been the champion of British interests over those of America. He would doubtless, should occasion arise, be a ready champion of the Saxon race. To him as a man the sympathy of this nation is given no less warmly than that of his own."

FEDERATION IN AUSTRALIA.

Colonial Convention Adopted the Bill, Which Will Now Go to the Legislatures.

Melbourne, Victoria, March 17.—The Colonial Convention has adopted the Federation bill, and will dissolve to-day. The bill now goes to the various Legislatures of Australia.

PHILIPPINE REBELLION.

A Fierce Fight Took Place at the Bolinao Cable Station—Losses on Both Sides.

New York, March 17.—A despatch to the Herald from Manila says: The Philippine rebels surrounded the cable station at Bolinao on March 7, and 43 Spanish soldiers were killed. A steamer which was sent on March 8 to relieve the garrison was obliged to return, owing to a renewal of the fusilade. Four priests and garrisons of neighboring towns were massacred.

Bolinao was subsequently relieved by General Moret and a thousand men, who traveled overland and fought five engagements. The insurgents' loss was heavy.

European cable operators are safe.

The Provinces of Tarlac, Pangasinan and Zambales are in open rebellion, and it is feared others will follow their lead.

It is reported that Auginaludo and other rebel leaders have landed from Hong-Kong with 6,000 troops.

Artillery has been sent to the provinces within the last three days, and at Manila few troops are left.

The situation throughout is critical.

Germany Quits Crete.

Canea, Island of Crete, March 17.—The German flag was hauled down this morning, and the German marines who have been doing duty ashore embarked on board the German battleship Oldenburg. The international troops composing the garrison rendered military honors to the departing German forces. The affairs of the German creditors in Greece have been settled.

Many Lives Were Lost.

Lowestoft, March 17.—The barque British Princess, from Leith for Liverpool, was towed in here yesterday with her bows stove and forepeak full of water, having been in collision off Gabbard Lightship with an unknown steamer. The steamer sank within three minutes with all on board.

Wife Loyal to Husband.

Paris, March 17.—Mme. Dreyfus, wife of ex-Capt. Dreyfus, has petitioned M. Lebon, Minister of the Colonies, for permission to share her husband's exile. She undertakes to submit to the same disciplinary regime as her husband.

Knocked Out by 180 to 116.

London, March 17.—By a vote of 180 to 116, the House of Commons yesterday rejected a bill providing for the establishment of a court of criminal appeal.

REPORT ON LIFE INSURANCE.

The Business Done in Canada for the Year Ending Dec. 31 Last—The Pacific Cable—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, March 16.—The Finance Department has issued an abstract showing the business that has been done by Life Insurance Companies in Canada for the year ending Dec. 31 last. Among the Canadian companies the policies in force amount to $208,97,011, an increase of $18,623,969 over the previous year. The premiums for the year show an increase of over half a million dollars, and the new policies taken out during the twelve months numbered 36,468.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce has received a letter from the Sydney, N. S.W., Chamber of Commerce, urging co-operation between Canada and the Antipodes in securing the building of the proposed cable.

The curator of the Colonial Institute, writing to the Department of Trade and Commerce, suggests that steps be taken to introduce Canadian maple syrup and sugar into the Old Country markets.

The lumbermen of this district will suffer from the unexpected floods. Thousands of dollars will be lost in the various limits along the Ottawa Valley. All the logs are still in the woods, and in some cases are floating around without check. All roads are impassable, and not a log can be drawn to the various tributaries of the Ottawa. It is said the St. Anthony Lumber Company of Whitney, has 25,000 logs scattered by the floods, and they may not be able to get them out this season.

Mr. Harry M. Frith of Nassau, Bahama Islands, who has been here to see the Government regarding better trade relations with that colony, had an interview with Sir Richard Cartwright yesterday. Sir Richard was fully alive to the whole matter, and said that he had under consideration the question of better trade relations with the West Indies generally.

The C.P.R. train leaving Carleton Place last night for British Columbia was made up in seven sections. Several sections were from Toronto, and the others passed through Ottawa from Montreal. Each of the sections contained about ten cars. It is estimated that forty-five is a fair estimate for each car, so that over three thousand people were on board. Most of these were bound for the Klondike gold fields.

Annexation of Hawaii Recommended.

Washington, March 17.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations yesterday agreed to recommend that the Hawaiian Islands be annexed by legislation in open session, and agreed upon a joint resolution for the accomplishment of this purpose.

Spanish securities have gained slightly in both London and Paris.

ENCOURAGING THE INSURGENTS

So Spain Alleges of the United States

REGARDING HER ISLE OF CUBA.

The Spanish Cabinet Semi-Officially Remonstrates Against the Unfriendly Actions of Brother Jonathan—The Latter's Preparations for War Will Influence the Insurgents to Upset Autonomy.

Washington, March 17.—The war preparations being made by the United States have come to the official attention of the Spanish Government, and the views of the Spanish Cabinet thereon have been communicated to the State Department. This has not taken the form of protest, however. It is rather by way of representations, conveyed in a friendly spirit, as to the serious influences which these preparations will have in encouraging the Cuban insurgents at the moment when the autonomy plan is to have its crucial trial through the Cuban elections, and in this way defeat the reforms Premier Sagasta is seeking to carry out.

It has been specially pointed out that the presence of a large fleet of United States warships at Key West cannot be regarded as a friendly measure. In short, the presence of this extensive fleet near Cuba and the war measures taken by the United States are regarded by Spain as seriously prejudicial to the policy of autonomy which Spain and the United States have alike approved, and an indirect encouragement to the insurgents in defeating the desires of both Governments for the success of that policy.

The publication of this semi-official statement of the Spanish Cabinet's views has created a profound impression here. There is a general belief among officials that the publication marks the beginning of a new chaper in the troubled relations between the United States and Spain. The statement is believed to be a first step towards forming public opinion in Europe in anticipation of a failure on the part of the Spanish officials to make a success of the autonomous programme which it had outlined, and that an attempt is to be made to place the responsibility upon the United States for any failure that may follow.

Will Pay the April Coupon.

New York, March 17.—A special despatch to the Evening Post from London says: It is officially announced that the April coupon on Spanish Government four per cents. will be paid.

Spain Can Get a Loan.

Madrid, March 17.—The financial press comments upon the facility with which Spain has supported the heavy financial burdens incurred on account of the insurrections in Cuba and the Philippine Islands, and points out that although, since Senor Sagasta has been Premier, the cost of the wars have exceeded 800,000,000 pesetas, the note circulation of the Bank of Spain has only increased from 1,174,926,306 to 1,259,630,650 pesetas. Thereupon the press asserts no one doubts that if a fresh loan is required it could be raised as easily as was the case with the loan raised a year ago.

MINISTERS IN POLITICS.

There is considerable remark going the rounds of the press arising out of Rev. Dr. Carman's incidental disapproval of Dr. Dewart's entering the political field. There may be some justification of Dr. Carman's position, in view of Dr. Dewart's relation to the church with which he is associated; that is a matter of ecclesiastical economy with which the public have nothing to do. In the abstract, however, it is difficult to see how the fact of a man being a minister destroys or even impairs his citizenship or the rights he enjoys under it. A minister of the Gospel has his relations as a citizen to the state and the fact of his being a minister does not relieve him from responsibility as to his duties to the state; nor does the same fact deprive him of the rights which the ordinary citizen enjoys. If a minister has a right to vote it would seem that that involves the right to be voted for. Of course there is politics and politics, and a minister must be careful of the way he enters into political contests. If he allies himself with the champions of doubtful political methods he incurs blame as well as a lay-politician, but to a greater degree; he is supposed to represent moral rectitude and the influence of his personal example is a factor in determining the benefit or injury of his course, to the cause of good morals. "The divinity that doth hedge a king" finds modified expression in the popular estimate of the separated relation of a minister to ordinary mortals. But after all a minister, as a man, is very like other good men, generally better but sometimes not as good. He has his special duties; so have other men, and there seems to be no reason why he should refrain when his sense of duty leads him into the field of politics; he should be free to do so if he can reconcile that course to the demands of his special duties. The ideal state, it is agreed, is that which results from the practical application of the truths of Christianity, and if a minister can bring about such application better by entering into politics than in keeping entirely in the pulpit, it would seem to be in the interests of the state that he should be a public man in a political sense. If the entry of good ministers—clever men with aptitude for affairs—into politics will purify politics, in heaven's name let them come.

STAND BY THE TOWN.

A Chatham lady went to Detroit Monday and bought dress goods. She found to her astonishment that her neighbor on the same day had bought the same class of goods in Chatham for five cents a yard less. There are other people who are making this mistake. Before you go to Toronto or London or Detroit because "trading is cheap" to purchase goods, take a look through our own stores. It will pay you and them.

This experience as related by the Chatham Banner, carries a lesson for the citizens of other places, one of them not a thousand miles from Ashburnham. There are many of our people who imagine that because they purchase goods or articles over some bargain counter in Toronto they are really getting bargains. As a matter of fact if proper investigation and fair comparison were made, it is safe to say that, in the majority of cases if these same persons took the cash to our local merchants they could get similar goods or articles at the same, or, in some cases even lower prices. Taking railway fare and other expenses into account, the bargain hunter will be found to have much the worse of the bargain. If the city shopper were the only one that suffered that circumstance could be regarded with equanimity, as a sort of retributive justice. It is only just and fair that money made in Peterborough, and made, thanks to the presence, if not co-operation of others engaged in business, should be spent where it is, so to speak, produced. To insure the greatest degree of prosperity to the town, there should be complete co-operation of all interests. The more we help our neighbours, the better the position our neighbours will be in to make a return. We must stand by the town and help each other. Every dollar spent outside the town, whether necessarily or voluntarily, represents a proportionate withdrawal of the financial element that contributes to the life of trade and to our prosperity.

Among the absurd claims made by the Opposition for a few days after the general election was that of counting Hon. Mr. Evanturel, of Prescott, in the Opposition column of members elect. Hon. Mr. Evanturel is daily addressing meetings in behalf of the Government in Russell assisted by Hon. Mr. Ross, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., and Mr. G. P. Graham, M.P., Brockville. After to-morrow, Mr. Guibord the Government candidate in Russell will be counted in the Government column.

THE ONTARIO MINISTRY.

There seems to be in the minds of some people a degree of uncertainty as to the position at present occupied by Mr. J. M. Gibson, and Mr. John Dryden, who remain Ministers of the Crown, though they are not at present members of the Legislative assembly. The law relating to such cases is perfectly clear, though it is not so well known as it should be.

The British North America act of 1867 provided that the "Executive Council" of Ontario should be "composed of such persons as the Lieutenant Governor from time to time thinks fit." It further enacted that the Provincial Legislature might amend the Provincial constitution "except as regards the office of Lieutenant-Governor." Under this authority the number of original Cabinet portfolios, those of the Attorney-General, the Provincial Treasurer, the Provincial Secretary, the Commissioner of Crown Lands and the Commissioner of Public Works respectively, has been increased by the addition of the portfolios of Education and that of Agriculture.

There is no declaration, explicit or implicit, in the Confederation Act that a Minister of the Crown must have a seat in the Legislative Assembly, nor is there any such declaration in any Provincial law. The "act respecting the Executive Council" repeats the very words of the British North America Act as to the right of the Lieutenant-Governor to appoint whom he pleases, but enlarges the list of executive officials to seven.

The "act respecting the Legislative Assembly" declares that no person "holding any office, commission or employment of profit at the nomination of the Crown" shall be elegible as a member of the Legislative Assembly, but an exception is made of the holder of a ministerial office, provided he is elected while holding it. This provision explains why a newly-appointed Minister with a salary must go back for re-election.

The requirement that the head of each administrative department of the public service must have a seat in Parliament is one of usage and convenience, not of law. It is, however, an essential part of our system of responsible government, which makes it possible to raise on the floor of the representative chamber any question of administration, and therefore makes it necessary that the Minister who is responsible for it should be present to defend himself, and also to explain what he intends to do with the money which he asks Parliament to appropriate to the service of his department. Under the British system, which is the model of ours, every member of the Cabinet is of necessity in Parliament. This being the substantial basis of the constitutional usuage, it follows that there is no objection to a member of the Ministry who has temporarily lost his seat in the Legislature retaining his portfolio while the Legislature is not in session, the only condition being his intention to seek re-election within a reasonable time. The presence of Ministers in Parliament is one of the chief distinctions between the British and American systems, and on the whole the British is the preferable plan, the continual communication between the executive and the law-making body being beneficial to both.—Globe.

SMITH.

Council Meeting.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The municipal council of the township of Smith met at the town hall, Bridgenorth, on Monday, the 28th day of February, all the members present, the reeve in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed.

A bylaw dividing the township into road divisions and appointing overseers of highways, pound-keepers and fence-viewers passed its several readings.

The auditors presented their report and the clerk was instructed to have 200 copies printed for distribution.

The clerk was instructed to notify the trustees of school sections 2 and 5 that application had been made to have broken lots 9 and 10, in the 5th concession, detached from S. S. No. 5 and attached to S. S. No. 2, and that said application would be considered at the next meeting of the council.

The council decided to expend $1,275.00 in repairing the roads and bridges in the township.

The time for the collector to return his roll was extended to the 13th March.

The following claims were ordered to be paid, namely:—P. A. Kearney, goods for Mrs. Sullivan, $10; P. A. Kearney, wood for Mrs. Sullivan, $3 93; F. Sager, statute labour performed, $2; W. McIlmoyl, for John Trennum, proving post, $1; W. J. Young, goods to E. McFadden, $2; W. J. Young, goods to Oliver, $10.

The council then adjourned to the fourth April next.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Not a day passes on which the newspapers do not record the death of one or more persons from Bright's Disease. Already its victims number hundreds of thousands. Day by day the awful total grows larger. No class is safe from this destroyer.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

SAN JOSE SCALE BILL PASSED.

Hon. Mr. Fisher's Measure Granted Emergency Treatment With the Consent of the Leader of the Opposition — Yukon Railway Bill Passed Also — The Sunday Newspaper Bill.

Ottawa, March 17.—The House yesterday adopted a measure which it is hoped will protect this country from the invasion of that dread scourge, the San Jose scale, whose ravages among the fruit trees in the United States have been so disastrous. The Minister of Agriculture introduced a bill which empowers the Governor General in Council to prohibit the importation of fruit trees from countries where the disease exists. He asked the House to suspend the rules and pass the bill through all its stages, so that its object would not be defeated by the American nurserymen sending in carloads of stock in anticipation of such a prohibition. Sir Charles Tupper willingly acceded to this proposal, and was evidently anxious to see the bill passed as were the members of the Government. The only opposition came from Messrs. Charlton and Ellis, the former of whom maintained that the bill was too drastic, and the latter that it involved a protection to nurserymen and fruit-growers inconsistent with the free trade principles which he was sent to Parliament to represent.

The Yukon Bill.

The Yukon Railway bill was put through its final stage in the House without serious opposition, and sent over to the Senate to be passed upon by that august body. Mr. Quinn of Montreal introduced an amendment to the motion for the third reading, providing for the capitalization of the Yukon Railway Co. at $10,000,000, divided into $1 shares, to be offered for subscription by the Canadian public until September 1, 1898. No vote was demanded, so little was the faith of the Opposition in Mr. Quinn's creation, and the bill was declared carried "on division," which is the Parliamentary method of indicating the disapprobation of the minority without actually dividing the House.

Sunday Newspapers.

The annual discussion of the question of Sabbath observance took place upon the bill of Mr. Charlton to prevent the publication and sale of Sunday newspapers. In committee two amendments were offered, one by Mr. Fisher to prevent the sale in Canada of any newspaper published on Sunday, and one by Mr. Hughes, prohibiting the sale of any commodity on Sunday. After four hours of discussion the committee rose without coming to any decision.

The San Jose Scale Bill.

Mr. Fisher introduced his bill to protect Canada from the insect pest known as the San Jose scale. He said great injury was being done to fruit and other trees by this insect, which reproduced itself by millions in one season. The bill proposed to prohibit absolutely the importation of nursery stock of all kinds from countries where this insect largely prevailed. It was proposed to apply it at once to the United States, Japan and Hawaii. He asked a suspension of the rules to rush the bill through in order to prevent spring importations of nursery stock. He was glad to acknowledge the courtesy of the Opposition leader, who had promised his co-operation in facilitating the progress of the measure.

Mr. Maclean said he was glad to hear of the Minister of Agriculture adopting a national policy, although in an indirect way. The Mother Country and Germany were taking steps such as Mr. Fisher proposed. The Government should not only prohibit the importation of nursery stock, but the pest ought to be stamped out in those portions of Canada where it now existed, as, for instance, the Niagara Peninsula. He was glad to learn that the Government proposed to protect our own nurserymen.

Mr. Charlton said the bill was a most drastic one. It was not called for by the fruit interests of Canada. The bill was an arbitrary and sweeping one in its character. It was a measure of non-intercourse.

Sir Charles Tupper said this was an occasion on which either the Government must adopt a drastic policy or fail in the object they had in view. Mr. Fisher had satisfied him that the measure should, in the interests of Canadian fruit growers, be passed without a moment's unnecessary delay.

Dr. Sproule approved of the measure, but was surprised it was not introduced a month ago, as spring deliveries of nursery stock from the United States were now being made in Western Ontario. He believed the bill was in the best interests of Canada.

Mr. Henderson favored the bill, only he thought it didn't go far enough. He would like to see fruits as well as nursery stock included in the bill.

Mr. Gibson supported the bill, as also did Mr. McCleary, who rallied Mr. Charlton upon his pro-American proclivities.

Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, didn't object to the bill, because it incidentally protected the Canadian fruit growing industry.

Messrs. McMillan, Chauvin, Hughes and Erb favored the bill, only they thought the Minister of Agriculture should take power to deal with the pest in Canada.

Mr. Bain, Chairman of Agriculture, deprecated the attitude of Mr. Charlton, pointing out that power was given the Government in the bill to declare any safe district free from the operation of the Act.

Mr. Bostock, speaking for British Columbia, supported the bill.

Mr. Ellis (Liberal, N.B.,) regretted to observe in this drastic measure the entering of the thin edge of the wedge of protection to the fruit growing industry in Canada.

Dr. Montague replied that the hon. member's free trade instinct might find more serious scope for exercise upon other points of his Liberal friend's policy. For himself, he supported the bill, and congratulated the Minister upon its introduction.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that this was not a measure of hostility to the United States, and if the conditions were reversed no one in Canada would find fault with the United States for passing a similar measure.

The bill was then read a second and a third time and passed.

A number of questions by members, chiefly dealing with summary dismissals, were put and answered.

McKenzie-Mann Contract.

Mr. Foster asked: Have Messrs. McKenzie and Mann constructed and finished a practical sleigh road from the mouth of the Stikine River to Teslin Lake? If so, when was it completed, and what is its length? Have they provided suitable shelters for travelers at intervals of 25 miles along the route, and is this road and are these shelters now available for travelers?

The Minister of the Interior said in reply to the hon. gentleman: I beg to say that the Government have no official report on the subject referred to in the question. Messrs. Mann and McKenzie have been applied to for information, and they say they believe that they sent forward a sufficient outfit of men and material in plenty of time to carry out the provisions of the contract in reference to the construction of the sleigh road and erection of shelters. They have no doubt that the work was done, but they report that owing to the great storm that took place a short time ago the first 90 miles of the road was obstructed. They have a large force of men working and they hope in a short time that it will be opened for use.

Mr. Foster—I'm not sure that I understood the hon. Minister. Did he say that Messrs. Mann and McKenzie had the road constructed, but that since then it had probably filled up?

Mr. Sifton—The storm obstructed the first 15 or 20 miles.

Mr. Foster—But it may have been completed through for the 800 miles?

Mr. Sifton—That is what they report to me.

The Yukon Bill Passed.

The special orders of the day were then reached, the motion for the third reading of the Yukon Railway bill.

Mr. Kaulbach, in a brief speech, placed himself on record as opposed to the bill.

Mr. Quinn moved to substitute the following amendment in place of Section 8 of the bill:

"That the capital stock of the company shall be $10,000,000, divided into shares of $1 each, the whole of which shall be first issued for subscription to the Canadian public, and left open for such subscription until September 1, 1898. On the first allotment of shares, no individual shall be allowed more than 1,000 shares, but should the whole sum of $10,000,000 be not then subscribed, any person who shall have applied for shares shall be allowed to take up any portion of the balance remaining unsubscribed. In the event of applications for stock in excess of the $10,000,000 being received, shares shall be allowed pro rata to each subscriber.

"The ownership of the railway and the contractors' interest in their contract with the Government shall be acquired by the company by paying to the contractors out of the capital stock of the company the amount expended by such contractors for the construction of such railway, together with a profit of 25 per cent. on the year's expenditures so made by them."

The amendment was lost. The bill then passed its third reading on division.

The Duty on Coal Oil.

Mr. Moore moved that the duty on coal oil be reduced to 3 cents per Imperial gallon, and that importations in tank cars be permitted. He believed the present oil duty was excessive. He was in favor of reasonable protection, but thought the price to the consumer should be reduced.

Mr. Fielding thought it was inexpedient to deal with one item of the tariff in advance of the budget. He moved the adjournment of the debate, and the motion carried.

Against Sunday Newspapers.

Mr. Charlton's bill to prohibit the publication of Sunday newspapers was taken up after recess.

The discussion was continued with great animation until 11.20, when Mr. Maclean moved that the committee rise and report progress.

The motion carried, and at 11.25 p.m. the House adjourned.

GOFFATT WANTED TO DIE.

Thrust a Knife Into His Neck and Made an Ugly Gash, But May Survive.

Orillia, Ont., March 17. — Thomas Goffatt, the postmaster here, attempted to commit suicide last evening. He has been in custody for some time past charged with having been connected with a criminal operation on a young girl named Fanny Young, who died recently. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict against him and the magistrates are to give their decision in the preliminary enquiry to-day. His position seems to have preyed upon his mind, and last evening he made an excuse to get away from the constable who has been looking after him, and quickly drawing a sharp hunting knife, thrust it into his own neck, inflicting an ugly gash about three inches long. The wound is not expected to prove fatal. The unhappy man expresses regret that he did not succeed in doing away with himself.

CANADIAN PACIFIC IS ON TOP.

Western American Roads Will Have to Dismount From Their High Horse.

Buffalo, March 17.—A special despatch from New York yesterday afternoon states that the representatives of the principal railway lines in the east and west, including the transcontinental systems, have unanimously decided to come to an agreement with the Canadian Pacific so as to settle the war in fares to North Pacific coast points. The meeting, which began Tuesday, was not altogether harmonious, and many of those present were in favor of fighting the C.P.R. to the bitter end. But wiser counsel prevailed, and the committee appointed to consider the whole matter came to a suitable agreement.

It was decided to abolish the prevailing cut rates and to restore the old-time tariff. It is probable the C.P.R. differentials to Pacific coast points will be modified.

IN MEMORIAM.

A committee of the County Council consisting of Warden Pearce, ex-Warden Anderson and the Chairman of the Finance Committee Mr. Casement, waited on the widows of the late County Councillors John Moloney and John Burnham on Tuesday, and presented memorials expressing their sympathy for the widow and family as follows:

To the Widow and Family of John Moloney, Esq., late County Councillor for the Lakefield Division of the County Council of the County of Peterborough:

The County Council of the County of Peterborough, at a session held on the 12th day of Novembe , 1897, passed a resolution expressing their sympathy with you, and tendering to you an expression of condolence in your bereavement.

The members of the County Council feel that the County has sustained a great loss by the lamented death of their late colleague, Mr. John Moloney, who was a member thereof for over a quarter of a century, and who as Warden and Councillor devoted his exceptional ability to the promotion of the welfare of the County.

The members of the County Council will greatly miss his genial face, as well as the assistance of his mature judgment and great experience in municipal matters.

His strict integrity, kindly disposition and readiness to assist in all measures calculated to promote the interests of the County at large, greatly endeared him to every member of the Council and every County Official in common with their fellow citizens throughout the County.

To the Widow of the late John Burnham Esq, one of Her Majesty's Counsel:

The Municipal Council of the County of Peterborough in session assembled the 4th day of January, 1898, beg to express to you and to your family their deep sympathy and sincere condolence in this the hour of your bereavement.

For twenty-one years your late husband was continuously a member of this Council, and during that time was four times consecutively elected Warden of this County, and we must acknowledge to you the high estimation in which your late husband and his services were held and the great obligation under which this County stands to him, and we are pleased to know that on more than one occasion in his lifetime this Council publicly acknowledged their great indebtedness to him.

In public affairs your late husband long occupied a conspicuous and honourable position as member of the House of Commons for Canada for the East Riding of the County of Peterborough, and by all parties was recognized as being actuated with high ideals of citizenship and imbued with that love of country and of the Empire to which it belongs, which has been so deep a factor in its prosperity and advancement.

THE Y. W. C. A. AND TAX EXEMPTION.

A Woman Who Cares Writes Upon the Subject.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—If I wanted confirmation strong of the fact that men have the best of it in this world, I might find it readily enough in the expressed objection of certain of our town councillors to the exemption of the present quarters of the Y. W. C. Association from taxation. And, why? Because they say there is a boarding department in connection with it. Mark you, Mr. Editor, this boarding department is a home only for self-supporting young women away from their homes; for, according to the rules and regulations laid down by all Y. W. C. A., none but self-supporting women can be admitted to the home life in these institutions.

During the past thirty years kind-hearted women, observing the insecurity, the privations often of young girls who had to earn their living away from home, devised as a substitute for the natural home these boarding houses, as one department of the Y. W. C. Association. Only those who, like the writer, have been alone in large cities know the advantages—the feeling of safety and reassurance that comes to a young girl when she finds herself in a home such as these.

The boarding department in connection with the Y.W.C.A. aims to be self-supporting. Statistics prove that it very soon becomes so. Just at first it is impossible to dissociate one department of work from the other, and estimate correctly the exact expense attending each. The rent of a building large enough to answer all the purposes of a Y.W.C.A. cannot justly be charged to the boarding department alone. In every Y. W. C. A. there must be a reading room to which all young women are welcome, open at all hours, and heated and lighted during the long winter months. There must be a parlour, equally free to the female public, and certain educational facilities must be provided. In our own Y. W. C. A. last winter, I believe, a Glee Club was formed, a reading circle organized, and a Bible class conducted on Saturday evenings. The domestic arts must be provided for also. Last Thursday afternoon when passing through the hall of the Y.W.C.A. here, I saw a large class in embroidery at work in one of the rooms, and before the Children's Shelter was in existence, Miss Forsythe, Miss Gow and a number of other ladies, met regularly there to make clothes for poor children. Again when a meeting of ladies was called to confer with Mrs. Harvie on rescue work, in Peterborough, where was it more natural for them to meet than in the Y.W.C.A. rooms. A cooking school too was established in connection with it. A employment bureau has been in existence since its inception, and last year over 175 girls obtained situations by means of it. Relaxation is provided here too for the young women of the town in the form of entertainments, receptions and teas. Last New Year's Day the rooms were filled with young women of all classes. Now, Mr. Editor, will you kindly tell me what force there is in the objections urged by our most gallant and philanthropic town councillors. Would it be just to make the boarding department alone pay rent, taxes, repairs and improvements. Service alone in an institution like this costs money. A door girl is required; for a building that combines under one roof all the advantages of a home and a public institution cannot be left absolutely open to the public. To my certain knowledge, the Y.W.C.A. buildings in all our cities, Toronto, Ottawa Montreal, &c., are exempt from taxation even although in connection with all of these there is a boarding department. Indeed, in none of these cities do they pay either rent or taxes. Town councillors ought surely to be public spirited citizens. The experimental stage of Y.W.C.A.'s has passed. They fill an urgent need and are in thorough harmony with the modern spirit. The ladies forming the Board of Management here should receive every encouragement to so develop the Peterborough institution that in time it may rival that ideal Y.W.C.A. the Boston institution.

ST. PATRICK AT ST. PETER'S.

Religious Celebration of Ireland's National Day.

The national day of the Green Isle was celebrated to-day at St. Peter's Cathedral by three masses, all of which were well attended. That at 7 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. Father Scanlan.

The eight o'clock mass was celebrated by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, and the church was crowded by a large congregation. The music at this mass was especially grand. The recessional and voluntary numbers were beautiful arrangements of Irish melodies by Mother St. Mary, of the musical department of the Convent, who presided at the organ. During the mass the Convent pupils rendered "Hibernians' Champion Saint all Hail," arranged to the music of "The Harp that Once Through Tara's Hall," and "Jesus, Saviour of My Soul," to the music of "The Last Rose of Summer." They also rendered the inspiriting hymn "All Hail to St. Patrick."

There was another large congregation at the 10 o'clock service when high mass was celebrated by Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan. The preacher was Rev. Father Jos. O'Sullivan, who preached an eloquent sermon upon the life and labours of St. Patrick from the exceedingly appropriate text, found in Psalm cxi. v 7, "The Just Shall be in Everlasting Remembrance." Refering to the great apostle of the Irish, the preacher pointed out that after the lapse of centuries his memory was fresh in the hearts of the Irish people wherever found, and the people in this land were joining with the people of the dear old home in keeping green the memory of the great St. Patrick. After sketching his life and works the preacher in conclusion remarked that the uppermost feeling on this occasion was one of joy, as we reflected upon a life in which the power and holiness of God were strikingly manifested and also because of the great blessings in the field of religion which were the fruits of St. Patrick's labours. But this joy was tinged with sadness on account of the desolation which afterwards overspread the land in which St. Patrick laboured, and the persecution of the early church; and nowhere did the people remain so faithful as in the land hallowed by the journeys of the Saint and his disciples. Nowhere did they hold so tenaciously to the truth for they knew Whose truth it was. They knew from St. Patrick that God's majesty was inherent within it, which they could not bate or pare down. As his memory has never faded from our hearts, so we feel sure that his powerful intercession has been exerted on our behalf, and we may hope also on behalf of the children of those, who, in many cases, more in ignorance than in malice, raised an ungrateful hand against his work. It was for us, the preacher said, to try to imitate his virtues, in hope that our fidelity to the faith which he preached and the earnest loving longing with which so many souls still yearn towards him, may draw down upon his land a large share of grace and light, and may the sacred words be fulfilled in him—"the just shall be in everlasting remembrance"; and if where the voice of saints and monks and doctors once rose in prayer and learning, the lowing of cattle now resounds, through her disfigured form, the day will come, when Ireland, the joy of his heart, shall witness the restoration of her pristine glory.

THIS MORNING'S FIRE.

Mr. Edward Webb Loses Almost the Savings of a Lifetime Through an Explosion of Gas in the Stove.

The alarm at a quarter to five o'clock this morning called the brigade to Brock street, just west of George, where the rough cast cottage, occupied by Mr. Edw. Webb, plasterer, was discovered to be in flames.

The fire had obtained such a headway in the house before the inmates were aware of its existence that by the time they got out and sent in the alarm it was too late for the brigade to attempt to save anything but the shell of the cottage, as the interior was completely gutted.

The fire is supposed to have originated through an explosion of coal gas which generated in the stove on account of the drafts all being turned off.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb slept in a bedroom in the rear of the parlour and the coal stove was in the dining room on the other side of the hall. Shortly before five o'clock in the morning, Mr. Webb, who was not resting well, arose and opened the bedroom door. He was met by a blast of heat which drove him back into the room. Realizing at once what was the matter and seeing the futility of trying to get out through the front of the house, Mr. Webb broke open the window leading from the bedroom into the shed in order to make a way of escape in this manner for his wife and himself. In the meantime Mrs. Webb had become so terror stricken that she completely lost her presence of mind and but for her husband would have rushed out from the room into the flames. After he had succeeded in getting her out of the window and rescuing some clothing the house had to be abandoned and although the brigade arrived a few minutes later, nothing could be saved, as the furniture which was not already burnt was so badly blistered and drenched with water as to render it valueless.

Mr. Webb is quite certain that but for the existence of the window between the bedroom and the shed, both he and his wife must necessarily have been burnt alive, as when he opened the door leading into the parlour, the heat was such as to have blistered it already, although the fire had not yet entered the parlour from the room across the hall. The pictures were actually shrivelled up in their frames by the heat before being touched by the fire.

The contents of the house were insured for $500 in the Lancashire, London and Globe Co., through Mr. H. Clauxton, but this will not begin to cover the actual loss, as the cottage was very neatly furnished.

The loss of a number of wedding presents received by Mrs. Webb at the time of her marriage is felt most keenly, particularly some silver, which was very highly prized on this account. The cottage looked very desolate this morning with the shrivelled up plants in the windows, and the little canary lying smothered to death in its cage. Mr. Webb could not speak of his loss with equanimity this morning, and feels very badly over losing the savings of almost a life time.

The cottage was owned by Thos. Bradburn and was insured through Mr. Hill for $500 in the London Assurance Co.

A SKETCH OF THE IRISHMAN'S PATRON SAINT.

He Was of High Birth and Came From Gaul—Landed in Ireland in the Fifth Century—His Work in Converting the Irish People

There is a notion in most people's minds that St. Patrick was originally an Irish peasant boy, says a writer in the Chicago Inter Ocean, who suddenly came into prominence and earned his title by killing off deadly reptiles with a wave of his hand. Shorn of the fiction, the story of St. Patrick's life is one of deep interest.

St. Patrick was born in France, or, as it was then called, Gaul. According to the established laws of the day young Patrick should have been one of Ireland's bitter enemies, for he was early in life captured by the Scots, who ruled Ireland, and was taken from France, his native place, to the Green Isle, where he was for many years a slave in Ireland.

St. Patrick was born an aristocrat. His father, Calphumius, was, it is thought, a prominent member of Roman society. His mother, Conchessa, was nearly related to St. Martin of Tours.

ST. PATRICK

began his career as a broken-hearted boy. He was carried to Ireland, where for six years he was a slave to a chief named Milcho, of Antrim, who employed him chiefly attending sheep.

And here begins the miraculous part of his career. At night, it is said, he received many visits from angels and planned the great work that he afterwards carried out so successfully.

At the end of six years young Patrick made his escape, and, reaching the coast at a seaport town called Benum—a name that still survives—he managed to get aboard a ship, whose captain, it is thought, was induced by Divine power to take the boy aboard. After a slow journey, Patrick at last found himself at his old abode with his relative St. Martin at Marmontrel. The spot where he crossed the River Loire is still marked with a sign and is held in great reverence by the people of the vicinity.

For thirty years after this young Patrick studied and worked, preached, made pilgrimages, and fitted himself for the great work he had mapped out for himself, the conversion of idolatrous Ireland, for Ireland then worshipped idols. He always kept this steadily in view. At the end of this time St. Patrick was made a bishop.

St. Patrick landed in Ireland in the year 432.

Ireland at this time was peopled by a fierce and fiery race of sun and idol worshippers, whose priests were the Druids. They had, strange to say, a code of morals of their own, and they treated women with

THE GREATEST CONSIDERATION.

They were barbarians, for the Romans, who for nearly 400 years had been the conquerors of Britain, had to acknowledge that they could do nothing with the people of Ireland.

St. Patrick's great ambition was the conversion of his old master, Milchu. He travelled north in the direction of Milchu's castle, but when he came in sight of it a great red light in the sky caused him to halt in wonder. He soon learned the cause of the glare. His fame as a converter of men had preceded him. Something made the old warrior, Milchu, feel when he heard that St. Patrick was travelling to his castle, that he would be led to desert the gods of his fathers. Milchu determined to prevent such a humiliating fate by dying as he had lived. So he set fire to his ancestral home and perished in the flames, sooner than be converted by St. Patrick.

From the funeral pyre of his old master St. Patrick turned with a new and brilliant idea in view. The court of King Laeghaire, son of Nial, of the Nine Hostakes, was about to meet to celebrate the festival of the Fes of Tara. Here all the priests and and dignitaries gathered to worship in the national fashion, and St. Patrick determined to strike a blow at the fountain head at once. The sequel showed how wise a determination it was.

The King, who knew well with whom he had to deal, ordered St. Patrick to be brought to to the idolatrous celebration at the earliest moment, to pit his supernatural powers against those of the court magicians and high priests. At daybreak, therefore, behold the Druidical high priests and St. Patrick arrayed against each other, King Laeghaire and court and the people looking on expectantly.

had the first inning. Their miracles went all awry. They made snow fall to the depth of several feet, but they could not get rid of the nuisance. They caused black darkness to cover the land, but, when they called for the light, the light declined to come. So they had to suffer the ignominy of accepting the proffered assistance of St. Patrick, who caused snow and darkness to disappear in a twinkling.

Then St. Patrick challenged the chief priest to a trial that looked in favour of the latter. He proposed to have the priest placed on a pile of green wood and the boy Benignus, who accompanied the party, placed on a pile of dry wood, and the test made to see whose God would protect his own from the flames. The priest accepted, with the result that he was burned up and the flames did not injure the boy at all.

THEN KING LAEGHAIRE,

with rage in his heart and a smile on his lips, invited St. Patrick to come to his palace on the following day. Armed men were stationed on the way to kill the missionary and his followers, but they saw only a few deer pass them in the night.

Then the King played his last card. A cup of poisoned wine was given to St. Patrick when he reached the palace; but the saint turned the cup upside down, the poison fell out, and again the king was foiled.

Then he decided to make the best of it and gave St. Patrick the freedom of his kingdom, to do as he pleased. St. Patrick's career began from that hour.

For nearly sixty years St. Patrick continued his work, Rome sending help, and the work was consolidated and built up into a firmly established religion.

He was in a place called Uladh when he was warned that death was near. The saint proceeded towards Armagh, where he wished to be buried; but he was told in a dream to return to the Province of Uladh, which was the scene of his first triumphs. When he arrived at Saul he took to his bed, and on the 17th of March, A.D., 492, sixty years after his arrival in Ireland, and at the age of 120 years, the patron saint of Ireland breathed his last, surrounded by converts of his ministry. He found in Ireland 3,000,000 of pagans, and in sixty years he had changed the religious aspect of the land so completely that there was not an idol to be found in all the land.

LECTURE ON DANTE.

Delivered by Rev. Mr. Symonds, in Lindsay, Tuesday Evening.

"The fifth lecture in the Collegiate Lecture Course attracted possibly the largest audience of any lecture in the course. Dante seems to be a favourite subject, and Rev. Mr. Symonds is so well-known that many were glad to have the pleasure of hearing him again."

In this manner the Lindsay Post refers to the lecture, delivered in Lindsay by Rev. H. Symonds, on Tuesday last. Proceeding it says:

"Prof. Symonds bears the stamp of the scholar in his appearance, and his manner of speaking, his voice, his beautiful language combine to make him a very pleasing and effective speaker.

Mr. Symonds opened his lecture with a brief statement of the main facts in Dante's life. Dante Alighieri was born in Florence in 1265, of a family belonging to the lower nobility. He was highly educated and during his life mastered all the learning of his time. Italy was at this time the scene of the great world-drama. In Italy were found side by side the greatest magnanimity, learning, generosity, virtue and the subtlest intrigue, deepest treachery and grossest sensuality. In mediæval Europe two great conceptions swayed the minds of men—the universal dominion of the Emperor, this temporal lord of Europe and the world, and the universal dominion of the Pope, the spiritual lord of the world. In Dante's time two great parties divided Italy, the Guelphs and the Ghibellines—the party of the Emperor and the party of the Pope. Theoretically the Emperor and the Pope were in complete harmony; practically they were in more or less constant conflict. Dante was at once politician and poet. Early in life he belonged to the Guelphs, but later joined the Ghibellines. As a boy of nine, Dante had his first sight of Beatrice, the heroine who figures so prominently in the Divine Comedy. Their relations were almost wholly ideal, as they rarely actually met.

The Divine Comedy is one of the great poems of the world, probably the greatest treatment in literature of sin. It contains 100 cantos written in terza rima. It is a series of visions of the conditions of the souls of the dead. It is one of the first works in Italian, and did as much to create the Italian language and influence Italian literature as the English Bible of 1611, or Luther's German Bible, did for the English and German language and literature. Dante's style is marvellously pure, beautiful and strong. The subject of the poem is "The destiny of man according to his moral life." Lost in a forest, the poet finds himself confronted with a tiger, then a lion, then a wolf. These typify, Florence and sensual pleasures, France and ambition, the Papacy and avarice. Guided by Virgil, the pilgrim visits Inferno. He finds, first, ante-Hell—the abode of such mortals as never commit themselves to anything, good or bad, and who are therefore fit for neither heaven nor hell. Thence he passes into Limbo, the abode of the unbaptized and the conscientious heathen. Then on through the whole nine circles or regions down to the lowest hell, where are found in eternal ice and cold, the traitors to their benefactors, e.g., Judas Iscariot.

Leaving Inferno, he comes to the Mount of Purgatory, up which there are, besides the preliminary steps of candid confession, mournful contrition, and love leading to sacrifice, seven stages or terraces. From the Mount of Purgatory one enters Paradise, where he finds an earthly paradise in which Beatrice appears in magnificence, and from which he ascends with Beatrice into the celestial paradise. This contains ten spheres, in the last of which Deity dwells, invisible in the excess of light. The poem has a literal interpretation and an allegorical. As an Allegory it deals with man in relation to sin. The man living in sin is Inferno, in which state he may go from bad worse. The man on the Mount of Purgatory is the man who is striving to master himself and ascend to higher and nobler things. Man enters paradise when he has rooted out not only sinful habits, but also his sinful proclivities. The purgatorial idea of purification through suffering is a central idea in much of our literature, e.g., The Marble Fawn.

A most cordial vote of thanks was moved by Rev. Mr. Manning, and seconded by Mr. Thos. Stewart. In responding, Rev. Mr. Symonds expressed his gratification at the size of the audience and with their attention. He thought the growing interest in lectures one of the hopeful signs of the times. He referred the audience, for a study of Dante, to Miss Rossetti's "The Shadow of Dante," and Harris' "The Spiritual Sense of the Divine Comedy," and gave some helpful hints as to Dante study."

"GERT" GETS IT WHERE SHE WEARS HER RUFF.

JANE JUMPS ON HER WITH BOTH LITTLE FEET.

A Criticism of "Gert's" Saturday Gossip—When Petticoat Meets Petticoat Then Comes the Tug of War.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Good gracious! what is "Gert" talking about—finding fault with everything that comes up. The elections didn't seem to suit her and dear only knows what did. Her first letter was all about the fashionable hats and veils and silk blouses and she seems to be "stuck on" Fair's beautiful veilings. I don't want to be nasty and suggest why she thinks so much of veils—some things look better when half hidden you know—but do you mind that she says that when spring comes she always thinks about Fair's beautiful veils—ha! ha! Why not go to Dickson's and see what lots of pretty things he has for spring. I think when you get things cheap that's what you're looking after—I am.

Well, now, did you ever? "Gert" talks about street crossings. I'm sure if she has so much trouble getting over these crossings she might wait for her dear, and surely he would help her over. O, dear, it's awful, don't you think? I tell you what I would do rather than find fault with the town council that are trying to do every thing they can for the town. "Gert" says what is the use of paving George street like a palace, if we can't get there? I would like to see it that way—there's no danger but that she would get there—most women who look for so much waiting on are always getting there. It's only the hard-working woman that don't get any help.

I agree with "Gert" about not going to Toronto to do her shopping. You are just as well off, yes, better off, to shop at home.

"Just go to Schneider's when you want to buy a watch, or get one in running order. His clerks are always very nice." There it is again! And then she will have to get a wheel! She can't afford to trundle along in the ways of her forefathers. If more would do as their forefathers did we should not have such hard times. Our forefathers started on cornmeal and finished up on turkey. But in this age they start on turkey and finish up on porridge. Isn't that so? My way is to live within the rim of my shilling.

I haven't time to say all I want to, but let me say a word about your friend Mrs. Waulker, who "could'nt live without her daily trip down town." Don't you take after her in that way my dear "Gert," for no husband wants to see his wife on the street all the time. She can't attend to house as it should be. I think slippery crossings, ankle deep in filth, are enough to keep any woman home.

I think if the president of the street committee, has a wife she will not pull his hair. I would just say "my dear, don't you think it would be as well to give the poor man that want work something to do. Don't you think so, too?

ADVERTISING IN THE EXAMINER PAYS

ON THE FOOTBOARD.

"Guv'nor," said Jim Bragg, stepping gently into my room one night after a premonitory tap on the door and depositing himself on a chair and his greasy hat underneath it, "I can put yer up to a job as'll just suit yer down to the ground."

I may say at once that Bragg and I did not always work together. He was a good cracksman at a rough job, such as opening a safe or picking a lock, and whenever I needed assistance in that direction I sought him out, but of the finer elements of the craft, the subtle scheming, the ceaseless ingenuity required to bring a great coup to a successful conclusion, he was utterly ignorant.

Judging from his present demeanor, he had become possessed of some information which might lead to a good stroke of business if handled properly and mistrusted his own powers of carrying it through, for I knew full well that had it been otherwise he would not have wished to share the booty.

Without any great show of eagerness therefore I replied, "Well, what is it?"

"Why, this 'ere: Tomorrer night a packet of papers is to be sent by special messenger from a firm of land sharks to a gentleman in Cheshire, the aforesaid and 'ereinafter mentioned messenger traveling by the Irish mail. Now, it's werry important to anuvver genelman that those identical documents should get—shall we say mislaid?—and if a smart individual, or a couple, for the matter of that, was to make such arrangements that they did 'appen to get—mislaid, why, there'd be somefink like five 'undred quid for 'em at the finish. Twig?"

This looked promising, but I answered cautiously:

"Yes, I think I follow you so far, Jim, but I'm not going into a business like that blindfold. I must know all about it, or else I don't deal. Come, is it a bargain?"

After a little demur, he told me the full particulars, which were briefly these. He had been offered the sum mentioned by a gentleman to whose great interest it was the papers (they were legal documents) should not reach their destination, if he could contrive to abstract them from the messenger's care. The affair literally bristled with difficulties, and at first sight Jim refused to have anything to do with it as being beyond his powers of accomplishment. However, his cupidity was not proof against such a tempting bribe, and after a lot of persuasion he consented to try and carry out the gentleman's wish.

"I suppose it's half and half, Jim?" I asked.

He blustered something to the effect that he ought to have the larger share as he had got wind of the affair first, but I very soon convinced him that I should not work on those terms and ultimately he grumblingly acceded.

"That's all right, then. And now, having satisfactorily settled the division of the spoil, how are we to set about earning it?"

"Now, look 'ere, guv'nor, I ask yer, is that a fair question? 'Ere's yer 'ad somefink like nine or ten years' hexperience on a railway afore yer took up wiv yer present 'ighly respectable perfession, and then yer 'as the face to ask me 'ow a job like this is to be worked. I didn't fink it of yer, guv'nor; I didn't."

Jim's tone was one of easy banter. He was gratified evidently at my co-operation and already, I fancy, harbored pleasing anticipations as to the "monkey" which was to be our reward if successful. As I have said, it was not a scheme to be undertaken lightly, and I foresaw considerable difficulty. It would be useless to attempt to relieve the messenger of his burden at Euston; he would doubtless be well guarded and besides, we were both too well known in London.

At the other end, the difficulties were obvious; it was plain, then, that the attempt must be made during the journey. Here, again, difficulty stared us in the face. We could hardly hope to tackle two men with success, and Bragg had somehow learned the fact that the messenger was to travel along with the guard. Apparently they judged that some attack might be made, and it behooved us, therefore, to be doubly careful.

"It ain't no easy go, is it?" murmured Jim sympathetically.

However, I had a faint idea of how the thing might be managed and gradually it shaped itself in my head until I felt sure that with a bit of luck we could pull it off.

My plan was this—to pull the train up at some wayside place, where Jim was to be in waiting with a horse and trap, secure the packet from the messenger while the guard was absent from his van ascertaining the cause of the stoppage and put as many miles as possible between us and the scene of the affair afterward. How this was to be accomplished you will hear.

"Jim," I said, "you know that little place about 90 miles beyond Tamworth that we visited a year or two back on a little expedition of our own? If I recollect aright, the Northwestern main line runs very close to the road for some distance, and at one point there are a number of large trees close together."

"Yer couldn't 'ave described it better 'ad yer been a guidebook, guv'nor. I know the spot."

"Good. Could you be waiting near those trees with a light trap at—let me see—10:35 precisely tomorrow night?"

"I dare say I could. But wot's yer game?"

"Never mind yet, Jim. You be there as I've told you, and when you hear this"—I gave a peculiar whistle—"reply in the same way, and I shan't be far off. And let your horse be ready to fly like the wind," I added.

"All right, I'll be there," he replied sulkily, "but there's no need to be so bloomin 'igh 'anded about it all. I suppose yer can trust me?"

"Of course, else I shouldn't be doing what I am now. I haven't quite fixed it in my own mind yet, but you start off and get your part of the business arranged. I'll tell you all about it when it's settled, you may be sure."

This mollified him, and after drinking success to our efforts we parted, Jim exclaiming that I "allus was such a long 'eaded feller."

I then set about the necessary preparations and went over my plan again to see that I had not overlooked any little thing which might prove fatal to its fulfillment.

I procured a drill, small and handy, but powerful, three or four little plugs of hard wood, some packing which could be easily molded, a coke of blackheart, and, lastly, a bottle of chloroform. With these I thought I could manage without any other aid than that of my own ingenuity. The night arrived eminently suitable, dark and cloudy and with very little wind. I travelled down by a previous train to Rugby, where I proposed to join the mail, which, fortunately for my purpose, halted there, some eight or nine minutes.

Rugby is not a particularly busy station at any time, and this was another argument in its favor from my point of view. When the mail ran in, I gave a swift glance at the van to see if my quarry was on board. Yes, there he was, leaning idly against the off door watching the porters as they hastily loaded and unloaded the huge postoffice hampers.

That much assured, when nobody was looking, I took the opportunity to drop down behind the van and walked along the offside to a carriage about the center of the train which I had noted as being practically empty.

Now was the time for rapid action. I took my drill from my pocket, fitted it together and commenced to bore a hole in the pipe leading to the brake cylinder underneath the vehicle. The drill was good, and I had soon made a neat little hole. But I must be quick, or the engine would come on, and then the fraud would be discovered.

I selected one of the plugs. By extraordinary good fortune it fitted without any further shaping to speak of, and in less time than it takes to tell I had driven it firmly home. A little packing and a smear of blacklead over the place, and I defied any one to detect it.

The whole operation had not taken more than about four minutes, and at its completion I quietly opened a door and stepped into an empty compartment. A moment or two later the engine backed on to the train and commenced to "blow up" the vacuum.

To my great relief, the joint stood the ordeal well, for the guard's whistle blew, and we were speeding northward without anything untoward having happened.

The next hour I passed as patiently as I could under the circumstances, and shortly before reaching Tamworth took a good pull at my brandy flask to steady my nerves for what was to follow.

A brief stay at that place, and once more we were on our way. The critical moment had come. I got out of the carriage on to the footboard. Nobody who has never tried this on an express train can have any idea of what it means.

I had to cling with might and main to withstand the fierce current of air created by the rushing of the train, and for the first few minutes a deadly sickness possessed me, and I dared not move.

But if I would be successful I must regain my nerve quickly, for this was child's play to what I had set myself to do. Holding on with one hand, I managed to take another pull at the brandy and gradually the dizzy sensation departed, and I became more accustomed to my novel situation.

Now for the ordeal. Gently I lowered myself till I lay flat along the board, and, although there was then more physical discomfort through the strain being all on one arm, my head was better, as the draft was less fierce.

I had made two little scratches on the pipe just above the plug, and, leaning over, I soon discovered these by the aid of my tiny electric lamp.

I had calculated things to a nicety. When employed on the line, I had many times worked a slip carriage and had a pretty accurate idea as to how far the train would run when I had admitted air into the brake pipe by the removal of the plug. You do not, of course, need telling that the brake is applied by letting air into the pipe.

Those few minutes seemed an eternity. All the time there was the risk that a signalman might see me, and then the game would be up, and I should get 15 years for my pains. I knew the line well and watched field after field slip by until I thought we never should arrive at the point I had fixed upon as the one at which to withdraw the plug.

We were getting nearer now. Another three minutes—two—one—now! I leaned over and gave the wood a sharp push. The air rushed in with a gurgling sound, and then came the sharp bur-r-r of the brakes on the tires.

As I had expected, the driver instantly perceived the drag and applied his own brake, and we pulled up not 20 yards from the spot I had selected. I dropped on to the ballast, listened intently a second or two and then walked with stealthy feet to the van.

Again my judgment had proved reliable. You rarely find a guard get out of his van on the offside—the habit of jumping on to the platform is too strong. He had descended, and I could hear his footsteps going away from where I stood. The messenger had his head out of the window, looking after the retreating guard.

Noiselessly, I opened the off door of the van, and, before he realised what was happening, had one hand to his mouth to prevent any cry, and with the other held a handkerchief, which I had previously saturated with the anæsthetic, to his nose. It was all so sudden that he could offer no resistance. The chloroform did its work speedily and in a second or two he was insensible.

A very slight search gave me what I was after, and I slipped through the hedge and down the road with the exulting knowledge that I had done one of the neatest bits of work in my career.

Had Braggs carried out his share of the contract? I gave the agreed signal softly. Clear on the still night came the reply, and very shortly I was in the trap and we were speeding rapidly away.

Twenty miles we put between us and the railway before we deemed it prudent to stop, and then we returned to town by a circuitous route, after turning the horse astray and upsetting the trap in a ditch. Our employer was highly elated and gave us an extra £50 for the neat way in which the affair had been managed. You may judge that we considered a change of air desirable, and I did not return to the country until it had been pretty nearly forgotten except by those most intimately concerned.—London Tit-Bits.

One Lala-Liver Pill every night for thirty days makes a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

HELPS THE PLUMBER.

The House Rat Eats Quantities of Lead Pipe and Creates Sewer Gas.

One of the most persistent and destructive assistants the plumber has is the house rat. A rat can eat out plumbing as fast as an average honest man can pay for it. To a rat a greasy lead pipe is a toothsome morceau. When a hungry rat forsakes the barn and finds his way into the cellar of a house and thence up through the walls to the space between the floors, the first thing he tackles is the grease on the outside of a lead waste pipe. If he finds other food shortly thereafter, he spares the pipe, otherwise he eats the pipe and the water escapes through to the ceiling below and ruins the plaster. The plumber is sent for and repairs the leak, but he doesn't tell what caused it.

Once upon a time a rat was "hoist by his own petard," so to speak. He got into a house and found his way to a lead pipe, on which he tried his teeth. It was pleasant chewing and put a fine edge on his teeth, so he continued. Soon he had eaten a large hole in the pipe and a stream of scalding water poured forth. Before he could escape he had been scalded to death, to say nothing of being drowned. But he had the satisfaction of knowing that he had ruined a fine ceiling and that the carpet underneath it had been soaked full of lime-water. There is no great loss without some small gain.

Just to show what they could do, some rats once ate 50 feet of lead pipe under a bathroom and over the kitchen of a big hotel in this city. The floor of the bathroom was marble and under it was a fireproof floor made of iron beams and hollow tiles. The pipes were laid in the space between the floor and the girders. Rats were attracted thereto by the odors from the kitchen. They met the lead pipes. When their appetites were satisfied, the space was filled with lead dust.

Rats like to eat drain pipes from kitchen sinks because they are lined with grease. The only way to keep them away is to pack the pipes with mineral wool. Mineral wool is a substance made of furnace slag through which a jet of air has been forced while it cooled. The mineral wool gets into the eyes of the rats and drives them away. Modern plumbers discourage rats by laying iron instead of lead pipes.

Rats, strange to say, are great breeders of sewer gas. They gather up bones and scraps of meat about the kitchen yard and carry them up into the rafters between floors and ceilings. The presence of this plunder is sooner or later discovered by the odor, and the plumber is sent for to discover whence the sewer gas comes. It is not always well to tell the housekeeper the truth.

Thus it is the humble brown house rat helps his friend the plumber earn an honest livelihood, and the plumber thanks him in his own gentle way.—Kansas City Star.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

THE GREATEST OF ALL SPRING MEDICINES.

Make New Blood and Strengthen the Nerves.

Dr Williams' Pink Pills Cure Rheumatism, Sciatica, Locomotor Ataxia, Anæmia, Heart Troubles, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, Incipient Consumption, All Female Weaknesses, Dizziness and Headache, and all Troubles arising from Poor and Watery Blood.

DOCTORED FOR TEN YEARS.

Mr. J. H. Burch, St. Ann's, Ont., says:—"My occupation is farming, and my age is forty years. I have been under a doctor's care more or less for ten years, and I have spent in that time hundreds of dollars for medicines and doctor bills. I doubt whether any of the doctors whom I consulted thoroughly understood the nature of my trouble. Some pronounced it bilious colic in a chronic form, and another said the trouble was due to gall stones, and that only through an operation could I obtain a cure. This operation I declined to undergo. When the attacks came on they would take the form of a burning sensation in the stomach gradually shifting to the bowels and causing intense pain. These attacks would continue for about twelve hours but would leave me so weak that I would not be able to do any work for two or three days after they passed away. These attacks came on at intervals of about two weeks, and the only relief I could get from the pain was through the use of morphine. At last finding that the doctor was doing me no good I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I used them for a couple of months, and when I discontinued their use I felt that I was cured, nor was I mistaken, for in more than a year that has elapsed since I took the last pill, I have not had a single attack. I now only regret that I did not begin the use of these pills earlier, for not only would they have freed me from much pain, but I would have been richer in pocket as well. My advice to others ailing is to go for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once."

AFTER EFFECTS OF LA GRIPPE.

Mr. Albert E. Wood, foreman of a carriage factory at Margate, P.E.I., says:—"I was attacked with la grippe which left me in a weak and emaciated condition. Many of my friends thought I was in consumption, and some of them predicted that I would not last long, but I am here yet, and that in a hale and hearty condition. Before beginning Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I had used two bottles of a compound that cost me a dollar a bottle, but from which I derived no benefit. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, however, did the work, and restored me to my former health and strength. I still use them occasionally for regulating my system, as I believe an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and I believe there would be very little sickness if people would renew their vitality by occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

AN INVALID FOR YEARS.

Mrs. Davis, wife of Mr. Levi Davis, proprietor of the Central Hotel, Irish Creek, Ont., has been more or less an invalid for years, and is another of the vast number who owe renewed health to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Davis says:—"About a year ago I had just partially recovered from a long seige of sickness, but felt that I should never regain my usual health and strength. I was weak, and could do little or no work. I seemed to have no blood in my body, and felt much like giving up, when one day I read a testimonial of a lady whose case was similar to mine and who had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This decided me to try them, and I was no less astonished than gratified at the benefit I soon derived from them. They literally made a new woman of me and I am now enjoying better health than I have done for years. I now value Dr. Williams' Pink Pills above all other medicines, and if feeling the least unwell at any time I at once resort to them, and always with the best results. I will be glad if my statement will help some other sufferers.

WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY.

Mrs. J. A. Craig, Watson's Corners, Ont., writes:—"At the age of fifteen my daughter Teresa began to show symptoms of weakness and debility, which were all the more remarkable as before that time she had been unusually well and strong. We consulted a physician, who prescribed for her, and for a time she seemed to improve a little, then the improvement ceased, and she became worse and grew so weak that the least exertion seemed to tire her out completely and her heart would palpitate so violently that we feared she had heart disease. This state of affairs continued for two years, during which time she suffered a great deal, and at times we despaired of her getting better. Having read a great deal about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, we at last thought it might be worth while to give them a trial. There was an improvement in her condition almost before the first box was completed, and after using seven boxes she was well and strong. Other members of my family have since tested the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with success, and I have pleasure in recommending them to any who are suffering from general debility."

LONG STANDING RHEUMATISM CURED.

Mr. William Hopkins, Ninga, Man., says:—"Twelve years I was almost constantly afflicted with rheumatism of the muscles, at times the pains being so severe that I was unable to work. I tried electric belts and numerous medicines, but got no relief. While in Boissevain during the winter of 1894, the druggist there advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as he knew of a number of cases in which they had cured rheumatism. I got half a dozen boxes and took them back home with me and began their use. I was on the fourth box when I began to get relief, and I continued taking Pink Pills until I had used ten boxes, by which time no trace of the rheumatism remained, and I have not since suffered from rheumatic pains. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pill for rheumatism, as I have proved they will cure it.

AN APPEAL TO THE READER

If you have used Dr. William's Pink Pills and derived benefit from them, will you write us and let us know? If you have been disappointed, will you write us just the same? We cannot expect to cure every case. Anyone who pretends to do so is unworthy of confidence. We do business in good faith. If by experience we learn that some forms of disorder are not cured by our pills, we want to know it, so that we may refuse to sell pills for such cases. We never sell pills except when we think they will cure.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes. Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonised, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

THE SENATE.

Questions Asked and Answered in the Upper Chamber.

Ottawa, March 16.—In the Senate yesterday Senator Perley asked if Major Walsh was allowed to go to the Yukon district short of provisions, so that he had to pay a dollar a pound for poor beef. He asked this question because it was reported in the newspapers that Major Walsh had purchased 15,000 pounds of beef at that figure.

Mr. Mills said Major Walsh had taken with him ample provisions for himself and party. It was possible that he might have had to buy beef to provide for starving miners he had met, but he did not believe the story.

Senator Boulton gave notice of his intention to move for the correspondence between the Government and the Home authorities in reference to the repatriation of the 100th Royal Canadian Regiment.

Rev. W. W. Bates Acquitted.

Toronto, March 16.—Rev. W. W. Bates of Thornhill was yesterday afternoon acquitted of the charge of stealing a number of small articles from the T. Eaton Company store on Nov. 30 last. Judge Morgan, in summing up, said there was no evidence that the prisoner had taken these things without intending to pay for them, though the officials of the store had reasonable grounds for their suspicions. The prisoner had violated the rules of the store, which called for all goods to be wrapped up and a bill given.

His Honor closed by reminding citizens to be careful in their dealings with these stores, and to submit to the rules and less trouble would result.

The prisoner was then discharged.

A JEALOUS BARBER

Shoots His Wife, a Miss Toomey and Himself Fatally.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., March 16.—About 9 o'clock yesterday morning Albert Lathwell, a barber, shot his wife in the side, a Miss Toomey in the head and shoulder, and himself in the region of the heart. The injuries to Lathwell and Miss Toomey are considered sufficient to cause death. Jealousy was the cause of the deed.

Lathwell's home is said to be in Orangeville, Ont. Eight months ago he married a Miss Addie Montgomery, daughter of a farmer living near Sault Ste. Marie. Recently he came to this place, bringing with him Miss Toomey, who he installed as housekeeper. His wife followed him, and, strange as it may seem, the women became great friends.

Free Trial To Any Honest Man

The Foremost Medical Company in the World in the Cure of Weak Men Makes this Offer.

HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.

So much deception has been practiced in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without one penny to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliance and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy vitality and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap the energy.

They cure nervousness, despondency and all the effects of evil habits, excesses, overwork, etc.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Failure is impossible and age is no barrier.

This "Trial without Expense" offer is limited by the company to a short time, and application must be made at once.

No C. O. D. scheme, no bogus philanthropy nor deception, no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO, N.Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.

They left Lathwell, however, and went to Buffalo, where they entered an East Side resort, where Lathwell located them, and had Miss Toomey arrested on a charge of stealing his watch. She was discharged yesterday and left the court room with Lathwell, apparently good friends and returned to this place. It is now said all three will die.

JINGOES AND ADVENTURERS.

Lieut.-Commander Sobral's Opinion of U. S. Representatives.

Madrid, March 16.—Lieut.-Commander Sobral, the former naval attache of the Spanish Legation at Washington, in an interview at Barcelona, on his arrival there, is quoted as saying that he is convinced President McKinley, who is a correct President, and the Government of the United States do not wish for war, "and will resist to the utmost the intrigues of the war party."

Continuing, he said: "Thoughful Americans also oppose war, which is solely desired by the adventurers and agitators who compose the jingo party. The majority of the House of Representatives is composed of men without prestige and of little education, who regard politics as a trade, and who would have already voted the jingo proposals if they had not encountered the strength of character of President McKinley, whose authority is dictatorial."

After Torpedo Boat Destroyers.

Washington, D.C., March 16.—The agent in this country of the Thornycroft Torpedo Boat Company of England, Mr. Platt, has submitted to Secretary Long a proposition for the sale to the Government of designs and complete working drawings for the magnificent torpedo boat destroyers built by his firm. This craft, the type of those so strongly desired by the Navy Department just now, is of more than 30-knot speed and 300 tons burden, large enough to be thoroughly seaworthy.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

Montreal, March 16.—Guilty of manslaughter, was the verdict returned by the jury yesterday in the case of La Londe and De Guire, the two French-Canadians accused of killing Alex. Greco, the Italian, in Soulanges, last fall. Judge Wurtle, who presided at the trial, reserved his sentence.

Five Hundred Insurgents Killed.

Madrid, March 16.—According to an official despatch received here from Manila yesterday, 500 insurgents were killed during the siege of Balinao. The despatch adds that the insurgent forces have not offered any resistance to the Spanish troops sent to the relief of the garrison.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

THE OVERFLOWING THAMES.

Leaves the Maple City in Darkness Through Disabled Lighting Plant—Greatest Flood in 30 Years.

Chatham, Ont., March 16.—The Maple City was in darkness last night. There are no electric lights on the streets and half of the city is without gas supply. The civic electric lighting plant is partly under water, preventing the dynamos from being operated, and the Chatham Gas Company's incandescent plant is in the same state. This company is unable to supply the northern part of the city with gas, owing to the high water in the River Thames, which has flooded the gas mains crossing the river. The condition of the water in the river last night was certainly a serious one to the city. The water has continued to rise all day, and is now fully 15 feet above the ordinary level. This is the highest on record since 1868, 30 years ago.

All the Stores Flooded.

All the stores on King street, the principal business street of the city, are flooded. Those places have from two to four feet of muddy water in their cellars. Thousands of dollars' worth of damage has been done to dry goods, grocery and other stocks.

The pumping station is flooded with water and the boiler room is also inundated.

Luckily, a massive stand pipe will keep a sufficient supply for domestic purposes for some little time, and before the supply is exhausted the flood will doubtless have subsided.

Much Lumber Afloat.

Thousands of feet of lumber from J. Piggott & Sons' lumber yard have been washed away and have gone down the river. Several vessels tied up at the dock are riding the water away above their moorings, and four is entertained for their safety. People living in the lower part of the city, on the north side of the river, who in the afternoon were considered as being safe, were taken from their homes by rescue parties in boats at a late hour last night, and men are still at this work, which is fraught with considerable danger, owing to the angry torrents.

Some fear is entertained for the safety of the Erie and Huron bridge. The water is nearly up to the tracks, and a gang of men are watching it and trying to prevent the logs which are floating down from lodging against the trestles and create a jam. Should this occur, it is thought that the bridge will be carried away, and if this calamity should occur the civic bridges at Fifth and Third streets would be in danger. A heavy rainstorm appears to be imminent, which will increase the volume of water.

Water Still Creeping Up.

Later.—The water in the River Thames has increased during the past few hours, and at the waterworks station has reached the ashpan under the boilers, and is but a few inches from the fire-box. From appearances, the water will increase still more, as it is raining heavily. Should the fires be put out at the waterworks station it will have a serious effect upon the civic water supply for fire protection. Since 6 p.m. the increase have averaged one and a quarter inches per hour.

Two hearts can make a love affair, but it takes three, at least, to make a home, and one of them must be that of a baby. The young married couples that start out in life with the idea that children are nuisances, and that they do not want and will not have them, are the kind that you read about every day in the newspapers—in the divorce column. A home without children is not a home. God and Nature never intended that there should be a place called home that did not resound with the patter of childish footsteps.

There are tens of thousands of homes that are childless because of the ill-health of the wife and would-be mother. There are tens of thousands of other homes childless because the little ones have died almost as soon as they were born. In both cases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign remedy. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It makes them well, strong, vigorous, virile, and elastic. It does away with the dangers of maternity. It banishes the usual discomforts of the expectant period and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It insures the little new comer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. The prospective mother prepares herself for maternity by taking the "Favorite Prescription" and gives her child a fair start in life by giving it a strong and well developed body. Thousands of homes that were childless, to-day echo with babies' laughter, and bless this great medicine. Thousands of women who were weak, nervous, despondent invalids, are to-day happy, healthy wives and mothers because of this medicine. Medicine dealers sell it.

Constipation kills slowly—but it kills. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it.

Died Alone Away From Home.

Toronto, March 16.—Mr. James Hutcheson, a prominent dry goods merchant of Victoria, B.C., died this morning at the General Hospital from pneumonia. He came east to purchase spring and summer goods, and contracted the disease in Ottawa. Mrs. Hutcheson and her daughter are en route to Toronto from the coast.

Her Borrowed Plumage.

A Syracuse woman was in Boston some time ago, and she had occasion to get a check cashed, being without ready money. She had no friend who was easily available, but she went to a bank and presented her check. Of course she was told she would have to be identified. The cashier of the bank suggested that she might have one of her cards. She took out her cardcase, but the card she produced proved to be that of one of her friends. This caused her a great deal of confusion, but the accommodating cashier suggested that she might prove her identity by the initials on her cardcase. But these, alas, proved to be those of her mother. Her confusion continued to increase until she thought of the initials on her handkerchief. The marked article was produced to be put in evidence, but when it was examined it was found to bear the initials of another friend. She was thwarted in every direction, but the cashier was "easy." Boston cashiers are apparently not as strict as those in this part of the country, for this particular one said he "guessed" that it was all right, and he cashed the check. Conductors of flim-flam and three card monte games are directed to Boston for a good field of operation.—Syracuse Post.

A BALLADE OF CONFESSION.

The dogeared tomes of ancient sages
Frown at me from the shelves up there,
World famous, ay, for many ages,
Braving the buffets of time and care,
Yet though they breathe Parnassian air,
Go hand in hand with Muses nine,
I pass them all, here's one more rare—
The little book that once was thine!

I know that Horace scowls and rages,
That Homer writhes in vain despair,
That I should seek those pasturages
Where mawkish sentiments rave and tear.
Methinks all Helicon doth stare,
Forgets its hymop steeped in wine,
To think that I to read should dare
The little book that once was thine!

'Tis only one of all the pages,
The others, Horace, I will swear
Know nought of me, my pilgrimages
Your ire, dear Homer, please forbear!
You frisky Cupid might declare
The reason for this choice of mine,
For Betty, dear, 'twas his affair,
The little book that once was thine!

L'ENVOY.

You sent it with a lock of hair
Pinned to the page's sweetest line
That makes it far beyond compare,
The little book that once was thine!

Lodges in Good Condition—A Grand Organiser—Election of Officers

Renfrew, Ont., March 16.—The thirty-fifth annual session of the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East was opened yesterday. The report of the finance committee showed a cash balance on hand of $742 after all liabilities and expenses of the Grand Lodge had been provided for. The official returns showed total membership under the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge of 12,015 members in good standing.

It was decided to place a capable Grand Organiser in the field during the coming year. A special committee consisting of the Grand Master, Grand Deputy Master, Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer will have charge of this new departure.

CHILDREN'S TREAT.

Sunday School Pupils of the Murray Street Baptist Church.

The annual treat for the Sunday school children of the Murray street Baptist church was held Tuesday evening in the school room, and proved the most successful affair of the nature which has taken place in the church in years.

Tea was served to the little ones and the teachers and officers from 5 30 to 8 o'clock, after which the general public were admitted and crowded the hall to the doors.

A most interesting and well prepared programme was rendered during the evening by the pupils, consisting of recitations, singing and a cymbalette drill by eleven little girls. The chair was occupied by Mr. George Matthews, superintendent of the Sunday school.

A Lindsay Lady

CURED OF DIABETES.

Doan's Kidney Pills the Remedy She Used.

Our representative called at the residence of Mrs. R. Toole, Kent St., Lindsay, and was favoured with an interview. Mrs. Toole stated:—

"For three years I have suffered terribly with pains in my back and limbs, and also with excruciating pains in my head and neck. I felt very dizzy, and when I awoke in the morning seemed to be in a stupid or dazed condition, so much so that I would be a couple of hours before I was able to do anything. Many a time I had to walk the floor for hours at night on account of the pain from which I suffered. I had no appetite, and was also very nervous and easily startled: sometimes feeling that I was about to faint from the fluttering and palpitation of my heart.

"All last summer I was attended by a physician who said I had Diabetes, and I can say that I have taken a great deal of medicine, but received no benefit from the same. In fact, I was in an awful state. No one but myself knows how much I suffered!

"I heard of DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, and have taken two boxes of them. From the first I commenced to improve. They have worked a wonderful change for the better in my health. They have cured all the pain, restored restful sleep, strengthened my nerves and given me a good appetite. In fact, I am sure the pills were exactly the medicine I needed, and I cannot express the joy I feel at this change in my health, which is all caused by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c a box, or 3 for $1.25. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont. Remember the name DOAN'S, and refuse all others.

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Miss John Quigley, 39 Sheriff Street, St. John N. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

A TALK ON TEA. YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Prize Tea Store, 325 George street. After critically examining the tea she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another gentlemen says when on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuables and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. WHAT HE SAW IN CUBA

U. S. Senator Proctor Tells the Story in the Senate.

THE CUBANS ARE WELL ARMED.

The People's Terrible Condition—Misery That Cannot Be Changed Until Peace Comes—The Military Situation—The Weak Hold of Spain on Cuba—Spain Will Not Pay.

Washington, D.C., March 18.—Senator Proctor, who has just returned here after a two week's stay in Cuba, and whom it was said had gone there at President McKinley's request to report upon the condition of the island, made a lengthy statement regarding his trip in the Senate yesterday afternoon. He began by saying that more importance had been attached to his visit than necessary, but he thought a public statement would be beneficial. The only thing he had said about the matter to the President was that he was going and asked if there was any objection to it and was told that there was not. He denied that he made the statement that the Maine was blown up from the outside, but might have said that was the opinion in Havana. The Senator thought there was no definite information to be obtained upon this feature.

Outside of Havana there was desolation and misery. People were surrounded by trochas and controlled by forts or blockhouses. His observations, he said, were in the four western provinces. Outside of the trochas and forts there were no habitations or people living.

"The Spaniards," he said, "hold in the four provinces only what their army sits on."

Senator Proctor described at some length the condition of the reconcentrados, saying one-half of them had died owing to the manner in which they had been kept in the small houses, and bad sanitation.

"It was no wonder one-half had died," he added.

He went to Cuba, he said, thinking the condition of the people had been overdrawn, but found their situation terrible. What he saw he could not tell so others could understand. In one place in Havana the Senator said he saw 400 emaciated people laying on stone floors with little clothing. The children had no clothing. "The condition of the reconcentrados will not be changed until peace comes," said he.

As to the military situation, he said there were about 60,000 Spanish troops. He thought they would fight well. There was no artillery. The troops lived in barracks. The cavalry was mounted mostly on ponies. He said the Cubans had about 30,000 men in the field and were very active. The Cubans were well armed, but poorly supplied with ammunition. About one-third of the Cuban army were negroes. The cavalrymen furnished their own horses.

The dividing lines between the parties was sharp. It was Cubans against Spaniards. The autonomists he did not consider, as they were inconsiderable in number. The Spaniards did not want perfect autonomy, as it meant Government by the Cubans. He had inquired as to autonomy of men of wealth, business and professional men. Without exception their reply was that it was too late for autonomy. It was, they said, too late for peace, under Spanish rule. Some favored annexation by the United States. Senator Proctor said he was not in favor of annexation. The conditions of self-government in Cuba were favorable and not much danger of revolutions. He would not make any recommendation as to what should be done.

UNCLE SAM SPENDING MONEY.

Paid Sir William Armstrong a Snug Lump for Rapid-Fire Guns.

Washington, March 18.—The first disbursement under the recent Act of Congress appropriating $50,000,000 for the national defense, has been made by the Treasury Department on an executive order for £30,000, or $145,995, to be cabled to London to the credit of Sir William Armstrong in part payment for 12 rapid-fire guns, not including mounts and munition, for the War Department. The purchase price, including mounts, etc., is $91,000 for each gun. In addition to this payment, the Treasury Department to-day will cable Rothschilds at London $1,689,691 in full payment for the Brazilian cruiser Amazonas and in part payment for the Abrouall.

SPAIN WILL NOT PAY.

Her Commissioners Will Find That the Maine Was Destroyed From Inside.

Madrid, March 18. — The following semi-official note was issued here to-day:

"The report of the Spanish commission on the Maine is not yet known, but the statement of several technical officers who have made a close examination of the scene of the disaster show it was indisputably due to an internal accident. American assertions to the contrary are therefore deplored in official quarters as tending to mislead public opinion, and render the situation still more difficult from the standpoint of maintaining friendly relations between the two countries. It may be regarded as certain that should the American Technical Commission present a report declaring the disaster to be due to an external explosion, the public here will refuse to accept such a finding, and any demand for an indemnity based thereon will be indignantly repelled by Spain."

Bought a Torpedo Destroyer.

London, March 18.—According to a special despatch from Sunderland, the United States Government has purchased a torpedo boat destroyer from a shipbuilder named Dexford.

The report of the finance committee showed a cash balance on hand of $749 after all liabilities and expenses of the Grand Lodge had been provided for. The official returns showed a total membership under the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge of 12,015 members in good standing.

It was decided to place a capable Grand Organizer in the field during the coming year. A special committee consisting of the Grand Master, Grand Deputy Master, Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer will have charge of this new departure.

The sum of $200 was voted by Grand Lodge as a contribution toward a testimonial to be presented to Most Worshipful Sovereign Grand Master N. Clarke Wallace.

Port Hope was selected as the next place of meeting.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand Master, Bro. A. Bradley; Deputy Grand Master, R. H. Holland; Junior Deputy Grand Master, H. H. Morton; Grand Chaplain, Rev. S. A. Depreau; Grand Treasurer, Robert Gordon; Grand Secretary, F. M. Clarke; Grand Lecturer, William Cairns; Grand D. of C., E. J. Hughes; Deputy Grand Chaplains, Rev. C. O. Carson, Rev. Toronto, March 18.—Mrs. Elizabeth Malone, the baby farmer and alleged child murderess, was yesterday committed for trial on the charge of murdering infant Thomas Perth.

Mrs. Malone was taken to the cells after her commitment, and a short time afterwards Policeman Snell discovered her attempting to strangle herself with a portion of her dress. She was black in the face when her attempt was discovered. She was removed to the jail, where she will be closely watched, until her coming trial at the General Sessions.

Ernest Leslie Was Killed.

Thompson, a farmer living two miles from here, while returning from market with a load of flour, was struck by the express train while crossing the track and instantly killed, the horses running away, and the wagon and a part of the load being on the train when it arrived at the station. THE METRIC SYSTEM.

Resolution of the Chambers of Commerce.

WANT IT MADE COMPULSORY.

The Anglo-American Alliance Warmly Endorsed by Rear-Admiral Lord Charles Beresford—It Will Benefit Trade and Commerce Immensely—China's Emphatic Answer to France's Demands—Cable News.

London, March 18.—The Association of the Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom at its final meeting yesterday in the Whitehall rooms of the Hotel Metropole, Sir H. Stafford Northcote, Bart., M.P., presiding, adopted the following resolution, introduced by the Chamber of Commerce of Leeds: "That in the opinion of the association, the compulsory adoption within some limited period of the metric system of weights and measures, legalized by the Act of last session, be advocated by every possible means, with the view of inducing her Majesty's Government to afford facilities for the amendment of the law in this respect, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the Board of Trade and to the First Lord of the Treasury."

ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE.

According to Lord Charles Beresford Would Develop Peace and Trade.

London, March 18.—Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, member of Parliament for York City, in an interview with a correspondent of the Associated Press, warmly advocated an Anglo-American alliance as "a move in the direction of peace and calculated to immensely develop trade."

He added: "Such an alliance is natural, and I believe the mere fact of its conclusion would deter others from attacking any inadequately defended interests of either country. Now is the time to accomplish it, when the advantages are apparent to both countries. A decade hence, when, if she desires, the United States can have become a first-class naval power, and will, perhaps, have adopted the policy of free trade, it might not be worth her while to undertake the responsibilities of an alliance with Great Britain. When America has built her navy she will be in a position to enforce her demands, which will not take her long now, with her enormous latent resources and mechanical and engineering facilities. An Anglo-American alliance would be the most powerful factor in the world for peace and the development of commerce."

Speaking of the possibilities of the United States going to war, Lord Beresford remarked. "If she ever does, no matter what may happen at the beginning, she must eventually win, because of the enthusiasm and intense patriotism of her people."

Death of Aubrey Beardsley.

London, March 18.—Mr. Aubrey Beardsley, the artist and draughtsman, died yesterday at Mentone.

Mr. Beardsley was well known in America, where his "Yellow Book," which first appeared in New York, created a decided stir in art circles. His poster work was also greatly admired. Beardsley died of consumption. He weakened his chest by too close application to his drawing board.

FRANCE MAKES A DEMAND.

China Requested Not to Give Away Territory in Several Provinces.

Pekin, March 18.—France has formulated the following fresh demand: That China shall not cede any portion of the four provinces, Kwang-Tung, Kwang-Si, You-Nan and Kwei-Chau; that the railway from Lung-Chau-Ting (on the northern frontier of Tonquin) shall be extended via Pase, Siam, into the Yun Nan Province, and that a coaling station be granted at Lie-Chau-Fu, in the Hen-Chan Peninsula, north of Hai-Nan. Thus far China declines to comply with any of these demands.

Colborne, March 18.—The residence of T. L. Chatterson, lot 26, concession 2, Cramahe, was damaged by lightning. The family received a shock, which stunned them for some time. The bedstead was shattered while Mrs. Chatterson was standing near. The family appeared to be all right yesterday morning.

A Barn Burned.

Whitby, March 18.—T. C. McAvoy's barns in Pickering township were struck by lightning during Wednesday night's heavy thunder storm, and burned together with contents, including 4 cattle, 2 horses and a lot of implements.

WILD AND FOUNDATIONLESS CHARGES.

Vagueness and generality, sometimes "glittering" and sometimes dull, seem to be the characteristics of the Opposition, as well in Ontario as in the wider field of Dominion politics. We all remember that Mr. Whitney, leader of the Ontario Opposition, made a tour last summer and fall with the idea of firing the political heather. In the course of his propaganda of Opposition principles, a prominent feature found place—making vague and general charges of political sins of which the Government was guilty. If he had reason to believe that the wrongs which his charges placed behind them existed, then the Opposition leader was justified in making them. But in this country it is required that charges to become effective must be proven. This Mr. Whitney failed to do—he failed to even try. When the House met he had his opportunity but he kept silent. If he had anything in the shape of facts behind his charges so vaiorously made where they could not be contradicted, it would have been an excellent stroke of work to have proved his assertions. He could go to the country with no stronger offensive weapons against the government than formal proofs of the blue ruinous charges he brought against the government; but the people took no stock in misty charges that were not supported by by truth, and Mr. Whitney failed to carry the country. But the failure of this policy has not taught him wisdom—only a little prudence. He has turned over the long bow business to Col. Matheson, who out-Whitneys Whitney in making serious charges of which it was impossible that he could have any proof. Col. Matheson, speaking at Metcalfe, Russel county, on Wednesday night, is reported in the Mail as follows:

"Had it not been for the enormous expenditure of money the Government, he (Col. Matheson) said, would have been overwhelmingly defeated. Ten thousand dollars had been spent in West Peterborough—(laughter)—say $15,000 in East Northumberland—(laughter)—$15,000 in the city of London, and from, say, $5,000 to $10,000 to carry Mr. Ross in Middlesex. Only by the grossest corruption, said Col. Matheson, by money received from Americans for their log policy, was the Government prevented from being swept out of power by the almost unanimous wish of the people of Ontario."

No wonder the financial critic's figures were received with laughter. A man that in the presence of his political leader will state as facts such absurdly wild statements that have no foundation in fact, has a very degraded idea of the intelligence of his hearers. But Mr. Whitney is to blame. He initiated the wholesale system by making charges that could not be proved, and Col. Matheson is only carrying out orders in making his wild-cat charges.

THE PROVINCIAL MUNICIPAL AUDITOR.

As a rule the public pay taxes with the resignation accorded the acceptance of a necessary evil. It is hence a natural desire that money, which represents in a great many cases no little self-denial, should be devoted exclusively to its intended use. Reference has often been made in these columns to the necessity of greater care in the auditing of municipal accounts in order to prevent the losses that are liable to occur to municipalities through the dishonesty of their trusted officials. Only partisan prejudice has been able to discover anything improper in the appointment of a provincial municipal auditor. It will therefore be of some little interest to refer to the report of Mr. Laing. In speaking of his examination of the books of municipal treasurers, Mr. Laing, among other things, says:

"For instance, when I examined the book of Treasurer VanLaven, of Frontenac, it was evident that his accounts were in a deplorable condition and his shortage large. There was also an evident shortage in the accounts of Treasurer Peckham, of Niagara Falls, and the county of Simcoe had the greatest defalcation of all, occupying my time nearly a month altogether. The investigations which disclosed discrepancies were as follows:

County of Simcoe, S. J. Sandford, treasurer, deficit $23,857.02.

County of Frontenac, W. T. VanLaven, treasurer, deficit $31,280.89.

Town of Niagara Falls, J. R. Peckman, treasurer, deficit, $3,000.

The last enquiry was not to be considered fraud, but a case of bad bookkeeping, but the money we lost just the same.

Investigations were also held in a number of cases, including the Ridgetown Collegiate Institute, but disclosed no defalcation or features of interest outside of the particular communities referred to.

New municipal cash books have been prepared, the use of which is compulsory in the cases of villages, towns, townships, counties and cities under 15,000 in population.

In the event of any further legislation in the matter of municipal accounts, it would be in the public interest to have municipal auditors appointed in November and December, and also to give to all municipalities the same privilege as now possessed by cities and town, that of appointing one skilled auditor, (see Clause 298, Consolidated Municipal Act, Cap. 42) Auditors should also be compelled to have a stamp, to be used when passing accounts and debentures. In some cases lately, owing to the want of this precaution, the same debentures have been used twice by the defaulting treasurer. If the auditors were appointed in November or December they would be in a position to check the cash on the 1st of January. As matters now stand, it is sometimes three or even six weeks before this is done, leaving the door open to much fraud in the past.

The Mail and Empire in one place prints a lot of absurd rumours as to whom Mr. Hardy is likely to take into the Cabinet, and in another place asserts that he has no Cabinet to take them into.

If an alliance should be formed between England and the United States, Tennyson will have vindicated the claim of his admirers to his being a seer as well as poet. The following from his patriotic poem, "Hands all Round," looks as if he foresaw the present possible solution:—

Gigantic daughter of the West,
We drink to thee across the flood.
We know the meek, we love the best,
For art thou not of British blood?
Should war's mad blast again be blown,
Permit not thou the tyrant's powers
To fight thy mother here alone,
But let thy broadsides roar with ours.
Hands all round!
God the tyrant's cause confound!
To our great kinsmen of the West, my friends,
And the great name of England round and round.

The C. P. R. President Before the Railway Committee.

MEETS HIS ONLY RAILWAY RIVAL

Mr. Fortin's Insolvency Measure Brought Down and Discussed in the House—A Drastic Sunday Newspaper Law—The Sabbath Observance Bill Reported—Other Bills Dealt With.

Ottawa, March 16.—The much-talked-of incident on Parliament Hill yesterday was the appearance of Sir Wm. Van Horne before the Railway Committee to speak against the granting of a charter to the Kettle Valley Railway, promoted by Mr. D. C. Corbin, and intended to run from a point near Northport into the Boundary district of British Columbia, with the object of opening up the mining country there, the richness of which is established. There is the keenest rivalry between Sir William and Mr. Corbin. The latter is now the only serious rival in the way of the securing by the C.P.R. of the entire transportation franchise of southern British Columbia. The object of Mr. Corbin is by the Kettle Valley line to secure for the Spokane & Northern Railway a connection in the boundary district similar to that he now has with the section adjacent to the Columbia River by means of the Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway. As matters stand it is difficult to see how the Government or Parliament can refuse a charter for an American railway crossing the border, but asking no subsidy and content to run its chance of competition. The coast cities oppose the Kettle Valley charter because they think the C.P.R. will the sooner acquire the Vancouver, Victoria & Eastern charter and build from the coast to the Kootenay if no rival companies are allowed to run into the boundary district from the east. Their opposition is not very strong, and those who know best the situation affirm that so far from retarding the extension of the C.P.R. southern division from the Columbia to the coast, the chartering of the Kettle Valley Railway will make the C.P.R. look to its laurels and force it into immediate action. Sir William Van Horne does not often appear before the committees of Parliament. That he did so yesterday, that he pleaded his own case, and that notwithstanding this the Railway Committee was decidedly in favor of refusing his request, goes to prove that the overwhelming influence of Sir William in national politics, or which so much is heard, is a good deal of fiction. He has been fortunate usually in having a good case. The President of the C.P.R. with a strong case is a power at Ottawa; with a weak case, such as that he presented yesterday, he can do little more to sway the judgment of the members than any other promoter.

Many persons cannot take plain cod-liver oil.

They cannot digest it.

It upsets the stomach.

Knowing these things, we have digested the oil in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites; that is, we have broken it up into little globules, or droplets.

We use machinery to do the work of the digestive organs, and you obtain the good effects of the digested oil at once. That is why you can take Scott's Emulsion.

Speculation in Dairy Products.

Mr. Parmalee, Liberal member for Shefford, introduced a bill "To prohibit improper speculation in the sale of butter and cheese" It was aimed, he explained, to suppress speculation of future makes of cheese, a practice which had grown up in the past three or four years, with the result of demoralizing the British markets. The bill was read a first time.

MR. FORTIN'S INSOLVENCY BILL.

A Private Member Introduces a Measure for Business Adjustments.

Mr. Fortin introduced his insolvency bill, with the observation that he had hoped such a bill would have been presented by the Government. In 1895 a bill was introduced in the Senate, but never got past the second reading. Last session Mr. Martin of Winnipeg also introduced an insolvency bill in the Commons, but it did not pass either. But the necessity of an insolvency law was never greater than now. He had been requested to introduce this measure by the Montreal Board of Trade. Mainly it followed the lines of Sir Mackenzie Bowell's bill of 1894. The chief provision of the bill was compulsory assignments. The measure, however, would not apply to non-traders, and the class of official assignees, which was such an objectionable feature in the old bill, would not be created again. The receiving order would go to the sheriff, who would act as guardian of the estate until the liquidator is appointed. It would be the sheriff's duty to call the creditors together without delay. Inspectors were not to be paid unless the creditors so decided. The insolvent, under the bill, would be bound to give all possible information. He could not receive his discharge unless with the consent of a majority in number and three-fourths in value of all the creditors. The discharge under this bill would not apply, without the creditors' consent, to any claim of a non-commercial nature, due to a non-trader. In other words, it would restrict the effect of the discharge of an insolvent trader to those in his own trading class. Proof of claims must be made by affidavit. Measures would be taken to prevent the wasting of assets in contesting bogus claims.

The objections put forward by the banks were met, he thought, in a satisfactory manner. There would be an express declaration that nothing in the Act would do away with the privileges which the banks at present enjoyed. The proposed section provided that nothing in the provision of this Act shall interfere with or restrict the rights and privileges conferred on banks and banking corporations by the Bank Act. He did not claim that the measure was by any means a perfect one. Such a bill would be difficult to find. This measure would prevent fraudulent debtors from imposing on legitimate business firms, and would bar out those who are obstacles in the way of honest and legitimate business. The passage of the bill would open up a way for men of honesty and integrity to obtain credit.

Mr. Bourassa (Liberal, Labelle) warmly supported the measure. He believed its adoption would improve our trade relations with the Mother Country.

Mr. Monk (Conservative, Jacques Cartier) said the commercial community of Montreal was a unit in favor of such a measure as this. Provisions which might be acceptable to one province might not suit another province, hence in an important bill of this kind he urged that the Government should assist Mr. Fortin to put this bill through this session.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Penny and Beausoleil. The latter thought the measure too complicated.

The Premier's Remarks.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the Government, if it had introduced the measure, could not have done better than Mr. Fortin had done. The Government was reluctant to take hold of this question, as it did not want it to be made a party measure. The insolvency law of 1864 which was in force until 1875, was introduced by Sir John Abbott, and, although not a Government measure, it was passed with the Government's assistance. The Mackenzie Government tried to repeat that law, but their task was rendered very difficult because it was made a party question. The objection which some people had to an insolvency law was met in this measure by exempting the claims of non-traders against an insolvent. He believed that if the different provinces of the Dominion would adopt the principle of the Quebec law there would be less need for the Dominion Parliament to interfere. He was conscious that the principles which prevailed in Quebec were being gradually extended in other provinces. For instance, he understood the Nova Scotia Legislature had a bill before it now, providing for the equitable distribution of the assets of insolvent debtors. The Government would be only too willing to give Parliament every assistance, so as to have the absolute wish and opinions of members on both sides. "I would deprecate," said the Premier, in conclusion, "that this question should be made a political one. If it be possible to approach it purely in a commercial spirit, under such circumstances, I think the Government would be glad to assist Mr. Fortin in carrying the measure. But before the Government undertakes to secure the passage of this measure we should have an expression of opinion from both sides whether such a law is or is not desirable."

Mr. Craig did not think the Premier's remarks would be received with favor by the business community. It was to be regretted that the Government had not seen fit to take up the matter.

Dr. Sproule emphasized the necessity for insolvency legislation, and the bill was read a first time.

A bill by Mr. Penny, to provide for the appointment of an inspector of fruit in Montreal, was also read a first time.

Mr. Speaker then announced that he had received a message from the Senate, informing him that they had passed the San Jose scale bill.

"That's quick work," observed a member.

The Query Column.

In reply to Mr. McInnes, Mr Blair said the Government had not received the grant of 50,000 acres of coal lands from the C.P.R. under the Crow's Nest agreement. It had not yet been earned by the C.P.R. from the British Columbia Government.

Mr. Davin enquired: What ground had the Minister of Trade and Commerce for saying: "I have not the slightest doubt that Mann and McKenzie would be ready to exchange, for a very moderate subsidy in hard cash, their large land grant; in fact, we have excellent reasons to know that they would."

"My words," replied Sir Richard, "were not quite correctly reported. What I did say was that Messrs. Mann and McKenzie would be willing to exchange a large portion of their land grant for a very moderate subsidy in cash."

The House having gone again into committee on Mr. Charlton's bill against Sunday newspapers, Mr. Fisher withdrew his amendment, applying the operation of the bill to Sunday papers sold at any time.

After a number of minor amendments, all of which were rejected, Dr. Montague helped Mr. Charlton's bill by offering a practicable amendment, providing that it should apply to "any person who sells, or who employs or procures any person to sell, on any day of the week, any paper, whether published in Canada or elsewhere, issuing or purporting to be issued on Sunday."

The amendment was accepted, the bill was reported and stands for a third reading.

Mr. Casey's bill making it compulsory for all freight cars to be equipped with air brakes, was read a second time.

Another bill of Mr. Casey's to facilitate drainage over railway tracks was also read a second time, and was referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Casey, Bain, Semple, Henderson, Monk, McGregor and Tolmie.

Mr. Campbell's bill providing for the forfeiture of locomotives emitting sparks was sent to the same committee.

Mr. Davis' bill to allow pensions to the Northwest Mounted Police after 20, instead of 25, years, was advanced a couple of stages.

The bill by Mr. Penny to make election day a Dominion holiday was sent to the Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. Richardson's bill to enable creditors to garnishee the salaries of Federal officials was advanced to the committee stage.

A protracted discussion ensued upon Rev. Mr. Douglas' bill to compel railway companies to take grain from farmers' vehicles and flat warehouses. At present the railways will only load cars from elevators, and the owners of these, it is contended, make enormous profits and besides mix up the various grades to the detriment of Canada's reputation for wheat in the Old Country.

The Manitoba and Northwest members, irrespective of party, supported the bill.

Rev. Mr. Douglas urged the Ministry to make it a Government measure, but Sir Richard declined, suggesting instead that it be sent to the Railway Committee.

This was agreed to, the bill being read a second time, and the House adjourned at 11.15 p.m.

CAPITAL GOSSIP.

An Interesting Time in the Railway Committee Yesterday—Divorce Granted.

The Railway Committee had a great day yesterday. In the Kettle Valley R.R. bill, Sir William Van Horne announced that the C.P.R. would fight the granting of a charter, as this road would take a hundred millions out of Canada in ten years. In the Rainy River Road bill, Mr. Foster's amendment, providing that the first 80 miles must be finished in two years and the balance in four years was adopted. Mr. Maclean secured from Mr. Blair the fact that the Government intended to do something concerning running rights over this road to other roads. Mr. Maclean also gives notice of an amendment he will move in the House next Monday on this question.

In the Senate the bill of divorce of Robert Augustus Baldwin Hart of Montreal, from his wife, Catherine Cacouna Buntin, was read the third time and passed.

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs John Quigly, 20 Sheriff Street, St. John N. B., says:— "Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous, and run down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

One Laxa-Liver Pill every night for thirty days makes a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

Furniture Mender's Sign.

Within two doors of an up town church, one block from a public school, and on the corner of two much traveled thoroughfares, a furniture mender has a shop. He has his share of patronage too. Daily his wagon brings to his door pieces of old furniture to be done over. One of the signs at the shop door reads: "Antic Furniture Repaired."

In no other of the signs is there a misspelled word, perhaps the furniture mender is right after all. Much of the broken furniture that comes to his shop for renovation shows signs of antics as well as of antiquity.—New York Sun.

One of Max O'Rell's Experiences.

Once when Max O'Rell was staying at a hotel he had occasion to complain of the marked incivility and neglect of a waiter. The proprietor apologised, assuring Max O'Rell that no such complaint had ever been made before. When the waiter was reprimanded, he explained himself thus: "It's not to be expected that a self respecting Scotsman could wait on him with civility. Didn't he say we took to the kilt because our feet were too large to get through trousers!"—London Telegraph.

Read What Tuesday's Toronto Globe Says:

The Bon-Ton Burlesquers played to a crowded house at the Toronto Opera House last evening, and the various numbers which went to make up the night's entertainment elicited long and well deserved applause. The company comprises several good comedians, many good singers and a host of good-looking girls, whose attractiveness is enhanced by rich costumes and graceful figures. The show opens and closes with two comedy sketches. "The Matrimonial Bureau" and "The Vassar Girls in Camp" respectively. The two little sketches are replete with up-to-date songs and catchy bits of humour, which served to make the time pass merrily. Clarice Vance headed the olio programme. She sang several "coon" songs with excellent taste. Scanlon and Stevens introduced a humourous comedy sketch, which the near approach of the "seventeenth" renders most appropriate, and the Glockers well sustained their pretensions to be the champion drum-majors. Mamie Lamb and Blanche Fawcett, two little ladies possessed of the rare combination of fine voices and clear delivery, were immensely popular. Kennedy and Nestor were irresistibly funny, and provoked continuous roars of laughter. A. C. Lawrence proved himself a vocalist of exceptional power. He is also a ventriloquist of some merit. He gave a number of imitations which were exceedingly true to nature. The company appear at the Opera House on Wednesday, March 23rd.

THE NEW ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

The Details of the Scheme to be Submitted to the Council To-night

A committee meeting of the whole council is commended to meet this evening to settle the details regarding the construction of the new electric railroad. Mr. Starr will be present and in all probability the agreement will be signed and the by-law submitted to the citizens to vote upon as soon as possible.

In meeting Mr. Starr this evening the members are acting in accordance with the following resolution introduced by Councillors McWilliams and Deane at Monday night's meeting:

"That this Council is willing to submit a by-law to a vote of the ratepayers to grant a subsidy of $1000 a year for twenty years to the proposed Electric Railway Company provided the details of the agreement can be satisfactorily arranged."

It is the details which will be discussed this evening.

The directors of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway have been invited to be present at the meeting.

THE CATERPILLAR PEST.

Prompt and Thorough Action Should be the Watchword.

Do the citizens at large realize, as they should do, the danger that threatens not only the lives of our fruit and shade trees, but also the cleanliness and comfort of our streets? Many, especially ladies, will remember with a shudder the condition of our streets last summer, with worms devouring the leaves of our shade trees, and then glutted with destruction, dropping down the backs of the necks of pedestrians, or upon the walk, where they were crushed into slimy, slippery masses, disgusting and repulsive to the last degree.

Do we desire this repeated a thousand-fold worse? If not we have the remedy in our hands now and we should take prompt and general action.

The eggs are deposited in bands about small twigs. These bands, or "bracelets" as the entomologists call them, contain from 100 to 300 eggs, each, when hatched, developing into a caterpillar, capable of devouring every day three times its weight of green leaves. When we consider that there are tens of thousands of these "bracelets" deposited on the twigs of the trees in Peterborough, we can fancy the abundance of caterpillars that will result, and the resulting danger to our trees both fruit and shade.

The town council have entered upon a crusade in a practical manner, but these efforts cannot be thorough enough without the co-operation of every citizen. Every boy, every girl, every man, woman and child should consider himself or herself called upon to destroy a "bracelet" of caterpillar eggs on sight. Every one counts from 100 to 300 caterpillars destroyed. Every "bracelet" should be burnt, for if they are simply broken off, that will not necessarily prevent the hatching.

The Examiner suggests that the matter be brought up in the schools, and the interests of the children enlisted.

It is to be noted that the egg "bracelets" are deposited as a rule upon the terminal twigs of the trees, and a walk through our streets shows that young maples of the hard variety (soft maples seem to escape), are the favorite sites for the "bracelets" and fortunately they are on the lower branches, though sometimes they are up higher.

Might not the Natural History Society put its members in motion a take steps to assist in the destruction. The society might also contribute to the papers, some details of the history and habits of these caterpillar pests—indicating the morphological cycle that they are subject to? The Examiner would be glad to publish contributions on the subject.

Prompt and thorough work is necessary to minimize the danger of the destruction of our trees, because we cannot hope to entirely destroy the egg bracelets—a few will escape the closest search.

The present fine weather, if it continues long enough to hatch the eggs, and is followed by a sharp frost or two, will greatly reduce the caterpillars; in fact a few years ago a frost practically exterminated them. On this occasion the eggs hatched about the time the leaf buds opened and a frost finished them. But we can't count certainly on that. We must ourselves do all the harm we can to them. Cut and burn the bracelet is the only way that is certain and the more thoroughly it is done the freer we shall be next summer from the crawling caterpillar.

EXEMPTION GRANTED TO THE Y. W. C. A.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE SO RECOMMENDS THE COUNCIL.

The Caterpillar Pest to be Grappled With and the Armenians to be Subdued—Contract Awarded for Painting the Town Wagons—The Market Tolls.

The council met in committee of the whole last evening, and the first matter taken up was that of the request of the Y.W.C.A. for the remission of taxes for the year.

The mayor stated that he had learned that the Hall Trust had paid the rent of the institution for the year and that the building had been furnished by subscription. After the work had commenced it was found that the rooms were not being occupied by the class of girls for whom they were first intended, and in order to help the management out of the difficulty until the work was better known, a number of young ladies had gone to the Home to board until such time as the girls who were not so well to do should seek a home in the institution.

Councillor Cobb wanted to know if the members thought it right to assist an institution which was to the other boarding houses in the town.

Councillor McWilliams stated that the boarders had gone there to assist the organization. They were not in a position to contribute otherwise, but took this means of giving their support. The institution was doing a good work. He knew of one poor girl who had been rescued from suicide through its intervention.

Councillor Robertson wanted to know how the Catholic Association was exempted. It was not, in his opinion, a charitable institution; yet it was not asked to pay taxes.

Councillor Best asked Councillor Langford, as chairman of the Court of Revision, why he had refused to grant the Y. W. C. A. remission of taxes.

Councillor Langford referred to the statutes, which stated clearly the objects for which remission could be granted and under none of the headings could the Y. W. C. A. be classed. Such exemptions had been made in the past, but they were done by the council and not the court.

Councillor McWilliams cited a case of where a woman, the worse of liquor, had been refused admission in every hotel in town, although accompanied by the matron of the Home. She had to be kept in the institution until a train left for Toronto.

Councillor Langford—"What was the matter with the police station?"

Councillor Robertson stated that at the meeting of the Court of Revision, it had been asserted that there were two tables kept—one for the lady boarders and one for the poorer girls and that this had driven many away. The STATEMENT WAS UNTRUE.

He had inquired into the matter and found it was not so.

Councillor Langford—"There is one class of boarders which do not come to the tables at all, but aside from this, as a Court of Revision, could we have granted exemption?" Is not the Barnardo Home just as much entitled to remission of taxes and would it not have been relieved if as much pressure had been brought to bear?

The members agreed with Councillor Langford's reading of the statute governing the rulings of the Court.

The Mayor told of a young girl who was inclined to be fast and in whom the management of Y. W. C. A. had taken such an interest as to reclaim her.

Councillor Langford thought it was no wonder that the home was not self supporting. The boarders said they had never received such treatment for the money. The members were all against exemption when the matter first came up, but it was easy to see that the ladies had interviewed them all. As for himself he wished to be put on record as abiding by the provisions of the statute governing the actions of a Court of Revision.

The Mayor—"We do not blame the Court for refusing to grant exemption. They could do nothing else under the statute."

The following resolution was then put and carried "that as the Court of Revision has not the power to remit the taxes of the Y.W.C.A., this committee recommend that the taxes of the association for 1897 be remitted by the council."

THE CATERPILLER PEST

was then discussed, the Mayor introducing the question by stating that his man had gone out to see how many of the egg-bands he could destroy in two hours and had brought in 200, although there were very few caterpillars seen in that vicinity during the summer.

After considerable discussion it was decided to appoint one man in each ward to superintend the operations of a number of boys—the men to receive $1 25 per day and the boys 50 cents. Councillor Langford will look after No. 4 Ward, Councillor Cobb, No. 3; Councillor Denne, No. 2; and Councillor Best, No. 1. The duty of these four councillors will be to select the men and boys to do the work in their respective wards and to supply them with pruning hooks.

This important matter being disposed of Councillor Best referred to the nuisance which was created in the market through the Armenians who flocked there on Saturdays to the great annoyance of the marketers.

Councillor Denne thought that they could not be kept away as long as they sold goods which were the growth or product of the Province.

The Mayor's opinion was that the only redress was in abating the nuisance of shouting, etc. The passageways, where the greatest nuisance existed, were controlled by the Commissioners and they had already sent word to the market clerk that they were not to be blockaded.

On motion of Councillors Cobb and Deane the

by inserting in the market agreement a provision prohibiting the sale of cutlery, jewelry, dry goods, boots and shoes, etc., in the building and forbidding the erection of tables or stands in the passage ways or on the landings.

On Councillor McWilliam's suggestion the police will be instructed to take proceedings if the Armenians sell goods which are not manufactured in the Province on the outside market.

A letter was received from Mr. James Haverson, solicitor of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, on behalf of Mr. Croft, in which he stated that he was applying to the Legislature to remit the $50 fine recently imposed on his client for selling liquor to minors. He asked the council in consideration of the good record of Mr. Croft, to pass a resolution to assist his application.

The clerk was authorized to communicate with Mr. Haverson stating the council's willingness to see the fine remitted by the Government.

THE MARKET COMMITTEE

then met and decided that the market tolls for the ensuing year be auctioned off on Monday, March 28th at 11 a.m. in the Clerk's office and on the conditions previously arranged, and that the payments be made in monthly installments in advance.

THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE

opened the tenders for painting and repairing the four watering carts and the lumber wagon, which were as follows:—

Wm McColl	$47 00
J H Yelland	49 00
Metheral Bros	56 00
John Simons	44 00
John Halpin	41 50
Thos McGrath	38 00

On motion of Councillor Best and Denne the lowest tender will be recommended to the council for acceptance.

The matter of purchasing additional shade trees was laid over until a future meeting.

LEGAL COMMITTEE.

Several communications were taken up in reference to the Town Treasurer's sale of lands for taxes. It was agreed to accept Mr. J. B. Pearce's offer to pay the arrearages without interest on the Grand Trunk property advertised, and in regard to some of Mr. Thos. Bradburn's property the same proposition was made and if it is not accepted a case will be prepared and submitted to Judge Weller in the Division Court. Mr. Bradburn demurs against paying the taxes on the ground that they should have been collected from the tenants of the house. The bailiff states that there were not enough chattels in the house to destrain on.

FRACTURED HER LEG.

Little Emma Roberts, of Smith, Meets With an Accident.

Emma, the ten year old daughter of Mr. James Roberts, of Smith, met with a painful accident recently.

It appears the little girl was attending Mullmoyl's school, and, along with the other scholars was sliding down a board, when the board broke and fell upon her left leg fracturing the large bone of the leg just above the ankle. Dr. D. Fraser, of Lakefield, was summoned and reduced the fracture.

The little sufferer is progressing favorably, and will soon be able to be with her playmates again.

"OUR LADY OF THE SUNSHINE."

A Standard Canadian Publication—An Offset to "Our Lady of the Snows."

George N. Morang announces that on June 1st he will issue his midsummer annual entitled "Our Lady of the Sunshine." It will be a handsome publication; size, 13 in. x 8½ in., with an artistic cover, designed by G. A. Reid, R.C.A., in colors, numerous half tone and line illustrations. It will also be ornamented by fine colored reproductions of the works of Canadian painters.

The dominant note of this Midsummer Annual will be the setting forth of Canada as something different from a "few arpents of snow." It will endeavor to give to the world at large a true idea of the bright and sunny aspects of Canadian life. It will be contributed to by our best writers, and no pains will be spared to make the venture worthy of the country it assumes to represent. By story, song and picture the effort will be made to controvert the idea that Canada is only a wintry land—an idea that is calculated to do us much harm among distant friends.

Arrangements have been made for a large circulation of the Annual throughout the Empire. It goes without saying that in the Dominion itself such a publication cannot fail to be popular. Combining as it will, artistic and literary pictures of the Canadian summer, it will be attractive to our crowds of visitors as well as to the dwellers at home. It is hoped that the public will duly appreciate an enterprise on which a large amount of money will be spent, and in which an earnest endeavour will be made to advance Canadian interests.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN THE EVENING.

HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL AND MERITORIOUS CONCERT.

The Catholic Association Scores a Great Hit—An Excellent Programme Excellently Presented—A Fitting Close to the Celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

Last night there was a large audience in attendance at Bradburn's Opera House to enjoy the Catholic Association concert, held in celebration of St. Patrick's day, and they were delighted with one of the best concerts ever given on such an occasion, and one of the best amateur concerts ever held in Peterborough.

This was the first concert held under the auspices of the Catholic Association, which has every reason to be proud and gratified with its success, both financially, in the way of enjoyment, and in demonstrating the existence in town of superior local talent, both musical and dramatic. The President of the Association, Mr. Thos. J. Begley, and those who so earnestly and effectively co-operated with him, deserve great praise for the excellent programme provided. It was truly national in character—Irish music predominating, of course. A pleasing feature was the absence of any attempt to caricature the Irish character or to obtrude the grotesque or ridiculous, which is too often a regrettable feature of platform presentations.

The result was entirely creditable to the Association, which demonstrates in a very pleasing manner that apart from the moral and literary culture it provides, it is doing good work in developing the latent musical and dramatic talent of its members. Nearly all the participants in the programme were youthful and the manner in which they acquitted themselves is worthy of all praise.

The evening's programme opened with "The Shanghraun Quadrilles," a lively number, excellently rendered, by the Fire Brigade Band, and was a fitting opening to the evening's programme.

The tableau "Brian Boru's Last Hour" was a beautiful representation indeed. Mr. Angus McPherson made a capital King Brian, and the part of Brodar, the Dane was taken by Mr. Jas. Dillon.

An organization which is worthy of every encouragement, The C.L.A. Glee Club, next rendered "The Minstrel Boy." This was a delightful number, and was produced by the young people in a faultless manner.

In the next number the audience had the pleasure of hearing an old favorite, Mrs. John McCabe, (Miss Lily Begley,) of Grafton. Though it is many years since she sang in public, her voice has lost none of its sweetness or her method none of its charm. She sang with great acceptance Molloy's "Kerry Dances," and in response to a loud recall, "Rory, My Love and I." But her greatest success and best work were evident in Lady Dufferin's beautiful "O Bay of Dublin" which was sung with exquisite effect and sweetness. Her sister Miss M. Begley, played her accompaniments.

Miss Lily Simons won a place in the hearts of the audience by her clever rendition of the recitation "The Legend of St. Patrick." Miss Simons, it is safe to say, never appeared to better advantage than she did last evening. Her encore number, "The Music Box," was exceedingly well given.

Miss Lottie Bell's violin number, "Absence and Return."—Jules Hone, was an exquisite one. Her playing was marked by excellent intonation, pleasing purity of tone and sympathetic appreciation of the sentiment and pathos of the selection. In answer to a loud recall she played very sweetly "The Last Rose of Summer."

Little Carrie White, the talented child elocutionists, captivated the audience. She was as much at home on the stage as a veteran and her recitation of "The Little Flower Girl" was a remarkably clever effort. Of course the little tot had to respond to an encore, when she gave "An Anxious Mother," in an inimitable manner. Little Carrie has indeed a bright future ahead of her.

Master Rupert Phelan, the clever boy soprano, received a real ovation. He rendered as a vocal number "My Beautiful Irish Maid." Master Rupert possesses a remarkably sweet voice and with careful training will make his mark. His second number "Don't Run Down the Irish," brought forth rounds of applause.

One of the best numbers of the evening was perhaps the "Irish Airs" by the Peterborough orchestra of seven pieces. This number was a beautiful arrangement of Irish melodies and was exceedingly well performed.

The number of the evening was, however, the comedietta, "Kitty the Romp." This charming little play was arranged by Miss Lily Simons, who also trained the performers who so pleasingly presented it. Miss Simons is to be heartily congratulated upon the success of the comedietta. Every character was well represented and the parts taken in a charming manner, but it would not be amis to give special praise to the manner in which Miss Annie Simons portrayed the character of Aunt Hopkins. Of course Miss Lily Simons, as "Kitty the Romp," was the star. Her acting and stage presence drew forth many warm compliments, and she will be a warm favourite in future numbers of a similar nature. The cast of characters was as follows:—

Kitty the Romp.....Miss Lily Simons
Lord Rosendal.....Mr T J Begley
Bracelina Rosendal.....Miss Nettie McCabe
Aunt Hopkins.....Miss Annie Simons
Lord Percival.....Mr John McCabe
Blanche Hopkins.....Miss Susie Kelly
David O'Flyan.....Mr John Hanrahan
Sambo.....Mr Richard Simons

This comedietta, it might be mentioned, was free from any objectionable features, and was decidedly elevating in its character.

THE ADDRESS.

At the conclusion of this portion of the programme Mr. D. F. Quinlan, a member of the Catholic Association, delivered a stirring address on "The Patriots of '98." Mr. L. M. Hayes acted as chairman. Mr. Quinlan's effort was a creditable one and he was the recipient, at the close, of a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, who also made a brief address.

Messrs. Dick Simons and Eddie Graham opened the second part of the programme by a clever double jig, which brought down the house. Both responded by giving a number each. They are indeed clever young dancers.

In Miss Sadie Rutherford Peterborough has a talented young elocutionist. Her rendition of "Jennie McNeil's Last Ride" was an exceptionably able effort. A delightful number was the duet, "The Gipsy Countess," in character by Miss Nettie Lewis and Mr. F. Dwyer. This was one of the gems of the evening, and so sweetly did they sing they were obliged to bow their acknowledgements of a hearty encore. The chorus by the C.L.A. Glee Club, "There's a Dear Spot in Ireland," was rendered in an excellent manner. Misses Nettie Lewis and Jennie Riley taking the solos.

Miss Lily Simons reading of "The Maniac" was a triumph for this young lady. She seemed to excel all previous efforts with this difficult number, and rendered it in a very dramatic style, her enunciation being clear and distinct. Miss Lottie Bell played "Home, Sweet Home" during the recitation of this number.

Master Rupert Phelan again delighted the audience by singing in capital style "An Irishman's Toast." He did not respond to an encore.

Two beautiful tableaux followed this number. The first, "Ireland in the Past," represented Erin (Miss May Sullivan) reclining on a broken pillar in the historic hall of Tara, her beautiful flowing hair falling in a wavy mass. Hanging on the stone wall could be noticed Erin's Harp, "as if its soul were dead." Near by stood a soldier on guard. It was a delightful and inspiring scene.

"Ireland in the Future" was a tableau full of hope and was an exceedingly beautiful idea of Ireland's speedy return to Home Rule. On a throne was seated England (Miss M. E. Mahoney) clothed in all her glory, her head adorned with a beautiful crown of pearls. The red rose of course was beautifully woven about England. On her right stood Ireland (Miss Nellie McCabe) becomingly robed in green, interwoven with shamrocks and holding in her hand a harp. On the left stood Scotland (Miss Amelia Cahill), who was prettily attired in the costume of a Highland lassie—a shepherdess. She held in one hand the shepherdess' staff and in the other the proverbial bowl. Towering above them all stood Canada (Miss Maude Cahill) clad in a manner that made her an ideal type of a beautiful Canadian girl. She was entwined with maple leaves and held in either hands the Union Jack and the green flag of Erin. Whilst the tableau was being presented Miss M. McCabe played "The Maple Leaf Forever." This tableau was a beautiful number. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the overture "Whispers from Erin" and the sketch "The Haunted Hotel" were cancelled.

Miss M. McCabe was the accomplished accompanist of the evening, and presided at the piano in a most acceptable manner. This young lady also trained the C.L.A. Glee Club, and gave very valuable assistance to the Catholic Association.

Several of the clergy honoured the concert with their presence, and the audience generally included the best citizens of the town, and all were very highly pleased with the excellent entertainment provided.

The Association desires to cordially thank the public for their liberal patronage of their maiden entertainment, and also the participants who made possible the presentation of so satisfactorily a programme.

FIRST VIEWS OF SPRING FASHIONS.
We are very much in advance with our New Spring Millinery and Mantles. Dry Goods stores can, perhaps, afford to be backward with their Millinery preparations, on the plea of backward weather. It is different with a PURELY MILLINERY establishment. We shall prove that backward weather has no more to do with advance MILLINERY Displays than it has with advance Dress Goods displays. We are UP-TO-DATE Milliners. The care and promptness we take in ordering early have made us successful in getting the advance styles opened out earlier, so that even while the March Lions are supposed to be on, you can spend the day with us comfortably.
THE NEW SPRING NOVELTIES can now be inspected and selected; the New Shapes, Styles and Trimmings can now be canvassed, and the complete Hat or Bonnet trimmed and made ready. Our Milliners are busy, and are able to show what the clever hands of woman can do.
THE NEW FLOWERS are a sight to see; and so are the NEW TIES, NECKWEAR, RIBBONS, &c. Not everything is on view yet, as later styles are daily arriving, but next week you may look for our Formal Grand Opening displays.

A MARBLE CUTTER'S MISERY.

GRIPPE LEFT HIM NERVOUS, SLEEPLESS, LISTLESS.

Now He's Strong and Vigorous.

Few people have escaped the attacks of that insidious disease "Grippe" and its terrible weakening and undermining effects on the system. To counteract the evil consequences of this subtle foe to health, to restore the entire system to perfect condition, there is no remedy so thorough going as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. T. Barsicott, marble cutter at Messrs. Hutchinson & Thompson's, Aylmer, Ont., says:—"One year ago this winter I was quite sick with La Grippe, which left my system in an exhausted condition. I could not regain strength and was very nervous and sleepless, getting up in the morning as tired and unrefreshed as when I went to bed. I was listless, had no energy, and was altogether in miserable health. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills built up my system, strengthened my nerves, restored vigorous circulation of the blood, and in fact, made a new man of me." EASTERN ONTARIO.

Orange Grand Lodge Meeting in Renfrew—The School Question.

Renfrew, March 17.—Mr. John W. Bell, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario East, after touching on the fact that he had attended the celebration of the 12th of July at Belfast, Ireland, in which over 200,000 people took part, referred to the Manitoba school question, and said: "It is a matter of congratulation that the subject has been so disposed of that no political party will venture again to make it a plank in their platform. . . . Our duty as loyal Canadian citizens and Orangemen is plain. We resent the dictation of an ablegate appointed by Rome in our affairs, and will oppose the intrusion. Constant vigilance is necessary, and the Orangemen of Canada will in the future, as in the past, contend for the right to manage our own affairs, and resist the efforts of any sect to obtain special legislation to destroy the liberties so dear to the people of Canada."

Mr. F. M. Clarke, Grand Secretary, reports the following new lodges instituted during the past year: No. 640, in the County of West Durham; No. 670, in the County of Northumberland, and No. 1,419, in the County of Prescott.

There are now under the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge 24 county lodges, 81 district lodges and 381 primary lodges, with 12,015 members in good standing, and owning lodge property valued at $140,625.

On re-assembling for the evening session, Barrie, Guelph and Petrolea were proposed as the next place of meeting. Barrie was chosen on the first vote and by an overwhelming majority. In future the annual meetings of the Grand Lodge will be held on the second Wednesday in March.

BOUND TO KILL THEM.

Lathwell's Killing of His Wife and Paramour Was Not the Result of an Outbreak of Temper.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., March 17.—It develops that Albert Lathwell, who shot his wife and Alice Toomey yesterday morning, first tried to poison them by pouring laudanum in a pail of beer which he purchased and gave to them. Failing in this attempt to take their lives, he resorted to surer means, and used his revolver with terrible effect. Coroner Slocum took the ante-mortem statement of Lathwell and his two victims yesterday.

Lathwell's father, Joseph Lathwell of Orangeville, Ont., was notified, and he is now here with his son.

Alice Toomey, one of Lathwell's victims, was born in Kingston, Ont.

Albert Lathwell is a murderer. Mrs. Lathwell, his wife, died at the Memorial Hospital yesterday morning a few minutes after 10 o'clock. The remains will be sent to her home at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Lathwell's wounds are very severe, and he will die. The bullet which he fired at himself passed right through his body just above the heart, and he is unconscious. The bullet lodged just beneath the skin in the back, and was taken out.

Upon request of Miss Toomey, who is very low, her mother, Mrs. Alexander McLaughlin, of Oconto, Wis., was sent for.

The causes which led up to the trouble had their origin eight months ago, when Lathwell married Miss Addie Montgomery at Sault Ste Marie, Mich. Lathwell worked at the barber trade in that city, and for a time all was well.

About a month ago work became slack in Sault Ste. Marie, and Lathwell decided to come east. He left his home, and, according to the story, had not proceeded far on his way when he met a pretty waitress in a Michigan town with whom he immediately became infatuated. The waitress was Miss Toomey and the faithless husband and unwise girl started east.

They arrived in this city a short time ago, and Lathwell engaged in the barber business. It was not long afterwards that Lathwell's wife heard of his whereabouts and of Miss Toomey's relations with him. She came here and found the two living together. But, strange to say, there was no trouble. The matter was patched up, and the two women, Miss Toomey and Mrs. Lathwell, agreed to live together with Lathwell. All went well under these arrangements for a few days, but when Miss Toomey appeared with a gold watch and chain, Mrs. Lathwell was angry and demanded an explanation.

Her husband could not answer her questions to her satisfaction, and the two women got together and agreed to leave Lathwell. Without notifying him, they left for Buffalo. That night, when he discovered that his wife and Miss Toomey had gone, he got track of them, and located them in Buffalo. He entered a complaint at the Third Precinct Station, and charged Miss Toomey with stealing the gold watch.

The two women were apprehended, and they told a story confirming the above statements. Miss Toomey said that Lathwell had given her the watch, but that he denied. Their cases were set down for trial, and they came back to this city.

The tragedy yesterday morning was the final chapter of their disputes.

The Soo End of the Story.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., March 17.—William Lathwell, who shot his wife, himself and Alice Toomey at Niagara Falls, married Addie Piquette at the Canadian Soo a year ago. Subsequently he tended bar at Pembina, Wis., while the wife remained at home. Lathwell became smitten at Pembina with Mrs. Patrick Toomey, who deserted her husband and child and eloped with him a few weeks ago. They passed through the Soo en route to Orangeville, Ont., where Lathwell introduced the woman to his parents as his wife. An acquaintance saw the couple at the Canadian Soo and informed his wife, Addie, who soon after followed them east and kept on their trail, determined to face her recreant husband and make him answer. The three came together at Niagara Falls and the tragedy followed.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills, cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

United States Forbearance.

London, March 17.—Mr. Sidney Low, formerly editor of the St. James' Gazette, has written a long letter from New York, extolling the moderation of the Americans on the subject of Cuba, and declaring the British "would not have endured such savagery at their doors," adding: "The Spaniard would have been declared out of Cuba, bag and baggage, long ago."

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

SEPARATE BODICES.

They Are Still Worn and Appear In the Best Society.

Liberty silk, shirred velvet and silk and all diaphanous materials form theater bodices, which are usually made in the blouse style and belted in with a highly ornamented girdle of metal filigree or of kid embroidered with gold and jewels. Metallic and spangled trimmings are much in vogue for evening wear, gold and silver threads being interwoven with silks to form a brocade pattern. Such fabrics are usually of pale colors or white.

Theaters and concert rooms are not the only places where the separate bodice is seen. It appears in a fashionable form at evening receptions where full dress is not required, at informal dancing parties and similar social gatherings. In light velvet or silk, prettily trimmed, it is eminently correct, and as it is economical and convenient the style will be retained with pleasure by women of moderate means. Two or three blouses of different design and color, with a change of plastrons, revers and jabots, afford a great variety of effect and are an excellent investment for persons who go out a great deal and have to make a good appearance on a small pecuniary outlay.

When the skirt and bodice are of the same material, the prevailing tone should be light or bright for evening wear. Old rose, deep turquoise blue or willow green, trimmed with black mousseline de soie in the form of plaitings or ruffles, is effective. A model just shown has a skirt of red velvet embroidered with jet, the red velvet blouse being partly covered by a bolero of jet and passementerie.

The illustration shows a costume of ruby moire velours. The skirt, which has a train, is adorned by motifs of black velvet and jet passementerie, which are placed at each side of the tablier, giving a redingote effect. The bodice is decorated with passementerie to match and has a double jabot of white embroidered gauze in front. A plaiting of black gauze is placed under the passementerie and forms epaulets. The toque of ruby velvet is trimmed with black plumes and a jeweled buckle.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.

So much deception has been practiced in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliances and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliance and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy vigor and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap the energy.

They cure nervousness, despondency and all the effects of evil habits, excesses, overwork, etc.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Failure is impossible and age is no barrier.

This "Trial without Expense" offer is limited by the company to a short time, and application must be made at once.

Its C. O. D. scheme, no bogus philanthropy nor deception, no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO N.Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.

FASHION JOTTINGS.

Requirements of the Household, the Wardrobe and the Social Circle.

Lacquered furniture in white, pink or green is fashionable and is used by the best decorators, the shapes in which it appears being light and delicate. Articles of this description should never be placed in the same room with furniture of the dark, heavy, severe order, however, as the two styles are entirely out of harmony. They may be used in conjunction with furniture of light weight and cheerful color or with bamboo and rattan pieces. Lacquered furniture is particularly appropriate for the bedroom of a young girl and combines most charmingly with flowered or delft chints or delicate tints of china silk.

When one receives a box or parcel containing a gift, if the giver or any other person is present at the time, it is polite to open the parcel at once. If it contains bonbons or fruit, this should be offered to the company.

Veils are out of place for ceremonious occasions and are worn only for the street, being omitted even for formal calls. A young girl should not wear a veil at all unless she really requires it as a protection for the complexion.

The hair is worn high upon the head, the coil or puffs being placed upon the crown, so that it may receive the long pins which secure the hat or bonnet in place. The sides are bouffant, the locks being waved all over the head, and a few short curls are allowed to fall upon the forehead.

The little four leaved clover charms are universally seen as lockets, medallions, brooches and pendants to bracelets. The clover is a genuine one, pressed, dried and placed under crystal.

The picture shows a hat composed of red velvet in the Henri III style. The crown is encircled by a tornade of red satin, and on the left side is a combination bow made of red satin and black and white checked velvet. A white plume, held by a jeweled ornament, falls over the brim.

THE WARDROBE.

Pretty Things and a Suggestion of How to Make Them.

Flowers play an important role in the ornamentation of winter hats, especially those of felt which are intended for dress wear. Some have the crown entirely covered with flowers, a pretty and youthful style.

Ball gowns are most frequently laced at the back when they are close fitting, the eyelet holes being placed between two narrow but strong whalebones. If the ball gown is made at home, care should be taken with regard to the decolletage, which should not be cut down until the bodice has been tried on and fitted. The upper edge of a low cut corsage is apt to stretch as soon as it is cut and is therefore to be cut as late as possible in the making and corded or faced at once. Another reason for cutting down the bodice only after it has been tried on and the extent of the desired decolletage measured and marked is that a low necked bodice always appears much lower when it is on than when it is off, and what seems a very moderate decolletage when it is cut simply by guesswork will be found much too pronounced upon trial. A cord should always be run inside the top of the bodice, and this cord should be drawn tight when the bodice is being worn to hold it in firm position; otherwise it will work loose and drag somewhat away from the shoulders with the movement of the wearer.

Long evening gloves, extending above the elbow, look better if an elastic band is sewed in the top. This prevents them from slipping down and becoming baggy on the arm. The elastic may be concealed under a band of ribbon and a bow.

Mention has previously been made in this column of the new and extremely airy theater bonnets, or, rather, coiffures. A picture is given which shows one of these models, consisting of a gracefully tied bow of ribbon, attached by means of a little silk covered plat of buckram to a shell comb.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

What nobler, better ambition can a young couple have than to live loving, helpful lives, and then, in a green old age, look back over a life that has been mutually self-sacrificing, useful and successful? The one great stumbling-block that stands between most married couples and this ideal married career is ill-health. If both husband and wife would take proper care of their health, there would be more hale, hearty and happy old people in the world. If, when a man suffers from the little ills of life, he will resort to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the chances are that he will avoid the big and fatal illnesses. This great medicine gives a man a healthy hunger, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood and builds firm, muscular, healthy flesh tissue.

It is an old saying that women are hard to kill. There is some truth in this, as far as the majority of illnesses are concerned. There is one class of disorders, however, that quickly undermine any woman's general health. No woman can retain her strength who suffers from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all disorders of this description. It acts directly on the sensitive organs concerned, in a natural, soothing way. It makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It prepares them to bear the burdens of maternity. It is the greatest of nerve tonics. The woman who uses it will bear healthy, happy children, and live to a ripe old age.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. By all medicine dealers.

Household Decoration.

William Morris was undoubtedly an authority in matters of household decoration. He censured the fashionable freak of painting the outsides of houses red, chocolate or cockroach color. He also declared carpets to be nasty and unwholesome, and he did not like large windows. He liked small latticed ones. Mr. Morris furthermore declared green should be used very sparingly in household decorations.

Oyster Cocktails.

Oyster cocktails are not quite as dissipated as they sound, since no liquor is used in their preparation. To make them, mix together the juice of half a lemon (strained), 10 drops of tabasco sauce, half teaspoonful of horse radish, half teaspoonful of paprika and the same of tomato catsup; put 8 oysters in a glass—Blue Points are best—and pour in a quarter of the sauce, which is enough for 8 oysters.

Magina.

Blackwood set a high value on Magina's contributions. "There is one peculiar excellence," he writes, "in this writer which strikes us Scotsmen—his easy, idiomatic English. No Scotchman, however practised as a writer, is master of the English tongue so as to be able to write in this way." But he never ventured to impart this opinion to the voluble and irascible North.

Magina was a brilliant but unmanageable creature. He soon drifted away from Maga and devoted himself to the rival and imitator, Fraser's. When his habits had brought him to a premature grave, Lockhart wrote his epitaph in a score of jingling rhymes:

Here, early to bed, lies kind William Magina.
* * * * * * *
Light for long was his heart, though his breeches were thin,
But at last he was beat and sought help from the bin.
* * * * * * *
Barring drink and the girls, I ne'er heard of a sin:
Many worse, better few, than bright, broken Magina.

PRECAUTIONS RE THE HOG CHOLERA.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE PREVENTION OF ITS SPREAD.

Dr. Bryce Advises the Disinfection of all Cars Used in Shipment, and Other Simple Precautions.

To the Editor of the Globe:

In view of the outbreaks of hog cholera which have been reported in the reports of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, during 1896 and 1897, and owing to the re-appearance of the disease in 1898 in the neighbourhood of Toronto, it seems proper to direct public attention to the needs which still exist for some systematic methods by which in large distributing centres, such as Toronto, the danger of the dissemination of this disease may be lessened if not wholly prevented. Assuming that the Toronto district, for instance, be free from hog cholera, it is natural to inquire how the disease may be introduced. The report of the department gives directions how infected premises may be disinfected, and on the supposition that this has been done everywhere in Ontario there is practically but one means whereby the disease may be reintroduced, which is by cars which come into the Province carrying or having previously carried infected animals. Such infected animals or those which have been placed in infected cars, being transferred to the stock yards of the city for sale, will necessarily infect the yards again, and when sold, as many are, for feeding purposes to the piggeries around the city, again infect pens and herds which have been healthy, and the costly work for stamping out the disease must begin again. The Dominion report for 1896 says that from the 57 outbreaks in Essex and Kent Counties in that year the disease spread to the Toronto District, causing nine distinct outbreaks. During 1897 according to the report of Prof. Andrew Smith, V. S., East and West York townships, adjoining Toronto, and the city were quarantined during, as is understood, a whole year, and the report states that no new outbreaks were reported during 1897.

We find, however, as was to be expected, that as soon as stocking of the piggeries has gone on again the disease has re-appeared. It is plain, therefore, that not only have those engaged in the hog-raising industry of this section suffered serious loss from the interruption of their business, but also that the sale of pork must be seriously affected both as to quantity and price. How, then, can this industry, which has rapidly been assuming large proportions, be protected not only in the Toronto district, but in other parts of the Province?

The methods necessary are apparently four:—(1) Certificate of health by a local veterinary inspector before shipment on the train; (2) disinfection of every car employed for shipping hogs in Ontario after each load, after supervision of a qualified inspector, and by allowing no cars bringing in fat American hogs for slaughter to deliver at any yard where store hogs are landed, but only as near and as quickly as possible to the packing houses, and to use none of such cars for transportation of Ontario hogs; (3) The construction of hog pens at stock yards, with cement floors, so that they can be regularly and daily washed down and disinfected; (4) a quarantine of observation of each new lot of store hogs in pens on the premises of the purchaser, and complete separation from the others until the incubation period of the disease shall have elapsed.

Were such methods carried out systematically, it is needless to say that the old fashioned quarantine, like the forty-day quarantine during the early ship fever or cholera epidemics, or the shot-gun quarantine of the Southern States in yellow fever times—wholly destructive to commerce and at the best effective only when in complete operation—would be found as unnecessary as in our modern methods of stamping out small pox.

From time to time, as emergencies have arisen, the need of a health organization, whereby Dominion, Provincial and municipal health authorities should be united in a common work, each doing its part, has been set before the public. When, as in the present instance, the municipality where the hogs are shipped, the Dominion authorities who control the trains and the municipality wherein is the stock market are all directly interested with the general government of the Province in maintaining the health of the animals and the commercial interests of our stockmen, it ought to be an easy matter now that Toronto is about to re-organize her cattle market on a basis commensurate with the growing live stock industry for the city authorities to be the first to give definiteness to this work, in which our city and district are bound to be the largest losers through neglect or the greatest gainers by prompt and effective action.

BASKET BALL.

The game Tuesday night in Toronto, West End intermediate team vs. the Peterborough Association team was an exciting game. The men acted before the match as if they thought the game was going to be an easy one for them. But at the end of the first half it did not look that way as the score stood 9 to 9. The second half started off with a rush, each team going into win. The Peterborough team won the first goal but the score was soon tied again by one of Toronto's men throwing goal with one hand. One could not tell which team would win until the last when Toronto had two lucky throws just before time was called which gave them the game the score of 19—15.

Peterborough's men played well for a new team against one that has played several years and is one of the best teams in the Toronto League.

A return match is expected soon and it is hoped a large number will come to see the game, which will be interesting as the Peterborough men are going to do their best to win and they are playing remarkably good for new men at the game.

Friday night Lindsay makes the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. a call with a Basket Ball team, which will be a practice game for both associations, but the game will be interesting. All are invited to come; game is called at 9 o'clock.

THE WHEEL.

In referring to the Provincial Meet the Ottawa Journal says:—"Peterborough has one decided advantage over Ottawa in the fight for the provincial meet of the C.W.A. Peterborough will get a big sympathy vote—by mail—from towns that are not particular where the meet goes. Peterborough is stirring up the sympathy racket for all it is worth, and its big argument for the provincial meet is that it has twice been defeated for the Dominion meet, and is very plucky in not giving up the fight.

"Of coorse this kind of argument is quite legitimate, and as it will help Peterborough, the cyclists of the town cannot be blamed for using it.

"However, the day is past when matters of this kind will be decided on sentiment alone, and the great body of wheelmen are more likely to look at the suitability of the place for holding a meet.

When this matter is brought to the front, then Ottawa's stock goes up. There is no question as to which place is more suitable.

Ottawa, with one of the fastest quarter mile bicycle tracks in the country, certainly deserves recognition over a place that has nothing else to offer than a horse track.

It has been found, too, that small places cannot offer the proper hotel accommodation, and in this respect Ottawa is likely to benefit by the vote of wheelmen who had to contend with indifferent accommodation in Waterloo one year and in Chatham another.

Wheelmen are coming round to the view that before a town is given the meet it must be able to take care of it, and it is this view that is likely to help Ottawa very largely.

The Free Press says:—The O. A. A. men claim that the pledges given by other clubs to Peterborough were for the Dominion meet, and therefore all the clubs are perfectly free to give their vote where they will for the Provincial meet. The local men expect a hard fight against Peterborough.

It's not the cough, but what it may lead to, that makes it so serious. The cough may be cured, the serious consequence prevented by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Price 25 cents, at all druggists.

A SPY FROM RUSSIA

Found at Hatfield, Lord Salisbury's Residence.

DEMANDS OF FRANCE ON CHINA.

London Newspapers Comment Upon Their Impossible Nature—China May Find, if She Complies, That There Are Worse Things in Store for Her—Other News by Cable.

Birmingham, Eng., March 19.—The Gazette of this city asserts that a Russian spy, in the guise of a footman, has been discovered at Hatfield, the Marquis of Salisbury's residence.

FRANCE'S DEMANDS.

Her Ultimatum to China Looked Upon as Extraordinary by Great Britain—Russia's Strength Over-Estimated.

London, March 19.—At the Cabinet council yesterday there was anxious discussion of the new developments of French demands in China. The Duke of Devonshire, Lord President of the Council, who presided, has decided to postpone his intended departure for the Riviera. All the newspapers this morning comment on the impossible nature of the French demands.

Comments of the Papers.

The Times says: China is inclined to yield through her fears of an occupation of Hai-Nan. It may be necessary to make it very plain to the Chinese mind that worse things than the occupation of Hai-Nan will happen if China undertakes to settle, by a mere ex-parte agreement with a third power, questions which immediately affect the safety and prosperity of one of our most important possessions in the East.

The Daily Mail says: What does it mean? A coaling station and a railway are all very well, but if it comes to admitting a French title to the Hinterland of Burmah and Hong Kong, Great Britain must oppose to the utmost her influence and power.

The Morning Post thinks it "time for England to present her list of requirements."

The Times publishes this morning a military article, showing that Russia's strength on the Manchurian frontier is considerably less than is generally supposed, and is certainly inadequate to meet a well equipped adversary.

Commenting editorially upon the conclusions drawn by its contributor, the Times says:

Japan evidently has taken measure of Russia's strength, and the result is seen in Russia's withdrawal from Corea. Japan has made no fuss, but she has acted, and she has acted so quickly that the action stands revealed for the first time by its results. It forms an admirable object lesson for the British Government.

In the Commons.

Mr. Broderick, Parliamentary Secretary to the War Office, said, in the Commons to-day, in answer to a question by Lord Charles Beresford, that the shells in use by the French artillery and navy were charged with melinite. The British War Office, Mr. Broderick said, had experimented with a number of high explosives and had selected one.

BRITISH IMMIGRATION.

Ontario Excludes Only Those Who Are Suffering From Serious Maladies.

London, March 19.—Replying to a question of Sir Charles Cameron, Bart., Liberal member for the Bridgeton division of Glasgow, in the House of Commons yesterday, the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, said that Ontario's immigration law excluded from that province only those immigrants who were suffering from serious defects and habitual criminals.

Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner for Canada, has returned from his mission to Berlin.

Stars and Stripes Hoisted.

London, March 19.—Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock the Stars and Stripes were hoisted on the cruiser Amazonas at Gravesend, Eng., dock. The cruiser San Francisco was sighted off Dover, Eng., yesterday. The American crew for the Amazonas are aboard the San Francisco.

Royal Wedding at Constantinople.

Constantinople, March 19.—Princess Naime, second daughter of Sultan Abdul Hamid II., was married yesterday to Mehmed Kemaleddin Pasha, son of Ghazi Osman Pasha, the hero of Plevna. The ceremony was performed in the Yildiz Kiosk.

Sixty Corpses Recovered.

Madrid, March 19.—A terrible explosion took place yesterday in the Santa Isabel Mine, at Berniez, Province of Cordova. Sixty corpses have already been recovered, and many men are as yet unaccounted for.

Eight Men Killed.

Kingston, Jamaica (via Bermuda), March 19.—A dynamite explosion took place yesterday in the Government storehouse on Montego Bay. Eight men were killed and many injured.

Greek Loan of $30,000,000.

London, March 19.—It is announced that a Greek loan of $30,000,000 will be issued within a few days. The loan will be floated simultaneously in St. Petersburg, London and Paris.

The Plague in India.

Bombay, March 19.—Two hundred and fifteen new cases and 216 deaths from the plague were reported yesterday. Five Europeans have been attacked.

Japanese Government Upheld.

Yokohama, March 19.—The election returns show a small majority for the Government.

DR. JESSOP BADLY HURT.

The Newly-Elected Member for Lincoln Had an Unfortunate Experience.

St. Catharines, March 18.—To-night, as Dr. Jessop, the newly-elected M.P.P., was driving rapidly along Welland avenue, having been attending to his professional duties, his horse became frightened, and he was thrown some distance out of his rig, striking on his shoulder very heavily. He was picked up unconscious and bleeding profusely, and conveyed to his home, where it was found his collarbone was broken and his back badly injured. His head has also some bad cuts. Some children playing ball in the road were the cause of the horse taking fright. The doctor has since regained consciousness, and is resting as easily as can be expected.

RUSSELL ALL RIGHT.

THE LIBERAL MAJORITY IS 814.

A Striking Triumph for the Hardy Government—The Liberal's Majority Is 814—The Standing.

LIBERALS	50
CONSERVATIVES	43
PATRON	1

The general elections of March 1 were not really concluded until yesterday owing to the accident by which the returning officer for Russell was prevented from holding the nomination for that county on the regular day, namely, February 29. The House is now complete and there are 94 members-elect. The Russell victory increases the number of Mr. Hardy's followers to 50, and the House is now divided as follows:

Liberals, 50.
Conservatives, 43.
Patron, 1.

There are appeals in West Huron, West Elgin and South Perth against the decisions of the County Judges in the recent recounts. There may also be an appeal in the case of Ottawa. In each of these cases the result depends on a very few votes, in the case of West Elgin on one vote only. Of the four seats in which appeals are expected three are at present held by the Conservatives and one, West Elgin, by the Liberals.

Russell Liberal by Over 800.

Ottawa, March 19.—O. Guilbord, Liberal, is elected over P. Marier, Conservative, by a majority of 788. There are five outside polls to hear from, which will increase the majority to about 800.

The latest returns show that Guilbord, Liberal, has 814 of a majority.

There was great rejoicing at the Reform Club rooms here as the returns were being received. After Mr. Guilbord's election was assured, Hon. G. W. Ross, Mr. Stratton and Mr. Conmee made speeches.

AT OSGOODE HALL.

West Elgin and West Huron Cases to Come Before the Judge To-day—Particulars Outlined.

Toronto, March 19.—The West Elgin and West Huron appeals are set down for hearing at Osgoode Hall to-day, the former before Mr. Justice Maclennon at 10 o'clock and the latter before Mr. Justice Osler at 2 o'clock. It is doubtful that the West Huron case will go on to-day.

Mr. McNish of West Elgin, who was awarded the seat by the casting vote of the returning officer, has appealed upon 20 ballots, and Mr. McDiarmid upon 16. The ballots in dispute on both sides are so similar that the appeals will practically be heard together. Sixteen of the affected ballots counted for McDiarmid and 5 of those allowed to Mr. McNish were marked with a cross to the right instead of to the left of the name, and where the number is. A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., and E. F. B. Johnston, Q.C., will appear for Mr. McNish, and Wallace Nesbitt for McDiarmid.

In the West Huron case, C. A. Masten is acting for Mr. Beck, who was given a majority of 2 on the recount. The Liberal candidate, Mr. Garrow, disputes 7 ballots and Mr. Beck, in his cross-appeal, 9 or 10. Mr. Garrow's appeal will be heard first, and if Mr. Beck is sustained his appeal will not go on.

Of the 7 ballots disputed by the Liberals, 3 were disallowed, and 4 were counted for Mr. Beck. Of the 3, 2 were marked for Mr. Garrow with a single stroke, 1 ballot having a perpendicular and the other a horizontal stroke. A third ballot, marked also for the Liberal candidate, had upon it the initials of the poll clerk. One of the other 4 ballots were marked with an inverted "V," another has many lines apparently crossing out the original mark, another has the official number torn off, and the fourth has the initials "A. G." near the cross in the ballot.

Lieut. Drury of Kingston, has received a despatch from the Minister of Militia regarding a contingent from "A" Battery to proceed to the Yukon. The despatch calls for Capt. In addition they will be served with a very complete kit free of charge. The kit will combine several suits of clothing, fitted for both summer and winter wear. Six pieces of head dress, including helmet, sombrero, canvas cap, fur cap, woollen toque and mosquito netting are provided. Half a dozen suits of clothing are also to be served out. These will comprise two suits of serge, oil skin suit, white duck suit, and two suits of winter clothing. Several suits of heavy underwear, heavy woollen socks, half a dozen changes of footwear, including elk moccasins, beef boots, Mennonite boots, heavy walking boots, and felt boots to be worn inside moccasins will be provided. All who have yet two years to serve must be re-enlisted for a further period of three years, which goes to show that it is intended to keep them up there for a number of years.

THE SAN JOSE SCALE.

The action of the government in rushing through a bill to prohibit the importation of nursery stock from countries where the fruit pest, known as the San Jose scale, exists, shows a keen appreciation of the danger that it presents, by both government and opposition. It is particularly destructive to fruit and all sorts of decidious trees, and when firmly established can speedily accomplish the destruction of forest as well as orchard growth. This pest is supposed to have come from the east, and first found a footing in California, at San Jose, hence the name. The pest is now thoroughly established in many parts of the United States, and the several States are protecting themselves by drastic legislation, and in time our Minister of Agriculture, supported by both sides of the house, has taken prompt action to protect Canada from the ravages of the San Jose scale. The San Jose scale is a very small insect, which reproduces itself with marvellous rapidity, to such an extent, indeed, that if all the young insects which are produced by a single scale in the course of the season, were they to live, they would number several hundreds of millions. The scale not only checks the growth of a tree but spreads and covers them entirely, causing, if not checked, death of the tree in three years. The spread of the San Jose scale has been extremely rapid in the United States, and the state of Maine is said to be the only state in which it has not gained a footing. The measure passed so promptly by the House to exclude American nursery stock is not one of hostility to our neighbours but one of self-protection. Of course it will work hardship on nursery men who have booked orders and made contracts, but when such a calamity as the introduction into Canada of one of the worst of insect pests, threatens us, individual interest must be sacrificed to the general good. The prompt action taken by the government and the members of both sides of the House, shows that the necessity for action was extremely urgent.

INSOLVENCY LEGISLATION.

Mr. Fortin, M.P., has introduced an insolvency bill in the House of Commons, which seems likely to become law. Its provisions, briefly summarized, are as follows: The bill applies to traders only, farmers and professional men not being included as in some former bills. It provides that all assignments must be compulsory. A debtor must not assign of his own free will. There must be some formal legal demand by some creditor. This is to prevent a debtor showing favouritism or preferences. In every assignment a liquidator is to be appointed by the creditors, the sheriff being the guardian of the estate until the creditors meet. The debtor must render all possible assistance and information to the liquidator and he may be arrested in case he is thought to contemplate absconding. A discharge to a debtor may be granted only with the consent of a majority of the creditors, representing at least three-quarters of the liabilities. The discharge is not to apply without the consent of the creditors to any claim of a non-commercial nature due to a non-trader or to claims of a secondary nature such as endorsations, etc. After an order appointing a liquidator has been issued no claims for law costs can rank on the estate. With regard to the disposal of the estate the bill provides it is to be sold in any way the creditors or inspectors may advise. In order, it is presumed, that no objection may be offered the bill by the banks, a special clause provides that the Act shall not in any way interfere with any rights or privileges banks enjoy under the Banking Act.

SOUTH PERTH is not contented with Judge Barron's decision in the recent recount. Both Liberal and Opposition candidates have entered appeals from the learned Judge's decision in the matter of the "retained ballots."

MR. PENNY'S bill has received its second reading in the House of Commons, making the day of the federal election a public holiday. If the country generally takes its politics as seriously as Peterborough did on March 1st, election day will be a holiday, law or no law.

EVEN the burglars don't "take any stock" in the Opposition canard that Col. Leys won his election in London by the use of money to the extent of his "pile." The cracksmen think he has enough left to make it worth the risk of robbing him, which they attempted to do on Thursday night.

THE Ontario Opposition take their defeat in the general elections with bad grace. They don't seem to be able to believe that the people of Ontario are so hard-hearted as to refuse Her Majesty's loyal Opposition access to those seven thousand odd legendary offices which the organs paraded with such industrious iteration during the campaign. One day they have Mr. Hardy clean bowled out of office, another day he has a fairly safe working majority. Some little rumour kindles a spark of hope and the sweets of office still seem possible; another little turn of the political kaledoscope and the prospect darkens. They try the count backwards and Government's majority is gone; they try it forwards and the majority for the Government is small; but small as it is it is still on the Government's side, and while the Government has the confidence of the country it can't reasonably be expected to resign in favour of an Opposition that hasn't any majority at all. It is true that the majority is not large, but it will do. It's like Mercutio's wound, "not so deep as a well, nor so wide as a church door, but 'tis enough." Russell makes one more.

THERE is one thing upon which we in Ontario can congratulate ourselves without distinction of party and without self-righteousness, says the Globe. We have had an exceedingly close election in which a great deal depended upon the results in half a dozen constituencies where the majorities were exceedingly narrow. There has not been a suspicion of foul play anywhere—except, of course, in some Tory journals whose suspicion is chronic. Recounts have been held by county judges who were Conservatives before they went on the bench, and were appointed by a Conservative government, and Liberals before they went on the bench, and were appointed by a Liberal government. Three of these had been members of the Dominion Parliament, one had been a member of the Ontario Legislature. Some of the judgments have been questioned and appealed against, but we have not heard from any quarter a whisper of a suspicion against the fairness of the judge. Even the chronically suspicious journals are silenced by the evidence of the fairness of the proceedings. Certainly the minority cannot say that they have been unfairly treated. If in a somewhat critical period the Ontario judges had been administering the affairs of Ontario, the people would not have felt more confidence than they feel to-day with Mr. Hardy as Premier. This is something that is more important than the rise and fall of Administrations, and something of which the people of Ontario may well be proud.

COUNTY HOMES FOR THE POOR.

They are Favoured by Dr. Chamberlain.

Dr. Chamberlain, Provincial Inspector of Asylums and Prisons, at a meeting of the Local Council of Women, Toronto, delivered an able address at the evening session on "The Gaol as a Home for Aged and Infirm Poor." It was a duty devolving upon the State, he said, to care for its unfortunate citizens, and to employ the best and most economical method in so doing. In the early history of the province the poor of the community had been supported by the community, and afterward the municipalities adopted what was known as the farming out system, by which people took the poor into their homes and were paid for their maintenance by the municipalities. Thirty years ago the Vagrancy Act was passed for the purpose of preventing a class of able-bodied individuals who were able to work from roaming at large through the country preying on the public. It soon afterward came to be abused, and, it becoming difficult to secure places for the ordinary paupers, they, too, were committed gaol as vagrants. This he considered a disgrace to the country. He recommended the alteration of the law to bear only on non-residents and the establishment of county homes. A law should be passed whereby the resident poor should be committed to these homes instead of to the gaol.

NOT HOMELIKE ENOUGH.

In homes that already exist in the province, Dr. Chamberlain stated, the surroundings were not made homelike enough. Their diet also should be better. When the surroundings were not what they should be it was quite natural that they should rebel, and be sent from their homes. They would then be taken before a magistrate and committed to gaol.

Those placed in gaols were not contented as a rule, he continued. In fact, it was a rare thing to find one who was happy. They had come to be placed there first by a desire of the municipal officials to pose as economists, having discovered that they could be kept there at a cost of about six cents per day. Their being placed there interfered with the administration of justice, because in some cases the gaols had been so full of this class of prisoners that they were unable to take in criminals.

Homes maintained by churches and societies, he said, were a great evil. One of the homes of that kind in the city cost as much as all of them would cost if under one management. He concluded by expressing himself in favour of having the Government compel the counties to establish homes for their poor.

A woman's hair is her glory. Like her complexion, much of its beauty depends upon her general health. Nine times in ten a woman's general health is dependent upon her local health in a womanly way.

It is an impossibility for a woman to be pretty or attractive who suffers from general ill-health. The skin, the teeth, the eyes, the hair and the carriage will tell the story when a woman is ailing. It is impossible for a woman to be in good general health when some local trouble is continually nagging at her nerves and disarranging the natural functions of every organ of the body. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for women who suffer from local weakness and disease peculiar to their sex. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain, tones and builds up the nerves and banishes the usual discomforts of the expectant months. It makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It enables every organ of the body to perform its natural functions without unnatural interference from a pain-tortured nervous system. It corrects all irregularities. A woman who is made well in this way will recover her natural beauty of form and feature and her natural amiability of character and temper. Thousands of women have testified to its merits. An honest dealer will not urge a substitute for a little extra profit.

Mrs. Rachel Clark, of Houlton, St. Croix Co., Wis., writes: "I am in good health since I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I gave birth to a 12½ pound boy last June. He is six months old now and weighs 30 pounds."

How to preserve health and beauty are told in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover customs and mailing only; cloth binding, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Proceedings in the Senate and House of Commons.

SENATE READS THE YUKON BILL

The Commoners Go Up to the Senate Chamber to See the San Jose Scale Bill Signed by His Excellency and Then They Get Down to Business of Practical Importance.

Ottawa, March 19.—When the Senate met yesterday afternoon the Speaker announced that his Excellency had arrived to give royal assent to the bill passed by the Senate yesterday to protect Canada from an insect pest known as the San Jose scale. The Black Rod was despatched with the usual message to the Commons. When the members of the lower House arrived, headed by the Speaker, and took up their place at the bar, Lord Aberdeen entered the chamber, attended by his aides, Capt. Erskine and Major Denison, and gave royal assent to the bill.

Senator Perley moved for copies of all telegrams and letters passing between any member of the Government and the High Commissioner in London relating to Mr. Hamilton Smith, and all papers, communications and documents which induced the Government to send telegrams and letters.

The Secretary of State said there would be no objection to bringing down the telegrams sent by Lord Strathcona on the subject, but the telegram sent by the Premier to the High Commissioner was a private message, and he had refused to bring it down in the other House.

Senator Almon could not see how the telegram could be considered private when it referred to a public matter and the reply to it had been given to the public.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell expressed surprise at the attitude taken by the Secretary of State and the Premier in the matter. If the telegram to the High Commissioner was private, why was the answer to it given to the public?

Senator David Mills said the practice of the present Government in reference to this matter was different from the practice of the late Government. Important negotiations had been conducted by the late Government with the authorities at Washington, of which there was no record produced.

Senator Macdonald (B.C.)—Why did the Premier try to blast the reputation of Mr. Hamilton Smith?

Hon. David Mills—The Premier tried to do nothing of the kind. Newspapers were supporting honorable gentlemen opposite in the effort Mr. Smith had made to foist the United States Senate bill upon Canada. He referred to Mr. Hamilton Smith as the agent of the Rothschild firm. The telegram of Lord Strathcona was to give a denial to those representations.

The Government's Yukon Railway bill was then introduced and received its first reading. It stands for second reading on Tuesday next.

The Senate adjourned about 6 o'clock.

A BUSINESS DAY.

The House of Commons Attend to Practical Measures for the Benefit of Canadians.

A proclamation was issued last night prohibiting the importation of nursery stock from the States, Japan and Hawaii. Collectors of customs were notified by telegram to confiscate any consignment of this class of goods which might arrive at Canadian ports.

Mr. Marcotte rose to make his motion to refer the case of Mr. Bruneau's resignation to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Sir Wilfrid asked that the motion be allowed to stand until Monday. The Government had consulted the law officers of the Crown, but had not yet received their opinion. The matter was allowed to stand.

A petition for extension of time for the introduction of the private bill to incorporate the Nickel Steel Company of Canada, was presented by Mr. Wood (Hamilton).

The House then went into committee on the bill to amend the Steamboat Inspection Act.

Mr. Britton (Kingston) wanted to have floating elevators exempted from the inspection of their engines and boilers.

Sir Louis Davies refused to assent to this, holding that he would be unable to justify such an exemption to the working people of the country.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper quite agreed with the Minister of Marine, and the clause was passed without amendment.

The deliberations of the committee were interrupted at this point by the arrival of Black Rod with a message from His Excellency, summoning the Commons to the Senate. Mr. Speaker and half a dozen members obeyed, and witnessed the royal assent given to the San Jose scale bill, and then returned to business.

Mr. Charlton read a telegram he had received from a nursery stock dealer in Campbellford, Ont., to the effect that, having purchased a large consignment of fruit trees in Rochester, N.Y., he would be financially ruined by the bill.

There was an interesting discussion on the clause of the bill respecting the appointment of inspectors. A new clause in the bill provided that an inspector shall not be engaged in other business or hold any civil office, "without permission of the Minister."

Sir Louis Davies held that the permissive clause was necessary to enable him to employ inspectors at small salaries in the Northwest and in the Yukon.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, Mr. Foster and Mr. Borden, with Messrs. Ellis and Britton (Liberals), favored the omission of the permissive clause.

Mr. Foster's motion to strike out the clause was, however, lost.

On Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper's suggestion, the time for bringing in the bill was extended from the 1st of August next to the 1st of January, 1899.

An important change was made in the form of the licenses to steamships which entitles them to run between certain named points.

Mr. Powell showed that this would prevent Canadian steamships from engaging in ocean-going trade. He instanced a case in his own experience. He thought a certificate should be granted of a steamship's competence to go to any part of the world, as is done in England, where most of the tramp steamers are owned.

Sir Louis Davies consented, so far as to amend the clause to allow competitive competent steamers to go anywhere "within the waters of Canada."

The bill as amended was reported.

The House went into committee on the Weights and Measures bill. Clause 9 states that the bushel of certain articles shall be determined by weight, unless a bushel by measure is specially agreed upon. The weight of the bushel of potatoes was, by the clause, 60 pounds. Mr. Monk moved to add to the clause that the standard bag of potatoes in the Province of Quebec should be placed at one bushel and a sixth, or 70 pounds.

This led to a general discussion on the standard bag of potatoes. Messrs. Costigan, McMullen, Haggart, McDougall, McNeill and Talbot spoke, and the discussion was continued after dinner.

Sir Henri Joly explained that experiments recently made showed that a bushel of potatoes often weighed less than 60 pounds. He had seen varieties that did not exceed 56 pounds. He suggested that Mr. Fortin's bill be inserted as an amendment into the Government measure for fixing the weight of a bushel of potatoes at 80 pounds. Further consideration of the clause was deferred.

Mr. Wilson urged a reduction in weight of bushels of onions.

Mr. Henderson said he would move to fix the weight of a bushel of lime at 70 pounds.

Mr. McMillan also gave notice of amendment that the weight of a dozen eggs should be 1½ pounds.

The committee reported progress on bills to amend gas inspection, petroleum inspection and inland revenue acts, which were passed.

On motion to adjourn, Mr. Foster asked if the returning officer for West Prince had yet been appointed.

Sir Wilfrid replied in the negative. He would tell the hon. gentleman later.

The House then, at 10 o'clock, adjourned.

ROYAL TEMPLARS.

Proposal to Lessen the Total Disability Fees—Social Purity Department and Other Reports

Hamilton, March 19.—The Royal Templars' Dominion Council continued its session yesterday, taking up committee' reports. The special committee on the total disability fund presented a report introducing a scheme for forwarding the interests of this department by lessening the fees and collecting them more frequently.

The Committee on Laws recommended that in the case of those members going to the Klondike and not requesting permission of the Dominion Board, that the order would not remain liable to pay their insurance claims in case of death. If permission is granted, however, the society will be responsible for only one-half the insurance claim in case of death.

The Social Purity Department reported recommending legislation for the better protection of women, and that the criminal code be revised and improved.

The Dominion Government will be asked to take steps to stop the sale of intoxicating liquor in the Yukon, and to prohibit the sale of liquor in small quantities by brewers in the Northwest Territories.

THE OLDEST FREEMASON.

The Grandfather of Mr. W. A. Buchanan of Town, Joined the Order Seventy Years Ago.

Mr. W. A. Buchanan has received intelligence informing him of the death of his grandfather, Mr. Francis Buchanan, at Richmond, near Ottawa, in the County of Carleton.

The deceased was the oldest Freemason, in Canada, having joined the order seventy years ago, ten years before he settled in Canada. He was one of the oldest residents of Carleton County, being about 90 years of age at the time of his death. Since coming to Canada he had affiliated with Richmond Lodge and usually attended its meetings.

Mr. Buchanan was the father of Rev. W. Buchanan, Alliston, and a Methodist Minister well known in Peterborough County. Another son is the Rev. T. C. Buchanan of Regina.

YELLAND VS. YELLAND.

Text of the Judgment of the Court of Appeal in an Interesting Local Cause.

As previously announced the judgment in this case was delivered by the Court of Appeal on Tuesday last, dismissing the appeal with costs. The chief judgment was delivered by Mr. Justice Osler, who, after setting out the facts as to the late Dr. Yelland having upwards of six years before his death obtained a certificate in the Canadian Order of Foresters for $1,000 00, payable to his "next of kin," proceeds as follows:—

"The defendant's contentions are two (1) that the certificate should be read and construed as if the deceased had been designated therein as the beneficiary in accordance with the terms of his application, the insertion by the Society of the next of kin as such, having been unauthorised by him and not adopted or ratified by him and the contract issued by the Society not being the contract he applied for or accepted. If the contract was read as thus contended for, the money payable under it would pass to the defendants, the executors under the will as part of the residue, and be held by them as such, subject to the trusts of the will; (2) in the alternative it is contended that inasmuch as the certificate is expressed to be subject not only to the constitution and bylaws of the Society then in force, but to such amendments and alterations as might hereafter be legally adopted, the effect of the Rule or Bylaw No 1 of 1895 above mentioned is that next of kin are no longer by that designation capable of being beneficiaries under the Rules of the Society, and therefore that such designation must, from the time that rule was passed, be read out of the certificate, and that the money would then be payable to the wife and child of the deceased in equal shares.

"In my opinion neither of these contentions is entitled to prevail. As to the first, the action is not one for the reformation of the Certificate. If there was any contract between the deceased and the Society it is now represented by the certificate alone. Whether the deceased accepted it or not was a question of fact to be determined by the Trial Judge and the fact that he received it from the Society and retained it until his death nearly six years afterwards was quite enough to warrant any tribunal in finding that he was satisfied with it in the form in which it issued. It must now be construed in accordance with its terms so far as these terms are not controlled by any rule of this Society which may be imported into it. If the rules of 1895 do not qualify or alter it, the decision of the learned trial Judge is right. I find that these rules do not affect the certificate in the slightest degree. I concede that the deceased was bound by such rules and, if that were necessary, that he had notice of them. I should, however, hesitate long before coming to the conclusion that by force of such rules a formal contract between the Society and the deceased could be effected so as to change the person or class which had been nominated as beneficiaries under rules then existing. Here by the express terms of the original rule next of kin are named as beneficiaries to whom by force of the rule the endowment may be paid. They are omitted from the rule of 1895 but there is nothing in that rule to forbid the member from expressly designating them as beneficiaries, as that rule permits the money to be paid to the wife, children or other designated payee or payees. There can be no reason why they may not be designated beneficiaries as a class just as children may be, and, if so, how can we say that the Rule of 1895 has in any way affected the policy when we find that persons, or a class, not thereby forbidden to be beneficiaries, are named therein as such. The deceased, if he examined his policy after the Rule was passed, may well have been satisfied that it still represented his wishes, as we must take it it formerly did."

The Chief Justice and Justices Maclennan and Moss concurred.

Bon-Ton Burlesque.

For one night, Wednesday next, March 23rd, at Bradburn's opera house, the "Bon-Ton" Burlesquers will hold forth in two jolly extravaganzas, which are said to be both unique and remarkable. It is claimed that the organization is entirely different from the majority, and is fully equipped in every detail. The scenery is magnificent, costumes, studies in colour, and all designed with a view to display the sylph-like forms of the wearers. The opening portion of the bill is termed "Bachelors' Matrimonial Bureau," and is full, to repletion, with songs, dances and grand jollifications. Then comes the olio of imported novelties, — sensational, operatic, and comical, — furnished by artists whose originality will prove very refreshing after the knocked down, dragged-out affairs that the patrons of vaudeville have been accustomed to for the past few years. The entertainment will be brought to a close with the latest thing in the burlesque line called "Vassar Girls in Camp," and is a much more pretentious offering than the first part, and is a kaleidoscope of the doings of the Empire City. Seats now on sale.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END.

The New Electric Railway Deal Almost Arranged.

PARTIES UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER

The Council and Mr. Starr are Practically Agreed on a Proposition Which Seems Equally Favourable to the Town and the Company—To Settle the Details To-night.

The deal with the new Electric Railway Company is approaching a finish, although last night's meeting of the council in committee of the whole did not have any decisive results.

The mayor explained to the councillors that Mr. Starr was unable to treat with them, as soon as expected, on account of the absence from town of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway. Mr. Starr had therefore been disposited in his expectations of getting the matter settled with regard to the purchase of the Street Railway. Mr. T. G. Hazlitt had also had another engagement and it had been found impossible to get an appointment with the directors until the next day. Mr. Starr then expected to get the matter of the purchase but if the old company refused to accept a reasonable price the council would then have to consider whether this would kill the scheme or whether another franchise of the streets should be offered Mr. Starr. As matters stood in this way, Mr. Starr was not in a position to go into the matter of details at present.

Councillor Robertson asked if the old company had it in their power to block the new scheme?

The Mayor—They have only the franchise on certain streets but it is not probable they will prove unreasonable.

Councillor McWilliams thought it would be unwise to further discuss the matter at present.

The mayor suggested that a good subcommittee be appointed to meet Mr. Starr after he had conferred with the old company, and arranged the details of the scheme with him, getting the agreement into such shape as to be fit to present to the council. Then the members would be in a better position to discuss the matter, through having something to work on.

Councillor McWilliams stated that he understood Mr. Starr met the directors of the Street Railway Company at three o'clock next day. He thought the subcommittee might meet him immediately afterwards—say at four o'clock—and to be arranged. Then the Committee of the Whole should be called together early in the week and the scheme laid before the members.

Councillor Allen thought it would be better if Mr. Starr could be present at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole, as the councillors might want to make a change in the arrangements entered into by the sub-committee, and they would not know how these changes would suit Mr. Starr.

Mr. Starr suggested that he meet the council in Committee of the Whole at 7 o'clock Saturday evening before he left for Cornwall at nine.

This was agreeable to all and the Mayor appointed Councillors Langford, McWilliams, Best and Hamilton—a councillor from each ward—as the members of the sub-committee, which will get matters into shape with Mr. Starr during the afternoon to present the full details to the Committee of the Whole at seven o'clock.

During the afternoon Mr. Patrick Young and several other prominent property holders of Young's Point, interviewed Mr. Starr with the object of inducing him to extend the electric line on through Lakefield to the Point. Mr. Starr promised to give the scheme his careful attention.

PERSONAL.

Ex-Councillor John Smith of Stewart street, Ashburnham, is seriously ill with congestion of the lungs.

Mr. Benj. Cooney of Brown street, Ashburnham is convalescing after an attack of bronchitis.

Mr. F. C. Armstrong, general agent of the Canadian General Electric Co., Toronto, was in town yesterday on company business.

Miss A. Caldwell, (one of Toronto's favourite milliners), has taken full charge of Turnbull's millinery department. She comes very highly recommended, not only as to her abilities as a milliner, but also socially; where she makes friends she retains them.

Mr. F. G. Walsh, of Winnipeg, an old Peterborough boy, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Irene, has been in town for the last few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Armstrong, King street. Mr. Walsh has now the superintendency of the Bell Telephone Co's agencies between Winnipeg and the Rocky Mountains.

THE RESULT IN RUSSELL.

The result in Russell yesterday was the election of Mr. Guilbord, the Government candidate, by the decisive majority of 814, an increase over the Liberal majority of the last election, an indication that the government retains the undiminished confidence of the people. The contest was a hard fought one, and the return of the Liberal Candidate administers the coup de grace to the hopes of the Opposition, for there is now no doubt that the Government has a safe majority of six over all. The present standing of the parties is:

Liberals	50
Conservatives	43
	94

Of course the appeals against the results of re-counts in four close constituencies may affect the above totals. In one of these cases the Liberal seat is at stake, and in three the Conservative seat. Therefore supposing that all the appeals are successful, the Liberals stand to lose one seat and and the Opposition three. At the worst the results can only deprive the Liberals of one seat, which will still leave the Government with five straight supporters.

G.T.R. NORTHWEST SERVICE.

The "Trial Trip" a Satisfactory One.

According to the Winnipeg Daily Tribune quite a little excitement was occasioned in the city over the arrival of the first train under the new G.T.R. service from Ontario to Winnipeg. The train was run on special time and arrived in good time. A great many passengers were transferred at intermediate points for Southwestern Manitoba. The passengers expressed themselves delighted with the service and the comfortable character of the coaches. The colonist cars were especially commended. A special official accompanied the train on each road. The G.T.R. has reason to feel well satisfied with the "trial trip" of the new service.

The New Spring Capes are opened out at Turnbull's. Your inspection is invited.

BLUES VS. REDS.

Blues—160 points.
Reds—130 points.
This is the score in the boys' contest for members at the Y.M.C.A.

The contest closes at 9 o'clock on the evening of April 1st.

Both sides are throwing great energy into the contest, but only one can win.

One of the good town fathers said he thought the Y.M.C.A. sold baths tickets and baths singly outside of the membership. He is mistaken.

A ticket of membership in the Y.M.C.A. secured now is good until April 1st, 1899.

"Give the boys a chance" is the motto of the boys' department.

A chance to develop into strong men, physically, mentally and spiritually.

Many amusing membership campaign posters adorn the Y.M.C.A. bulletin boards these days.

The Blues have led since the start. But will they at the end? So say the Reds.

SAVE YOUR FEATHERS.

Diamond Dyes Will Make Your Faded Hat and Bonnet Feathers as Good as New.

It may be that some ladies are not aware of the fact that old hat and bonnet Feathers can be made to look as good as new by the Diamond Dyes, those universal home friends. Let us tell you how to do the work.

"Use the Diamond Dyes prepared for Wool and Silk, that can be bought from any dealer. Clean the feather by soaking it in strong soap suds for fifteen minutes, then draw gently between the thumb and forefinger a number of times, and rinse in cold water, and press gently with the hand between two cloths to remove the water; now hold before a gentle fire, shaking gently until nearly dry, and then curl by taking three or four sprigs of the feather and drawing briskly between the thumb and back of scissors, and so on until it is finished. Old feathers can be re-coloured and made to look like new. To colour feathers black be sure to use the Diamond Fast Black for Silk and Feathers, prepared by the makers of Diamond Dyes. This is the only successful dye for colouring feathers a rich black."

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

Before the council met in Committee of the Whole last evening, the members fell to talking of the caterpillar pest. The Mayor stated that yesterday morning he started young Warren out with a pruning hook in the morning, and that at noon he sent another boy to assist him. In the evening the lads came in with 800 twigs, which were encircled by the caterpillar producing egg bands. The boys went up Weller street on one side and down the other, then down Hunter street to the Grand Trunk Railway track. The Mayor made an interesting computation regarding the 800 "bracelets." At an average of 200 caterpillars each, about 160,000 of the worms would be hatched. Putting them at two inches in length, if strung out one after the other they would cover a distance of 320,000 inches or about five miles. Such a procession, the Mayor thinks, could leave his grounds, proceed to Auburn, cross the dam to the east side of the river, pass down through the Nicholls Park, through Ashburnham, up Hunter street to Homewood avenue to the boundary, encircle Jackson Park and then take in the cemetery, which would be reached by the first caterpillar before the last left the Mayor's grounds.

Speaking of caterpillars reminds me that Inspector Walker has drawn the attention of a number of the Public School pupils to the damage which the caterpillars are capable of making, and the boys did considerable execution to-day.

Numerous complaints have been made to the police in the past few days that cyclists are using the sidewalks instead of the road. The roads are not quite in fit condition for wheeling as yet and those who have been using their wheels seem to ride most of the time on the walks. The police are bound to enforce the bylaw and cyclists should take warning and keep in the middle of the road.

At a meeting of the Market Committee the other day one of the councillors spun the yarn that a citizen, who was hard up, sent a stove to the market to be sold. He gave a carter a quarter for taking it there and another quarter went to the market clerk. The auctioneer claimed a quarter—and the stove sold for seventy-five cents.

Away in the south-east heavens just now, may be seen that brilliant, blue white luminary; the Dog star. It shows up with greater beauty this month than at any other period of the year. Just think a moment or two about its distance from the earth. Astronomers tell us the Dog star is six hundred thousand times farther away than the sun, and it requires nine years for its light to flash across the space that intervenes between it and us.

Here is another arithmetical problem. Last year the town bought 800 odd cords of stone and made an appropriation of sufficient funds, at so much a cord, for breaking them. The price paid per cord for the breaking was as agreed upon and yet the appropriation is exhausted and there is plenty of unbroken stone remaining. The question is whether the town got more stone than was bought or—what.

Peterborough may not have a permanent pavement laid on George street this year after all, as the councillors who are opposed to the cost being defrayed out of the current revenue, will raise the point of order that a two thirds majority of the whole council is needed for an expenditure of money for other objects than for which it is raised. The appropriation of the Street and Bridge Committee they point out, is raised for the special purpose of conducting repairs which have been specified and that no mention was made of a permanent pavement on George street when the estimates were brought down. As this point will be raised by Councillor Best, the only way in which the pavement can be constructed this year is by the issuing of debentures. The councillors appear to be agreed on the necessity for the laying of the pavement, but differ as to the manner in which it should be paid for. If it is decided to issue the debentures could not the bylaw be submitted to the people at the same time as that regarding the electric railway subsidy?

Councillor Robertson points out that when he brought up the matter of Catholic Literary Association rooms being exempted from taxation in connection with the application of the Y.W.C.A. for exemption, he had no wish to offer any objection to the C.L.A. receiving any favours, but merely referred to it in order to point out that if it was legal to exempt them it must also be legal to act similarly by the Y.W.C.A.

THE LACROSSE CLUB ABOUT TO ORGANIZE.

The Annual Meeting Called For Tuesday Night.

QUESTIONS TO BE CONSIDERED.

The Club Has Not Determined Whether to Enter the C.L.A. or Not—Reasons for and Against the Idea.

In the spring the sun and showers give the grass a greener glow—
In the spring a young man's fancies turn to thoughts of gay lacrosse.

The warm weather experienced during the last few weeks has warmed up the blood of the lacrosse boys to such a degree that the prospects of the local team for the coming season have already been thoroughly discussed amongst the enthusiasts, and everything is now ripe for the holding of the annual meeting, which will be called on Tuesday evening, March 29, in the Oriental parlours.

The grounds were inspected yesterday afternoon by the Grounds Committee, and found to be in first class shape. The fences are in a good state of repair and the grand stand has not been molested this year. The club house is in need of a slight overhauling, but no great amount of money will have to be spent on it. As the club's balance is on the wrong side of the ledger from last year these circumstances are fortunate, as any outlay in repairs would have been almost out of the question in the present condition of the exchequer.

is in fit shape for a game any day, being as dry as a board, and if the weather only continues favourable practice will probably begin next week and the boys will have a chance of getting into shape earlier in the season than in former years. All the old members are available, but the senior team will not be altogether of the same personnel as that of last year, as some of the Bank men who have won reputations in other towns have signified their intention of donning the scarlet and grey and identifying themselves with the Peterboroughs. Other new men will be seen on the field and there will be a much larger number of players to pick from this year than last, which will enable the team committee to form a strong twelve.

From statements which have been made by the Granite team of previous years a large number of the members, if not the entire club, will join the Peterboroughs and take the field under the name of the Peterborough Juniors, as nearly all the players from that once are now figuring on the senior team.

One of the most important questions which has come before the club in years will be discussed at the annual meeting, viz., the withdrawal from the Canadian Lacrosse Association. There is much to be said both for and against such action.

The fact of the club working its way up into the semi-finals of the Eastern Ontario series last year certainly gave them a prestige which was never attained before and Peterborough was named by many as the winner of the championship. It was known by every club in the league that the club was purely amateur and composed entirely of home players and when Markham succeeded in defeating them and putting them out of the running, it was acknowledged that it was not a case of one amateur team winning from another, but of a home team succumbing to one composed of the best players procurable in the entire district. Such an occurrence as this, it is said, cannot happen next year, a "bona-fide residency" clause is to be insisted on in the rules. This clause would be a move in but would it be enforced? There are other clauses in the constitution which read well, and are intended to benefit the game, but which are entirely overlooked when a decision is called for in respect to a point upon which they bear.

But all this is aside from the question. In a word the benefits to be derived from connection with the C. L. A. under proper management is the prestige attained by a club which which can win its way through the different series into the finals.

Against affiliation with the C.L.A. can be brought forward the argument of the great expense entailed in bringing outside referees and umpires to the town and the fact that the schedule of games has hitherto been arranged in such a manner as to bring off the matches so late in the season that the attendance was not large enough to meet the expenses. Last season the Peterboroughs had a nest egg in the bank until the league games commenced, and after that money was dropped on every match.

In a nutshell the argument can be placed in this manner: With a capable executive committee, which understands the wisdom in enforcing the playing of scheduled games early in the season, and an arrangement whereby capable referees and umpires could be procured from neighbouring towns at small expense, there would be something in joining the association, but without these two conditions the club would run chances of coming out behind in financial matters another season.

All the members of the club are requested to attend the meeting prepared to discuss the matter in all its details.

Another matter in which the public will perhaps be more interested is in the decision reached as to what team to invite to Peterborough for the Queen's Birthday. At present the boys are undecided as to whether the Tecumsehs, the Dufferins, of Orangeville, who won the C.L.A. championship last year, the Markhams or the Stouffvilles would afford the best afternoon's sport. At any rate, the question should be promptly decided, so that a good team can be secured before they make other engagements.

A BIKE WINDOW.

Interesting Display of Record-Breaking Bicycles at Fairweather & Co's.

It is not an unusual sight just now to see a store window with a bicycle display in it, but it is a most unusual sight to see such an effective bicycle window as has been put on exhibition in Fairweather's south front. The wheels represented are the 1898 "E. & D.'s" and "Gendron's"—all up-to-date and leaders in the wheel market, and claimed to be laps ahead in popularity of most wheels fighting for supremacy in Canada.

Everybody can now be suited in cost of wheels. Good bikes from $30 up to $85 are shown in Fairweather's window display. The greater excellence in style and finish make the going rates from $50 to $75.

Suspended in the centre of this window full of wheels may be seen one of the E. & D.'s Company's attractive new advertising specialties, in the form of a heavy plate glass design, decorated with the Maple Leaf, in natural colours, and the now very familiar initials "E & D" standing out in bold relief thereupon. A still more interesting novelty may be seen in the foreground, where one of the bicycles is kept running by some unseen power. The enquiry being made: "What's running it?" your reporter was shown a miniature electric motor secreted in a secluded corner in rear of the window display, which propelled the wheel.

Every indication emphasizes the probability that 1898 will be the banner year in the bicycle trade. Coincident with the reduction in the price of bicycles is the gratifying assurance that the purchaser of this year is gets as good value for his money as his predecessors, who spent perhaps double the amount. Fairweather & Co. are noted as hustling bicycle sellers—you'll say so when you see them—and when an up-to-date wheel is wanted at the right place, you can count on getting it at Fairweather's.

AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

In the minds of most people the manufacture of paints and colours is not thought of as much importance, and this branch of business is little understood by the public generally.

Twenty-five or thirty years ago paint was made in a very crude way and consisted mainly of grinding white lead and colours in oil—the mixing or preparing for use, being done by the consumer.

To-day it is different. This branch of business, like all others, has made rapid improvements. The best paint is now made ready for the brush. Paint for every purpose can now be bought ready to put on.

This change has been brought about by the application of special machinery for the fine grinding and thorough mixing of the different pigments and ingredients. This with skilled labour produces paints better and cheaper than under the old method.

Much of the improvement and advancement in paint making is due to the Sherwin-Williams Co'y, who are, without doubt, the largest manufacturers of paint in the world. This company has an extensive plant—the largest of the kind in existence—at Cleveland, Ohio. It will give an idea of the extent of their premises when it is stated their floor space exceeds nine acres. Many thousands of gallons of paint ready to use is delivered out every day. Besides the Cleveland plant the Company have their own factories at Chicago and Montreal, Canada, also branch houses at New York and Boston.

The Sherwin-Williams Paints are used by the principal railways and steamship companies in the United States and Canada. There is scarcely a town or village in either country where the well known S.-W. P. may not be obtained. Fifty travellers are constantly on the road, covering every point of the continent in the interests of the extensive business.

The business was built up from small beginnings and its great success is due largely to the fact that from the start the proprietors have never allowed more than one quality—the best they could make—to go out under their label. The result is, wherever The Sherwin-Williams name is found on a package of paint it stands for the best that there is in paint.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Condensed Summary of News Received by Telegraph—An Interesting Budget From All Over.

English tobacco merchants in Havana have been advised by cablegrams from London to leave Cuba—that war is inevitable.

Walter Sanger Pullman, one of the twin sons of the late George M. Pullman, was married at San Francisco to Miss Louise Lander West of that city.

It has been officially announced that, owing to international complications, the time for holding the Pan-American Exposition has been postponed until 1901.

Senor Congosto, the Secretary-General for Cuba, is greatly exercised over the amity that has sprung up between Great Britain and the United States.

The Spanish Government has requested the United States to transfer their fleet from the Dry Tortugas and Key West to a greater distance from the Cuban coast.

While the American medical missions were at Chung-King-Fu, China, they were attacked by a fierce mob, and one of the medical assistants, a native, was killed.

The Spanish newspapers in Havana have published despatches to the effect that the powers forming the Triple Alliance will not allow the United States to interfere in Cuba.

The Italian Minister of Marine has hinted that the United States has purchased the Carlo Alberto, a steel-armored cruiser of the Italian navy, built in Spezzia in 1896.

A special despatch from Rome says the Italian Government has sold the armored cruiser Varese to Spain. The vessel is of steel, 6,840 tons displacement, speed 20 knots an hour.

CHATHAM FLOOD SUBSIDES.

Danger Past, But Damage Has Been Done to the Extent of $54,000.

Chatham, March 18.—After having reached 23 feet above its normal level the Thames at Chatham is subsiding at the rate of an inch per hour. All danger has passed and the work of repairing the damage will be started at once. The weather is fine and bright and no further flood is anticipated. A detailed statement of the damage foots up to $54,000. The loss to employers of labor, contractors, the Erie & Huron Railway Co., manufacturers, etc., by reason of cessation of ordinary work will augment the grand total very considerably.

Suicide at Toronto Junction.

Toronto Junction, March 18.—A sad suicide occurred here yesterday afternoon, when James D. Nelson, a polisher in the Cleveland Bicycle Works, 25 years of age, took his life by drinking three ounces of carbolic acid. After having tea with his wife, he went to the sideboard, poured the carbolic acid into a cup and said, "Molly, come here." Just then he took the whole draught in her presence and asked her, "Do you know what that is?" She replied, "Why, it's machine oil."

"No, it's not," he answered, "it's poison."

Interrogation as to why he had taken it met with no response. His wife rushed for milk and oil and tried to give it to him, but he appeared to in no way relent his action and within 20 minutes, soon after Dr. Clendenan had arrived, he expired. His wife, aged 19, is left with two children, one year and two years old respectively, and is inconsolable.

Children Got Married.

Windsor, Ont., March 18.—Two children belonging to the best families in Toledo ran away from home, came to Windsor and were married in spite of all the laws of Ontario. The bridegroom was George Herskovits, aged 17, and the bride, Clara Raymond, had reached the matural age of 14. They thought it was a capital joke, but E. P. Raymond, father of the bride, has taken his daughter home and threatens to take steps to have the marriage annulled. It is only a few weeks since the Ontario Government discovered by accident that two little girls, one from Detroit and the other from South Essex, had been married at Windsor to old men.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills, cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

When I was Sick.

A BIG SURPRISE

PEOPLE AMAZED TO SEE

Maxwell Johnston

WELL.

KNEW HE WAS

DYING of DROPSY.

Now I am Well.

He tells UNDER OATH how

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

CURED HIM.

The story of Maxwell Johnston's cure is one of the marvels of modern medicine. That a man so far gone with Dropsy that seventeen gallons of water were removed at two tappings, and whom the best doctors in Toronto had given only twelve days longer to live, should to-day be strong and healthy, attending to his printing business, showing no evidence of disease, would seem incredulus, were it not backed up by the sworn statement of Mr. Johnston himself, corroborated by prominent and well-known citizens whose reliability is beyond all question. The following declaration speaks for itself:—

TORONTO, ONT., Jan. 12th, 1898.

THE DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO.,

Toronto, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—For over ten months I suffered from dropsy and liver trouble caused by wrong action of the kidneys and liver. The trouble originated from an attack of La Grippe, which left me in a very serious state, and produced symptoms so alarming that I had to call in medical aid. I was treated by well-known and prominent physicians and was also at the leading city hospitals, and within six months had seven different operations performed, which merely gave me temporary relief. Besides this I tried all the various patent medicines and household remedies which were recommended to me from time to time.

Notwithstanding all this skillful and careful treatment, I continued to grow worse, and the physicians who last operated on me considered my case a hopeless one, and gave me only six to twelve days longer to live.

I may say that so dropsical had I become that in the last two operations seventeen gallons of water were removed.

I now began to despair of ever being well again, and had lost all hope of recovery when I was persuaded to try DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, with LAXA-LIVER PILLS to act on my bowels, which were quite constipated.

To my surprise and delight I received relief almost immediately. At this time I was unable to lie down, and for three and a half months had been forced to sleep in a chair. Soon after taking Doan's Kidney Pills and Laxa-Liver Pills, though, I was able to lie down and rest in comfort.

My waist measure was then 53 inches, but is now only 33 inches since the wonderful cure made by these Pills. When I was ill and bloated with dropsy I weighed 198 pounds. After operations I was reduced to 130 pounds. I now weigh 160 pounds, my normal ordinary weight. There is not the slightest doubt that Doan's Kidney Pills have done their work thoroughly. I have watched their effects closely in my case; they acted like a charm, and to them alone is due the wonderful cure which rescued me from the grave.

I am now positively and perfectly cured, and have for the past eight months been feeling as strong and well as ever I did in my life, and am prepared to undergo an examination at the hands of any reputable physician if any one doubts the completeness of my restoration to health.

I am a printer and publisher by trade, and in addition to conducting an extensive business for years, have held positions on the Globe, Mail, Methodist Book Room, etc.

Although it may seem incredible, every word I have stated can be backed up by unimpeachable evidence. Hundreds of citizens and friends all over the country saw me when I was sick and gave me up to die. Now they are surprised to see me restored to complete health by the use of DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS. Some of my friends could hardly believe I could survive, until they saw me strong and healthy again.

I cannot too strongly recommend all suffers from Dropsy, Kidney, or Liver troubles of any kind to give DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS and LAXA-LIVER PILLS a trial, as I am sure that what they have done in a case so desperate as mine, they will do in any case that may occur.

The following well known gentlemen can corroborate all that has been said, as they knew me when I was ill, and have seen me since my complete and unexpected restoration to health:

R. J. Fleming, Esq., Ex-Mayor of Toronto.
Rev. H. C. Dixon, Toronto.
E. F. Clarke, M. P., Ex-Mayor of Toronto.
J. W. St. John, M. P. P.
Patrick Boyle, Esq., of the Catholic Register.
Frederick Diver, Esq., of the Central Press Agency, Toronto.
Jas. J. McCaffery, Esq., Toronto.

(Signed) MAXWELL JOHNSTON, Toronto, Ont.

Witness—JOHN WHITCOMBE.

Mr. Johnston appeared before Mr. C. Henderson, Commissioner in the High Court of Justice, and gave the following declaration as regards the absolute truth of the statements made in his letter:—

DOMINION OF CANADA, PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, COUNTY OF YORK.

To WIT:—

In the matter of a letter addressed to The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont., January 12th, 1898, I, Maxwell Johnston, of the City of Toronto, in the County of York, Printer, do solemnly declare that the statements contained in the above letter are true in every particular, and I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act, 1893. Declared before me at Toronto, in the County of York, this the 12th day of January, 1898, Chas. H. Henderson, a Commissioner in the High Court of Justice.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

COSTUME ACCESSORIES.

Small but Important Details of the Fashionable Toilet.

Colored ruches are much worn as a finish in the neck of bodices, light tints, such as straw, turquoise, pink and mauve, being employed with gowns of a dark tone.

Turquoise is a fashionable color and is adopted by everybody, regardless of complexion, since la mode now decrees that all colors are suitable to all skins. Red and yellow are chosen by blonds, blue and purple by brunettes, and all theories of coloring are disregarded, although it is still fundamentally true that certain complexions appear to far greater advantage when special colors are placed in juxtaposition. Fashion covers a multitude of sins, however, and artistic suitability is of far less importance.

Certain ball gowns, decidedly low cut as to the neck, have long sleeves, but these are of the thinnest gauze, wrinkled and show the bare arms through their unlined, diaphanous folds.

Women who are subject to colds or who have a delicate chest, but who cannot endure woolen undervests, should wear chest protectors made of fine flannel, the bib be-

Free Trial To Any Honest Man

The Foremost Medical Company in the World in the Cure of Weak Men Makes this Offer.

HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.

So much deception has been practiced in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliance and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy blood and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap the energy.

They cure nervousness, despondency and all the effects of evil habits, excesses, overwork, etc.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Failure is impossible and age is no barrier.

This "Trial without Expense" offer is limited by the company to a short time, and application must be made at once.

No C. O. D. scheme, no begging philanthropy nor deception, no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO N.Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.

sides. These protectors may be made very attractive if white, pink or blue flannel is used, the binding being of silk. They may likewise be embroidered. They are to be worn immediately under the bodice. Corset covers of cotton flannel are also a great protection from cold, the material being well nigh impervious to wind and drafts, but as they are rather bulky plump women often do not care to adopt them.

An illustration is given of a novel evening wrap which could be worn by only the slenderest figures. It is a long cape of lace, quite unlined and bordered with a ruffle of mousseline de soie. The cape is encircled by horizontal bands of sable and has a high sable collar. The shoulders are covered by a sort of yoke of ostrich plumage. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Too Personal.

One of the women's patriotic societies held an open meeting in Washington recently, and the members were called upon to respond to various sentiments of a patriotic character. The woman who had the affair in charge notified each member of the toast she would be expected to respond to ten days or so before the meeting. To one young woman whom, as it happened, she did not know personally at all she sent the toast, "Our Fag." The young woman received it, and at once went to call on the head of the society in a state of great distress. She simply could not respond to the toast, she said. She didn't know whether a joke was intended, but she had been chaffed unmercifully about it already and just simply wouldn't go near the meeting if she were to be called on to speak on that subject.

"Why, what on earth is wrong with that sentiment?" asked the head of the society.

The pretty young woman hesitated. She blushed.

"Well," she said, "you see, I'm going to marry a man named Flagg."—Washington Post.

A MT. FOREST CASE.

Mr. James Paddon Viciously Assaulted by a Fierce Assailant.

Kidney Disease Caused him Much Suffering—But a Staunch Friend, Dodd's Kidney Pills, went to his Assistance—Now he is as well as Ever he Was.

MOUNT FOREST, March 18th.—A most daring assault was made on one of our well-known citizens here recently. The victim is Mr. James Paddon, and the attack was a very determined and vicious one. By the timely aid of a staunch and true friend, however, he managed to elude the clutches of his assailant, but not before he had sustained serious injuries, that caused him great suffering. Mr. Paddon's assailant was that bane of the age, Kidney Disease, and the friend that rendered such valuable help was Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Paddon suffered for a long time, with severe backache, and pain in his stomach and kidneys. There were other symptoms of Kidney Disease present, and knowing what the end would be, unless the complaint was promptly checked, he began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

He used two boxes in all and they cured him completely. He is now enjoying as good health as ever he did, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills alone.

There are no "Dull Times" for disease and death. They are always busy. They never want for victims. But Province has given man a way of banishing the most deadly forms of disease—kidney troubles—and of resisting the attacks of death successfully. Dodd's Kidney Pills positively cure all types of Kidney Disease. This has been proven thousands of times, and is now universally admitted. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Lumbago, Female Diseases, etc., speedily yield to them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Bookmaking In the Middle Ages.

It required a man of great parts to be a successful publisher at that time, as much as or even more than it does today. Such an institution, for example, as the Sorbonne or University of Paris required the highest guarantees of character, capital and literary capacity in the licensed bookseller. He must be an adept in all the knowledge and science of the period, as well as perfectly skilled in the mechanical needs of his business. The university, too, which was always in close touch with the church, even when its studies had begun to broaden, exercised a jealous censorship, lest some religious heresy should creep in. Whenever an error of this or even of a more trivial sort was found, the transcripts were burned and the bookseller heavily fined. Sometimes his privileges might be entirely revoked, indeed, and he himself imprisoned. The bookseller could not even fix a price on his own products.

Four of the guild in Paris, for example, were sworn as appraisers by the authorities of the Sorbonne to fix the selling value of a book, and any deviation from this was a penal offense. To students the price was fixed at two-thirds of the charge asked of the general purchaser. The booksellers could not dispose of their entire stock and trade without the license of the university, which must also approve the purchaser. As an additional help to students, the Sorbonne in the middle of the fourteenth century framed a law compelling all booksellers to keep books to lend out on hire, and this example was imitated at Toulouse, Bologna, Vienna and Oxford. In this way circulating libraries were established in the middle ages.—Harper's Round Table.

Suicide Among the Germans.

Another social phenomenon has been laid at the door of the Teutonic race of northern Europe, one which even more than divorce is directly the concomitant of modern intellectual and economic progress. We refer to suicide. Morselli devotes a chapter of his interesting treatise upon this subject to proving that "the purer the German race—that is to say, the stronger the Germanism (e. g., Teutonism) of a country—the more it reveals in its psychical character an extraordinary propensity to self destruction." On the other hand, the Slavic peoples seem to him to be relatively immune. These conclusions he draws from detailed comparison of the distribution of suicide in the various countries of western Europe, and it must be confessed that he has collected data for a very plausible case. There can be no doubt that in Germany the phenomenon culminates in frequency for all Europe, and that it tends to disappear in almost direct proportion to the attenuation of the Teutonic racial characteristics elsewhere.—William Z. Ripley in Popular Science Monthly.

"Well, Arabella, you'd never guess, I am quite sure."

"You are not going to make a doctor of yourself, are you?"

"Not at all. I am trying to find out which of my two suitors I love enough to marry. What do you think of that?"

"How can a cyclopedia of medicine help you?"

"Well, it's this way. Mr. Oldspoon is 57 years of age. He is worth £80,000 and has consumption. Mr. Dukkats is 65 years old. He is worth £100,000 and has heart disease. I thought perhaps this medical book would help me to make up my mind. I have about decided that I love Mr. Dukkats the better. Which would you love?"—Strand Magazine.

In Every Hundred From Catarrh Have a Friend Indeed in Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder

"I was a catarrh victim for many years. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has done me great service. I tried every remedy in the category of catarrh cures without any permanent relief. After taking only a few doses I received great benefit, and in a very short while my catarrh had disappeared. I am satisfied it is the best, safest and quickest remedy known for this malady to-day." EARLY ARITHMETICS.

Struggles of the Pilgrim Children With One of the "R's."

Next to penmanship the colonial school and schoolmaster took firm stand on "ciphering." "The Bible and figgers is what I want my boys to know," said the old farmer. I have examined with care a Wingate's Arithmetic which was used for over a century in the Winslow family in Massachusetts. The first edition was printed in 1630. It is certainly bewildering to a modern reader. "Pythagoras—His Table" is, of course, our multiplication table. Then comes "The Rule of Three," "The Double Golden Rule," "The Rule of Fellowship," "The Rule of False," etc., ending with "a collection of pleasant and polite questions to exercise all the parts of vulgar arithmetick."

Wingate's Arithmetic and Hodder's Airthmetic were succeeded by Pike's Arithmetic. This had 363 rules to be committed to memory, and not an explanation was given of one of them. It is the most barren schoolbook I have ever read. These printed arithmetics were not in common use. Nearly all teachers had manuscript "sum books," from which the scholars copied page after page of "sums," too often without any explanation of the process, though there were also many and long rules, which helped the penmanship if they did not the mathematics.—Chautauquan.

Throat lined with Ulcers

A Young Lady Cured of Long Standing Catarrh and Catarrhal Sore Throat by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Miss Anna A. Howey, of Eden, Ont., says that she suffered from Catarrh for ten years, used a number of remedies advertised, but was always disappointed in the result.

Last fall she suffered intense pain in her head and her throat was lined with ulcers. The doctors called it Catarrhal Sore Throat, but did not cure it. She saw that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure was being highly recommended, so procured a box from C. Thomson, druggist, Tilsonburg, Ont., and commenced its use. Soon the ulcers cleared away from her throat, the pain in her head ceased. She says that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure does not cause distress or sneezing when being used, and is the most effective catarrh remedy she ever tried.

Mr. J. D. Phillips, a Justice of the Peace, declares that he knows Miss Howey and her mother, and can vouch for the truthfulness of her statements.

Story of a Ring and a Slipper.

The daughter of a wealthy resident of the hill section presented a young woman friend with a pair of dainty slippers, and in the toe of one of them she placed a valuable ring, set with an opal and two diamonds. The present went to the destination, but the slippers did not fit, and the recipient of the gift did not discover the ring. She sent the slippers back to the store, and they were placed on the shelves with the thousands of other similar boxes.

On Monday the floorwalker in the shoe department received a severe shock when a young woman rushed into the place and rambled off a lot of talk about missing jewels. After some difficulty he managed to get the facts of her story together, and then every one of the employees was ordered to begin a search for the slippers. In two hours they were found, and the ring was just where it had been placed.—Brooklyn Eagle.

WOMAN'S WAY.

Gert's Gossip on Timely Topics.

I was at the meeting of the Fortnightly Club on Tuesday night and in addition to being delighted with four good speeches, was delighted to see that the majority of the audience was composed of ladies. Women are at the front in every good work and I was not surprised. Women compose the bulk of the congregation at week day services in our churches—I suppose the men think themselves good enough to be straightened up by going to church once a week. But they are mistaken and they will be more mistaken if they expect to get to heaven by proxy—by virtue of the piety of their wives. While the men are not all angels, there are some women inclined to be cranks. For instance, "Jane," who wrote the letter to the EXAMINER a day or two ago, was very severe on me. I don't blame her—I pity her, poor thing! She blames me for recommending my favourite dry goods merchant and invites me to call at another establishment. Well, I read all the advertisements and wouldn't know where to find the place she recommends. I never see it mentioned in the papers. It is a rule of good society that we should not go where we are not invited, and as Jane's pet merchant has never invited me, like other merchants, through the press, I can't go.

O, dear! the spring has come so suddenly and there is so much to do. The warm weather makes me think of flowers and I am so fond of them that they are the first spring necessity I think of. A woman who doesn't love flowers as bad as a man.

March is a trying month, and yet this week I had one of the brightest bits of experience I ever had, which I hope may be of benefit to others of my sex. I felt almost as badly as I could feel in the early part of the week. Indigestion was running riot. And a woman is not apt to feel as if she could be very much of a companion to anybody when she has a full developed attack of the blues, especially if it occurs in March. It is a time when the small troubles are the most upsetting. Everything is a mountain. I was in that condition, when suddenly a door opened and a friend dashed in full of life and buoyancy. She had just come from the hospital and urged me to go with her to the West-End green houses to get some flowers to send to the sick room of a dear companion. I caught up her message fraught with fragrance and kindness, and my thoughts were turned into an entirely different channel. What sweeter realisation is there than to find out the tenderness and thoughtfulness of friends? Virtues of heart, which we never dreamed of as existing within us, reveal themselves when we are sorely tried. Yes, indeed, March has its spring violets. It was about three in the afternoon when we reached the greenhouse, and the sun was shining down on the upturned blooming faces of new spring flowers as we entered. We found the obliging manager, Mr. Blade, in his office, and my friend told him she wanted to send some flowers to a sick companion in the hospital.

"Come this way," and he led us through the long, glass hot houses, teeming with moist air and potted plants, many of them in full bloom. Oh, how flowers will awaken a feeling of thankfulness and relief in the heart after the long interval of cheerless winter bondage! For an hour we admired and talked and selected to our heart's content.

"But you don't mean to have the flowers sent up this afternoon to your sick friend, do you?" said Mr. Blade.

"Why, what do you mean?" asked my friend. "I thought flowers were acceptable at any time of day or night."

"So they are," returned the man, "but they are more acceptable to a sick person at one time than another. Flowers should be sent to the sick early in the morning, when the invalid feels brightest after the night's rest, for an invalid feels better in the morning, even after a poor night, than later in the day. The flowers go in early in the day and brighten every hour of it. Send flowers to sick people at this time in the afternoon, and nine out of ten will hardly look at them, and while they might appreciate the thought they get no enjoyment out of them."

"How strange, I never thought of that. I was ill last fall and got perfect loads of flowers, and I remember perfectly now that I enjoyed those that came to me early in the morning most of all."

"Another thing," continued the flower expert, "great care should be exercised in selecting flowers for the people that are ill. Certain strong-scented flowers are sickening to an invalid, and positively injurious when the vitality is low. Then, again, suppose you are sending flowers to a middle-aged woman, send old-fashioned flowers, carnations, mignonette, violet and such things as will recall pictures of her girlhood. If you are sending to a young woman, fond of society, choose beauty roses, orchids, or some such flowers. Above all, never select a white flower or any blossom that gives a hint of death to one who is sick."

I had learned something and so had my friend, for which we expressed our thanks to Mr. Blade. Isn't there a great deal in what he said? Then we had to take another stroll through the flowers, to sort up after the lesson we got. Mr. Roger's greenhouses are a credit to the town. With the recent new additions, they now cover about 12,000 feet of glass, and the new heating apparatus introduced this winter has proved a gratifying success. As compared with Dunlop's, the capacity is not so great, but I defy you to pick out any better quality of flowers than is grown at the West-End greenhouses. I saw among the large display of native and exotic plants, in these extensive conservatories, about 5,000 geraniums freshly potted out, including the very newest and choicest varieties of recent introductions; over 1,000 cannas, the choice of all the latest varieties; a nice batch of 500 or 600 fuchsias; an endless variety of well selected begonias in healthy bloom; a pretty plot of shamrocks; specimens of the new crimson rose "The Rambler," just introduced; a plantation of Easter lillies, calla lillies and amaryllis, and crocuses and palms and cacti and foliage plants too numerous to mention.

It occurred to me to ask if it was not inconvenient to be without a down-town show room. Mr. Blade answered that it had its disadvantages and advantages, which was made up to their customers, who got their plants all the cheaper on account of the saving in the expense which a down-town store would mean. Every facility is afforded those who cannot find it convenient to come to the greenhouses. Orders can be left at Messrs. Consal & Co.'s store on George street, or No. 376 Water street; besides the conservatory office is connected by telephone. As we turned to come out of the grounds and took a critical look at fine old "Cordnch," I couldn't help the mental reflection, "What a perfectly lovely centre for distributing happiness!"

There is too much license given our girls in their intercourse with men who are looked upon with distrust by their brothers and fathers. Because these men are clever, handsome of carriage, skilled in compliment, or graceful of deportment, their true characters are oftimes not apparent or are purposely allowed to be overlooked. But the danger is present none the less, and if girls had a truer conception of what a "fast life" means—the effect upon man, and what it signifies, in after years, to the woman who marries a man of that sort—they would realize that no arts nor graces can counterbalance a stained character. It is all very well to be tender in our regard for the feelings of our girls, but there is a limit, a point at which discretion becomes a crime. And that point has been reached when girls are allowed to know and associate with such men all unconscious to the danger. When every mother or father, or person with whom the duty may rest, classes the "fast" man where he belongs, and portrays him in his true light, it will be better for our girls. It is high time that some of them should know that the man who leads anything but a pure life buys, in every instance, that experience at a distinct sacrifice to himself and at a tremendous cost to the girl who marries him. The feeling which sometimes actuates a girl to marry such a man—that love of conquest of a man who has "seen the world," and who then comes to her, and chooses her as the one woman in the world of all those he has ever known who can make his life happy—is a feeling that is bought at a high price. "Forewarned is forearmed" is the only safeguard, and that safeguard should be the knowledge and possession of every girl. It is a safeguard which every parent should give a daughter.

A practical woman of a neighbouring town not more than 30 miles west of Peterborough, who lost her fortune through misplaced confidence in the unstable custodian of her trust moneys, and who has since recouped herself through her own talents and energy, spoke her mind to me the other day. I had some private funds of my own, and wished to make a suitable investment, but was frightened every time I thought over a new plan for fear it wouldn't be safe. I shrank from parting with my little patrimony, although I was anxious to transfer the responsibility of the care and management of it to a trustworthy agency. I felt that the first look-out of a woman who had some property of her own was a safe investment for the benefit of her family. I also felt that the time to make it was when the faculties are unimpaired by time or the ravages of disease. My money was earning little or nothing as it was. A portion of it was at deposit with the Government, bearing only three per cent interest, and I understood the government was talking about reducing the rate to two and a half per cent. I hesitated to put a burden upon a friend, for there is always the risk that the trustee might die first, and so complicate matters. After I had thus explained my case to my practical friend, she said to me:—

"Hundreds of women are to-day in the same fix as yourself. Now, I'll tell you what you do. No, perhaps, it would be better to let Mr. Hill tell you himself. You know who I mean—Mr. W. H. Hill, the general agent of the Sun Life Assurance Company. It was he that advised me and put me in the safe position I am to-day."

After some further explanation I decided to make an appointment and have an interview with Mr. Hill. He came on the day appointed, and I had invited Miss ———, my practical friend, to be with me. I gave Mr. Hill my confidence and found that the Sun Life had provided for women a number of excellent plans for investment of their moneys, which had not only the safety of the Government at its back, but guarantees of double the interest I had been receiving. For instance I found I could take out a Guaranteed Income Policy, which has much to recommend it. It is one of the modern developments in life assurance. According to the old method the actual sum assured is paid in one sum at the death of the policy holders. But the Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 20 equal annual instalments, just as the old coupon instalment bond did. It goes farther and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of twenty years, the instalments will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life. It is thus impossible to be left in straightened circumstances at any time, and even if she should die, the instalments will yet be paid after her death until twenty annual payments have been made. An income is therefore assured for more than a sufficient time to guarantee that her children will be properly educated and set on their feet in life. And all this is given for a premium much below that required for an assurance of a similar amount on the old fashioned plans.

Here is another proposition that Mr. Hill made, which I liked very much. It is a debenture policy, and has been specially designed to relieve beneficiaries under policies from all the trouble, expense and danger of loss connected with the investment of money by inexperienced persons. This object is accomplished by providing that instead of paying the sum assured in cash, the Sun Life Company will discharge its obligations by handing to the beneficiary or to the assured, as the case may be, a formal bond for the amount of the assurance, payable at the end of twenty years from the first day of the month following the receipt of proof of death (or from the maturity of the endowment), and having attached thereto interest coupons at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable half yearly. As the bond is guaranteed by the entire assets of the Company, it is, as regards security, on a par with the best municipal bonds, and as it bears interest at five per cent. per annum, it will all times be worth a large premium beyond its face value. Each policy contains a printed offer from the Company itself to purchase the bond at the time of its issue at a premium of not less than fifteen per cent.

I hope that women, married women especially, will properly appreciate the privileges which I have attempted to explain. I know there are many who I may be now talking to who have to thank the Sun Life Company for much of the comforts they are at present enjoying. And now that women have equal privileges with men it behooves them to avail themselves of these privileges and set up no Hon. Joseph Chamberlain's stirring words, which have become a watchword of the Sun Life Company—"What we have, we'll hold."

MAKE YOUR TEST

And Get Rid of Dyspepsia at the Same Time.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the Only Medicine on Earth that will Cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc.—But they do it Properly and Quickly.

"Does the "weather effect you injuriously?" Do you feel drowsy, sleepy, weak, languid and unable to "hold your head up?" Are you miserable, when the weather is cloudy, or rainy or changeable? Do you know what is the matter?

You have Dyspepsia, and you require a treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. That's all.

"That's all?" And is that not enough? Isn't that serious enough?" you ask.

Serious enough is all truth. It means your life is at stake; that there are days and nights of horrible suffering before you—unless you prevent it. That's the serious side of it.

But you needn't trouble about it. You can set yourself on your feet again, quite easily.

How?

By using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will digest your food quickly, naturally, and thoroughly. There's no chance of any stomach disease existing when these Tablets are used.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only medicine in the world that can do this. Every other fails.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Foul Breath, Wind on the Stomach, Waterbrash, Heartburn, Biliousness, and all other stomach diseases vanish at once, and for ever before Dodd's Kidney Pills.

It's true, every word of it. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure these diseases, at once, and for ever. If you don't believe it, test them. They'll convince you by curing you.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food; tone and strengthen the stomach; regulate and invigorate the bowels, and build up the entire digestive system.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent, on receipt of price, by The Doods Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Prize Tea Store, 328 George street. After critically examining the tea she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another gentleman says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and our own raising of Pickled, Smoked, Salted Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and at price to suit all. Come to the best, get the best, and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 328 George Street.

A BATTLE IMMINENT.

The Dervishes and the Anglo-Egyptian Column May Meet.

THE FIGHTING IN INDIA ENDED.

The Situation in the East—The French Demands and Their Effect—An Internal Conspiracy Against the Manchu Dynasty—Hunan Officials Said to Be Mixed Up in It—Cable News.

Kunar Camp, Nubia, March 21.—A battle is imminent between the Anglo-Egyptian column and the dervishes.

The combined forces have started to advance up the Atbara to meet the enemy, who are also advancing, but who, it is believed, are not aware of the proximity of the British.

Atbara Camp, March 21.—The whole force has arrived at the Hudi Forts after a splendid march of five hours from Kunar, partly through a dust storm. There is no sign of the enemy. The Anglo-Egyptian army has formed a strong sereba for the night. All the fords on the Atbara are held by the cavalry and the camel corps.

INDIAN FIGHTING ENDED.

Northwest Frontier Rebels Give Up 70 Hostages Demanded.

Calcutta, March 21.—The fighting on the Northwest frontier is now regarded as ended. The rebels have given the 70 hostages demanded.

The budget statement to be read to the Legislative Council to-day is very favorable. It estimates that there will be a surplus of $90,000 rupees from the coming year, and it reviews 20 years of Indian finance, though without discussing the currency policy.

THE EASTERN SITUATION.

Confirmatory and Other Reports Concerning the French Demands in China.

London, March 21.—The Chinese Ambassador visited the Foreign Office Saturday evening by special invitation. It is supposed that the French demands in China were the subject of discussion. There are some doubts as to the extent of the demands.

A despatch to the Daily Mail from Nagasaki mentions a report that the Yang-Tse valley is included, which tends to confirm the report from Pekin that France has demanded that China shall not cede any portion of the Province of Kwei-Chan, this province being within the valley.

The Times has a despatch from Pekin, however, which explains that the demands apply only to the three provinces, Kwang Tung, Kwang-Si and Yun-Nan.

Discussing the matter editorially, the Times suggests as an explanation of these discrepancies that M. Dubail, the French Charge d'Affaires at Pekin, has demanded more than he was authorized to demand and that M. Hanotaux, in consequence, has disavowed him in the statement issued yesterday, saying that there was no connection between the demands of the French Government in China and the Chinese loan.

The Paris correspondent of the Times reports passages of a conversation with a diplomatist, in the course of which M. Hanotaux, the French Foreign Minister, repudiated the idea that he desired to join any scheme for the disintegration of China.

France and the Chinese Loan.

Paris, March 21.—A semi-official statement has been issued saying that there is no connection between the demands of the French Government in China and the Chinese loan. The French demands reached Pekin at the beginning of the month, and the negotiations were immediately transferred to Paris, where they are proceeding between the Chinese Minister, Tching Tchang, and M. Hanotaux, the French Foreign Minister. The French charge that there is no occasion to threaten or menace China with the forcible seizure of a coaling station.

REBELLION TALK IN CHINA.

Officials in Hunan Province Conspiring to Overthrow the Manchu Dynasty.

London, March 21.—A special despatch from Shanghai says a conspiracy, with the object of bringing about rebellion, has been started by Chinese officials of various ranks at Chang-Sha, in the Province of Hunan. It is said to have spread to all the provinces bordering on the Yang-Tse-Kiang, and fears are expressed that it may prove to be the most formidable since the Tai-Ping rebellion. It is professedly a patriotic movement to overthrow the Manchu dynasty and save the Central Provinces from European control. But it is suspected that the plot emanates from the mandarins, who are alarmed at the prospect of a diversion of part of their pickings to pay the interest on the new loan. The Pekin authorities are cognisant of the movement, but distrusting the loyalty of the provincial satraps, they are helpless.

The conspirators are said to have approached British subjects with inducements to join in the rebellion and they have also offered large sums of money for arms.

The Czar, according to a special despatch from St. Petersburg, has authorized an increase in the ordinary naval expenditure of 3,000,000 roubles yearly for six years, in addition to the special grant of 90,000,000 roubles for naval purposes recently announced.

There was an important Cabinet conference Saturday, in continuation of the discussion of the Chinese question. It is reported Great Britain requests Russia to give guarantees that the warships of the world will be allowed free entry into Port Arthur. Great Britain, in this matter, is ostensibly acting at the instance of China.

Outrage Near Cork

Cork, March 21.—On the Cork, Baidon & South Coast Railway, where a strike is in progress, the line patrol discovered last evening that the rails had been torn up at the approach to a viaduct 70 feet high, a few miles from Cork. The patrol was just able to stop the express.

German Self-Gratulation.

Berlin, March 21.—The Germans are congratulating themselves upon their successful competition with Great Britain in shipbuilding developments. Since 1875 the employes in the shipyards have trebled. Between 1871 and 1880 the output of the leading yards amounted to 6,500,000 marks. Between 1891 and 1896 it amounted to 108,000,000 marks for Germany's own merchant service, and for foreigners the output increased from 6,000 marks in the seventies to 2,000,000 thus far in the nineties.

MR. GLADSTONE IS WORSE.

Heart Action Much Enfeebled—The Premier Is Better.

London, March 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette Saturday afternoon said Mr. Gladstone is worse. The facial pains have occasioned severe suffering, and it necessarily follows that his physical powers and heart's action have become gravely enfeebled.

The health of the Marquis of Salisbury has much improved.

Going to Look for Andree.

Berlin, March 21.—Theodore Larner, with an expedition, aided from state and private sources, will start on the steamer Segoland next May in search of Herr Andree, the missing aeronaut, and to prosecute scientific investigations.

A New War Cloud.

Johannesburg, March 21.—The Standard and Diggers' News, in a seemingly inspired article, says: "War is almost inevitable unless England abandons her claim to suzerainty."

THE RUSSELL ELECTION.

Lithophone at Port Dalhousie.

Port Dalhousie, Ont., March 21.—Saturday morning the steam fishing tug, Nellie Bly, left here in search of the missing stonebooker Lithophone, which went adrift from Port Credit some two weeks ago. They succeeded in locating her about 12 miles out in the lake, and brought her into the harbor in the afternoon. Her cabin and part of her bulwarks were carried away. The Nellie Bly left for Port Credit the same night with the Lithophone in tow.

The Latest From Dawson.

Victoria, B.C., March 18.—The steamer City of Seattle arrived from the north yesterday with the latest news from Dawson, showing everything orderly as usual there, and an abundance of food. The theory is advanced that the reason for Major Walsh's sudden change of plans and his return to the post at Big Salmon is the feeling that the recent discoveries on Walnut creek, near there, justify the belief that a settlement there will in the near future rival even that at Dawson.

President McKinley Denies Significance in the Act.

SPAIN AND U. S. MARKING TIME.

Meanwhile They Both Continue Active War Preparations—12 Canadians Were in the Maine Disaster—Two of Them Were Killed—The Others Wounded—Rebels Capture Gen. Pando.

Washington, March 21. — President McKinley did not attend church Sunday morning as is his custom, but instead spent two hours and more in conference with several members of the Cabinet. Assistant Secretary Day called about 10.30 and remained until nearly 1 o'clock. Secretary Long and Secretary Bliss were the other members present. They remained less than an hour. The members of the Cabinet, on leaving the White House, said there was no special significance in the meeting.

Two More Warships in Sight.

Washington, D.C., March 21.—Late on Saturday the prospects became much brighter for the acquisition by the United States of two exceptionally fine warships, namely, the armored cruiser San Martino, belonging to the Argentine Republic, and the battleship General O'Higgins, belonging to Chili.

Both the Navy and War Departments continue their active preparations for emergency and contracts in all branches of armament are being made daily by the various bureaus.

The Naval Bureau of Ordinance has contracted for 4,500,000 pounds of brown powder, which is probably the largest single order ever given. This was divided between the California Powder Company and the Dupont Powder Company.

GEN. PANDO A CAPTIVE.

The Spanish General Now Said to Be in the Hands of Cuban Rebels.

Key West, March 21.—The report to the effect that the insurgents have captured the Spanish General, Pando, is confirmed from many sources. Cubans are jubilant over the capture and believe it is the beginning of the end of Spanish resistance.

Pando started out to conduct the campaign and pacify the eastern provinces of Cuba, taking with him all available forces. He was ignominously defeated in every engagement and was about to retreat to Havana when he was taken.

The story here is that Pando, already whipped, declared an armistice for the purpose of palavering with the insurgents, offering them autonomy on a broad basis, the Cubans to pay an annual tribute of $2,000,000 to Spain.

It is further said that the offer was rejected, that the Cubans did not honor an armistice to which they were no party, and that they seized the person of Gen. Pando to hold as a hostage.

The insurgent armies are rendezvoused and prepared to press the campaign even to the very gates of Havana.

WENT CRAZY OVER IT.

A Nova Scotian's Head Turned Through Hatred of the Spaniards.

Greenville, N.H., March 21.—Isaac Marshall, a Nova Scotian, employed by Prof. Martin Fisk of Temple, became violently insane on Saturday over the war scare. Ever since the blowing up of the Maine he has been wishing for hostilities to open that he could get a shot at the enemy. He thought the time had arrived at an early hour Saturday morning. Jumping out of bed, he grasped a revolver and entered an adjoining room, which was occupied by Miss Mabel Clark. He took her for a Spaniard and pointing the weapon at her, pulled the trigger half a dozen times. Happily the chambers of the revolver were empty. The other occupants of the house, attracted by the young woman's cries, were soon on the scene and disarmed Marshall. A physician pronounced Marshall insane, and he was taken to an institution at Cookstown.

WAR BEFORE HUMILIATION.

Senor Robledo Fears That the Spanish Dynasty May Be Swept Away.

Berlin, March 21.—The Local Anzeiger publishes a dispatch from Madrid giving the substance of an interview with Senor Romero Y. Robledo, the former Minister of Justice, in which he classed Cuban autonomy and the recalling of General Weyler as being the gravest of mistakes, and adds: "General Blanco is unable to subdue the rebellion, which is worse than ever, and the situation with America is most critical. I do not know how far the Americans mean to go, but, in any case, Spain prefers war to humiliation. Nobody likes to die, but sooner death than shame. No Spanish Government could propose the cession of Cuba for money. It was a crime to dissolve the Cortes at this critical time. I hope everything goes well, but I much fear the contrary. Then the poor Queen and dynasty, who must assume the whole responsibility for the conflict, may all be swept away."

RUSSELL.

THE result in Russell—the triumphant election of the Liberal candidate—is by no means a snap verdict. It was a stubborn. ly contested fight, in which the Opposition put forth every effort to win. It was a full expression of the sentiments of the electors, for a larger vote was polled there in the election of 1894. The electors were told that the Hardy ministry was doomed and that Mr. Whitney was sure to control the destines of the Province, and give the people good government. But the people distrusted such fairy tales and gave their confidence to the Hardy Government. When things appeared so close it was natural that the people, if they had the slightest reason to withdraw their confidence from the Liberal Government should yield to the seductive wooing of Mr. Whitney, whose gallant charge in lead of the forlorn hope of the Opposition has resulted in decided discomfiture. The scores of candidates, put up throughout the province for the sake of controlling the patronage in case of their defeat, in the event of Mr. Whitney's success, are now reflecting on the hollow vanity of the delusive hopes with which they were led on to disaster. An attack on the Government, unexampled in determination and unscrupulous tactics, has resulted in its vindication; which shows that the electors, though plied with all the cunning arts of desperate politicians anxious for office, prefer to keep a good thing, which they will have for, at least, four years longer.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Court of Appeals has decided that the rails, posts and wires of the Toronto Street Railway Company are subject to municipal taxation. This is a decision that will be of interest to other places that have given street railway franchises, not expressly exempted. The basis of assessment in Toronto has been fixed at $5,400 per mile for single track, $900 per mile for wires and poles at their value.

BEFORE the contest, in Russell, the Ottawa Citizen (Conservative) said "the Liberal-Conservatives had it in their power to administer the death blow to the Hardy Government." They didn't appear to have used their power very effectively. The fact is the people of Russell had confidence in the Hardy Government, and expressed it in a very emphatic manner.

SILVER was 69.2 cents an ounce in New York on the day of Mr. Bryan's nomination. Last week it was 54.2 cents. During the same time wheat advanced from 63.5 cents a bushel to $1.06.5; mess pork from $7.75 per barrel to $10.75, and meal from 17 cents per pound to 28 cents. The Bryanite theory that the prices of commodities fall with the price of silver has died a natural death. Facts were too strong for it.

CANADIANS are still coming to the front in literary work. Another of Mr. William McLennan's stories is to begin in one of the big American magazines in the autumn of this year. Another Canadian author, Mr. William Wilfrid Campbell, has written a drama which has been accepted by the Canadian actor, John Griffiths, whose success in the character of Mephistopheles is widely known. The play will be produced next season. Canada may not be rapid, but it gets ahead in all departments at a sure, steady pace.

GOVERNMENT ownership of railways is on the increase. By the largest majority ever given in the history of the Swiss Referendum, it has been decided that the Government shall purchase and run the principal railways of the country, 384,273 voted for the purchase, against 176,002. Eighteen cantons voted for the bill and only seven against it. The cost of the roads may reach $240,000,000. Part of the amount to be raised by a direct loan, another part may take the form of the assumption by the State of the railway debts.

REFERRING to the contention of the London News that Mr. Hardy, even if defeated at the polls, need not resign till he is defeated on the floor of the House, the Chatham Planet says:

"That is all very well, but when the Government of Sir Charles Tupper was defeated, the Governor-General did not permit him to wait for Parliament to meet to see what would be done on the floor of the House. He had to resign at once."

That is not history, the News retorts. The Governor-General, as we understand it, refused to sanction some appointments made after he believed the Government to be defeated on the popular vote, but he did not compel the resignation of the Ministry. As a matter of fact, he could not. Under our constitutional system, he could dismiss a Ministry, but in that case he would be under the necessity of calling on another set of advisers and appealing to the country.

RUSSIA AND INDIA.

"Could Russia Take India?" is the subject of an interesting article in the North American Review. It is written by Lieut-Col. Von Von Bieberstein of the German Army and is especially interesting as showing the vast capacity of the German mind for careful study and research.

The article might naturally be expected to lean a little to the side of Russia, coming from such a source, but it can hardly be said to do so. The writer has used a wealth of material, which must have cost him untold labour and a large expenditure of time to secure. First he considers, mile by mile, the geography of the region through which Russia woul have to pass in order to get at India. Next he calculates how many men Russia could get to the Indian frontier in a given time and how she would need to fortify her route. We find that to begin her campaign Russia would need an army of 150,000. These she could take her time in quietly getting together, and it would not be till she was ready to move them that England need know anything of her intention. From the mobilization of the Russian army at home till it reached the Indian border would require from five to five and one-half months. That long a period England would have in which to make ready.

In that five months Col. Von Bieberstein tells us, counting in her native troops already on the ground, England could muster in India an army nearly as large as Russia's. And after all the preparations, the writer solemnly remarks that no conjecture can be made as to whether Russia or England has the better chance in the struggle. He is confident, however, that a struggle for the final possession of India is inevitably approaching between these two most powerful nations of Europe.

May the day be far distant when they shall clash.

CANADIAN FISHERIES.

The Canadian fisheries are the most extensive in the world. From the Straits of Belle Isle to the Bay of Fundy on the Atlantic coast they cover a distance of 5,000 miles; on the Pacific the fisheries of British Columbia extend 7,180 miles, or more than double the extent of the cost line of Great Britain and Ireland. The salt water inshore area exceeds 1,500 miles, while the fresh water area of the Great Lakes which belongs to Canada, is placed by the authorities at 72,700 square miles. This latter estimate does not include the numerous smaller fresh water lakes, which exist in nearly all the provinces, especially in Ontario, Manitoba and the territories. The contribution of the fisheries to the national wealth might reasonably be expected to be very considerable, and it is by no means insignificant. In 1857 the value of the fish catch was placed at under one million dollars, it has grown to, in different years, ten millions and fifteen dollars, and in the year 1896, the last year for which complete returns are at hand, it amounted to $20,400,000 in value. Each of the provincial divisions of the Dominion makes a contribution to this industry. The value of the product for 1896 was distributed among the provinces as follows:

Nova Scotia	$6,070,895
New Brunswick	4,709,433
British Columbia	4,188,989
Quebec	2,025,744
Ontario	1,65[illegible],674
Prince Edward Island	976,126
Manitoba and N.W.T.	749,543

In the Province of New Brunswick the fishermen were most successful, as compared with the operations of the previous year, the catch increasing in value $306,275; Quebec made the handsome gain of $157,634, and Ontario's fish output increased $21,201. The other provinces failed to hold their own, showing indeed an aggregate decrease of $367,224. This leaves a net surplus of $208,086 on the output of all the provinces, as compared with last year. These statistics, it must be remembered, are necessarily incomplete, as the officials have in many cases no means of estimating the amount of fish taken from the water.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

"A CREDIT TO ONTARIO."

Toronto Telegram's Praise of Judge Ermatinger's Conduct of the Recount.

Under the caption "A Credit to Ontario," The Toronto Telegram (Ind. Con.) says:—

The reproach brought upon the county judiciary of Ontario by the ever memorable action of his honour of London has been to a certain extent removed by the conduct of the county judges in the most critical of the recount proceedings.

It so happened that the West Elgin recount, on which the fate of the Hardy Government almost depended, was entrusted to Judge Ermatinger, in his time a fierce and resolute Conservative partizan, a member of the Local Legislature and the defeated candidate for the House of Commons.

The re-count in South Perth was the work of John A. Barron, county judge, who is only lately removed from the political arena, in which he valiantly served the Liberals.

The recount at Ottawa was presided over by Judge McTavish, an ardent Liberal before his appointment to the bench.

The results of the recounts before these three judges promise to be unfavourable to the candidates of the parties with which they were respectively identified when they were in politics.

Their Honours of Perth, Elgin and Carleton seem to have acted like true men and upright judges, and their actions must tend to establish the county judiciary of the province more securely in the confidence and esteem of the public generally.

The languor so common at this season is due to impoverish blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures it by enriching the blood.

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs John Quigly, 20 Sheriff Street, St. John N. B., says:—"Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous, and run down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

THE FRANCHISE BILL.

The Use of Provincial Lists Will Not Disturb the Equality.

B. N. A. AUTOMATIC REGULATOR.

The Increase of Members Comes From the New and Vigorous West—How Past Canadian Enumerations Have Emphasised the Trend—The Prospects Early in the Coming Century.

Ottawa, March 21.—Notwithstanding that in certain quarters the idea exists that a return to the use of the provincial voters' lists, such as is contemplated in the franchise bill, will in some way interfere with the equality of representation now enjoyed by the various provinces, there need be no fear on this score. The principle of representation by population is embodied in the constitution and is indeed the foundation stone of the entire structure.

Increase of Members.

The Act of 1867 provided that the first Parliament should consist of 181 members—82 being from Ontario, 65 from Quebec, 19 from Nova Scotia and 15 from New Brunswick. By the Redistribution Act of 1872 the membership of the House was fixed at 200, of whom 88 were from Ontario, 65 from Quebec, 21 from Nova Scotia, 16 from New Brunswick, 4 from Manitoba and 6 from British Columbia. The Redistribution Act following upon the census of 1881 and adopted during the session of 1882 was the one known to fame as the gerrymander of 1882. By it constituencies were carved into the most fantastic shapes to secure Conservative majorities and hive the Liberals. The membership of the House under this readjustment was increased to 211, of whom 92 were from Ontario, 65 from Quebec, 21 from Nova Scotia, 16 from New Brunswick, 5 from Manitoba, 6 from British Columbia and 6 from Prince Edward Island. With the completion of the C.P.R. and the opening up of the plains the Territories assumed sufficient importance to entitle them to representation. The census of 1891 showed that the population of the eastern provinces had shrunk relatively to that of the west, and the Redistribution Act of 1892 gave Ontario 92 members and Quebec 65 as before, while Nova Scotia lost a member, sending only 20, New Brunswick lost 2 members, sending only 14, and Prince Edward Island one member, sending only 5, to the present Parliament. Manitoba secured 7 members, British Columbia 6 and the North-west Territories 4.

The Vigorous West.

This shifting of the membership of the House from the eastern to the western portion of the Dominion, which had been going on slowly since Confederation, will unquestionably be greatly accelerated during the era of rapid expansion upon which the Dominion has now entered. In the first Parliament after Confederation there were but 82 members for all of Canada west of the Ottawa, and 99 for that portion east of the Ottawa River. In the present House there are 104 members for that portion east of the Ottawa River and 109 for the portion west of the Ottawa River. The expectation among those who watch the drift of population is that the redistribution following upon the census of 1901 will add materially not only to the western contingent at the expense of the eastern provinces, but also to the total membership of the House. The Province of Quebec is holding its population much better than during the last census period. This means that there will be several thousands more of population to each of the 65 members she is entitled to. As a result the population unit per member in the other provinces must be increased also, the natural increase of population still goes largely to the western portion of the Dominion or to the States, a reduction in the number of members will be inevitable. The increase of population in the west more than makes up for this shrinkage. Unless western prophets are entirely too sanguine there will be a population of at least 800,000 between Lake Superior and the Pacific by the end of the century. Placing the population per member at 25,000, a probable figure based upon the present conditions in Quebec Province, which fixes the unit, this would give the country west of Lake Superior a right to 32 members in place of the 17 who now come from this territory. The fact that the west will in a few years hold the balance of political power in the Dominion is becoming more thoroughly impressed upon public men day by day, and we may expect on the part of both political parties strenuous efforts to secure the first avowal of affection from the west. If the Maritime Provinces lose four or five members after the census of 1901, as they are likely to, and Ontario holds her own, or secures a small increase, as seems probable if the settlement of the gold-bearing region proceeds rapidly, it will be necessary to add from ten to fifteen to the membership of the House, after allowing for eastern reductions, to give the west its quota. The Parliament of 1905 or 1906 will, therefore, have a membership of at least 225 and possibly of 230. Speculation as to the possible membership of the House in 50 years, unless the constitution is changed, is somewhat far afield, but it is not beyond the bounds of probability to imagine a House of Commons with four or five hundred members.

Australia Is Included in the Embargo—Classes of Plants Exempted.

Ottawa, March 21.—The Order-in-Council applying the provisions of the San Jose scale bill to the United States, Japan and Hawaii, includes Australia as well. The instructions to collectors exempt certain classes of plants from the operations of the bill, among them being the following: Greenhouse plants, including palms, ferns, orchids, cacti, chrysanthemums, azaleas, begonias and carnations, but not roses or any other wooded plants, herbaceous, perennials, the tops of which die in winter, as, for instance, perrenial phlox, peonies, sunflowers, etc., herbaceous bedding plants, such as geraniums, pansies, coleus, verbenas, etc.; all conifers, bulbs and tubers, including lilies, hyacinths, narcisi, and all other true bulbs, gladioli, caladiums, irises, dahlias and cannas.

Dominion Rifle Association Report.

Ottawa, March 21.—The report of the council of the D.R.A. to be presented to the annual meeting of the association on Wednesday is an admirable statement of the work done last year. The number of rifle associations affiliating were as follows: Provincial seven, county and other rifle associations thirty-two, a decrease of five associations as compared for 1896.

The expenditure on account of the Bisley team amounted to $6,065, an increase of $409. This is accounted for by the team sailing a week earlier than usual, and the consequent expense entailed for subsistence in England prior to the opening of the competition at Bisley.

Receipts from ordinary sources for the year amounted to $16,816, which, with the balance of $1,6[illegible] carried forward from last year, shows a total of $18,465.

The general expenditure amounted to $16,695, leaving a balance at credit of $1,690. Against this, however, the Bisley building claims outstanding (which include $8,500 due the Ontario Bank) have to be taken into account as liabilities, amounting in all to $8,060.

Deducting the balance in hand from this amount, the net liabilities of the association under the head of Bisley building are $6,242. To offset this liability there is the Bisley building and its valuable contents.

Personal and General.

A delegation from Algoma waited on the Government Saturday asking for the expenditure of an appropriation for the completion of Fort Frances locks. An appropriation was made last session, but no expenditure has yet been made.

An Order-in-Council has been passed providing that all persons obtaining leases to dredge for minerals in the rivers of Manitoba and the Northwest must take out free miners' certificates at $10 apiece, the same as is done in the Yukon district.

Application will be made at the present session of Parliament for an Act to incorporate a company to construct a wagon or sleigh road from Lake Bennett, near Skaguay, to Dawson City, and to charge tolls and carry on a transportation business.

Collector of Customs Milne, of Victoria, B.C., telegraphed Mr. Parmelee, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, that a cable from Hong-Kong says that there is a famine among the Chinese at Canton on account of the scarcity of rice.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

AN ALL-BRITISH CABLE.

Canada Now Freed From Absolute Dependence on U. S. Lines.

Montreal, March 21.—A work of great importance to the Empire and to Canada has just been completed. Mr. Joseph Rippon, general manager of the Halifax and Bermuda cable, arrived in the city Saturday, and states that he has just completed the laying of the company's cable between Bermuda and Jamaica, which now forms the all-British route from Halifax to Jamaica and frees the country from its former absolute dependency upon the United States lines Mr. Rippon, who is en route for Ottawa, is accompanied by Mr. T. H. Skinner, whose father is chairman of the Halifax and Bermuda Company, as well as a London director of the Canadian Pacific and Bank of Montreal.

Was in Danger of Flood.

It was thought Sunday morning that Montreal was to be flooded out, as the water rose above the revetment wall. The dyke, however, held good and last night the water had receded over two feet. The chief engineer states that all danger is now past, although a good many cellars and mills in the lower part of the city are flooded.

The Rifle Was Loaded.

Woodstock, March 21.—Freddie McKichnie, the 14-year-old son of Professor McKichnie, was shot in the eye Saturday while entering Minkler & Lawson's repair shop.

William Jordan was behind the counter in the repair shop examining a rifle, the trigger of which he snapped two or three times until the cartridge exploded and the 32-calibre bullet lodged in young McKichnie's eye. The doctors found it necessary to remove the eye ball from the injured eye, but cannot locate the bullet. The unfortunate occurrence was purely accidental.

A Negro Clubbed a Girl.

Woodstock, March 21.—Miss Locke of Mill street was attacked by a brutal negro at 10 o'clock on Thursday night as she was on her way home from the Dundas street Methodist Church. Miss Locke was not a great distance from her home when a burly negro confronted her and, without warning, struck her over the head with a club, rendering her insensible. When Miss Locke recovered the negro was running away and was almost out of sight. As there was some delay in reporting the matter to the police the ruffian is still at large.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

LOCAL NEWS.

Shoes! Shoes! Shoes!

Kidd is rushing off the stock of shoes bought from Mr. Ames at 55 cents on the dollar—405 George street.

The annual Spring Opening in Millinery and Mantles, of Richard Hall & Son, will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next.

Havelock Accident.

Master Bert Weese, of Havelock, met with an accident the other evening. It appears that it was another case of "didn't know it was loaded." He was fooling with a shot gun when it went off, blowing the top off the forefinger of his right hand. Mr. Wm. Weese, his brother, also lost the top off one of his fingers last week, while working at Mr. W. J. Wiseman's saw mill.

Mason's Fire Sale.

Owing to the big rush we will be obliged to close our store to-morrow (Tuesday) morning, to re-arrange the stock, and fill previous orders. Store will be open again at ONE o'clock in the afternoon.

Road Agents.

A "hold-up" occurred between Newcastle and Newtonville on Saturday evening last, and the consequence is that a Newcastle butcher is out to the extent of $23 hard cash. The highwaymen, three in number, are supposed to be tramps, and to show that they meant business blazed at the victim with a revolver, and so close that the bullet went through the rim of his hat, which had the desired effect.—Bowmanville News.

Mr. Loch's Property for Sale.

The house and lot, property of Wm. Loch, 208 Hunter street, will be offered for sale Tuesday, March 22nd, by auction. Intending purchasers may inspect the house and premises the day before, from two to four. The store No. 415 George street, between Peterborough Bookstore and W. Loch & Sons Fur Store, will also be offered for sale at the same time. The sale will be held on the premises, corner of Hunter and Rubidge streets, and will begin at two o'clock p.m. Chas. Stapleton, auctioneer.

Some Stamp Troubles.

The new issue of Dominion postage stamps, while a pretty one, is not without its disadvantages, some of which cause slight inconveniences to business men. For instance, the the two dollar stamp is the same colour as the four dollar one, and while not many persons make use of these there is some danger of confusion. There have also been seen some Canada letter cards bearing an engraved one cent stamp instead of a three, which the law calls for. The most important feature, however, is the confusion arising from the colour of the new one cent stamp, which corresponds with that of the old two cent. Cases are very numerous of city delivery letters, whether in error or not, having the new blue one cent stamp affixed, going safely through the mails without detention or the collection of the excess postage due. Of course this is to the loss of the Government, but [illegible] the General Postoffice from [illegible] of items owing to [illegible]

BADLY FRIGHTENED.

A Stone Thrown Through one of Miss Rudkin's Plate Glass Windows.

On Saturday evening at about seven o'clock one of the plate glass windows in the second story of Miss Rudkin's millinery and dress goods establishment was suddenly broken, through being struck with a stone or some other missile.

At the time the window was broken a young lady employee was sitting at a sewing machine, just in front of it and the crash frightened her to such an extent as to prove a serious shock to her nerves. The rest of the staff were on the ground floor, but as the window broke with the report like crack of a pistol, the alarm was general.

Strange to say the missile could not be discovered. It did not enter the store nor did it fall on the sidewalk. It is thought that perhaps some boy with a catapult is responsible for the damage, as the projectile must have been sent with great force by the appearance of the window.

The damaged property is insured through Messrs. Cox & Davis.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Aaron Cox was in Lindsay on Saturday on a business trip.

Mr. O. Hummel left on a business trip west on Saturday.

Mr. Harry Phillips, Ashburnham, left this morning for Pittsburg.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., and Mrs. Stratton have returned from Ottawa.

Mr. D. F. Quinlan left for North Bay on Friday, where he intends going into business.

Miss Stevens, organist of Charlotte street Methodist church, is visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Edith Shortly has returned from Port Hope, where she was the guest of Mrs. (Rev.) W. R. Young.

Sheriff Paxton, of Whitby, is in town visiting his daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Eastwood, Brock street. Mrs. Paxton has been here for some time.

Mr. W. Wand's friends will be pleased to learn that he has undergone a successful operation in the General Hospital, Toronto, and though very weak, is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. Edward Calcutt of Russell, N. W.T., who has been in town for several weeks, left for home on Friday. He has been the guest of his brother, Mr. H. Calcutt.

Mr. C. B. McAllister is confined to his residence through having stepped on a nail in his storehouse on Saturday. The nail penetrated his boot and inflicted quite a painful wound.

Rev. W. J. Carson, of Toronto, has been appointed to St. John's parish, Havelock. Mr. Carson will take charge the first of April, at which time Mr. McGinnis leaves for his new charge at Homer.

Mrs. M. W. Matchett, wife of the Principal of the Ashburnham Public School, whose condition has been critical for the past week, has taken a turn for the better. Congestion of the lungs is the trouble.

Mrs. John Conroy, Ashburnham, has just received a letter from her husband, who left some time ago for the Klondyke. Mr. Conroy left Vancouver and had proceeded part way up the Stickeen river when he was stopped by the flow of ice.

BASKET BALL.

The game on Friday night in the Y. M. C.A. gymnasium commenced shortly after nine, the teams lining up as follows:—

Lindsay.		Peterborough.
J McCallum	f	H Morgan
W Jordan	f	S Hall, capt
E Donnell, capt.	c	W Wilson
G Armstrong	g	B Wilson
J Ross	g	J Sheridan

The result was a victory for the home team by 23 to 6. The visitors showed signs of a lack of experience but we hope that they have now received some insight into the game, so that when our team makes them a return visit the score will be more even. They played well, however, considering the length of time which they have practised.

The game gave our guards ample opportunity to practice bringing the ball forward, which they did well, and the centre and forwards did well, although there were times that the ball seemed too large for the basket. We trust that the spectators were satisfied with the home team's playing and that they will come and witness the next game, which will probably be with Toronto.

THE WHEEL.

A wheeling club has been formed in connection with the Colts Athletic Club with the following officers:

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 25 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

The Aberdeen Society.

Mrs. C. B. McAllister will be pleased to receive literature to forward to the Aberdeen Society, Ottawa, for distribution in the thinly settled portions of Canada. The Y.M.C.A. will take charge of any which is left there for that purpose, and will turn the same over to Mrs. McAllister.

Cricket Club Minstrels.

The Cricket Club Minstrels are called together for practice to-morrow evening in Jackson's piano warerooms, Aylmer street. The boys expect to put on the best show of the kind ever staged in Peterborough. The date is not yet fixed but the performance comes off immediately after Easter.

Baby Carriage Season.

The season has opened and we have already placed twenty-one baby carriages, which is sufficient proof that the Peterborough Bookstore has the best value anywhere. Our stock is very complete and we give you a choice of 25 different kinds, finished in gold, brown, old gold, blue, Empire green, plush or damask. Our baby carriages are finished in 16th century fashion and Empire effects, making the assortment has shown this season. They are displayed on the second story, out of goods throng in a separate department, where they may be inspected without [illegible] Butterwick's patterns, all [illegible] to date.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

THE NEW ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

The Details of the Agreement Have Been Satisfactorily Arranged Unless Something Unforseen Turns Up.

The council met in committee of the whole Saturday evening, when Mr. Starr was present and the report of the sub-committee, which conferred with him during the afternoon was made, recommending certain conditions on which the new Electric Railway Company be granted a bonus of $1,000 a year for twenty years and exemption from taxation.

The details as far as made with Mr. Starr by the sub-committee appeared to be perfectly satisfactory to the rest of the councillors, and in the course of a day or two the conditions will be made public.

No arrangement has yet been reached by the new company as to the purchase of the Peterborough & Ashburnham Street Railway. On Saturday afternoon Mr. Starr made three propositions to the directors, which he has left with them to consider. They are: (1) $45,000 cash for their road, total equipment, franchise, etc, (2) that a valuator appraise the system and that the new company will give $10,000 more than his valuation for it; (3) that the new company, the town and the Peterborough & Ashburnham Company each appoint an arbitrator and that both companies abide by their decision as to the amount to be paid for the road.

In case none of the alternatives is accepted the new company proposes to lay six miles of track in town and operate a system of their own in opposition to the present company.

During the day Mr. Starr drove out to Young's Point and while he does not want to sign an agreement to extend the road to that village, he says he will certainly do so if he thinks it will pay.

The time spoken of for the completion of the road is January 1st next, but Mr. Starr appears confident that he will have the line in full operation by July, as he proposes to put a big force of men at work as soon as the bylaw may be sanctioned by the property-holders.

CIVIC COMMITTEES.

Matters Relative to Tenders and Contracts Discussed.

At a meeting of the Street and Bridge Committee Saturday evening the tenders for nails were opened. As they were all alike the orders will be divided amongst the hardware firms of the town. The time for the receiving of tenders for lumber was extended for another week.

A meeting of the Property Committee was held Saturday, and the Town Clerk was instructed to advertise for tenders for the town printing for 1898.

Marriage of Miss Maggie Lundy and Mr. Thos. Hewson in Toronto This Afternoon—A Quiet Wedding.

The marriage took place in Toronto this afternoon of Miss Maggie Lundy, of Ashburnham, daughter of the late Wm. Lundy, and Mr. Thos. Hewson, of Hamilton, who resided in Peterborough for a time some years ago.

The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Baldwin, Parkdale, and was conducted very quietly. At the conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Hewson left for a western trip, and on their return will take up their residence in Hamilton. Both the bride and groom were great social favourites in Peterborough.

Mr. J. J. Lundy and Miss Pearl Lundy went to Toronto on Saturday afternoon to be in attendance at the wedding.

LAKEFIELD WEDDING.

The Nuptials of Mr. Taylor McBrien and Miss Minnie A. Watson.

On Wednesday evening last, says the Lakefield News, the residence of Mr. Isaac Watson, jr., was the scene of an event which made two, one, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter, Miss Minnie A., to Mr. Taylor McBrien, of Menie, and formely of Lakefield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. Warren, in the presence of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was very becomingly attired in a fawn costume, and was assisted by Miss Rebecca Watson, who was attired in a costume of heliotrope. The groom was assisted by Mr. Wm. Watson, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the assembled guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding supper, the evening being then spent in a pleasant manner. The happy couple left that night for Peterborough and will spend their honeymoon in Cannington and other places. On their return they will take up their residence near Campbellford.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and valuable presents, testifying to the esteem in which she was held by her many friends. The happy couple start out in their wedded life with the best wishes of a large number of friends.

NO BETTER RAILWAY FACILITIES EXPECTED.

General Manager Hays' Letter in Reply to One Sent him from Millbrook.

The Millbrook Reporter says: Ever since the local train from Peterborough was discontinued, some two years ago, our business men and the travelling public generally have felt the inconvenience going to and from Toronto. After consulting with some of the merchants, the editor of the Reporter wrote General Manager Hays about the matter, and laid before him the inconvenience sustained and the advantage likely to accrue to the railway company by either again placing the local on from Peterborough or making connection in the morning by Britton's train with the local at Port Hope. The reply of Mr. Hays is herewith given, and while the thread of hope is not altogether broken, so slender is is that a change can scarcely be expected. We trust, however, that further enquiry may lead to the granting of some better service.

MONTREAL, March 11th, 1898.

Mr. W. S. Given, Editor Reporter, Millbrook, Ont:

DEAR SIR.—Reply to your letter of the 10th of February has been delayed by the pressure of other business as well as the time necessary to enquire into the facts about which you write.

In view of the small amount of passenger travel from your district, I fear we will be unable to make any alteration in the train service at the present time, as to do so, would add considerably to the train mileage and consequent cost.

To start our No. 44. (Britton's train) from Lindsay so as to connect with No. 9, (the Belleville train) would necessitate leaving Lindsay at 4.45 a.m., a most unseasonable hour, which would unquestionably cause complaint from that place.

Before making another change of time, however, the matter will be enquired into again, and in the event of an improvement in the travel in question, the putting on of another train to connect with No. 9, will be further considered.

Yours truly,
CHAS. M. HAYS,
General Manager.

CHURCH DESECRATION.

Tramps Break Into a Roman Catholic Church.

The congregation of the Roman Catholic church in this vicinity, says the Havelock Standard, have been very much troubled lately by tramps, who continually break into the church, burning the candles and wood. On Sunday morning last the following note was found on the altar:

Sir.—Two tramps on their way to Klondyke slept here, and wish you would leave this place open in future, so people won't have to break in.

Signed,
Weary Mike,
Languid Pete.

Care of the Complexion.

It is a well-known fact that a torpid liver produces a sallow hue and a dull yellow complexion. You need not expect a clear, beautiful complexion if the blood is rendered impure by a sluggish action of the liver, which cannot properly preform its functions of purifying and filtering all impurities from the blood. Ladies, Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills is a invaluable remedy, for by their action on the liver and blood they promote true beauty by rendering the blood pure. This is the secret.

THE RUSSELL ELECTION.

Notes on the Contest—The Excellent Work That Was Done.

The Ottawa Free Press thus refers to the result and the contest in Russell last week.

Hurrah for Guibord!

Russell is still under the Liberal banner.

Mr. Ossaime Guibord will represent Russell in the Legislature for the next four years and give his vote and talents in support of Hardy and good government.

It was a glorious victory—a triumph which will cheer the government and give heart to the party all over the Province.

Bad roads, alleged apathy, floods and all the opposing forces of nature had no deterrent effect. The electors turned out en masse and registered an emphatic endorsation of the splendid achievements and noble record of the Hardy Government.

The Conservatives worked like beavers and the Liberals had to exert every vigilance to maintain their prestige. It was a square, fair, face-to-face fight, and the Liberals won. The roads were bad, but the vote was got out, and a larger vote was polled than in 1894. The Liberals held their own in every township and made appreciable gains in Tory strongholds. Mr. Marier polled a slightly bigger vote than the last candidate, Mr. Tytler, largely owing to the fact that he is a French Canadian and received considerably more financial support from his party. The township of Clarence did nobly for Guibord, while in Gloucester, Marier's home, the Conservative majority was only 42. Mr. Marier was beaten by 18 votes at his own poll in the village of Janeville. As an evidence of the state of the roads, the Liberals had to build three temporary bridges in order to get the votes out. At the Brook in Clarence township the flood was two feet deep over the road. Willing hands started early and in two hours a bridge was built. Mr. Guibord had 100 majority at that poll. The English vote turned out much better than was expected, especially in the west end of the county. The babyish cries of the Citizen about pluggers and non-resident voters is just so much nonsense. A fair vote was polled, and the Conservatives got a bad defeat.

The credit of the victory is due to the Liberal workers as a whole. Everyone rendered cheerful, energetic service, and all rejoice alike over the result."

The Journal (Independent) thus refers to the speaking on the night of election:

"Hon. G. W. Ross said that the government felt quite comfortable with its majority of six. In 1886 they had seven and it had grown to fifteen. In 1894 they had a majority of six and before the term was over they had eleven or twelve over P. P. A.'s and Patrons. The government stands under equally favourable circumstances now. "We are waiting," said Mr. Ross, "for the bye-elections. We are anxious for them to arrive in order that we may round up our majority of six."

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., for West Peterborough, was next called upon, and delivered a short but stirring address. He said that Mr. Whitney and Col. Matheson had declared that the eyes of all Canada were upon Russell in this contest. The fight was over and the people of Russell had declared their confidence in the government, and the county had been true to the principles of Liberalism."

The Globe referring editorially to the campaign, says:—"No one shirked any duty. Notwithstanding the almost perilous condition of the roads, no one hesitated at any call to the field. The French members were as zealous as their English-speaking associates, and to their splendid work is due no small share of credit for the victory. The forces were captained by Hon. Geo. W. Ross and he received most effective aid from Mr. Stratton of West Peterborough."

ONE OF THE MOGULS.

A Crowd Goes Down to the Depot to see it go Through.

A large number of citizens went down to the C.P.R. station on Sunday afternoon to see one of the big new mogul locomotives go through. The engine was carrying 230 pounds of steam and was hauling between seven and eight hundred tons of freight.

This is one of the eight new locomotives purchased from the Ann Arbour road by the C.P.R. It is much larger than any which have been seen passing through here before. It has eight drive wheels and has a double compound engine. The firemen object to them strongly on account of having to stand outside the cab to fire.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL CONSTRUCTION PROGRESS.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING ENGINEER.

Sketch of the Canal—Record of Progress on Current Contracts.

The Trent Valley Canal is a matter of such local interest to Peterborough that the public will be interested in anything that concerns its progress.

The report of the Minister of Railways and Canals for 1897 is to hand, and in the report of the superintending engineer of the Trent system, the following information of local interest is found:

"The Trent Canal is a term applied to several water stretches between the Bay of Quinte on Lake Ontario and Georgian Bay on Lake Huron, which, however, in their present condition do not form a continuous line of navigation. The object of the present works is to connect these several water stretches so as to make a continuous line of navigation for barge traffic of six feet draught between Lake Ontario and Georgian Bay. The total distance between these two points is about 200 miles, but by utilising the numerous lakes and rivers and taking advantage of the lay of the land to make flooded reaches it is hoped that no more than 15 to 20 miles will be actual canal. Champlain in his memorable march through Canada followed the line of this proposed canal, and it has since been used by the Indians and fur traders in their excursions between the upper lakes and tide water. The Imperial Government as far back as 1833 chose this route as being the most natural and feasible to make a waterway between Lake Ontario and Lake Huron, and they spent a considerable sum of money to accomplish this object. The works then constructed have ever since been utilized. When the two divisions at present under construction are completed there will be a continuous direct line of navigation of about 161 miles in length and about the same difference of lateral navigation between Healey's Falls and the ports on Lake Simcoe.

REGULATION OF WATER.

"Owing to the immense country drained and the country becoming every year more cleared the proper regulation of the water under the present system becomes more difficult. On account of the new works at present being constructed between Lakefield and Peterborough, it was necessary to interfere somewhat with the regular flow of the river in order that the works might be proceeded with. Navigation closed on the central reach 28th November, 1896, and opened again the 19th April, 1897. On the lower reach navigation closed on the 26th November, and opened again the 13th April, 1897. The water was maintained at a navigable height on all the reaches except that above Bobcaygeon, where owing to the leakage of a private dam and the flow of water coming down from above being reduced for a time the water fell for a few days below the ordinary height.

"The number of lockages was 2,648, which, however, does not fairly represent the traffic on the canal, as on some of the larger stretches the routes do not pass through any locks, so no records are kept."

The repairs executed included the following:

Peterborough—The line of guard booms and piers to the upper entrance of the lock at Peterborough were overhauled and put in first class condition. The sluices of the dam were also repaired.

Lakefield—The plank on the landing pier, most of which was completely rotten, was renewed, as it was dangerous to land upon. It is proposed to fill this pier in with rock and quarry waste and gravel.

WORK UNDER CONSTRUCTION.

Referring to the work of construction on Section 1 of the Peterborough Lakefield Division: The work on this contract has been proceeded with steadily by the contractors, Messrs. Browne, Love & Aylmer. The work on this section consists for the most part in excavating five short cuts across the points of land at the bends of the river, and the construction of the necessary locks (five in number) to overcome the difference of levels, and of four dams to hold the water on the several reaches and of the raising of roads in lieu of those which will be flooded. The excavation for the several cuts, locks and dams on this section is about completed, with the exception of that at Lakefield, which is rock and will be proceeded with during the winter and be completed in the spring. Locks No. 4 and 5 have been completed, being built wholly of concrete. Lock No. 4 was completed last fall and had gone through the winter showing no defects whatever. These are first locks which have been built wholly of concrete in Canada and their present condition proves the adaptability of the use of concrete in the construction of locks. Such concrete as is suitable for lock construction is only obtained by the greatest care in the selection of the cement and other constituents of the concrete and in the mixing and laying. If anyone of these particulars is neglected failure is sure to follow. The neglect of one or more of these particulars has probably led to prejudice against the use of concrete in engineering works.

NO. 2 SECTION.

"Dam No. 3 was about completed last fall, and dam No. 4 was about two-thirds completed, the high water up to the 30th of June preventing their completion. The following work is yet to be done, viz., the completion of dams Nos. 3 and 4, the construction of dams Nos. 2 and 5, and of locks Nos. 1, 2 and 3, and the gates for all the locks, two entrance piers and the abutments for a high level bridge at Lakefield, one guard gate and the raising of the Grand Trunk Railway track near Lakefield. The work is progressing very satisfactorily on this section.

"Section No. 2, Peterborough-Lakefield Division.—The contractors on this section are Messrs. Corry & Laverdure. The excavation on this section is fairly well advanced, being about half completed. The great part of the excavation yet to be done is in connection with the hydraulic lock and that near the Warsaw and Norwood roads. The works completed are as follows:

"The entrance pier and piers for the Grand Trunk Railway swing bridge (except pivot pier) at Nassau, the piers for the Warsaw and Norwood Road bridges, the Maria street bridge, the pipe culvert near the Norwood road, the waste pier and embankment near Nassau, about half earth excavation and about all the rock work. The works yet remaining to be done are the dam and pivot pier for highway bridge at Nassau, one ordinary lift lock at Ashburnham, the concrete in connection with the hydraulic lift lock, three guard gates and about 200,000 cubic yards of earth work. The superstructures for the bridges are not yet included in this contract, but the superstructures for the Maria street and Warsaw road bridges have been completed by the Central Bridge Works of Peterborough.

Department of Indian Affairs, Ottawa, February, 1898. } 6d

The drummer who tries to talk a merchant into purchasing a bill of goods may be handicapped by a face rendered unsightly by pimples and blotches and by a foul breath. Some men imagine that bad health does not handicap them in business. A bigger mistake was never made. The slightest disorder may be the biggest kind of a detriment to a business man. An unsightly skin is caused by impurities of the blood. A foul breath means a weak stomach, an impaired digestion and an inactive liver. A sweet breath means that the stomach is sweet, the digestion good, the liver active and the bowels regular. It is an indication of a thoroughly constitutional sweetness. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, gives edge to the appetite, makes digestion and assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It is the great blood-purifier. It makes the eye brighter, the skin clearer, the breath sweeter and the step more elastic. It imparts both mental and bodily activity. It cures all diseases resulting from impurities in the blood. Found at all medicine stores.

"I was a complete wreck; appetite gone, nervous system impaired; could not sleep; and was so weak that I could not stand on my feet ten minutes," writes Miss Ella Bartley, of No. 213½ South Grant Ave., Columbus, Ohio. "I only weighed 95½ pounds. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me and now I have an excellent appetite, sleep soundly and my friends say they never saw me so well."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. All medicine dealers sell them. No other pills are "just as good."

by which the price was to be $500,000 plus the amount of an anticipated rake-off should the Government purchase the railway. As detailed by Mr. Greenshields, the scheme was as follows: Mr. Farwell, who was a member of the company and a prominent Conservative—the organizer of the party in the eastern townships—told his fellow-members in 1894 that he thought he could sell the road to the Government. He secured the option that it might be used by Mr. Hugh Ryan, who acted as go-between in the transactions, although Mr. Rufus Pope, M.P., seems also to have taken a hand in the affair. At that time the Drummond Railway was built from Ste. Rosalie to Moose Park, with a branch to Nicolet. There remained to be built 48 miles or so from Moose Park to Chaudiere, and for the completion of this the usual subsidy was to be secured. The next step was to sell or lease the completed road to the Government. The figure at which Mr. Ryan was to sell was $17,500 per mile, or in the vicinity of two and a quarter millions for the road. If the Government leased the road the rental was to be $100,000 a year, the equivalent at 4 per cent. interest of two and a half millions. Mr. Farwell seems to have been thoroughly of the opinion that these terms could be arranged, and the option was renewed from time to time until June, 1896. One of its provisions was to the effect that if the Conservative party should be defeated in the general election, then pending, the option would expire. This goes to prove that the whole proceedings were dictated by political considerations.

Mr. Ryan's Share.

Having obtained the purchase price or the value of the lease, Mr. Farwell was to add to the total the sum obtained from the Government as a subsidy for the 48 miles, and deduct from the grand total first the amount required to build the 48 miles, and, second, the $500,000 agreed to be paid to the shareholders. The remainder of the money received from the Government was to be divided between the shareholders and Mr. Ryan in the ratio of one-third to the stockholders and two-thirds for Mr. Ryan. Now let us see what this means in plain English: Mr. Ryan was to use his influence to induce the Government to purchase the Drummond Railway at a certain price, and for his services was to secure two-thirds of the proceeds after deducting certain fixed charges. The amount of the rake-off can be easily determined. Supposing that the 48 miles to be built cost $15,800 per mile, the apparent average from the company's books, less $3,200 per mile, the amount of the subsidy, we have $541,800 as the cost of completing the road. This, added to the $500,000 to be paid to the shareholders makes a sum of $1,041,800 to be deducted from the sum received from the Government. The account now stands: Purchase price of 129 miles of railway at $17,500 per mile, $2,257,500; deduct for shareholders and construction account, $1,041,800; rake off remaining, $1,215,700; Mr. Ryan's share for his influence, two-thirds of above, $810,466; shareholders' proportion, one-third, $405,233.

Mr. Samuel Newton, secretary of the company, testified that the original paid-up stock of the company totaled about $400,000. The stock to-day consisted of 4,000 shares, of which Mr. Farwell held 700, Mr. Mitchell 100, and Mr. J. N. Greenshields 3,299. The Federal subsidy received totalled $987,986, and the Provincial subsidy $347,480. The total indebtedness of the company is $65,000.

The committee adjourned.

Society circles, with a big S, in the Capital are excited just now. For some time robberies have taken place at almost every social event. And this, despite the watchfulness of the tried and trusted servants. At a tea given by Mrs. R. W. Scott recently, Miss Scott was one of the victims. Her loss amounted to $12. Cash only was taken. Money was also taken from ladies' pockets at Mrs. Palmer's at home, Mme. Lavergne, Mrs. A. F. McIntyre and another lady being the losers. A third robbery was at Mme. Coursol's euchre party, and as only ladies were present the thief is suspected to be one of the fair sex. The perpetrator of the robberies has been detected and has confessed. Owing to the highly respectable connections of this person, no criminal action will be taken in the matter, but it is stated that the person will no longer have the opportunity for committing further robberies.

Chief Timothy Arirhon, a delegate from Oka, was here yesterday, with a tribal grievance before the Department of Indian Affairs. He states that the existence of two licensed hotels in their village is causing much trouble. It has proved a great temptation, he says, to the Indians during the years since the introduction of "the cursed stuff," as he calls it on the reserve. Consequently the Indians are appealing to the Government as wards of Canada to intervene and take such steps as will remedy the evil. He says that to entirely prohibit the sale of intoxicants on the reserve would be perfectly justifiable.

WHEAT STRONGER.

Futures Advanced in Chicago and Liverpool—A Likely Decrease in the Visible—The Local Prices.

Friday Evening, March 18.

It is expected that the visible supply of wheat on Monday will show a decrease of 750,000 bushels, against 1,019,000 bushels the same day last year.

It is estimated that Europe's minimum weekly requirements of wheat for the remainder of the season are 6,400,000 bushels, and that probably maximum shipments will be 5,680,000 bushels, a shortage of 720,000 bushels weekly.

The wheat market showed considerable improvement to-day. The Liverpool closing was from ¾d to ⅞d higher than Thursday's, and other foreign markets were firm. In Chicago May wheat gained 1¼c, while the July, September and December futures improved to the tune of about one cent. Outside markets advanced in sympathy. Good acceptances at the seaboard and the prospect of unfavorable weather in some crop regions were the chief strengthening influences. Excellent reports as to crop conditions come from some quarters, however.

END OF A STORY.

Dorothy Bacton rose from her writing table and walked to the window. The gloom of the November day had begun early. In the square bare trees were dimly discernible through a yellow mist, and from the houses around lamps and gaslights shone murkily.

An hour ago she had taken up her pen to write the most difficult chapter of her story. An hour ago she had an idea for the chapter's development; its initial sentence sounded in her ears; splendid solid paragraphs shaped themselves to the number of words necessary for its completion. That was before the Friday organ unwound itself on her side of the square, before operas, balls and after dinner drawing rooms floated before her through the mist in remorseless succession. The blank chapter lay in numbered pages upon her table. Its heading had been treated decoratively. "Chapter XXIX" stood out boldly in original and picturesque lettering. But this simple device for stimulating the fancy had failed as completely as had the story teller's journeys up and down the tall house and her prolonged observations of the fog from its different windows.

She had no ideas for this last chapter but one. The preceding chapters she bore vividly in mind. She could have repeated many of them word by word, so carefully had she worked at their making, but her brain refused now to travel along the same lines. The whole point of the story eluded her. To what climax had those completed 28 chapters been leading? She could not clearly remember, and the little she could recall seemed lamentably weak and unsatisfactory.

The fog was thickening, the lights round the square were growing redder and smaller and those blank, prenumbered pages lay dismally upon the table. She stirred the fire vigorously and stared at the liberated flames as they danced joyfully in the grate.

Dorothy Bacton had been married six years. Why she married Hugh Bacton no one knew. He wasn't clever, he wasn't beautiful, he wasn't good, he wasn't even rich; while she herself had generously supplied all these requisites for a happy home. And, excepting a slight falling off perhaps in the matter of goodness, she had for six years faithfully maintained her contribution to the union. Hugh was something in the city. Of the precise nature of his professional duties in that mysterious place she was unaware. The only fact which was kept clearly before her was that her husband was a very important person, and was urgently engaged every evening of the week upon extraordinary business committees.

She had married Hugh because she had loved him; it was a simple explanation, so simple that it took but a few minutes of retrospection to recall it. She had loved him with all her heart, and now she did not love him any more. This second fact was as clear to her as the first, and the memories which occupied her were those which covered the months between the two epochs. She had gone through them again from the beginning; through the first few weeks of radiant happiness, when she had walked about the world with a halo round her head; through the terrible months of undefined doubt and misery; through the acute realization that it had all been a mistake, that Hugh had never loved her, even in the beginning. And, after this survey of the past, she made a resolve for the future. Personal joys and sorrows should, for her, be at an end. She had a pretty pen; that should save her; with it she would keep her hold on life. But a pretty pen is not of great avail in a case like Dorothy's: perhaps a great one hardly suffices to cure a ruined life. However that may be, Dorothy Bacton, in spite of a strenuous effort to the contrary, pined for affection and sympathy.

Her loneliness was beginning to wear her out, to paralyze her brain, enervate her will. She had not many friends; unhappiness is not attractive, on the whole, and she realized early in her struggle to be good and patient that the world prefers to make its observation of domestic infelicity at a distance. So long as her husband did not beat her, or turn her out of doors, or leave her, it would sit outside in the outer ring and watch the performance politely to the end. Perhaps she was embittered unreasonably, perhaps she did not remember the sacrificial aspect of the married state. Be this as it may, the fact remains that on this dreary November afternoon she sat in her lonely room and said there was no one for whom she could send, no one in all the world who would come to her unquestionably and understand the desolation she could not express. "No one—no one in all the world," she said, and then she poked her fire once more and looked out at the thickening fog, for, deep down in her heart, she knew there was one who would come if she sent him but the faintest whisper of appeal. She looked far away through the fog—far away to a sunny land, to roses and blue seas, to vague, unspeakable happiness and out in the square the organ still reeled off its endless supply of opera.

Down stairs on the house door the knocker sounded vigorously.

"He wants money, no wonder!"

She took out her purse to find a coin adequate to the interruption the musician had occasioned.

"I think he should be killed," she said as her door opened.

"Indeed! Who is it? Tell me, and I'll do it at once."

Dorothy turned quickly and laughed, while a tall figure groped its way through a sea of furniture to her side.

"I thought you were the organ man, and I was telling the maid to have him killed. He has played all the afternoon and ruined my story."

"I've come for the story."

"It isn't finished."

"How much have you done?"

"I've come to the last chapter but one."

"The most difficult?"

"Yes, the most difficult of all. There it is on the table."

She pointed to the unwritten chapter. Lawrence Harvey was editor of The New Magazine. He believed in Dorothy Bacton's pen. He looked disappointed as he saw the blank pages. Then he smiled as he sat down beside her.

"I wanted it today, but you can finish it by the end of the week?"

She shook her head.

"I don't know how to finish it."

He turned to her in surprise.

"But—but—oh, this is the fog! You will go on easily again when the air clears. I must have the last chapters, you know, in this number."

"But I'm afraid you can't."

The editor of The New Magazine looked uneasy.

"What is the difficulty?"

"I don't in the least know what my heroine is going to do."

"Didn't you think the story out as a whole?"

"Yes, but she won't do the things I planned she should do. She has suddenly developed into a new creature, over whom I have no control."

"What has happened to make her so unmanageable?"

"She has realized that—that"—

Dorothy did not finish her sentence.

"What has she realized?"

The editor leaned forward and looked earnestly at his contributor, but she did not answer his question.

"What has she realized?" he asked again.

"We are old friends."

Dorothy picked up a bundle of neatly typed manuscript which lay on the table beside the rebellious chapter.

"Through all these pages," she said slowly, as she ran her finger across the edges of the paper, "my heroine has suffered patiently, but she has decided now that she will suffer no more, and, if she does not suffer, she will have to act—as I did not wish her to act—in my original plan."

"Well?"

"I do not know what form to let her rebellion take. There are, of course, several sorts of tragedy open to her. She might easily die—oh, very, very easily—that would be a nice, safe ending for her." Dorothy smiled softly as she spoke. "But, somehow," she added quickly, "I can't help wanting to make her happy."

"Of course you can't."

Lawrence Harvey leaned back in his chair. "It will be a better story if you make her happy," he said quietly.

Dorothy put the manuscript upon the table again. "Yes, yes, but it is too difficult, too hard a thing to do."

"Would it be very hard? Can you think of no happy ending? Let it have a happy ending," he pleaded.

"How can happiness follow on such chapters as these?"

She folded her hands miserably.

"There might be a friend," he began, "a man"—

But she interrupted him—"No, no; there is no friend"—

Lawrence Harvey stood in front of her.

"No friend, at least, who can come into the story now."

"Why?"

"Why—why," she said passionately, "because he would have to be so wise and so strong! He would have to know everything without being told; her loneliness and her longing, her weakness and her strength, her failures and her strivings—he would have to realize them all. And he would have to be so tender and so patient, to find and cure for her very self in the gloom her unhappiness has cast upon her. And he would have to give so much, oh, so much, so generously, so extravagantly, so recklessly, to make up for the starved time before, and—and"—

"And?"

"I cannot bring such a friend into the end of my story. He should have a triumphant one of his own—happy from the beginning."

He dropped on his knees beside her. "Dorothy, Dorothy, I am not as good as that fellow, but you know how I love you. Let me try to make you happy."

She bent down and lightly kissed his hair. He looked up at her touch. His face was eager and young and strong—a face to be trusted forever and ever.

He held both her hands.

"You are tired—so tired! Rest in my arms. Let me take care of you. Let me be happy too."

She rose quickly. He was so faithful, this friend who must not come into her story, and she longed so greatly for the love and rest he held out to her. For many minutes she did not speak; then she turned to him gently and said:

"It would not be fair. I care so much for—that friend—I dare not. I could not make a happy ending for him with so much misery behind. He might some time regret—regret." She broke off with a ghostly little laugh. "Besides," she went on with trembling lips, "your readers must be considered. I am sure they would not approve."

The editor of The New Magazine had forgotten his readers.

"I shall wait," he said simply, "until you believe that you only can bring me happiness, that you only make the world for me, that nothing else matters. So near or so far, as you wish, I will stay, but I shall be ready and waiting always. Dorothy, some day you will have enough faith in me!"

"Please go now," was all she said, and he kissed her hand and left her.

Outside the organ still ground out its ceaseless round. The fog thickened and deepened, and on the blank pages of the manuscript Dorothy Bacton laid her head hopelessly.

"What shall I do? What shall I do?" she sobbed.

It was not a helpful plan; it gave her no ideas. For that last chapter but one she had nothing but tears.

But that kind of chapter is common to so many stories.—Sketch.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

St. Patrick's Day Concert at Young's Point.

For once the spacious and well equipped hall of Mr. Heard proved too small to accommodate the large crowd that assembled to witness the entertainment which the young people of the parish had prepared for St. Patrick's night. Every available seat was occupied, and before eight o'clock standing room could not be obtained. The committee of management were taken by surprise, but they did their best to make room for all. Shortly after eight o'clock Mr. C. Young stepped to the front of the brilliantly lighted stage, and in a short but very appropriate speech, introduced the following programme:

I PART.

Trio.....Misses Louise Kearney, Lottie Kearney and Anna Young
Song, "I love her just the same".....Harry Kearney
Dialogue, "The Bashful Lovers"..Vernie McFarlane and Frank Young
Song, "A Letter to Heaven"....Miss B Costello
Charade, "Refinement"....Misses Louise and Jennie Kearney, W Brooks and W Scollard
Song, "The Harp that once through Tara's Halls".....Mrs P F Young Irish Airs.....Miss Anna Young
Song, "Asthore".....Mrs Buchanan

II. PART.

Recitation, "Matches".....Miss B Costello
Comedy, entitled "scandal Circle".....by Misses Lottie Kearney, Louise Kearney, Maggie Kearney, Emma Scollard and Vernie McFarlane
Recitation, "Bernardo del Carpio".....Miss Louise Kearney
Song, "Twelve months ago to-night".....Miss Josephine Phelan
Song and dance, "Doherty, the Tailor"...Harry Kearney
Recitation, "A message to Grandma".....Miss Mary Welsh
Violin solo.....Miss Jennie K arney
Comedy, entitled the "Plaintiff".....Misses Emma Scollard, Lottie and Ida Kearney, W Brooks, W Scollard and W Young

The entertainment, which lasted over three hours, was a rich treat in every sense of the word. Not a hitch occurred from beginning to end, and although costumes had frequently to be changed at short notice, still every one of those who took part seemed to understand their work so well that the greatest critic could not find fault. In an entertainment where so many took part, and where all did so well, it might be out of place to specify any in particular, but we can scarcely refrain from mentioning a few names. Harry Kearney is a whole concert in himself, and the hearty manner in which he was applauded, and obliged to respond to encores, testify to Harry's great popularity with the boys, as well as to his clever, skilful acting. Captain Scollard and W. Brooks are actors of no mean ability, and are well-deserving of the many praises bestowed upon them by the audience. In the charade, entitled "Refinement," Mr. Brooks had a very difficult part, and he acted it to the entire satisfaction of all. W. Young, as judge in the "Plaintiff," and Capt. Scollard as lawyer, showed that they were not unfamiliar with forensic matters, and their arguments and rulings were warmly applauded.

The "Scandal Circle" caused heaps of fun and the young ladies who took part deserve great credit for the admirable manner in which they bore to tatters the reputation of everone they knew. Aunt Jane's appearance on the scene was a sad finish to what at first promised to be a cosy time. Maggie Kearney, as Aunt Jane, gave her views of gossipers some sound advice on "people minding their own affairs and not meddling with their neighbour's business."

Probably the most enjoyable feature of the evening was the consummate acting of Miss Louise and Miss Jennie Kearney, in the charade "Refinement." Both of these young ladies, by their simplicity and naturalness, one as a lady of refinement and the other as a plain, out-spoken, good-natured fun-loving country girl, won the [illegible] of all present.

Miss Anna Young won fresh laurels in her playing selections of the Irish airs, and Miss B. Costello of Peterborough, sang and declaimed in her usual sweet and pathetic strain.

Mrs. Buchanan and Miss Phelan of Lakefield, were both obliged to respond to encores.

"The Bashful Lovers" was well given by Miss V. McFarlane and Frank Young. If every young man finds it as hard to pop the question as did Frank marriage would certainly be a failure. "Oh, how he sweats!" said an urchin, as Frank wiped the round drops of perspiration of his already glowing, but grief-stricken face, and pushed farther away from the idol of his heart. Too bad! he couldn't do it, and Vernie was obliged to come to his rescue.

Miss Mary Welsh gives promise of much elocutionary power and her "Message to Grandma," was well received.

During the evening's performance, Misses Lottie Kearney, Alma Young and Jennie Kearney rendered several sweet violin solos.

Mrs. P. P. Young, as was expected, sang in good style, "The Harp that once through Tara's Hall."

A very enjoyable evening was brought to a close by a few words of thanks from the chairman and the singing of the National Anthem.

The minutes of the meeting of February 1st were read and confirmed.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bidgood appeared and addressed the council with regard to the deviation of the Cavan boundary around the hill on 10th concession, and asking the council to make a grant towards opening the road over the hill in lieu of the present one around the hill.

Mr. S. Thompson also appeared and addressed the council, asking them to renew the culvert and clear the drain at the north of his lot, so as to protect him from the overflow of water.

The following accounts were presented: Peterborough Hardware Co., $2.05; Kingan & Allen, 87 cents; Geo. Carton, $2 00; John Fowler, $4.00; James Thompson, $12 15; Jos. Forster, $5.00; Cox & Davis, $3 95; John Bradley, $2.00; W. J. Hall, 60 cents; John McIntosh, $31 80.

Communications were received from W. J. Hall, requesting the council to pay him a balance of $33 50, he claims for cleaning ½ line on 7th con., and when paid he offers to open the said road—Received.

From Geo. Scotherar, clerk of Cavan, re appointing Mr. J. Thompson to attend to Douglas Bridge, also enclosing a copy of a resolution passed by Cavan council, granting the sum of $150 towards gravelling the boundary, in addition to what has already been granted providing North Monaghan grant an equivalent—Received.

A petition asking for the abolition of the dog tax in this municipality was presented by Robert Thompson and 35 other ratepayers—Received,

Moved by Messrs. Hunter and May that Messrs. McIntosh and Bradburn interview Mr. G. Ranney and ascertain his estimate of cost of reducing the grade as last marked out by him on the profile of the gravel road hill, and also if he will guarantee that this road will give satisfaction and be as good a road as the one at present travelled on—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Hunter and May, that Councillor May is hereby empowered to have the culvert on 10th con. at Mr. S. Thompson's rebuilt, and also to have the drain cleaned as requested by Mr. Thompson—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Hunter and May, that the accounts as presented and certified, except that of the Peterborough Hardware Co., be passed and paid—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Madill, that the clerk is hereby instructed to inform Mr. W. J. Hall that this council does not assume any liability regarding his claim for clearing fourth line, and also that this council require the said fourth line opened for public traffic forthwith, and if the notice is not complied with, instructions be given the proper authority to have the fence removed therefrom.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Bradburn and Hunter, that while the council fully recognize the importance of maintaining the Cavan boundary in excellent condition for public traffic, and also are always ready to deal equitably with adjoining municipalities in maintaining boundary lines, yet in view of the fact that the large sums granted last year towards repairing this road are as yet not fully expended, therefore be it resolved that pending the expenditure of the balance of the grants as provided in 1897 towards repairing the Cavan boundary, this council does not for the present deem it expedient to give the additional grant of $150 as an equivalent required by the resolution of the council of Cavan—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Bradburn and May, that the petition re dog tax be referred to a committee composed of Councillors May, Hunter and the clerk to report to this council at last meeting.—Carried.

Mr. McIntosh reported having with the treasurer issued orders for the sums awarded under bylaw 443 in 1897 as follows:—January 4th, $2; January 5th, $2; January 18th, $1.50; January 19th, $6; also rebate to the town of Peterborough on costs in sewer arbitration, $62 50:

Moved by Messrs. May and Hunter, that the issue of these orders is hereby confirmed.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Hunter, that the clerk is hereby authorized to purchase the approved cash book for the township treasurer.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Hunter that Mr. H. Rush be granted the sum of $15 towards opening the drain on Erskine avenue. This grant to be paid when the work is certified done by Mr. McIntosh.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Bradburn and Hunter that the clerk is hereby instructed to communicate with the reeves of all municipalities in the county of Peterborough, asking them to memorialise the county council of Peterborough county with regard to their taking such measures as will lead to the adoption of wide tires on waggons throughout the county and that a committee consisting of Messrs. McIntosh, Bradburn and Hunter are hereby appointed to deal with the same;—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Bradburn, that whereas the office of sanitary inspector has become vacant through the removal of James M. Davidson from the township, therefore be it resolved that Geo. W. Bennet be appointed sanitary inspector and constable for the year 1898.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Hunter and Bradburn By-law No. 455 re-dividing the township into four instead of three road districts was introduced and read.

This Bylaw, also Bylaw No. 449, confirming the appointment of sanitary inspector, was given the necessary readings and passed.

Council then adjourned to meet on April 1st.

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Prize Tea Store, 323 George street. After critically examining the tea she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another gentleman says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and our own raising of Pickled, Smoked, Salted Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and at price to suit all. Come to the best, get the best, and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 323 George Street.

THE SENATE AND THE BILL.

An All-Canadian Coast Route Necessary

TO THE POLICING OF THE YUKON

The Responsibility That Must Rest Upon the Shoulders of the Senators—New Friends Have Been Made for the Measure—Change in Attitude of Many Senators.

Ottawa, March 22.—(Globe Special.)—The centre of interest in Parliament this week is transferred to the Senate chamber, where the fate of the Yukon bill will be settled at the close of the debate which begins to-day on the second reading of the bill. There is much gossip as to the attitude of the Senate toward the measure. A month ago the great majority of the Senators were openly and frankly hostile to the bill, but much has happened since. In the first place, the action of Congress and the manifest eagerness of the coast cities of the United States to confine the routes to the Yukon to those beginning at the head of the Lynn Canal, in territory occupied by the United States, have given occasion for thought. The Senators see now that our trade rivals really fear the construction of the all-Canadian route, and that they are bending every energy to prevent it from being opened up. This fact alone is sufficient to account for the change of attitude of not a few of the Senators, because they know that the scheme must be calculated greatly to benefit Canadian trade to have secured such active hostility at Washington and in the coast cities of the Pacific States. The continual and persistent lobbying against the bill by prominent Americans, like Hamilton Smith and his associates, so far from injuring the measure, has made friends for it in the most unexpected quarters.

A Very Serious Responsibility.

In effect, therefore, the rejection of the bill must mean that the Senate takes off the shoulders of the Government responsibility for the safety of the Yukon and assumes that responsibility itself. If one may judge from the tone of members of the Senate who have faced this issue, they are not ready to take the risk. The rush to the north is fully as great as was anticipated, and over 25,000 men—the roughest of the mining population of the west forming a large proportion—have already started for the Yukon. Thousands of these men are still on this side of the passes, and will be blocked soon by the spring thaws. Thousands more are over the summit and are spreading out into Canadian territory. Thousands are awaiting the breakup of winter at Wrangel and other points on the Stikine, ready to take the more southerly route. It will require all the troops to be sent out next week and all the police now in the country to do ordinary customs and police duty, leaving no large reserve force in the interior in the event of trouble following, as it may follow, the collection of royalties after the washup of early summer.

Passes Fast Blocking Up.

In the absence of a strong reserve force the only other way of safety is by the opening up of easy means of communication through Canadian territory by a route not likely to be choked up and blocked as the Dyea and Skaguay routes will probably be this summer again. The only improvement made as yet in these passes in the means of communication as compared with last year is the opening of a system of aerial railway by small cars slung on cables. It is unquestionably true that this is not sufficient for the volume of traffic. There has been much talk of a railway over the Dalton trail, but no serious work has been done upon it, and late advices from the north are to the effect that many Klondikers, feeling that there will be a repetition of the horrors of last year on the passes leading from the Lynn Canal, are turning back from Dyea and Skaguay to wait at Wrangel the opening of the all-Canadian route by the Stikine.

What Senate's Rejection Means.

The rejection of the bill now before the Senate means in effect that the Stikine route shall be abandoned and that the crowded passes in the north, from which men are already fleeing, shall be the only means of access to the country until the Yukon River opens, far on in the season. The nearer the Senators come to a decision on the issue the more serious appear the consequences that will follow rejection. It may be that there is not yet a majority in favor of the bill in the Senate, but every day now makes a change, and unless Sir Mackenzie Bowell insists upon the support of his friends on a strict party division and on grounds of party politics, the bill will in all probability be adopted.

A NEW HORTICULTURIST.

Mr. W. T. Macoun Appointed to the Experimental Farm—Ottawa News.

Mr. W. T. Macoun has been appointed horticulturist of the Central Experimental Farm, the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. John Craig, now of Ithaca, N.Y. Mr. Macoun has been engaged at the farm since the spring of 1888 as assistant to Prof. Saunders, Director of Experimental Farms. Mr. Macoun paid particular attention to the forestry work, and has charge of the forestry department. He is a son of Prof. Macoun of the Geological Survey.

Commissioner Edmund E. Sheppard says everything from this country goes to South America either by way of the United States or Great Britain. It is even cheaper to send by Great Britain, and it seems that in the process of this round-about transmission Canada's identity is completely lost. Goods going by way of New York are called "American," and those by Great Britain "British." Mr. Sheppard says instead of paying tribute to United States ships of an out-of-date build, if Canada can export direct, the volume of our trade will be enormously increased, and by this means others will grow to have confidence in us.

Premier Warburton and the delegates from Prince Edward Island, were given a hearing by the Cabinet on Saturday, and presented their financial claims on behalf of that province.

Mr. John Appleton of Winnipeg, one of the three commissioners appointed to investigate the complaints of the Crow's Nest Pass workingmen, has arrived in the Capital in company with Messrs. J. R. Costigan and J. A. McCarthy of Fort MacLeod, counsel in the case. The commission is to take evidence here and in Montreal.

The Trade and Commerce Department is advised that goods shipped from this country to France and Germany by way of British ports have been confiscated in several instances because they were stamped London, Ont., the law requiring that the Dominion of Canada must be clearly marked, to prevent confusion with London, England.

The fisheries protection fleet will shortly be in shape for the season's patrol. The first boat to leave her winter quarters will be the Osprey, on April 15 next.

Sir Richard Cartwright is confined to his house, suffering from a very sore throat.

The writ for West Prince has at last been issued. Nomination takes place on April 6, polling the 18th.

BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS.

West Huron Appeal to Be Heard To-day—Where Mr. Garrow Will Fight Hardest—South Perth.

Toronto, March 22.—Mr. Justice Osler has made an appointment to hear the West Huron election appeal to-day at 10 o'clock.

Interview With Mr. Garrow.

Mr. J. T. Garrow, Q.C., of Goderich, is staying at the Rossin House. He will probably act his own counsel in the appeal. He stated that his strongest fight would be on two ballots, the one disallowed for him because it bore the initials of the poll clerk instead of those of the deputy returning officer, and the one with the number torn off, allowed to Mr. Beck. If he wins on these two it will leave the vote a tie, and the returning officer may be safely counted upon to return the Government candidate. In any case, Mr. Garrow stated, the election would be protested. He said the overconfidence of his friends had defeated him, and he was confident of his success in a bye election.

South Perth.

Mayor Moscrip of St. Mary's, the defeated Liberal candidate in South Perth, has filed his appeal with the clerk of the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall.

IMPORTED NURSERY STOCK.

Instructions From Ottawa to Detain—The Order Affects British Stock.

Toronto, March 22.—The local customs authorities received instructions from Ottawa yesterday to detain all nursery stock imported since March 17 and to notify outposts in this district to that effect at once. This includes rose bushes and other stock imported from England, while the regulation of the department at Ottawa has reference only to nursery stock from the United States, Japan and Hawaii.

NOW RESTING BEFORE BATTLE.

Anglo-Egyptian Force Awaiting an Attack at Atbara.

THE DERVISHES ARE ADVANCING

The Irish Government Bill Read a Second Time—Report That Lord Elgin Is About to Retire—The Delay in Parcel Post Rests With the United States—Cable News.

Atbara Camp, Nubia, March 22.—The Anglo Egyptian force is hourly expecting an attack. During a false alarm at the Hudi fords last evening a shot was fired from some unknown quarter, and the whole British brigade stood with arms at fixed bayonets. In the pitch dark a Highlander, rushing to the place, was impaled on a comrade's bayonet.

The army marched yesterday six miles, and is now awaiting the report of the patrols who are feeling for the dervish army.

Ali Digna, brother of Osman Digna, has thrice attacked the post at Adarama, but the friendly natives have each time defeated him, killing in all 41.

LORD ELGIN TO RESIGN.

The Viceroy of India Will Quit—Lord George Hamilton to Succeed Him.

London, March 22.—The Standard says it has reason to believe that the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, Viceroy of India since 1894, desires to resign his post and that the Government is considering the appointment of a new Viceroy. It was rumored last December that he would soon resign and be succeeded by Lord George Hamilton, the present Secretary of State for India.

PARCEL POST.

The Delay in the Matter Due to the Slowness of Washington Authorities.

London, March 22.—Replying in the House of Commons yesterday to questions on the subject, the Financial Secretary of the Treasury, R. W. Hanbury, said the delay in the establishment of a parcel post between Great Britain and the United States was due to the reluctance of the authorities at Washington to inaugurate such a service. Negotiations had been proceeding since 1885, and there were reasons to hope that an arrangement would be shortly reached.

Mr. Hanbury said a conference on postal rates within the British Empire would meet in June next.

PASSED WITHOUT DIVISION.

The Irish Local Government Bill in the Imperial Parliament.

London, March 22.—In the House of Commons yesterday the Irish Local Government bill passed a second reading without a division and amid loud cheers.

China Officially Denies It.

Pekin, March 22.—An official Chinese denial has been issued of the statements made by a special correspondent of the Shanghai Mercury at Kiu-Kiang on March 4, who alleged that the Viceroys of Nankin and Hu-Kuang and the Governor of Hunan had entered into a compact to direct the affairs of the entire Yang-Tse-Kiang Valley and its adjoining territories. It is added that the Emperor of China has no higher confidence in anyone than in the Viceroys of Nankin and Hu-Kuang and the Governor of Hunan.

France Greatly Interested.

London, March 22.—The St. James' Gazette yesterday, commenting upon the mobilization of the French fleet, suggests it may be connected with the Spanish question, and says. "If the trouble between Spain and the United States became acute, it would precipitate issues of great moment for France."

Two People Dying.

A MATTER OF SELF DEFENCE.

The Michigan mill owners and the large number of persons dependent upon them for employment, will have leisure now to reflect upon the beauty of the Dingley tariff. The mills will, for the most part, be silent and the workmen idle. Mr. Whitney and his political echoes, during the recent contest shrieked long and loud over the outrage of hundreds of millions of feet of logs being rushed out of Ontario limits to Michigan in anticipation of the cessation of export, consequent upon the act of the Legislature requiring all logs cut in Ontario to be sawn in the province. But, as a matter of fact, the export of logs, as the Government assured the country, was less than usual and the result will be that the Michigan mills that depended upon Ontario timber limits for their supply of logs will be idle, as will the large number of men employed in in them. They have only their own government to blame. The Dingley tariff, with its automatic clause doubling the duty if Canada moved to protect herself is to blame. They could not expect that we would stand such cut-throat legislative tariff tinkering as that without hitting back in self-defence. We have only acted on the defensive and are not to blame.

It is to be hoped that the law requiring that Ontario logs shall be manufactured in Ontario will work to our advantage all round. We have got to see how it will affect the lumbering industry in this province. If it tends to decrease lumbering operations it will be a hardship to the settlers dependent upon such operations for employment and also for a market for their produce. At any rate we had to try the expedient and it is to be hoped that it will prove successful. The United States is our best market for much of our forest produce besides pine logs, and we should make every effort consistent with self-respect to retain that market. Newspapers and interested parties are now clamouring for an export duty on sawlogs to be imposed by the Dominion Government, an act that bring the Dingley tariff into operation and raise the American duty on lumber to $4.00, supposing that the export duty is $2.00 per thousand. This is prohibitory, and the best market for our forest produce will be closed. It would seem to be enough to assert our independence and protect our invaded rights without resorting to gratuitous hostility that will certainly, and even automatically, produce ruinous reprisals, so far as our lumber interests are concerned.

FUTILE HOPES.

Soon after the election the Opposition claimed that the Government majority would be wiped out by the recount in close constituencies. The facts are that the recounts have practically justified the correctness of the counts of the election officials. The Opposition hopes were based on the assumption that the officials, being appointed by the Government, would naturally strain a point in favour of the Government candidate which would be rectified by a "fair" count by a county judge. That the judges found nothing of moment to correct shows that the latter did their work honestly according to their judgment. The Opposition seem to have come to the conclusion, with the greatest reluctance, that popular feeling was against them and in favour of the Government. Now the Opposition will doubtless base what little hope is left on the results of the bye-elections. That these will result, as a rule, in favour of the Government in power, is to be expected from the results of past experience. In 1894 the Government was returned with a straight majority of seven, one more than they have at present, and before the term was over this had increased to twelve. The Ontario Government's all right as to its stability, and all right in its promise of giving the country honest and effective administration.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Some Opposition organs were rash enough to predict "As goes Russell, so go the bye-elections." Nothing could suit us better, and we are free to say that that is the only Opposition prediction that had any sense. The Mail and Empire calls Russell a bye-election, and we'll quietly take in the others if they should come.

The political friends of Mr. St. John, the apostle of the piggery propaganda, who was defeated on March 1st in West York, have decided to petition against the election of Mr. Hill. If Mr. St. John is in search of notoriety he will get a little more, but if he is in search of a seat in the Legislature via West York he will get—well—left.

The total expenditure on the Trent Valley Canal system amounts to $2,301,539.59. Of this amount $309,371.31 was expended before Confederation and the balance since 1860, when an expenditure of $561.50 in capital account was made. Then there was a lapse of two years, and in 1863 a capital expenditure was made of $40,767.16. Since that time more or less continuous expenditure on capital account has been made every year, the largest sums being $436,575.70 in 1896 and $486,575.70 in 1897.

FODDER CHEESE.

Some weeks ago we took occasion to express the opinion that serious injury would be done to the trade if the dairymen this year made fodder cheese. The question has since that time been brought prominently before the trade. At a recent meeting of the Montreal Butter and Cheese Association the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas the price of fineat cheese today being lower than it has been at this season for the past twenty years, and the market being in a most stagnant state, it would appear that there is an over production of this article; and

"Whereas, the make of fodder cheese is at all times hurtful to the trade, its inferior quality reducing the consumption and so tending to depress the market, thus depreciating the value of the finer qualities and heavy make of full grass cheese; therefore, in view of these facts, be it

"Resolved, that in the wisdom and opinion of this association, no hay or fodder cheese should be made this spring, and that farmers should consider well the advisability of increasing the make of butter and limiting the production of cheese."

An authority in the trade tells us that cheese at nine cents per pound yields the dairymen the same profit as the butter at 19 cents per pound. If this estimate be accurate, there should be little to encourage the manufacture of cheese before the arrival of the grass season. Toronto merchants place the price of cheese at 7½ cents and butter at 19 cents at the factory. The dairy butter market is in an even relatively better position, choice qualities being quoted at 17 to 19 cents. No dairyman who has at heart the real interests of the industry, and values the importance of maintaining the good name of Canada in foreign markets, will encourage the making of cheese that has in the past, and must always, bring discredit upon the cheese trade of this country. But unfortunately there are many who are not actuated by these motives. Perhaps these men may abstain from this deplorable practice this spring, since it is almost certain to bring with it serious loss to the individuals who indulge in it.—Monetary Times.

A Bright Record.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND THE ONLY MEDICINE THAT CAN POINT TO WONDERFUL ACHIEVEMENTS.

Its Praises Sounded by All Classes of Our People.

A Spring Medicine That Cures Disease in Every Case.

The Sick and Friends of the Sick Are Warned to Beware of Substitutes.

Paine's Celery Compound can point every suffering and ailing man and woman to a glorious and wonderful record already achieved in our Dominion.

The work of disease banishing and life saving has not been confined to any particular class of people. All ranks and conditions of our population, the city toilers, the hard working farmers, business men, capitalists, clergymen, lawyers, physicians, and members of parliament, owe their lives and present good health to the curing virtues of Paine's Celery Compound.

Paine's Celery Compound is the spring medicine of the world par excellence. No other medicine has been so much talked about, praised and recommended by physicians, and indorsed by wise and discerning people everywhere. It indeed deserves all the good words that have been uttered in its favour.

At the present season Paine's Celery Compound is earnestly recommended to every rheumatic, nervous, neuralgic and dyspeptic individual, young and old. To those who are suffering and cast down, owing to the rapid progress of blood diseases, kidney trouble and liver complaint, we say, use the marvellous medicine at once if you wish restoration to health. Thousands of desperate cases in the past have been cured; the power of the medicine is as full and powerful to-day as in times gone by, and will surely make new men and women of those whose lives are now despaired of.

Have a care that you are not imposed on with substitutes. If your dealer suggests some other remedy that he calls just as good, tell him that you insist upon having Paine's Celery Compound. Substitutes and imitations are frauds and deceptions.

THE SPEAKER WAS SUSTAINED.

The House Debates Mr. Bruneau's Alleged Resignation.

MR. MARCOTTE'S MOTION LOST.

The Whole Day Occupied With This Case —Proceedings in the Senate—The Appointment of Another Drummond Railway Inquiry Committee Authorized—Their Power, However, Is Limited.

Ottawa, March 22.—Mr. Marcotte again brought up his motion in the House yesterday to have the alleged resignation of Mr. Bruneau, member for Richelieu, referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. It will be remembered that the statement was made in a number of newspapers that Mr. Bruneau had resigned his seat in the House. The Speaker made a declaration in the House of his connection with the matter, saying that Mr. Bruneau had come to his office a week ago Friday morning and asked to have a letter, which he had written to the Speaker, returned to him. Mr. Edgar had not yet opened his letters, and Mr. Bruneau picked out an unopened letter with his frank upon it and took it away with him. This was the letter in which Mr. Bruneau was supposed to have tendered his resignation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the statute laid down that if a member wrote out his resignation and had it witnessed by two members of the House, and then handed it, or caused it to be handed to the Speaker, it was the duty of the Speaker to issue his warrant for a new election. He submitted that a case for an investigation had been made out. If Mr. Bruneau had any intention of resigning his seat, he had not caused his intention, so declared, to be delivered to the Speaker, inasmuch as he withdrew his letter before Mr. Speaker saw it. He contended that Mr. Bruneau had a right to withdraw his letter up to such time as the Speaker took action upon it. He claimed that, under all the circumstances, Mr. Bruneau was still a member of the House.

Sir Hibbert Tupper said the Premier's statement could not be regarded as satisfactory to the House. The almost invariable practice in this Parliament and the Mother Country had been to refer to the proper committee on what he might term the slimmest kind of statement the question of the right of a member to occupy a seat in Parliament.

Mr. Casey maintained that no case for enquiry had been maintained.

Mr. Bennett called attention to an article in the Montreal Star of March 14, in which the honor of Mr. Speaker Edgar in this matter was impugned. It was always understood that the presiding officer of the House should hold himself aloof from party while occupying the position of Speaker. And yet Mr. Speaker had not ventured to challenge the statements of the Star. The allegation had been made in the newspapers that Mr. Speaker was aware that the document contained in the letter from Mr. Bruneau was his resignation. It was due to the Speaker himself that all the facts should be enquired into.

Mr. McInerney called attention to the fact that in Mr. Speaker's statement from the chair on Monday last he did not say whether he knew the envelope contained Mr. Bruneau's resignation or not. The dignity of the House and the honor of Mr. Speaker required the fullest investigation of this case.

Sir Louis Davies could find no fault with the manner in which both Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. McInerney had presented the case, but he did object to Mr. Bennett's attack on Mr. Speaker by the circulation of anonymous correspondence in the newspaper.

Mr. Bennett—I quoted from editorial matter of the Montreal Star, which is responsible for its utterances.

"At any rate," Sir Louis continued, "it was an unmanly course." He went on to argue that the condition essential to action was absent, namely, the receipt by the Speaker of Mr. Bruneau's declaration.

Mr. Bergeron—If Mr. Speaker had been told by the Minister of Public Works or the Premier, or the Liberal whip, that Mr. Bruneau's resignation had been mailed to him, would Mr. Speaker be justified in handing back that envelope to Mr. Bruneau, contending that he had not received his resignation?

Sir Louis replied that there was sufficient to argue upon in the way of fact without importing matters of imagination into the debate.

This observation elicited protests of disapproval from the Opposition.

The debate was continued by Mr. Borden and Mr. Quinn, the latter contending that the mere receipt of the document by the Speaker constituted a resignation vacating the seat. The inquiry would identify or distinguish the document returned by him to Mr. Bruneau.

Mr. Mills argued that if it were brought to Mr. Speaker's knowledge, even at this late day, he would be bound to act upon it.

Mr. Bergeron urged the necessity for an investigation to clear up the whole question.

Mr. Flint (Liberal, Yarmouth, N. S.) contended that Mr. Bruneau had a perfect right to withdraw his resignation.

After further remarks by members,

The House divided, Mr. Marcotte's motion being defeated on a vote of 39 to 79.

The House adjourned at midnight.

DRUMMOND COUNTY RAILWAY.

The Senate Appoints Another Investigating Committee.

In the Senate yesterday Sir Mackenzie Bowell moved that a committee of the Senate be appointed to enquire into the amount, source and expenditure of all subsidies granted to the Drummond County Railway Company, and of all other moneys received and expended by the said company, and the times and manner of such expenditure; the capital stock of the company; proceeds of sale of same by the company, subscription of stock, names of subscribers, amounts subscribed, calls made thereon and amounts paid on same, transfers of stock from time to time, and to whom; the financial position of the company, its liabilities, matured or accruing, inclusive of bonds sold, and their proceeds; of loans or advances made to or by the company, and the application of the same, together with particulars or all guarantees or endorsements given to or by the company in relation thereto; the particulars of all offers or negotiations for the sale, lease or transfer of the company's property; the classification and condition of the said railway and equipment at any time or times, together with all matters and things relating to the said Drummond County Railway Company, inclusive of all negotiations and dealings with the Government of Canada in reference to the said company. The said committee to be as follows: Senators Clemow, Cox, Dobouchervilla, Ferguson, Kirchhoffer, King, Loughead, Landry, Miller, Mills, Macdonald (B C.), Power, Prowse, Primrose, Thibaudeau (De La Vallière), Wood and the mover.

Sir Mackenzie's Remarks.

Speaking of his motion, Sir Mackenzie said his reasons for asking a week ago that this motion should be adjourned till to-day were on record. He had watched the proceedings before the committee of the other House appointed to investigate this matter, and had come to the conclusion that his motion was necessary, if the investigation into this question was to be full and searching in its character. No investigation could be complete where the refusal of a witness to answer a pertinent question was sustained by a majority of the committee. It was a duty the Senate owed to the public that this investigation should go on, and that it should be full and searching. Upon the result of this enquiry depended whether the Senate would be blamed or commended for its action in throwing out the Government measure last session. If the bargain was shown to be an improvident one, the Senate would be commended for its action, and, on the other hand, if the bargain were shown to have been one which was in the interests of the country, the Senate would have to assume the responsibility for the action it took last session.

Senator Power wanted to know in what particular the enquiry before the Commons committee was being restricted.

Sir Mackenzie replied that an important witness had on more than one occasion refused to answer important questions, and his refusal had been sustained by the majority of the committee.

Senate Has Not the Power.

Hon. David Mills found the same objection to this motion that he expressed against the motion of Senator Miller last session. The Senate was not clothed with power to investigate the expenditure of money voted by Parliament. The powers of the Senate, under the British North America Act, were no greater than the powers enjoyed by the House of Lords in England. That branch of Parliament which had the power to grant such money alone had the power to enquire into its expenditure. In order to bring the motion within the constitutional law of Parliament he suggested that the first few lines be changed to read that the committee be appointed to inquire into the finances of the Drummond County Railway Company and all matters pertaining thereto. This would not restrict the scope of the committee. He did not desire in any way to stop the inquiry, but wished only to remove from the motion what he regarded as an unparliamentary feature.

Senator Miller had not expected that the Government would oppose this motion in any way. He trusted the motion would be passed as it was moved, in order that the enquiry might be as wide as possible. The motion passed.

THE YUKON COUNTRY.

Reign of Terror Inaugurated at White Pass—Bennett Road Seized—Teslin Lake Trail Opened.

Washington, March 22.—Information has been received by the War Department that the rowdy element of Alaska have seized Bennett's Road, leading to and over the White Pass, and have placed the country in a state of terror.

Instructions were telegraphed yesterday to Gen. Merriam, commanding the Department of Columbia at Vancouver, to order the infantry garrisoned at Skaguay to take proper steps for the protection of persons and property in the disturbed region, regardless of expense attending such a movement of troops.

Miners Coming Back.

Victoria, March 22.—The Danube arrived from Skaguay Sunday morning. She brings many miners back from Wrangel, who find they are unable to go in by Stikine.

The bark Canada, wrecked near Skaguay, has been seized by the United States Marshall at Sitka, who refuses to allow the cargo, which includes much lumber for dredges on the Skaguay wagon road, to be discharged.

Teslin Lake Trail Opened.

Winnipeg, March 22.—Advices received in Vancouver by H. Maitland Kersey of the Canadian Development Company from Charles E. McDonald, who was in charge of a party sent by the company to open a trail to Teslin Lake, state that the party has opened up a trail successfully and left a road that would be hard to beat, even in more settled districts. They say the work is very hard.

Cure of the Complexion.

It is a well-known fact that a torpid liver produces a sallow hue and a dull yellow complexion. You need not expect a clear, beautiful complexion if the blood is rendered impure by a sluggish action of the liver, which cannot properly perform its functions of purifying and filtering all impurities from the blood. Ladies, Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills is a invaluable remedy, for by their action on the liver and blood they promote true beauty by rendering the blood pure. This is the secret.

Ibsen's Anniversary.

Christiania, March 22.—The birthday of Henrik Ibsen was celebrated here yesterday with great festivities. Numerous deputations, including one from the Storthing, congratulated the eminent Norwegian poet and dramatist, and King Oscar telegraphed: "I and the Queen send you our cordial congratulations on your 70th birthday. Your day of honor is likewise a day of honor for the Norwegian people."

Ibsen received hundreds of telegrams during the day.

A HEALTHY WOMAN.

It is said that nine-tenths of all the suffering and disease in the world comes from the kidneys. Yet how few people there are who take any care of these delicate little organs. Backache, lame back, headaches, listlessness, all signs of kidney trouble, are almost universal.

LAST NIGHT'S SMOKER.

It Was Thoroughly Enjoyed by Over a Hundred and Fifty Invited Guests.

A very enjoyable evening was spent last night by the members of Otonabee Lodge, I. O. O. F., and a number of their friends to whom they had extended an invitation to be present at a smoking concert held in their apartments on the corner of Hunter and George street.

The floor of the lodge room was occupied by twenty-five or thirty card tables and shortly after eight o'clock they were all occupied, pedro being apparently the most popular game, although here and there a quiet pair might be seen enjoying a game of checkers.

Pipes and tobacco were provided and it wasn't long before the smoke was thick enough to be cut with a knife. Then the windows were opened and it is rumoured the Chief was just going to ring the fire bell when he was headed off. When the atmosphere was somewhat purified, a musical programme was run off, to which excellent contributions were made by Messrs. J. C. Best, Geo. Adams, M. Moncrief, Danny Gordon and others, which assisted in making the evening pass off most pleasantly.

Sandwiches and coffee were available during the latter part of the evening. Towards the close Dr. Ball made a few brief remarks, extending an invitation to those present to look into the benefits derived from Oddfellowship, and if favourably impressed to apply for membership in the Lodge.

The members of Otonabee Lodge are to be congratulated on the very pleasant evening which they arranged, and special credit is due the committee in charge, of whom Mr. Will Quinn was chairman and Mr. Jack Gemmell, secretary.

DOGS STOLEN.

Some of Peterborough's Thoroughbred Stock Mysteriously Disappears—Probably Shipped Away.

Two of Peterborough's best bred dogs have recently been stolen and the owners of valuable canines are warned to watch their pets closely, as through various circumstances which have occurred recently it is apparent that some one is making quite a few odd shillings in shipping dogs out of town.

Only the other day Miss Boucher lost her sable collie "Laddie" in this manner. "Laddie" was a very valuable animal and will be remembered as the collie which carried off first prize at the recent dog show for being the best dog owned by a lady in Peterborough. Another loss which is reported is that of Mr. Geo. Hatton's little thoroughbred fox terrier bitch, which was also exhibited at the dog show.

AT ST. ANDREW'S.

The Singing Evangelists Hold a Meeting in the Kirk Lecture Hall.

The lecture hall of St. Andrew's was crowded last night with a very attentive and appreciative audience.

The central theme presented by the lantern views was "The death trap." In a very striking address Mr. Harry Rines brought before the minds of his hearers the many avenues opened for the destruction of moral power and human life, and closed with scenes in the life of Christ, referring to the Saviour's power to relieve the oppressed, and remedy all social wrong.

The evening was made most interesting by the introduction of vocal solos and duets by the evangelists, accompanied by the guitar and piano. The audience gave a hearty response in singing the sacred music and choruses thrown upon the canvas. Miss Vida Gladman presided at the piano.

Another meeting will be held to-night in St. Andrew's with a variety of programme. Mr. G. W. Mulligan has kindly consented to give selections with the gramaphone, which is the latest development of the "speaking and singing machine." In addition, pictures of persons and societies in connection with the church will be shown.

PERSONAL.

Lt.-Col. Ball leaves this evening for a trip to Ottawa.

Miss Nellie Halpin of Toronto is in town as the guest of Miss B. Halpin.

Mr. H. T. Strickland now has seven nephews out in the Klondyke.

Mrs. Dean and Miss Ford, of Colborne, are visiting at the residence of Mr. G. W. Ranney, Gilmour street.

Mr. George Wilson, proprietor of the Port Hope Guide, gave the EXAMINER a pleasant call this morning.

Miss Bertha Sherin has returned from Bowmanville where she has been spending the last couple of weeks visiting relatives.

Ex Councillor John Smith of Ashburnham, has sufficiently recovered from his recent attack of illness as to be able to resume work.

Mr. Alf Mellor of Lakefield, passed through to-day on his way to Dawson City. He was accompanied as far as town by his brother, Mr. Chas. Mellor.

Mr. Jacob Hicks and Frank Adams, of Harvey, leave to-day for the Northwest near Regina. Mr. Hicks' father, a former reeve, of Harvey, is already settled in that country.

Mr. Dobbie, of the Crown Lands Dept., Regina, is in town visiting friends. During the day he called on Town Clerk Armstrong, with whose brother he is well acquainted in the North-West.

Mr. John Crane, organist of St. Paul's church, went to Toronto yesterday to hear Pol Plancon, the great basso, sing. Over five thousand people were present at the Armouries last night to hear him.

Miss A. Caldwell, (one of Toronto's favourite milliners), has taken full charge of Turnbull's millinery department. She comes very highly recommended, not only as to her abilities as a milliner, but also socially; where she makes friends she retains them.

Mr. Jimmy Gordon left yesterday to take a position with the C.P.R. His headquarters will hereafter be at Havelock. This was the reason that he did not turn out with the fire brigade to the fire this morning. It is the first blaze he has missed since he became a member of the brigade four years ago. His pleasant face will be missed amongst the boys.

The New Spring Capes are opened out at Turnbull's. Your inspection is invited.

Cricket Club Minstrels.

A practice of the cricket club minstrels is called for eight o'clock sharp to-night in Jackson's piano warerooms on Aylmer street. A full attendance is requested.

A Serious Charge Against W. R. Purdy, of Belmont, is Dismissed

William R. Purdy, of Belmont, who was recently committed for trial by County Magistrate Edmison, on a charge of seducing Annie Rupert, of the same township, was tried before Judge Waller yesterday and was honourably acquitted.

The evidence of the girl was not sufficiently corroborated by the other witnesses for the prosecution and the judge did not consider it necessary to call any evidence for the defence and dismissed the case.

R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, conducted the prosecution and R. R. Hall, of Stratton & Hall, appeared for the defence.

BATTALION NOTES.

Some Notes of Interest Concerning Our Soldier Boys—Where Will the Battalion go This Year.

Lt.-Col. Ball leaves this evening for Ottawa to attend the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association, which convenes there on Wednesday next. On the occasion of the presence of so many officers in Ottawa an effort is to be made to form a Field Officers's Association. Col. Ball has also a number of other military matters to look after in the capital for the bettering of the condition of the battalion.

Drill begins on Tuesday night next week and it is hoped that the men will see their company officers between now and then in order to have their uniforms in readiness.

It is to be drill from the word go, when the battalion reorganise next week, as the annual inspection is to take place in June this year, when it is felt that the men are in better shape.

The officers have under consideration a number of places as the objective point of the Battalion's annual trip. Letters of invitation have been received from a number of other corps.

If a bicycle corps was organized in connection with the Battalion quite a large number of local wheelmen would fall into line. Every crack military body has its bicycle auxiliary now.

Labour day has been fixed for the annual rifle matches in connection with the Battalion.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Of St. John's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual meeting of St. John's branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was held yesterday afternoon at three o'clock in the school house and was very largely attended.

The President, Mrs. G. A. Smith, was in the chair, and the reports showed that much has been accomplished during the past year in both parochial and missionary work.

The same officers as last year were re-elected by acclamation as follows:

President—Mrs. G. A. Smith.
Vice-Presidents—Mrs. Best, Mrs. Boswell, Mrs. (Rev.) Davidson.
Secretary—Miss Errett.
Treasurer—Miss Clark.

A very pleasing feature of the afternoon's programme was the presentation of a "life membership" to Mrs. James Best by the members of the Auxiliary, the rector making the presentation with appropriate remarks.

The meeting concluded with the singing of the Doxology.

ODDFELLOWS' FAREWELL.

Mr. Jos. Kidd Banqueted in Mocosmin Bro his Return East.

The Mocosmin Spectator of March 3rd contains the following reference to a farewell banquet, which was given to Mr. Jos. Kidd, of town, on the eve of his return to Peterborough after spending nearly a year in the Northwest:

"On Tuesday night the members of Mocosmin Lodge No. 2A Independent Order of Oddfellows bade farewell to Bro. Jos. Kidd, of Peterborough Lodge, who has been in Mocosmin for about eight months, and has identified himself with the work of the lodge here. Bro. Kidd's knowledge of team work was taken advantage of by Mocosmin Lodge, and he kindly offered and was appointed to take charge of organizing and drilling the team. He went into the work with a vim and the Lodge is now putting on their degrees in modern manner.

"The farewell to Bro. Kidd took the form of a banquet, which was given at Endicott's restaurant. About twenty-five sat down to the good things provided by Bro. Endicott, and after they were disposed of the chairman, Bro. Geo. B. Murphy, N. G., proposed "The Queen," which was loyally responded to.

"The chairman then proposed "Our Guest," which was received by the company singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

"The secretary of the Lodge, Bro. N. G. McCallum, then presented the following address to Bro. Kidd:

Mr. Joseph Kidd:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—Your brethren of Mocosmin Lodge, No. 2A, I. O. O. F., desire to express their regret that they are so soon to be deprived of your fraternal and helpful intercourse.

They feel that your coming amongst them, your hearty co-operation with their plans, and the timely and cheerful assistance rendered by your making the direction of their preparation for the proper conferring of degrees, have given an impetus to Oddfellowship which will be enduring as time itself.

Their truest wish is that the All-seeing Eye may lovingly watch over you, and that the Omnipotent hand may lovingly protect and direct you, and that the untrodden portion of your life's pathway may be cheered by earth's best blessings, and brightened by Heaven's brightest smiles.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge,
GEO. B. MURPHY, N. G.
N. G. MCCALLUM, Secretary.
Mocosmin, March 2nd, 1898.

Bro. Kidd replied in words fitting the occasion. He little dreamed eight months ago that he would have such an honourable leave-taking with the members of Mocosmin Lodge. He would never forget the kindness shown to him during his stay and the honour conferred on him on leaving.

"The Grand Lodge" was then given and coupled with the names of Past Grand Master Tucker and P.G. Rep. Montgomery who in reply dwelt on the benefits to be derived from a visit to Grand Lodge and advised the brothers to make a point of attending Grand Lodge sessions.

"Visiting Brothers was coupled with the name of Bro. Andrews, of Stockton Lodge, who replied in a witty speech.

"The Past Grands" brought nearly every brother in the room to his feet and all spoke of the sorrow of parting with Bro. Kidd and expressed appreciation of the work he has so earnestly carried on during the last few months.

The gathering broke up by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

THE WHEEL.

Hamilton, March 21—(Special)—At the monthly meeting of the Crescents Cycle Club, of Hamilton, last night R. P. D. Graham and J. N. McKay were appointed delegates to the C.W.A. meeting. It was decided to support Peterborough's claims for the provincial meeting. A presentation was made to Secretary Knapman.

Secretary Knapman is a brother of Mr. J. S. Knapman, of town, and it was probably owing to his influence that the Crescents decided on supporting Peterborough.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY SCHEME

Mr. Loch Calls Attention to Some Features of it.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly allow me space to bring a question before the ratepayers, that is, whether a council elected for twelve months has the power to commit the ratepayers for twenty years in paying one thousand dollars for a scheme of an electric railway? I hope the ratepayers will consider the matter before committing themselves to such a scheme. I have not the least doubt that if our Street Railway Company expected in such an undertaking a paying business they would not be slow in getting the preference before outsiders. The public are well aware of how reasonably they are dealt with by the Street Railway Company. What guarantee has the public as to what charges they will make? On this the public are in the dark.

The council would be thanked by the public if they would undertake the much needed improvement of our town, whose condition has been a disgrace for many years past. The money the town has paid in law suits is a most shameful advertisement for Peterborough streets.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,
Yours truly,
WM. LOCH.

Baby Eczema and Scald Head.

Infants and young children are peculiarly subject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. Dr. Chase made a special study of Eczema and disease of the skin, and we can confidently recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure all forms of Eczema. The first application soothes the irritation and gives the little sufferer rest.

THE TENT CATERPILLAR.

A History of its Cycle of Existence.

The attention of the public has been frequently drawn to the caterpillar pest lately, and our town council has taken a step in the right direction in adopting a plan for its destruction. A few notes on the life-history of this animal will not at present be out of place.

In Canada and the United States there are two species of the tent caterpillar. Of these the most important is that commonly known as the apple-tree tent caterpillar (clisiocampa Americana), which, after our experience of last year we might well name the apple-cherry-maple-basswood-elm tree tent caterpillar.

At this season the egg clusters are to be found generally on the apple and cherry trees, but this year on almost any of our fruit or shade trees; these clusters encircle the small twigs and look like a cylindrical thickening of the twig, but on examination prove to be made up of a great number of round bodies placed close together and covered by a substance resembling glue, which protects them during winter. These egg masses are rounding at the ends, while those of the other species which usually attack our forest trees are cut off squarely at the ends. They may be distinguished by this peculiarity.

The worm remains in the egg stage about 9 months, and, just before the leaves appear, emerges to begin his depredations; if he happens to arrive a little too early he feeds on the unopened buds till the leaves expand.

The larvæ (as the worm like creatures are called) are very social, the entire brood keeping together and building a tent-like web in which they live when not feeding. Generally the tent is formed between two limbs of considerable size and sometimes when completed it measures almost two feet in length.

They leave the nest daily to feed and spin a silken thread wherever they go. In June or July they are full grown and seek some sheltered place where they spin their cocoons, which are peculiar in appearance, having a yellowish white powder mixed with the silk. This cocoon stage is called the chrysalis stage and lasts about three weeks.

From the cocoons the moths come which lay the egg masses above referred to. They are abundant in early summer, are dull yellowish brown in colour, with two transverse whitish or pale yellowish lines on the fore wings. The female is somewhat larger than the male and deposits her eggs in the autumn.

It may be that we have had a visit from the other species of tent caterpillar (clisiocampa disstria) which ordinarily attacks only forest trees, but we shall soon be able to decide, for the grub differs from that of the apple tree caterpillar in having a row of spots along the back instead of a continuous narrow line. The moths are also different, that of the forest species having the oblique lines on the wings dark instead of light. Both species are very destructive, as experience has shown, and it would be well for citizens to supplement the efforts made by the council for their destruction. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure and every egg mass destroyed will stay hundreds of these loathsome creatures from entering upon their campaign of destruction. Every cocoon destroyed this coming summer would prevent the depositing of large numbers of eggs and these (cocoons) may be easily found attached in sheltered places to old fences and similar places.

A MEMBER OF THE "BUG SOCIETY."

[The movement, conducted by the town council for the destruction of the egg "braclets" should be prompt. The buds are starting on the trees and every day grow more and more into resemblance of the egg masses, which are now hard enough to distinguish and locate. And citizens should look to the trees on their own premises (the council only attending to the streets and public parks.) No time should be lost if we hope for relief from a veritable pestilence of caterpillars this spring. A few days more may be too late if the mild weather holds. Act now.

Drop in and see Turnbull's display of Spring Millinery collected from all the various centres of fashion on the opening days Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 24th, 25th and 26th.

SKAGUAY IS A VERY TOUGH PLACE.

A LETTER TO AN OLD PETERBOROUGH BOY IN COBOURG.

Magnificent Scenery Along the Route But the Path is Only Twenty-Two Inches Wide and There are Difficulties Which Caravans Meet—Many who Wish They Were Home Again.

The following letter has been received by Mr. A. Hawley, of Cobourg, who formerly resided in Peterborough, from Austin Jex, a Cobourg young man, dated Skaguay Feb. 21. It reads: We arrived here just one week ago, after having a beautiful trip up the coast and along through the various channels. It was a magnificent trip, though a very rough one; but the scene is something grand—away beyond my knowledge of description.

Our party was the largest that has left Victoria this spring.

Well, this Skaguay is the toughest place on earth; it is away from all communication to the outer world, with one exception, and that is by boat. There has not been a boat in here for seven days.

There is no law, and people can do just as they like. There are five thousand inhabitants, and the biggest half are of the toughest character. The town is located in a valley running down to the seashore, and extending about four miles up the canyon. The houses consist of small huts and tents. Our camp is about four miles from town, toward the White Summit, which is 23 miles from here. We took our first loads up over the pass on Tuesday and arrived back to camp on Thursday evening. It is an awful contrast and a person cannot realise it until they have been over the pass. We had very good luck with our horses, although some of them had some very bad falls, but our men escaped without being hurt.

The jam of people on the pass is something awful. It is very hard work to press your way through, as the trail or path is only 22 inches at its widest point, and when you put your horses off the trail to allow another person to pass it goes almost out of sight, covered, with snow, and then the trouble begins. I froze both my cheeks going up, but not very bad; otherwise I am in splendid condition. I expect it will take us three weeks to get to the top of the summit. We ought to be at Teslin Lake in about six weeks. This camp life is not as bad as I expected. We have a first-class cook. If you have any influence over anyone that has the notion of coming out here, for their sake use it, that is if they are coming out merely to locate a claim.

WISH THEY WERE HOME AGAIN.

There are hundreds on this trail that would give anything if they were home again. It is something beyond description for me to picture to you the condition they have placed themselves in. We had a sleigh and two of our dogs stolen the other night, but the police located them for us. We are trying to get out of here as soon as possible, and I thank goodness we are four miles from the town or we would be in trouble all the time.

There have been three or four steamers wrecked coming up the coast in the last few weeks.

I saw Inspector Strickland at top of the summit the other day. He says it is all talk about grub being short at Dawson, as there is plenty to carry the people through until spring; then we will be able to relieve them of some of their gold dust.

The boys are going to town, so I must go along with them, for our trail is through a thick forest, and is very dangerous to travel. Three or four have to go together or you would be held up and everything taken from you. It is nothing to hear of a shooting affray, there have been several killed since we have been here, but they are mostly people that do not mind their own business.

We were charged $200 for just landing our goods on the wharf, and another $150 for landing them out here at camp. My letters will be longer when we get to Teslin Lake.

THE PETER HAMILTON CATALOGUE.

The Half Century Announcement of a Progressive Establishment.

The Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company celebrates its golden jubilee this year by the publication of the most beautiful catalogue of its superior harvest machinery yet published. The catalogue, just issued from the EXAMINER presses, indicates the great progress that has been made since the establishment of the works in 1848—just a half a century ago. Then farm machinery was in a very rudimentary estate; the scythe and the grain cradle represented the Hamilton "Crown" or "Rival" mower and the "Hamilton Light Steel Binder,"—the hoe, the elaborate and perfect working "Elastic Spring Hoe Seeder," and the grain bag slrung across the farmer's sagging shoulder, the "New Ideal Combined Drill and Broadcast Seeder." The history of this establishment has been one of progress; it has kept pace with the marvellous advance in invention and improvement; it has dealt honestly and fairly with its thousands of clients and has won a reputation for reliable machinery and fair dealing that places it in the front rank of manufacturers of agricultural and harvesting machinery. "A good name is better than riches," and the enviable record the Peter Hamilton Company has made in the past half century has stood and stands it in better stead than unlimited capital not backed by the honest products and honest methods that have marked the career of this establishment.

The Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company's catalogue for 1898 is not only a beautiful specimen of book-making, but has a practical value that the progressive farmers of this and other counties of the province will pratically appreciate. It contains elaborately illustrated descriptions of all kinds of machinery required upon the farm, from the plough that breaks the mould to the self-binder that knots the grain in golden sheaves. No farmer, who wishes to keep informed of the latest advances in farming machinery, can afford to be without a copy of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company's Golden Jubilee Catalogue.

Spring is here, but don't get gay,

The above poetic effusion (save the mark) is from a contemporary. It shows that even the editorial fraternity is human, and subject to the annual spring poetic fever.

TURNKEY SHOT A PRISONER.

Desperate John Glassford Brought Down From Jail Wall.

London, Ont., March 21.—A sensational incident occurred at the jail here Saturday. About ten minutes before 1 o'clock Turnkey Stickles took John Glassford, a prisoner, to the yard for exercise. They had been there only half an hour when Stickles, happening to look around at the river, Glassford took advantage of the momentary opportunity and "shinned up" the water pipe with the agility of a cat. When Stickles again saw him, Glassford was at the top of the wall. The turnkey shouted to him to stop, but he paid no attention. Stickles fired over Glassford's head, but still the prisoner heeded him not.

Stickles then saw that extreme measures were needed, and shot Glassford in the back, the ball entering the shoulder, just below the shoulder blade. The prisoner fell over on the roof of the building as though dead, and was removed by way of the skylight into the Court House, and thence to the cell, where he was laid on the floor. The wound proved to be of a serious nature, and there are but slight hopes of Glassford's recovery. The victim is a desperate man awaiting removal to the Kingston Penitentiary, to which place he was sentenced for seven years, at the last Assizes, for criminal assault on Maud Blaine, near Wardsville, on Oct. 4 last.

Glassford, after his first arrest, while waiting trial, escaped on Oct. 23, when he climbed up the same pipe as he did on this occasion and leaped from the walls. He was at liberty for ten days before re-arrested near Chatham.

How much business can a man do whose system is in a state of disorder? Headache is only a symptom. It is not a disease. The pain in the head is the sign of rebellion. There have been mistakes in diet and other abuses.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS.

Argument at Osgoode Hall on Saturday in the West Elgin Appeal Case—Adjourned Till Saturday Next.

Toronto, March 21.—The West Elgin election appeal was argued before Hon. Justice Maclennan at the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall on Saturday.

The result of the recount before the County Judge was a tie, the casting vote being in the hands of the returning officer, Sheriff Brown.

Mr. Donald Macnish, the Liberal candidate, was of opinion that there were sufficient doubtful ballots, which, in appeal, would be awarded to him and thus give him the seat.

The argument on Saturday was chiefly on the allowance or disallowance of 21 ballots, which had been declared good by the judge in the official recount. They were all marked on the left, instead of the right side of the candidates' names; several of them in favor of Mr. McDiarmid and five in favor of Mr. Macnish.

A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., and E. F. B. Johnston represented Mr. Macnish; Wallace Nesbitt and J. W. Crother of St. Thomas appeared for Mr. McDiarmid.

There was a long argument upon the 21 ballots marked with the cross in the wrong compartment.

Mr. Nesbitt supported his contention that they had been properly allowed by citing the decisions in the East York, Bothwell and Prince Edward County cases, all allowing such ballots.

Mr. Aylesworth and Mr. Johnston, in reply, however, contended that the statute was express in declaring that the cross must be placed in the compartment with the name on the right hand side of it, and not, as in these 21 ballots, on the left hand side in the compartment for the number. The Legislature, and not the court, could change the law in this respect.

The court reserved its decision.

The next argument was upon a ballot marked with one large cross to the right of both names. It has been counted out by Judge Ermatinger, rightly so, as Mr. Nesbitt contended. But Mr. Johnston contended it was a good ballot, the intersection of the cross being, as he claimed, within the compartment for Macnish, making an inverted "V," which in law is held to be a valid ballot mark. Mr. Aylesworth cited an English case to show that the ballot was good.

The next ballot considered had two crosses above the line over the name of McDiarmid, opposite which there was a properly made cross.

About a dozen other ballots remain to be considered.

The court has reserved judgment upon all points raised.

Judgment was reserved in all cases, except on the two ballots before mentioned, and the case was adjourned until Saturday next.

How They Raised Money.

Winnipeg, March 21.—Counterfeiters are at work in this city again, raising $1 bills to $5. The work was much better than that of the previous case, reported about a month ago. A Dominion Government $1 bill had been used and the large 5's cut from tobacco stamps had been pasted over so as to cover all the 1's, both on the front and back of the bill. The "o" of the "one," had been erased and in front of the "ne" the letters "f" had been substituted, so that the word "fine" appeared in the place of "five."

Almost Perished in the Flames.

St. Andrews, Que., March 21.—Mr. John Wainwright's cottage at Silver Heights, two miles from here, was completely destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The fire originated in the sap-evaporating building, which joined the cottage. The premises were occupied by W. J. Burk, late of Genoa, Que., who lost all his furniture and almost perished in the flames with his wife and two children. The loss will be about $2,000 and is only partly covered by insurance.

Brantford Fireman Dead.

Brantford, March 21.—W. F. Allen, foreman of the Fire Department, passed away at noon Saturday. Deceased was one of the first to join the firemen under the present system, and was highly respected. He leaves a wife and two children, a boy and a girl. Deceased was out on his wheel Tuesday, when coming down Brant avenue the seat broke, and he was thrown violently to the ground, but he proceeded to the fire hall. He would not give in, but on Wednesday had to go home, which he never left alive.

Firebugs at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, Ont., March 21.—About 9.30 Sunday morning fire was discovered in the new Grand Opera House, and before it could be checked had gained great headway. The theatre was formerly owned and managed by George T. Clarke of this city, but is now owned by W. D. Bothwell of Detroit. Loss estimated at $7,000, fully insured. The origin of the fire was undoubtedly incendiary.

A Comet With a Tail.

Cambridge, Mass., March 21.—A telegram has been received at the Harvard College Observatory from Prof. Schaeberle at the Lick Observatory stating that Dr. Perine has just discovered a bright comet. The comet is 2m in diameter of the seventh magnitude, has strong central condensation and a tail 1 degree long.

Mr. Cole's Body Found.

Deseronto, March 21.—The body of the late Mr. Cole, postmaster of Big Island, was found near Deseronto Saturday. Mr. Cole, in company with Mr. Morden, was out duck shooting near Big Island last fall, when their boat capsized, and although searching parties were out, they failed to recover the body.

"I was completely run down and had a bad cough due to bronchitis. I was very nervous but since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I have more appetite and feel a great deal better. I have also used Hood's Pills and find them very excellent." Mrs. M. Garland, 675 Crawford Street, Toronto, Ont.

WHEAT FUTURES.

They Rose to $1.07 for May and Fell Again Four Points—Canadian Butter for England.

Saturday Evening, March 19.

Wheat manifested strength at Liverpool to-day, the May and July futures advancing a fraction, though the September option closed ½d lower. July, September and December showed similar movements, closing respectively ⅝c, ⅜c and 1c below the opening figures. There was, practically, no local market.

Canadian Butter.

The Montreal Butter and Cheese Association is urging creamery men to ship their butter weekly, instead of monthly, as is now done. Canadian cheese, which is shipped weekly, has reached the top of the English market, and creamery butter under the same conditions, will, it is hoped, follow suit.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

IN AND OUT OF DOORS.

Novelties For Ball Gowns and New Effects For Street Wraps.

Brocbe silks, fleur de velours and miroir velvets compose many fashionable ball gowns, although for dancers only sheer transparent fabrics are employed as a rule. Tulle embroidered with chenille in dots, arabesques and large flowers, tulles interwoven with beading in which the narrowest ribbon is run and tulles having a lace pattern are all new and much liked. Liberty silk, thin and clinging, is also a favorite material.

Long sashes, sometimes plain, sometimes fringed, sometimes edged with a tiny ruching of mousseline de soie, are worn with ball gowns by young women. Jewel effects are also used as a decoration, bead embroidery in which the beads are faceted and cut like gems being a brilliant novelty.

Embroidery of all kinds is lavished upon every article of the wardrobe. For evening wraps in particular, either long or short, it is the preferred decoration, appearing in silk, chenille, metal threads, beads, spangles, or in the form of applications of velvet and fur.

Latticework applications of bands of silk or velvet ribbon are an odd novelty seen occasionally on gowns and wraps. The lower part of the front of a new model of a long redingote is thus decorated, the ribbon being black velvet. A similar decoration is placed on the front of the bodice portion, and the revers are adorned to match.

The long, ample wrap shown in the illustration is of black satin. There is a watteau plait in the middle of the back and a cape of black velvet, incrusted with applications of rich yellow guipure, which also forms a yoke and medici collar. Both yoke and collar are bordered with black ostrich plumage. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FUR AND FLOWERS.

Natural and Artificial Representatives of the Floral Kingdom.

Fur must still be chronicled, and chronicled most persistently, for it is ubiquitous, decorating indoor and outdoor gowns and forming hats and wraps, long coats and capes. The last named, less numerous than they were when large bodice sleeves made the jacket an impossibility, are yet fashionable and the chosen accompaniment of rich gowns. Chinchilla, sable, ermine and caracul are used on reception and house and carriage toilets, blue fox, golden fox and mink on jackets and walking costumes. A boa and muff were seen lately of golden fox, the boa consisting of the complete skin, with head and tail, the muff having a head, with staring eyes on the front. The effect was more striking than pleasing.

Chrysanthemums and violets are now the reigning flowers in Paris, violets for personal wear, chrysanthemums for dinner and reception decorations, mingled with carnations and white lilacs.

There has lately been an exhibition of artificial flowers made by French artists—for artists they may truly be called—which has aroused the interest of all Parisians who care for such matters at all. The leaves and blossoms, of muslin, silk, velvet, wax and composition, are so marvelously well made and with faithful reproductions of the natural growth that they might deceive the very elect, provided the rule of "hands off" were rigidly observed. Some of the best effects are, by the bye, achieved by the use of wornout linen and batiste.

The picture shows a walking costume of dark green velvet. The skirt, which has a slight train, is bordered around the foot by a band of blue fox, headed by an application of old guipure. The cape is pointed back and front in shawl style and is edged with blue fox and guipure, like the skirt, the valois collar being lined with guipure. The cravat is of white mousseline de soie. The Henri II hat of green velvet is trimmed with white plumes.

LEFT ON TRAINS.

All Sorts of Articles Are Forgotten by Absentminded Passengers.

Recently a Chicago railroad displayed in its unclaimed parcel room five barrels of rubber overshoes and a box full of false teeth. All this property and more during a period of six months had been left on the suburban and through trains by absent minded passengers. The general baggage agent, upon being asked what was the oddest occurrence of this kind, said that a woman once left on a train a 6-months-old baby, and she did not miss it until a trainman overtook her with the little bundle of humanity before she got outside of the train shed. It was not a case of abandonment. She had forgotten to take up her own offspring.

Only one-half of the articles left on trains are claimed and returned to owners. At all the railroad offices in Chicago there are to be found motley collections of about all the articles which man or woman ever owned. It would be impossible to list them in a whole page of a newspaper.

The article which figures most extensively among the lost and found of the big railroads is the umbrella. An official of the Illinois Central says he received in the baggage department 1,500 umbrellas a year. General Agent Sadd of the Burlington says his records show about 600 a year, and the other lines report large collections of this serviceable article, which are left on trains in all kinds of weather. On a recent fine, sunshiny day the Burlington railroad showed on its record a whole page of abandoned umbrellas.

Next come the overshoes, which are daily found, singly and in pairs and oftentimes odd in size and kind. At all the offices they are accumulated to the extent of barrels and barrels. It is a common occurrence to find upper, lower and partial sets of false teeth. Some give evidence of long service, others have been too new and have been "laid out" to give relief. But they come in all shapes and sizes.

Wearing apparel in large quantities is to be found in the lost parcel rooms. The clerks in the Alton's quarters at the Union station fitted out a dummy figure with every single article that a man is likely to wear from head to foot. The articles were all left piece by piece on the train and gathered up by the employees until the figure was togged out in newest fashion.

The young woman stenographer in Baggage Agent Sadd's office has a pet kitten which was found in an envelope box on a train, and, there being no claimant, young Tom is being taught to earn his board by mousing in the baggage room.

Cripples frequently leave their crutches on trains. There is a collection of them at all the offices. Hanging up in the parcel room of the Illinois Central is a big anchor made of moss gathered from trees in the far south. The maker had taken care of it until Chicago was reached, only to abandon it to the care of the parcel man.—Chicago Tribune.

A Bureau of Courtesy.

"A curious innovation," says the Boston Transcript, "at the coming Omaha exposition will be a bureau of courtesy. Not only is the idea novel, but it is surprising to learn that nearly all the people of the city will be enrolled in the committee. Every member will wear a badge, and visitors will be at liberty to address any one who wears the badge and ask for information just as much as he likes. The member, on the other hand, will be pledged to treat the visitor courteously and answer his questions, or put him in the way of getting them answered."

Coke In Different Countries.

The prices at which coke is quoted in different countries are given as $1.44 in the United States, $3.18 in Great Britain, $3.24 in France, $3.36 in Germany, $3.48 in Belgium, and in Spain $5.08. These figures are based on the quantity of coke used in the manufacture of a ton of bessemer pig iron.

The proportion of deaf mutes to the population is one to every 2,043. In 1851 there was one deaf mute to every 1,738 of the population. Physicians claim that this decrease is mainly traceable to greater knowledge and care in the treatment of scarlatina in children.

When Baby's Ill.

When the little loved one is sick, when its brow is fevered, its pulse rapid, its features pinched with pain and there are great blue circles under its eyes, the mother hovers about the bedside, and with anxious eyes tries to read the meaning of every expression upon the physician's face.

A woman may save herself almost all of this worriment about her children if she will but take proper care of her womanly health during the period of gestation. A child born of a mother who is thoroughly healthy in a womanly way will almost unfailingly be healthy and robust. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts directly on the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It makes them well, strong and vigorous. It heals all internal ulceration and inflammation. It stops debilitating drains. It fits for motherhood and insures a healthy child. Thousands of happy mothers have testified to its merits. No honest dealer will urge you to take an inferior substitute for the little added profit it may afford him.

"A lady told me that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was good to take when with child," writes Mrs. Annie Simpson, of No. 15 Chelmsford Street, Lawrence, Mass.: "I was suffering terrible pains, and was unable to get about the house without being in misery. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the first bottle greatly relieved me. I took three bottles before my baby was born, at which time I suffered very little. The baby has been healthy since birth, and is now three months old and weighs fifteen pounds. When my older child was born I suffered terribly. I don't know how to thank Dr. Pierce enough."

They don't simply give temporary relief, but are a permanent cure—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for constipation. They never gripe. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic.

DR. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE

QUEER OLD NATURE.

"Why is it," asked a wondering child
(Sweet, simple little thing),
"That the foolish tree puts on its clothes
When the sun shines in the spring,
And then, when chilly autumn comes
And the winds of winter blow,
Why does it stand out there, all bare,
In the frost and sleet and snow?"

"Wise nature has arranged it thus,"
I told the little one,
"The rustling leaves can only live
Beneath a smiling sun;
The tree that in the summer time
Makes shady bowers for you
Must have its rest, therefore it stands
Asleep the winter through."

She sat in silence for awhile
And gazed far into space,
And lines of thought and trouble came
To mar her childish face,
And so, at last, she turned and said:
"I'm sorry for the tree,
And glad that nature wasn't left
To fix things up for me!"

—S. E. Kiser in Cleveland Leader.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills, cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

Must Have Loved Him.

Many stories have been told of a Manchester man who is supposed to be the—well, to put it humanely—plainest man in England. But we think the following is the funniest:

"Mamma," a child was heard to say in an awestruck whisper, after a prolonged survey of the peculiar features of the guest, "that gentleman's mamma must have loved children very, very much."

"Why so, my dear?" inquired the unsuspecting parent.

"Oh," returned the child in the same audible whisper, "'cause she brought him up."—Strand Magazine.

PASTEURIZATION OF MILK: HOW AND WHY DONE.

It is only within a comparatively short time the pasteurization of milk has been practiced to any great extent, yet with every passing month its use is increasing. City and town milk consumers are rapidly learning, that the only way to have properly preserved milk, and that from which all forms of disease producing bacteria, have been removed, lies in using only that which has been thus treated. We say rapidly learning, and in a sense this is true, yet the origin and method of pasteurization, with its advantages, are not generally well understood. For the better understanding of the uninformed it may be said, that the word pasteurize is derived from the name of the noted French surgeon and scientist, Louis Pasteur, who most will remember, as the one who first studied the world of bacteria in a systematic manner. Thus he discovered how fermentations, such as are in milk, vinegar, wine, beer, etc., are due to living organisms and that different bodies are acted upon by different ferments. He discovered that by heating any of these substances up to 150 degrees, holding at that temperature for 30 minutes, then cooling rapidly to 50 degrees, that these organisms or bacteria were destroyed.

He also discovered how most, if not all, epidemics or infectious diseases are due to these little fellows, and that when once properly known the remedy for the disease may be found.

The process of Pasteurization is simple, and at the same time complex; simple for the reason that we have only to heat raw milk to 155 degrees, hold it at that temperature for 30 minutes, then cool it down rapidly to 50 degrees, and the operation of pasteurization is complete. The complexity comes in when the process is put into actual operation, as there are a number of strictly essential rules which must be followed in order to have it successfully accomplished. To heat the milk and cool it is one thing, to do this, at the same time not allow it to come in contact with the air, or with any unsterilized can, bottle, etc., is another and quite a different thing. The whole process from beginning to end requires careful, painstaking work. To bungling or guess work can be tolerated.

PASTEURIZING, WHY DONE.

1st—Milk is pasteurized in order to destroy the germs or bacteria, with which all raw milk abounds, thus making it a safe article of food for the infant, as well as for the adult, for the invalid as well as for the one in health.

It is also pasteurized in order to prolong its keeping qualities. Milk treated in this way if kept at or below 50 degrees, Fahr., the period of its perfect preservation may be indefinitely prolonged, whereas kept under ordinary conditions, it will remain sweet from twenty-four to forty-eight hours longer than raw milk.

It is also pasteurized in order to guard against the use of chemical preservatives which are extensively used in some parts by milk dealers through the warm season to keep the milk from souring. These preservatives are put up both in England and America, and are sold under high sounding names, such as Semper Dulcis, Arcticanus, Glacialine, Periodate, and a host of others, all of which are highly injurious to health, hence should not be used in milk by any honest milk man.

Pasteurizing milk necessitates canning or bottling, otherwise the process is of no benefit whatever. This also keeps the milk in the best possible condition, free from air dust and many other substances too numerous to mention, and which are sure to get into the milk more or less under the old system of delivering.

One of the last, but by no means the least favourable feature of pasteurizing is that it does away with the necessity of Sunday delivery. This is something that very many people object to, still there is no practical way of avoiding it when raw milk is used. This objectionable feature is easily overcome by pasteurizing and delivering on Saturday evening. Milk treated in this way can be kept pure and sweet over the second day without the least difficulty.

Pasteurized milk is very rich, resembling thin cream. The process seems to hold the cream within the body of the milk, giving it a most delicious taste.

Pasteurized milk is sold in New York city for twelve cents per quart, in Chicago for ten cents per quart, usually selling in cities and large towns for from two to four cents per quart above raw milk. Its use is being encouraged in many of the cities and towns, and in some instances in the States its sale is enforced by law. The time is not far distant when all milk offered for sale in cities and towns will be pasteurized. It becomes actually necessary for the safety of the consumer. Disease lurks in everything nowadays. The deadly microbe (of which our fathers lived and died in blissful ignorance) gets in his work in all sorts of unexpected ways, and in none is he more dangerous than when he lurks within the life-sustaining, strength-ening fluid, milk.

C. F. KEVILL.

[Mr. Kevill intends to place on the market about April 1st, milk which will be treated in the above-described manner and at the ordinary price.

Glad are the smiles of our barbers
For the wave of prosperity rolls
With gladsome and lively music
Through all their tonsorial souls;
And the grit and the grind of
The scissors are heard on the long-worn hair
As we mow from the heads of the Hundreds the once honored pompadour hair.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The Wabash Railway has issued orders that in cases of accidents newspaper reporters are to be permitted to accompany wrecking crews and given every facility to get reports. That is a proper move. The railway will gain public confidence by thus inviting the publication of the facts.

A slight accident, says the Havelock Standard, occurred at the station on Tuesday when the locomotives were being changed for the noon express going east. When the engine was backing down to the train, the air-brake refused to work, and the big mogul crashed into the coaches, throwing the baggage and passengers in all directions and breaking the draw-head of the engine and the platform of the baggage car. The smash necessitated the changing of engines again causing a short delay.

The Cobourg World says the recent meeting of the shareholders of the Cobourg, Northumberland and Pacific Railway cleared the way for an active prosecution of this work. Mr. Bowen states that he expects actual construction work to commence about April 1st, and ground will be broken all along the line, an engineer being placed in charge of each ten miles of work. Cobourg will, of course, be the headquarters and base of supplies of the Company, and all work will be directed from here. Mr. Bowen has found some difficulty in getting farmers along the line to sell the cedar from their swamps, for their supply of ties. They are holding back in the foolish hope of getting more for their cedar after the road is built. Those who look for favours when the work of construction commences, will not get much comfort from the contractors. If they do not accept a fair price for their ties now; particularly as the contractors will pay a great deal more than the cedar will be worth after the road is built. The civic authorities have been trying to arrange an entrance into Cobourg for the railway along the old Peterborough tracks on Ball street, but sufficient yard room cannot be had. A contrary movement is now on to have the line come in on Perry street, if nothing but an eastern entrance will do. This change will necessitate a very sharp curve near the Rosamond property, but if the C.P.R. does not object it will be adopted. Mr. Wickstead and a staff of surveyors are now engaged in locating a new line between the Summit and Burnley, seven miles of hard constructive work.

There is not the slightest trace of falseness and besides improving one's appearance, they afford protection against colds, neuralgia, etc. The wearer never realizes that he has it on it is so light and comfortable. Over 34,000 are in use and the number is increasing daily.

Warning to Teachers and Trustees.

Following is an extract from a circular sent out to public school inspectors in the Province:—"My attention has been drawn to certain printed note books called 'New School Helps,' advertised for use in the public schools. The injurious effects of such 'helps' must be apparent to every well-trained teacher. You are hereby instructed to make immediate inquiry regarding the use of the 'helps' above referred to, or other 'Notes' or 'Summaries' which may be substituted for the text books, and to withhold the grant in all cases where the law is violated. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education." Such books as are condemned here can be judiciously used by a wise teacher, but unless they are collections of exercises, they are an abomination in the hands of pupils.

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Prime Tea Store, 223 George street. After critically examining the tea she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another person an says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and our own raising of Pickled, smoked, Salted Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and as price to suit all. Come to the best, get the best, and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 223 George Street.

TO DIE AT HAWARDEN

The Grand Old Man Returns From Bournemouth.

HEARTFELT "GOD BLESS YOU."

The Eastern Situation—Li Hung Chang Said to Favor Russia—China Has Not Yet Replied to France's Demands—How Impecunious Russian Sailors Despoil the Celestial Philistines.

Bournemouth, March 23.—Mr. Gladstone started for Hawarden yesterday in a royal salon carriage. He walked firmly from his carriage to the train, but was pale. The old statesman was greeted with frequent cries of "God bless you, sir," "God's richest blessings rest upon you." Upon entering the train Mr. Gladstone turned and said in a clear voice: "God bless you all, and this place and the land you love." The distinguished traveler was loudly cheered as the train departed.

Bore the Trip Well.

Hawarden, March 23.—Mr. Gladstone, who bore the journey well, has arrived at Hawarden from Bournemouth.

Along the whole route special precautions were taken to avoid demonstrations, when passing stations.

It was noticed that Mrs. Gladstone seemed even feebler than he. Everywhere it was regarded as his last journey and his words on entering the train at Bournemouth are taken as an expression of his farewell to the public.

Will Die at Hawarden.

London, March 23.—The morning papers in referring to Mr. Gladstone's journey from Bournemouth to Hawarden, recall that in one of his latest speeches, after alluding to Liverpool as his birthplace, he continued, "With Hawarden, if it please God, my last acquaintance with light and air is likely to be connected."

CHINA AND RUSSIA.

Li Hung Chang and Chang Yin Huan Said to Be in Sympathy With the Muscovite Schemers.

London, March 23.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says:

China has not yet formally replied to the French demands. She is passively awaiting further French action. Li Hung Chang and Chang Yin Huan have been appointed to represent China at the forthcoming conference with M. Pavloff, the Russian Charge d'Affaires, who has received special power. Both are credited with strong Russian sympathies, but there is little hope of obtaining any practical abatement of the original Russian demands.

The Times, commenting editorially on the despatch of its Pekin correspondent, regards the postponement of M. Pavloff's departure from Pekin as "tantamount to an approval by his Government of M. Pavloff's peremptory methods."

The Times publishes a letter signed "Shanghai," to which it attaches importance, whose writer alleges that Li [illegible] Chang and Chung Yin Huan, who [illegible] representing China in the negotiations with M. Pavloff, are definitely committed to support the Russian policy, and that Li Hung Chang actually informed M. Pavloff of all the details of the British proposals as to the Government loan on the day they were confidentially submitted to the Tsung-Li-Yamen.

A Policy of Resistance.

Pekin, March 23.—The Tsung-Li-Yamen (Chinese Foreign Office) had the Russian demands under consideration yesterday. The members of the council strongly favored resistance to western aggression. Orders were issued to strengthen the threatened posts by a concentration of troops.

The council, however, lacked unanimity, owing chiefly to the opposition of Li Hung Chang, and it was decided later to agree practically to Russia's demands.

RUSSIANS HAVE NO MONEY.

The Sailors of the Nation, However, Take What They Fancy in China.

Pekin, March 23.—A merchant who has just returned from Port Arthur asserts that the Chinese complain that the Russian sailors at that place have no money, but that this fact has not prevented them from obtaining about everything they want.

They go into the shops and take commodities at their own will, refusing to pay anything for them. In consequence of this pillaging of the shopkeepers, the general commanding the Chinese troops at Port Arthur has ordered that the small shops be closed.

Chinese Troops Defend a Murderer.

Shanghai, March 23.—Further telegrams from Chung-Kung-Fu, regarding the sacking of the Methodist Medical Mission in the Kiang-Peh country, show that the Chinese militia is now there in large force, and refuse to allow the execution of the death sentence passed upon the murderer of the student killed by the rioters who destroyed the mission. The foreign consuls have demanded that the Taotai disperse the militia, executs the murderer, arrest the leaders of the rioters, pay 500 taels for the property destroyed, allow the mission to re-occupy its premises and engage to protect the members of the mission.

British House of Commons.

London, March 23.—The president of the Board of Trade, Mr. Charles Ritchie, replying in the House of Commons yesterday to a question on the subject, said he was in communication with the British Consul-General at New York relative to the reported crimping of seamen at the shipping office of the consulate.

Sir James Fergusson, Conservative member for Northwest Manchester, questioned the Government as to whether there was any truth in the accusations brought by the United States Senate Committee on Foreign Relations against Great Britain in the committee's Hawaiian report, to the effect that Great Britain was plotting for the absorption of Hawaii.

The Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, Mr. George N. Curzon, in reply said that he did not know whether the published statement of the accusations was authentic, but if such were the case, there was no truth at all in the allegations made Germans Snap at the Loan.

Berlin, March 23.—The Chinese loan was largely over-subscribed here yesterday.

No Rush for It in London.

London, March 23.—There was no rush here to subscribe for the Chinese loan, and it is doubtful whether the amount will be covered.

Belgium Will Be In It.

Brussels, March 23.—Le Soir learns that the new Anglo-Belgian commercial treaty, arranged in Belgium, will participate in the favored nation clause as regards Great Britain and her colonies, thus securing the benefits of the Canadian preferential tariff.

Frenchmen Massacred.

Paris, March 23.—The Siecle to-day says a French expedition sent against Bossirirs, in the island of Madagascar, has met with a serious reverse, six officers and one hundred men being killed. The insurgents, it is added, also captured a number of rifles and 195,000 cartridges.

The O'Grady Is Dead.

Dublin, March 23.—The O'Grady of Kilballyowen, County Limerick, upon whose estate at Herbertstown, the "plan of campaign" was first put into execution, is dead. He was born in 1844, and was head of the Ancient Sept of O'Grady.

Ex-Premier Crispi Hotly Attacked.

Rome, March 23.—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday the Radicals hotly attacked Signor Crispi, demanding that he be put on trial before the criminal courts.

Big Fire at Amherst.

Amherst, N.S., March 23.—The most disastrous fire that has visited Amherst for years occurred in the car works of Rhodes, Curry & Co. last night. The fire started in the core ovens, situated in the moulding shop. The buildings destroyed are the moulding shop and the mill, containing carpenter shop, planers, framing department and patterns. The loss is $40,000 or $50,000. The company carries about $100,000 insurance on their whole works.

The Cut Rate Fight.

Toronto, March 23.—The New York conference failed to settle the disagreement between the Grand Trunk, its connections west, and the Canadian Pacific, so the cut rates are still in effect. There has been no change in the situation in Toronto, but from Montreal yesterday Mr. McNicoll, traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, sent letters to the Grand Trunk, Great Northern and Northern Pacific, inviting them to send representatives to a conference to be held in Montreal this week.

YUKON IN THE SENATE

Senator Mills' Argument on the Railway Bill.

ACCESS TO THE YUKON HIS TEXT

He Shows That Canada Should Not Depend Upon Uncle Sam—The Importance of the Political Situation Emphasized—Government Had to Guard Against United States Control.

Ottawa, March 23.—There was quite a large audience behind the bar of the Senate yesterday afternoon to listen to the Yukon Railway debate.

Mr. Mills moved the second reading. He said in framing the bill the Government had properly gauged public sentiment on the subject of securing railway communication with the Yukon country, when they decided to pay for the railway by a land grant instead of by a cash subsidy. There was a strong feeling throughout the country against any more of the public funds being expended to aid railway construction. The lands of the Yukon district were a part of the public domain, and as such must be regarded as a part of the public revenues. The disposition of these revenues was a matter which peculiarly belonged to the Lower House. The Senate had no right to initiate legislation dealing with the public revenues, nor had it the right to amend such legislation. The Senate could approve of or reject the present bill, but it could not make amendments to it.

The rush of miners into the Yukon country showed the necessity for securing immediately railway communication. The political situation in the Yukon was as important as the commercial situation. The Government in deciding which route it would select in building a railway into that country had held the political considerations as paramount. It was held that it was a necessity that Canada should have a highway into the country through her own territory. If she did not have that she would have to depend upon the good will of the people of the United States, whether the Canadian trade passing into the Yukon country would be submitted to duty or not. The Government in selecting the Stikine route decided to construct that portion from Glenora to Lake Teslin first, and utilize the Stikine river for the first year or so, until the railway could be completed to Observatory Inlet, in the event of it being found impossible to utilize the Stikine River for all the purposes of an all-Canadian route.

He admitted that the route over the Dalton trail from Pyramid Harbor to Rink Rapids had the advantage of being the shortest and most natural route into the country, but maintained that any railway built over the route would necessarily be under the control of the United States.

Over a route of that kind it would be impossible for Canada to send into the Yukon country the armed force necessary to preserve law and order, and Canadian trade would be at the mercy of the Americans in the matter of customs regulations.

Senator Macdonald wanted to know if it would be possible for the Canadian Government to take in arms and men by the Stikine-Teslin route?

Hon. David Mills said he had already explained that the railway would extend down to Observatory Inlet in the event of there being any difficulty on that subject. The construction of the railway from Lake Teslin to Glenora this year was intended to give access to the country and take in food and clothing to the miners this fall. It was all the Government could undertake in a single year, and would form the initial section of the ultimate road down to Observatory Inlet.

The mining population in the Yukon country next year, if ordinary anticipations were realized, would be 100,000, mostly aliens. As a result a railway would be imperatively needed. The construction of a railway from the Lynn Canal practically meant the annexation of the Yukon to the United States.

The maintenance of law and order required the construction of a railway immediately. He valued the friendship of the States, but was not prepared to submit quietly to seeing a blow struck at our trade. He claimed that the Stikine route was the best and only practicable route into the Yukon country. He contended that Canada had every right to the free navigation of the Stikine. As regards the land grant he saw no force in the contention that it was too large. He concluded by moving the second reading.

Senator Kirchhoffer said the rising young statesman from the West, Mr. Sifton, had referred to this enterprise as of a most stupendous character. But it was not long before the country realized its inherent weakness, more especially owing to the recent and suspicious circumstances connected with the arranging of the contract. With reference to this Yukon arrangement it appeared Mr. Sifton had made it at first without the knowledge of the Premier.

Mr. Scott—That is entirely erroneous.

Mr. Kirchhoffer—I heard it stated in the other House.

Mr. Scott had said this contract was the act of the Government, not of Mr. Sifton alone. The Government in choosing this route had shown they had been taken in by the astute politicians at Washington. He made a careful comparison of the different routes and favored the one by the Dalton trail as being in every respect the best. After pointing out the enormous concessions accorded to Mann and Mackenzie he urged the Senate to give a calm and dispassionate judgment on this important question. He had intended moving the six months' hoist, but as he had been summoned home he would content himself by going on record as opposed to this bill.

Spring Humors

During the colder season impure humors accumulate in the blood.

The surface of the body being chilled, the pores are closed and clogged, and impurities which might pass off in perspiration are forced back into the blood. Besides this, winter's hearty food, fats and sweets, contribute more impurities.

This briefly explains the existence of Spring Humors—those unsightly eruptions, painful boils, annoying pimples and other affections, which make the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla absolutely necessary at this season.

But with some people, impurities in the blood cause very different symptoms. The kidneys, liver and bowels are overmatched in their efforts to relieve the clogged system. Dizzy headaches, bilious attacks, failure of appetite, coated tongue, lame back, indigestion or that tired feeling are some of the results.

From the same cause may also come scrofula, neuralgia sciatica or rheumatism.

TESTING VARIETIES OF NEW SEED GRAINS.

ONTARIO AGRICULTURAL AND EXPERIMENTAL UNION.

Co-operative Experiments in Agriculture, Conducted by Wide-awake Farmers.

Upwards of 1,000 varieties of farm crops have been tested in the Experimental Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, within the past twelve years, and six hundred of them have been grown for at least five years in succession. Nearly all the Canadian sorts and several hundred new varieties imported by the Experimental Department from different parts of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and the United States have been included in these carefully conducted experiments. Some of the new varieties have done exceptionally well and have already been distributed over Ontario, through the medium of the Experimental Union, with very gratifying results. The Siberian oats, Handscheuri barley, Herison bearded spring wheat, and the Mammoth Cuban Yellow Dent, Wisconsin Earliest White Dent, and the Zaiser's North Dakota varieties of corn, which are now becoming so popular in Ontario, were imported by the Experimental Department and after being thoroughly tested were distributed in small quantities.

The present system of co-operative experimental work in agriculture was started in 1886 with 60 plots, which were situated on twelve different farms in Ontario. Since that date, however, the work has increased from year to year and in 1897 there were 11,497 plots, which were situated on 2,836 farms.

Interested persons in Ontario who wish to join in the work may select anyone of the experiments for 1898 and inform the director at once of the choice made. All material will be furnished entirely free of charge to each applicant, but he will be expected to conduct the test according to the instructions sent with the seed, and to report the results of his test as soon as possible after harvest.

LIST OF EXPERIMENTS FOR 1898.

1. Testing nitrate of soda, superphosphate, muriate of potash, mixture, and no manure with corn.
2. Testing nitrate of soda, superphosphate, muriate of potash, mixture, and no manure, with mangels.
3. Growing three leguminous crops for green fodder.
4. Growing three mixtures of grain for green fodder.
5. Testing four varieties of millet.
6. Testing four varieties of grasses.
7. Testing four varieties of clovers.
8. Testing three varieties of buckwheat.
9. Testing three varieties of spring wheat and one variety of spring rye.
10. Testing four varieties of barley.
11. Testing five varieties of oats.
12. Testing four varieties of peas.
13. Testing three varieties of beans.
14. Testing five varieties of carrots.
15. Testing four varieties of mangolds and one variety of sugar beets.
16. Testing two varieties of Swedish and two varieties of fall turnips.
17. Testing six varieties of corn.

Material for either No. 1 or No. 2 experiment will be sent by express and for each of the others by mail. The supply of material being limited, those who apply first will be surest of obtaining the desired outfit. It might be well for each applicant to make a second choice for fear the first could not be granted.

Particular varieties need not be mentioned, as all the kinds to be distributed are those which have done exceptionally well upon trial plots in the Experimental Department.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A very successful basket social was held in No. 2 school house on Friday evening last in aid of the Presbyterian mission. In spite of the bad roads and prospects of rain a large crowd gathered which showed their sympathy with the cause. Rev. Bryce Innis, of Bobcaygeon, occupied the chair. A very good programme was rendered by local talent, assisted by the Misses McGuire and Platt and Rev. Mr. Foster, of Bobcaygeon. In the absence of Mr. D. Lavery, Mr. W. G. Oliver auctioned off the baskets very creditably. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. After the usual votes of thanks to the chairman and those assisting, the entertainment closed by singing the Doxology. The net proceeds amounted to about $17, which will be applied to defray the expenses of the mission. It is to be hoped that the mission will still be continued under the charge of Rev. R. Macknight.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles McIlmoyle, jr., will be pleased to learn that she has fully recovered from her recent illness.

Foreman Grant, of the Dominion Government works in Bobcaygeon is hustling things in connection with the repairs to the dredges and drills and expects to start digging this week.

DYSPEPSIA DEFUNCT

Immediately after the Use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Begins.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Change Wrecks to Men—Misery to Joy—Ill-Health to Health by Curing all Stomach Diseases.

You meet two men on the street. One erect, active, alert, carries his head squarely on his shoulders, his face the colour of health, his step firm, yet elastic, every motion springing from robust, vigorous, bounding, aggressive manhood—which means good health. He looks the world in the face and fears no man. He can "earn his own living." He is A MAN.

The other is bent, weak, old before his time. Steps slow, and uncertain, shuffling and feeble. His frame is thin—almost fleshless, and nerveless. His face, pale, or yellow—"pasty;" eyes dim and lusteless. He is a living personification of ill-health and suffering—Dyspepsia.

But, ill, feeble and suffering as he is, here is hope for him, were he ten times as bad. He can gain strength and vigor, health and ambition, and can take his proper place among men.

How?

By using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Waterbrash, Catarrh of the Stomach, and all other stomach troubles.

They cure. If you don't believe it—test them.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

PROMISE REDEEMED.

Solicitor-Gen. Fitzpatrick Brings in His Franchise Bill.

OLD FRANCHISE ACT MUST GO.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Says It Must Be "Reformed Out of Existence"—Provision for the Use of Provincial Lists in a Fair, Economical and Simple Manner.

Ottawa, March 23.—One of the pledges that the Liberal party gave to the country was that whenever they were in a position to command a majority in Parliament they would repeal the unfair, cumbersome and costly Franchise Act which was forced into being during the memorable session of 1885. A long step in the direction of implementing this promise was taken yesterday, when Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick moved the second reading of the Government bill to wipe out the present system and substitute the provincial franchises for the purposes of Federal elections. A noteworthy and commendable feature of the debate that it provoked was the calm and judicial temper manifested by the leaders on both sides of the House. It indicated that the difference between the two parties on the question is not so wide as might have been expected from their mutually hostile attitudes in the past. Grit and Tory united in condemning the Franchise Act as an expensive failure, and both agreed that something should be substituted in its place. But there was not unanimity of opinion as to what it should be. The Opposition contended for the right of Parliament to control its own franchise. Sir Charles Tupper made the suggestion that manhood suffrage being the rule in five out of the seven provinces in Confederation, the remaining two, Quebec and Nova Scotia, should have no very strong reason for not adopting that principle The Prime Minister presented a carefully reasoned argument in justification of the proposal to revert to the order of things that worked so satisfactorily before it was superseded by the Franchise Act. Mr. Robertson of Toronto in unmeasured terms condemned the Franchise Act, and suggested that instead of keeping Parliament in session week after week engaged in party strife the leaders should get together and draft a measure that would be mutually acceptable. The debate was not concluded.

Dr. Sproule got a first reading for his bill to prevent combinations formed in restraint of trade.

Mr. Charlton made a lengthy speech in denunciation of the San Jose Scale bill as a hardship on importers of nursery stock.

Mr. McCleary said that since the passage of the bill he had spent several days in the Niagara district, and he could say no more popular bill ever passed Parliament. Already it had done good to the Canadian industry by promoting the demand for Canadian grades of nursery stock. The first result he had seen was an order placed yesterday for 3,000 trees in Niagara, which would otherwise have gone to the States. He trusted the Government would pay no attention to Mr. Charlton's complaint on the score of injury to an American industry.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Casey, Hughes, McMullen, Maclean and Semple, and by Messrs. McNeill, Sproule and Henderson, who protested against any dependence being put upon inspection of imported stock. They assured the Minister of Agriculture that the sympathy of the country was with the bill.

Mr. Fisher justified the bill, assuring the House that nothing but prohibition would shut out the pest, the process of disinfection not being successful.

Messrs. Ellis, McGregor and McMillan followed. The latter rejoiced in the legislation which would protect the Canadian fruit growers, for he believed that if protected from outside interference they could supply the Canadian market.

Mr. Foster rallied the last speaker upon his conversion to sound protection principles. He endorsed the legislation complained of by Mr Charlton, but thought the Government ought, under the circumstances, to consider the question of compensation to those whose business was suddenly affected by the bill.

Mr. Davin quoted from the letter from Constable Owen in the Citizen, and said it appeared whisky and cigars were the most plentiful commodities in Dawson City. Mr. Davin had been informed that whisky permits had been issued lately from Ottawa, and he wanted to know about it.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that he did not think any permits had been issued from Ottawa, certainly not recently.

THE FRANCHISE ACT.

Mr. Fitzpatrick Moved the Second Reading of the New Measure.

When Mr. Fitzpatrick arose to move the second reading of the bill to repeal the Franchise Act and to adopt the provincial franchises for Federal purposes he was warmly applauded by Ministerial members of the House. In explanation of the measure the Solicitor-General said: The object of this bill is to repeal the Franchise Act of 1885 and to revert for the franchise, for the polling divisions, and also for the voters' lists, to the condition of things existing previous to that time. The bill is not a lengthy one. It provides in the first instance for the repeal of the Franchise Act; then it provides that the franchise shall be in each province the franchise existing under the provincial law for the purposes of the provincial elections—the words "provincial elections" being defined in the bill. Then it provides that the list of voters shall be the same as that in existence in the provinces. We then go on to provide for polling divisions or sub-divisions to be the same as those that exist in the provinces. These are in effect the enacting clauses. There are some other clauses which have for their object to repeal or amend certain provisions of the Dominion Election Act so as to make that Act conform with the conditions under the new bill. It will not be necessary for me to refer to the conditions existing in 1885; it will not be necessary for me to show that at that time a radical change took place, that we then made a departure from the franchise as we had it not only from the time of Confederation but from a time long previous to that. The change made in 1885 has certainly not been productive of good result, and the law then passed has not met with the approval of the people of Canada.

Sir Charles Tupper said the Solicitor-General had altogether misapprehended the principles which governed Sir John Thompson. The experience of our dependence upon the provincial franchise was a bitter one. He would only instance the case of Nova Scotia, where, after the provincial election, a franchise bill was passed especially for the Dominion, one which the province never used for itself. If it were proposed to avail of the service of the municipal officers in the preparation of a local list, why not go farther and have them prepare a Dominion list? It was Sir John Thompson's intention to have the provincial lists made the basis for the Federal revision. With the exception of Quebec and Nova Scotia manhood suffrage prevailed throughout Canada, and he declared that the Government could not do better than adopt this principle for the Federal franchise without surrendering parliamentary control of the matter.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, expressed gratification at the calm judicial tone in which the Opposition leader discussed the question. The House was agreed on the necessity for franchise reform. The Liberal proposal was to take the provincial franchise, the regulation of the franchise being a domestic affair. Sir Wilfrid concluded by eulogizing the provincial electoral machinery and the officers who manipulated it.

The debate was continued by Mr. Ross Robertson, Mr. Wood (Brockville), Dr. Sproule, Dr. Macdonald and Mr. Craig.

Mr. McMullen followed in favor of the provincial franchise.

Mr. Bennett followed in criticism of the proposal to hand over the franchise of the Dominion to the partisan machinery of the Provincial Governments.

Mr. Mills moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House adjourned at midnight.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

The Chief of Police Receives Complaints About the Hotels.

The Chief of Police this morning received an anonymous letter out of the post office, in which the writer complained of certain hotels selling liquor to minors.

635 MILES OF CRAWL.

Over Twenty Million Caterpillar Eggs Have Been Destroyed Already, and the Work is Not Nearly Finished.

The caterpillar nests, which are being gathered from the trees on the streets and in the parks, are turned over to Mr. James English, who states that he has already destroyed in the neighbourhood of about one hundred thousand of them.

The twigs upon which the eggs have been placed are burnt in the town furnaces as they are brought in, and the 100,000 just filled four bushel measures.

Mr. English reports that a large number of the twigs were encircled by two bracelets.

As the territory to be covered is very extensive, it has been suggested that even more men and boys should be employed in order that the examination of the trees be not hurried too much in an endeavour to get through the work before the season is too far advanced.

Computing along the lines laid down by the Mayor, in destroying 1000,000 egg bands the town has killed 20,000,000 caterpillars, which strung out in procession would be 635 miles long.

THE RINES BROTHERS.

Another Big Success at St. Andrew's Last Night.

Last night closed the series of meetings held by the Rines Bros., singing evangelists, in St. Andrew's church, and judging from the immense crowds and evident enthusiasm, the visit of these men have been greatly appreciated. The services last Sunday night were of a most interesting and practical nature, and will leave a lasting impression upon all who were privileged to hear. Then the entertainments on Monday and Tuesday night, while of a different character were, nevertheless strongly evangelical, and brought out in a most practical way, the duties of Christians with regard to the deliverance of our fellow creatures from bondage to freedom.

Last night there was an introduction of a few minutes length, comprising selections from the gramophone, kindly operated by Mr. G. W. Mulligan. The treat was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Then came some views of persons well known in the church, after which the evangelists sang two selections very sweetly, accompanied by the guitar.

The theme of the evening was "Canada's Juggernaut." The greater part of the lecture was taken up with a description of the beauty, power, prosperity and prospect of Canada. The views used in this lecture are of the highest grade, comprising views of important places from the far West to Halifax in the East. The latter part of the lecture referred to Canada's Juggernaut. India had its Juggernaut, that crushed out life from many of its inhabitants. The liquor traffic annually curse and crushed the life out of many of Canada's fair men.

The young ladies of Mrs. Waddel's class, under whose auspice the Rines Bros. visited the church, have just cause to be very proud of their grand success in this series of soul-inspiring meetings.

It is understood that the proceeds of the lectures go towards the support of a pupil in the Pointe-aux-Trembles schools.

A TRAGEDY ENACTED AT BOTTLE CREEK.

ONE MAN DROWNED AND SEVERAL OTHERS NARROWLY ESCAPE.

One of the Young Switzers Breaks Through the Ice of Lake Katchecum and Sinks to a Watery Grave.

A drowning accident is reported from the Bottle Creek Government Camp in Cavendish township and by the particulars which have been obtained, it appears that a number of others had a very narrow escape.

A correspondent in a letter dated March 20th, says:

Three young men by the name of Switzer were coming from Katchecum Lake to visit the Government Camp, when one of the brothers, by the name Henry, went through the ice at the mouth of Bottle Creek. His brothers tried to save him, when he also went through.

The remaining brother shrieked for help, when some of the government men who were out in the woods, hearing the call for aid, rushed for the lake with boards and ropes, but the treacherous ice gave way and in a moment four of them were struggling in the icy waters, getting in and out three or four times, but failing to reach the poor fellows to whose aid they were going.

One had disappeared before the government men heard the call for help. The other got out and the rescue party had enough to do to save themselves, which they would not have done but for the great presence of mind and the noble and determined efforts of all, among whom Mr. Miller deserves special mention. He fought to the last to save a comrade from Peterborough by the name of Wallace, who had got in and could not get out until Miller tied a rope around his body and then with the assistance of several of the men, pulled him along on the ice to shore nearly exhausted. They took him to the camp as quickly as possible, and after rubbing his benumbed limbs and giving him hot drinks brought him to. After a thorough warming he was not much the worse but for some cuts caused by drawing him over the ice.

If any person ever deserved a medal it is Miller, who is a Lindsay man.

LECTURE IN MARK STREET CHURCH.

Rev. J. E. Moore Delivers an Address, Based on the Subject, "Mother, Home and Heaven."

Last evening a very interesting and profitable time was spent in the Mark street Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph.B., delivered his lecture on three sweet words of the English language, "Mother, Home and Heaven." For one hour and a quarter the lecturer held the undivided attention of the audience. The lecture is composed of some very lofty sentiments and high ideals with reference to the influence of mothers upon their children and home life.

The speaker said there are some places called "home," which are in reality only staying places. Home is where the affections dwell. It may be around the Gipsies fire, with the star-lit heavens for their covering and the green earth for their bed. It is not always the stately mansion or landscape of glorious beauty. The necessity of home training was strongly urged. Home law should be a law of love. Home pleasures were pointed out as advantageous, games, such as checkers, croquet, etc. Music is said to have a winning charm in controlling young people. Home politeness, partiality, deception, religion, sobriety, relics, harmony in the home and leaving home all came in for consideration. Our national home was spoken of as the greatest and best under the sun.

The British Empire, over which good Queen Victoria presides, is composed of about fifty countries, colonies and dependencies, with a population of about three hundred and eighty millions of people; in fact the sun never sets on her possessions.

Our church home, the speaker said, is of great importance, make it a part of your life. Join the church where you can get the most good, and do the most good; and stay there. Religious tramps are of no use.

Then Heaven, as our final and eternal home, was spoken of. It is a subject too big for our conception, too grand for human description. It is the abode of God and glorified spirits. It is a place—not a myth, a fancy, or a make-believe—but a place. Jesus said, "I go to prepare a place"—a place of re-union, a place of recognition and eternal life. A place of eternal day, "For there shall be no night there;" a place of eternal joy, "God shall wipe away all tears from our eyes;" a city which will never grow hoary with the years of time, the citizens delight in having Jesus as their king; a city without births or burials, without marriages or mournings. It is a prepared place for a prepared people.

Rev. D. O. Crossley presided in his usual happy style, and expressed great delight with the lecture.

Miss Butcher and Miss Lumsden sang a couple of duets with splendid effect, Mr. Schneider presiding at the organ.

Rev. Mr. Shorey moved and Mr. C. Noyes seconded that a vote of thanks be given to Mr. Moore for his excellent lecture, and also the singers, the chairman, etc., received due recognition.

LOYAL YOUNG MEN.

The Members' Reunion at the Y.M.C.A.—A Plan to Clear off the Debt.

The Association parlours last evening presented a live appearance, when a large number of the members assembled in response to the invitation of the President and Secretary to spend a social evening together.

The reception hall was cheery and homelike. A log fire burned in the grate and a good delegation of reception committee men wearing blue badges, warmly welcomed those who were in attendance.

Mr. Wm. Staples presided at the piano. A number of those who had promised to assist in the programme failed to appear. However, the evening's entertainment was an enjoyable one.

The Ladies' Auxiliary was well represented, and assisted Mrs. (Sheriff) Hall, the energetic President, with the refreshments.

Mr. Parker, the Association, President, occupied the chair, and made an effective address, emphasizing the superiority of the Peterborough building over any of the others he had visited.

Mr. Cole, Travelling Secretary, was present, and spoke at some length on the present financial position.

The statement is occasionally made that young men fail to appreciate the building and the privileges of the Young Men's Christian Association.

So far as Peterborough's young men are concerned this is untrue. About a year ago it will be remembered $541 was raised by them in fortnight to equip the gymnasium.

A fresh proof was given last night of their loyalty to the work and of their appreciation of what the Board of Directors and citizens are doing for them, in the hearty response which was made to a proposal made by Mr. T. S. Cole, the Travelling Secretary, by which the young men were asked to assume the responsibility of raising $500 by the 1st of June as their share of the $2,000 that will be required to free the Association of debt.

Some days ago the Board of Directors met and decided to endeavour to clear off the debt before the close of the Association year.

The Board assumed $1,000 of this amount—some agreeing to raise by subscriptions as much as $100 each in the time allotted. Other doubled the subscriptions they had made last fall to sustain the work. It was calculated that $500 could be provided for in other ways, which left $500 for the men to secure.

A handsomely arranged plan designed by Mr. W. L. Innes, C.E., shows a square divided into 100 blocks, and on the card appropriate lettering naming the amount to be raised, as well as other particulars.

Each block represents $5 00. Any young man taking a block or a number of them has his name placed in the same; or, if unable to secure a full block, one half.

The diagram will, when the names are all printed in, be framed and placed in the Association as a memorial of the effort.

The scheme met with general approval. One young man came forward and agreed to take twenty blocks provided the remaining eighty were secured.

A committee was the appointed. Mr. G. S. Bell was elected chairman, Mr. W. T. Brooks, vic-chairman, and the secretary was chosen treasurer.

The plan promises to be a great success, and already a number of blocks have been marked off.

The gathering dispersed at a late hour, after speeches by a number of the leaders.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Lizzie Mahood and Mr. Lewis J. Crossley.

On Wednesday evening, March 16th, about fifty friends and relative gathered at the home of Mr. Edward Mahood to witness the marriage of his third daughter Lizzie, to Mr. Lewis J. Crossley of Clarke.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance of Peterborough.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully attired in white cashmere with veil, and carried a bouquet of roses and chrysanthemums. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Jennie, who was similarly dressed, while Mr. Robert Harness of Clarke, cousin of the groom, acted the part of groomsman.

After the usual congratulations all sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, after which all enjoyed themselves till near morning.

The many beautiful and costly presents received show the high esteem in which the bride is held.

ILLICIT STILLS.

Officer Floody Still After the Moonshiners.

Bryson, Que., March 23.—After depositing Charles and Patrick Toner in jail here, Inland Revenue Officer Floody and Dominion Police Officer Shore started for Upper Leitchfield to try and locate another illicit still said to be in operation in a remote part of that section. They reached the spot on Sunday, but discovered no still. They found, however, a lonely cabin beside a lake in a secluded spot, some barley soaking and a considerable quantity of poteen, which was confiscated and thrown out. The indications were positive that a still was being operated, but either somebody had given warning to the operator, or else he exercises great caution, and secretes his still after having run off a supply of poteen. The officers returned to Ottawa on Monday morning to report to the Inland Revenue Department, and will return in time for the trial of Toners to-morrow morning.

TAX EXEMPTION DISCUSSED.

Is it fit to say to the king thou art wicked, and to Princes ye are ungodly? - Book of Job.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—It is with some doubt of mind that I venture to make a few remarks on what our council has done. I know as a body they are entitled to much respect and as a rule should be left to themselves, but some how we are like the man who could not pass a dog without throwing a stone. Well sir, what I have to say is: When they advised not to grant exemption of taxes to the Y.W.C.A. I suppose they acted under a sense of justice to the ratepayers by whom they had been elected to that office. No doubt they know how some of that money had been collected—that some had denied themselves some little luxury to meet the demand, and may be some even the necessaries of life to prevent the force of the law. They knew the money was a sacred trust not to be given, and it might be spent in what some might think luxury. So far I felt satisfied; on the other hand I heard the application for exemption of taxes from these ladies, and the claim presented by the letter in the EXAMINER, making it appear that they were not only in need, but that need should be supplied. Here again I was quite in agreement, but I was at a loss which side to take. It seemed to place one in the position of the donkey between two bundles of hay—didn't know which to take. Moreover, the council changed front. Some thought they had been interviewed, and their feelings overcame their judgment; it was the old scene repeated, "The woman thou gavest me—." I first thought they were right; now I think they are wrong. I fancy if an ex-councillor had been on the Board he would have said "Gentlemen I will give the amount of taxes and save ourselves." But I must turn again to the other side. At first I thought they were right. That they had made a claim I cannot deny. Was it right to apply to the committee for exemption? Were they not doing what they did by subscription and voluntary collection, and had these become so poor that they must go down to Egypt for help? This ought not to be, especially now when so many are looking for a safe investment. I hope these ladies will take fresh heart, nor become weary in well doing, nor faint in the day of adversity; their strength is but small, but if these good ladies have volunteered to descend into the pit shall we refuse to hold fast the rope? There surely can be no objection if any are willing to pay first class for their board that they should have what they pay for, when they go there, out of consideration, to help the Association. Neither should any take offence at the second class table, for a second class fare, seeing this is everywhere. The council may think this is too small a matter to take notice of. They must know that it is only in little things we pretend to judge. There are matters beyond our depth into which we dare not venture. When they are out of sight may we not become a little anxious? PUBLIC

Now Sir, I may have taken the examination upon myself—will you give an answer?

For this space I must acknowledge my indebtedness and remain as Ever yours,

JOHN BABB.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY SCHEME.

Mr. Loch Calls Attention to Some Features of it.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly allow me space to bring a question before the ratepayers, that is, whether a council elected for twelve months has the power to commit the ratepayers for twenty years in paying one thousand dollars for a scheme of an electric railway? I hope the ratepayers will consider the matter before committing themselves to such a scheme. I have not the least doubt that if our Street Railway Company expected in such an undertaking a paying business they would not be slow in getting the preference before outsiders. The public are well aware of how reasonably they are dealt with by the Railway Company and steamers. What guarantee has the public as to what charges they will make? On this the public are in the dark.

The council would be thanked by the public if they would undertake the much needed improvement of our town, whose condition has been a disgrace for many years past. The money the town has paid in law suits is a most shameful advertisement for Peterborough streets.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,
Yours truly,
WM. LOCH.

HOME MISSION WORK.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS IS NEEDED FOR THE KLONDYKE.

Half-Yearly Meeting of the Home Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church—Northwest Claims.

The half-yearly session of the Presbyterian Home Mission Committee was commenced yesterday morning in the lecture room of St. Andrew's church, Toronto. The Convenor, Dr. Cochrane, occupied the chair, and Dr. Warden, officiated as Secretary. There were in all 35 members present, many of them coming from as far as Quebec and Vancouver. There is a great deal of business before the meeting for its consideration, and it will continue its sittings till this evening.

This morning's session was occupied with the passing of grants for claims for home mission work during the past six months, amounting in all to $38,322.56. The application for grants to the various Presbyteries of the church for the mission work next year were considered and passed as follows:—For Ontario and Quebec, $25,000; for Manitoba, $17,000; for British Columbia, $18,000; for the Klondike, $10,000. In addition to this the travelling expenses, salaries of superintendents, etc., will amount to about $15 000, bringing the total grants to $85,000. Dr. Cochrane, the Convener of the Executive Committee, reported as to the committee's work during the past six months, and also regarding the appointment of missionaries to the Klondike. At 3 o'clock a deputation of the Presbyterian ladies from the Toronto churches was received. The objects of the deputation were to urge the necessity of sending Christian trained nurses to the Klondyke. A resolution was passed stating that the committee were in hearty sympathy with the object of the ladies and appointing a small committee to confer and co-operate with the ladies in any action they might take towards securing their end.

Considerable discussion took place in regard to certain fields in distant parts of the Dominion, where, in the opinion of the members, the different evangelical churches were overlapping each other's work too much.

The applications for grants to the various Presbyteries of the church for the mission work next year were considered.

The evening session was devoted to making up the complete list of missionaries, students and catechists seeking employment in the mission field during the next summer or for longer periods. The total number of applications is 313, and the number of vacant stations is under 200.

These appointments will, if possible, include missionary labourers for the Klondike and other recently opened mining districts in the far northwest, where the committee have already sent such men as Dickie, Grant and Pringle.

Further appointments to these distant and expensive mission fields will only be made if there is reasonable hope that the church will sustain the committee by liberal contributions. The question of finance will of necessity occupy a large portion of the time of the committee, as unless the home mission contributions materially increase the staff of labourers cannot be increased. Even with the aid rendered by the British churches there is still a deficit of $9,000 for the present year. Next year, should the committee entertain the many urgent calls made upon them, the expenditure will be greatly increased.

THE REDS AHEAD.

Last night the score card in the boys' membership contest at the Y.M.C.A. showed the sides even.

Blues, 170; Reds, 170.

To-day the Reds have added 10 points, which place them in the lead for the first time since the contest began.

LACROSSE.

The annual meeting of the Lacrosse club is called for next Tuesday night.

The Toronto Telegram hits out at the Toronto Lacrosse Club very hard. It has the following to say:—

"The Tecumseh Lacrosse Club will never want for friends who will get out and hustle for the Inland players. The record of this team last season is a proud one indeed, one that any club would be jealous of. They went through every team they met, and ended the season by wiping the green sward with the Torontos. The Torontos, if they have a team fit to meet anything, will be forced by public opinion to go against the Tecumsehs this year. But the general opinion of those acquainted with the situation is that the Torontos won't amount to enough to make them even aspirants for the city championship. This may appear to be a little hard on the Toronto team, but when an athletic organization so far forgets the rules of sport as to allow its petty jealousies to practically ruin the game in the city, it forfeits all right to the sympathies of the sport-loving public.

FOOTBALL.

Association football is booming in Gore's Landing, and a correspondent says that the boys expect to be able by the time kicking comes to put a strong eleven in the field. The club has organized with the following officers:

Hon.-Pres.—F. D. Hearld.
Pres.—J. McCracken.
Capt.—Dr. Pratt.
Sec.-Treas.—A. Fowlie.
Committee—W. C. Harris, W. McAllister, W. Hearld, J. Fowlie, H. McCullough.

The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and it is probable that an association league will be formed in the vicinity.

CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION NOTES.

Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan will deliver an address in the Association rooms next Monday evening on "The Poetry of the Habitant." This will be the last concert of the fortnightly series. A statement of the season's work will be presented during the evening.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Association are requested to meet on Friday evening.

The members of the Association will receive corporate communion at 8 o'clock mass at St. Peter's Cathedral next Sunday.

Every member of the Association is requested to be at the rooms Friday evening evening at 8 30.

COLDSPRING LITERARY SOCIETY.

From our own Correspondent.

The regular meeting of the Literary Society was held Monday night last, the president occupying the chair. Although the roads were in a very bad condition, yet there was a large gathering. It was expected that Mr. D. Kennedy would deliver an address on Ancient Rome, but he was very unluckily detained, and so the programme was not as good as it otherwise would have been. However, a very enjoyable time was spent.

NEW COVERT COAT

This is the most popular over garment with dressy gentlemen this season. It is a modified type of the real Covert Coat, which is short and boxy. The leading features of the

"Street Covert"

as it is styled, is that it is not so short as the real Covert, and is much less boxy. In length it ranges from 34 to 35 inches for a man of average height. It must look broad, with well-rounded shoulders, a bottom fullness, the greater part of which will be placed at the sides, which will give the back of the coat the appearance of an inverted wedge. Well vented side-seams, wide double stitching, lapped and strapped seams, collar of the material, shorter than the Chesterfield but broader and squarer in effect.

The material will be Covert coatings in neat drab shades, Venetians and Rainproof Cloth of pleasing mixtures.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Firebugs Caused Two Blazes.

Simcoe, Ont., March 22.—About two o'clock Sunday morning the fire alarm was sounded, calling the brigade out to a fire in Polly's store, in the North Ward. After the brigade reached the scene the fire was soon extinguished. About two hours later Mrs. McDowell's barn, a few rods west, was discovered to be on fire, and was burned to the ground. Both fires are supposed to be the work of firebugs.

WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE.

He looked at my tongue and he shook his head—
This was Doctor Smart—
He thumped on my chest, and then he said:
"Ah, there it is—your heart!
You mustn't run, you mustn't hurry,
You mustn't work, you mustn't worry.
Just sit down and take it cool.
You may live for years—I cannot say—
But in the meantime make it a rule
To take this medicine twice a day."

He looked at my tongue and he shook his head—
This was Doctor Wise.
"Your liver's a total wreck," he said.
"You must take more exercise.
You mustn't eat sweets,
You mustn't eat meats,
You must walk and leap, you must also run,
You mustn't sit down in the dull old way—
Get out with the boys and have some fun,
And take three doses of this a day."

He looked at my tongue and he shook his head—
This was Doctor Bright.
"I'm afraid your lungs are gone," he said,
"And your kidney isn't right.
A change of scene is what you need.
Your case is desperate, indeed,
And bread is a thing you mustn't eat—
Too much starch; but, by the way,
You must henceforth live on only meat
And take six doses of this a day."

Perhaps they were right and perhaps they knew—
It isn't for me to say—
Mayhap I erred when I madly threw
Their bitter stuff away,
But I'm living yet, and I'm on my feet,
And grass isn't all that I dare to eat,
And I walk and I run, and I worry, too;
But to save my life I cannot see
What some of the able doctors would do
If there were no fools like you and me.

35 Persons Burned to Death.

Butte, Mont., March 22.—The Hale House, a three-story building used as a boarding and lodging house for the men in the employ of the Anaconda copper mines, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday. When the fire broke out there were 300 men in it. Until the safe, now buried in the cellar under tons of debris, is removed, and the books examined and a roll called, it will not be known how many perished. The estimates of the dead now run up to 35. It is known that 60 did not show up at the mines in the morning, though many of these doubtless are with friends. Monetary loss about $30,000.

Their Prayers Were Answered.

Montgomery, Mich., March 22.—F. C. Horton, aged 77, and wife, 76, had been married 55 years, and prayed for years that they might not be separated in death. Their prayers were answered Saturday last, the wife dying in the morning and the husband in the afternoon. They were buried yesterday.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

A VANISHED GROOM.

It was the moment of supremest pleasure to Abner. The wedding canopy had been raised, the benediction uttered, the ring placed on the bride's finger, the kiss given to seal the union. She was his own at last. His highest ambition had been gratified. With words of congratulation his friends crowded around him. It was a joyous atmosphere indeed, while his wife gazed at him with the lovelight in her eyes.

"Dearest," he exclaimed suddenly as he withdrew with her for a moment to a corner of the apartment which overlooked the garden with its winding paths, from which strains of music arose, inviting all to the dance; "dearest, I must leave thee now."

"Oh, Abner," the bride half sobbed in reply, "wouldst thou leave me at this moment of all moments in the world? Why, the echoes of the marriage blessings still resound in the air. Whither wouldst thou go, dearest? Surely," she added, with a look of reproach, "thy place is now at my side. Wouldst thou forsake me on our wedding day?"

"Nay, my beloved; make no close inquiry, nor seek to restrain me. I must go. I have sworn to go. Only trust in me and doubt not my faithfulness. I shall return within an hour, and then explain all to thee. Have no fear for my sake." And without further farewell than a quick embrace Abner left her and hurried into the open air before the astonished guests could realize that the bridegroom was missing.

Of all the youth in Jerusalem Abner and Caleb were the comeliest lads, and their friendship had grown into a proverb. Close companions at school from boyhood to early manhood, no love could have been more tender, no sympathy more profound, than that which made them kindred spirits. They were fond of the same pleasures, they shared the same dreams, their studies and occupations were alike, their aspirations identical. They loved to give free rein to their fancies with youth's rapt enthusiasm and build such dream palaces that the magic splendor of Solomon's creations paled in comparison. What a daring architect is youth! It knows not the impossible. It bridges the chasm of infinite time. It rears a structure to the highest heaven. It summons to its aid principalities and powers, and never acknowledges defeat. Love and hope and faith are the patient genii who at its exultant bidding transform earth and sky.

Among the topics which Abner and Caleb were fond of discussing as they grew to maturity the future life and immortality appealed to them most strongly. The fact that it was but dimly foreshadowed in the law and the prophets added to its fascination, and the rare references to it in the debates of the schools only increased its hold upon them. One day in the heat of their arguments Caleb, more impassioned than usual, had seized his companion's hand.

"Abner," he exclaimed, "wouldst thou know the secrets of eternal life?"

"Why, Caleb," Abner rejoined, moved by his friend's earnestness, "what a strange question to ask? How can we mortals understand aught of immortality? Does not our law say that 'the secret things belong to the Lord.'"

"Faith can pierce all barriers, dear friend," Caleb answered impressively, "and love, though buried from sight, can make its own revelation."

"What dost thou mean, Caleb, by those mysterious words and thrilling tones?" Abner inquired, deeply stirred, for he felt that never before had their conversation been so earnest.

"Dost thou not believe, Abner, in immortality?"

"Surely, Caleb, I do, as the central conviction of my nature."

"If this is thy belief, then, may not the immortal spirit seek converse with mortality and minister to the wants and desires of mortal flesh on earth?"

"Caleb, thou shouldst not speak in this strain. It is almost blasphemy. Think of the fate of the sons of Aaron who brought strange fire into the sanctuary!"

"Nay, Abner, I am guilty of no blasphemy. I am convinced that those who pass from life do not become as petrified as the slabs that cover them. They hover around those who loved them and whom they loved on earth and mingle in their joys and sorrows."

"It must be so, Caleb, if thou thinkest so," said Abner after a pause.

"Come, Abner," Caleb solemnly exclaimed, "let us swear by the eternal that if either of us die the survivor shall seek to communicate with the departed one and visit the sepulcher at the moment of his highest happiness on earth. Then it is my fervent belief that the secret of heavenly happiness will be unfolded, and we shall attain the highest degree of intelligence."

The compact was made—an unusual thing in those days among the pious Jewish youth—and the conversation ended. In a few years Caleb died, and Abner, disconsolate and dejected, disdained for awhile all society, but spent the largest share of his leisure at the friend's grave, reflecting on his genial traits and their loving intercourse. Time, however, works its magical changes, and now he had married.

"I had almost forgotten thee, beloved Caleb," said Abner softly to himself as he left the crowded streets of Jerusalem and gained the roadway leading to the cemetery. "Surely this is the happiest moment of my life, wedded to the one I hold most dear. Could there be a more fitting time to think of thee and our mutual oath?"

It did not take long, for the distance was short and he walked with hurried steps, before Abner found himself close to the simple slab that covered the remains of Caleb. Flinging himself upon it, he gave way to his emotions, but by a strong effort his self control gained the mastery. Then he communed thus with the spirit of his friend:

"Beloved Caleb, not with fear and trembling but with glad confidence I approach thee. Thou rememberest our oath. I have come to thy grave at the full tide of my happiness, to learn of thy experience in the realms of bliss. Thou recallest our converse in those joyous days of youth when it was our desire to pierce all mystery. Be near to me now, dear friend, and in thy purified state uplift the veil which hides the mortal from the immortal. Inspire me now oh, Caleb, with the knowledge I seek and let me not ask in vain."

Abner ceased, half expectant of some response. But no voice broke the stillness. The shadows of evening were deepening. One by one the stars shone in the firmament. Abner failed to notice the advancing night in his rapt contemplation. Then a faint murmuring rent the air and the trees that skirted the burial ground seemed to give forth a sobbing sound.

"Oh, Caleb," Abner entreated, with outstretched hands, "answer me. By the ineffable name of God, answer me."

The tremulous weeping of a child was borne on the breeze. A flash of lightning lit up the distant hills, and a rumbling as of thunder was heard.

"Do I disturb thee, oh, Caleb, from thy rest? Forgive me, beloved friend. But answer me, as thou didst swear to do. Tell me the delights of immortal life."

"Abner! Abner!" At the words Abner's countenance shone with sudden joy. "At last!" he exclaimed. "At last I hear thy voice again!"

"Abner, such a delight is mine as is comparable to no earthly bliss. So pure, so radiant, so serene, are my companions that my voice cannot describe a thousandth portion of my happiness. Have no regret at our severed friendship. A sweeter, stronger bond unites us now. Dost thou yearn to see again my features and clasp my hand as of old? Why, I am nearer to thee than in the past, and my eye sees clearer within where spirit responds to spirit and all is at perfect peace. I have solved the mystery. I have gained the heights."

The voice ceased for a moment and then it resumed:

"More could I tell thee. But dost thou know the penalty? A thousand years on earth are but as a moment in eternity. Even as thou communest with me here, beloved friend, the years vanish and life recedes. Oh, hasten, hasten, ere it be too late! Thy bride awaits thee and wonders why thou art tarrying. Wouldst thou learn the secret of eternal life? Make thy earth a heaven and live well thy mortal years, with their alternate sunshine and shade, as best preparation for immortality. But hasten, hasten! I dare speak no more, for thine own dear sake."

Again a child's tremulous wail was borne to Abner's ear. There came a flash of lightning and the muttering of thunder. Then the shadows lifted, and it was sunrise on earth, with a fresh, cheerful air sweeping across the hills.

"Why, I have been sleeping," Abner exclaimed, rising with difficulty from the ground. "How careless on my part! My limbs are as stiff as an old man's and my shaggy beard has grown overnight. A pretty figure to meet my bride!" he muttered as he moved with hesitating steps toward Jerusalem. He gained the old roadway, although its lines had changed. He did not recognize the fields in which some peasants were plowing, while on every side were scattered debris and heaps of stone.

"Almighty!" he entreated as he strained his sight for the accustomed glory of the temple mount. "Where art thou vanished O Jerusalem? O beloved bride, shall I see thee no more? Home, friends, country, have I lost yo all!"

Abner had dreamed 70 years, and when the dream cloud had lifted bride and friends had long since died. The temple had fallen and Jerusalem had become a ruin—the spoil of triumphant Rome.

In seeking to pierce the mysteries of the future, the present had passed from view and left Abner in solitude. That was the penalty of seeing visions.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Help in trouble.

Nearly every woman can recall from her own experiences some emergency when a ready knowledge of the best thing to do would have saved days or perhaps months of anxiety and suffering. No family ought to be without the constant safeguard and ever-present help of that wonderful free book the Common Sense Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells what to do in emergency or accident or sudden sickness. It contains over one thousand pages, profusely illustrated with engravings and colored plates. It gives receipts for several hundred simple, well-tried home remedies. It instructs the mother in the care of her ailing children or husband, and gives invaluable suggestions for the preservation of her own health and condition in all those critical and delicate periods to which women are subject. The author of this great work has had a wider practical experience in treating obstinate diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-renowned for their marvelous efficacy.

Mrs. H. M. Hansrote, of Magnolia, Morgan Co., W. Va., in a letter to Dr. Pierce says: "My husband is a locomotive engineer. He came home about a year ago and just dropped in the doorway. He was burning up with fever and he commenced with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery according to directions and in two weeks he was able to go to work, without having a doctor. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription something over two years ago, and am glad to testify that it is a God-send to womankind. I have been out of health for years, and am now able to say your medicine has cured me entirely. The three children who were born before I commenced to take your medicine did not live long, they were very delicate, but those born since (three in all) are very hearty, and that convinces me that your medicine is just what it is said to be and a great deal more."

By simply enclosing 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y., a paper-bound volume of Dr. Pierce's great book will be sent absolutely free, or for 50 stamps a heavier and handsomer cloth-bound copy will be sent. A whole medical library in one 1000-page volume.

Heavy Loss Averted.

An extremely well dressed young woman stood before the "art needlework" counter of one of the dry goods stores in Washington. She was unmistakably tailor made, and her "scolding locks" were pinned up with a coiled snake of turquoises. Half a dozen times she tried to engage the attention of the saleswoman, who had enough customers waiting to have occupied five saleswomen. Every time the saleswoman responded, "In a minute I'll wait on you," and went placidly on attending to the wants of somebody else. The well dressed young woman trembled with impatience.

"These Washington clerks don't understand their business like New York clerks," she said to her companion. "A New York clerk can wait on eight people at once."

"It's outrageous having to wait this way," said the companion, who wore an owl on her hat.

"It's shameful," said the first young woman.

"It's perfectly horrid," said the second.

"The people that keep this store ought to be taught a lesson," said the first young woman. "I've a great mind to go somewhere else, I have."

This terrible threat seemed to move the saleswoman. She rolled her eyes languidly toward the young woman.

"What is it you want?" she asked.

"I want one skein of silver gray filo," said the well dressed young woman, and everybody heaved a sigh of relief. The store had been saved the loss of a customer. The filo was 4 cents.—Washington Post.

NOBODY CLAIMED THE PAPER

A Rebuke by General Washington That Evidently Frightened the Owner.

Major William Pierce left behind him a partial record of the debates in Philadelphia which supplement those of Madison, Yates and King; also the following anecdote:

When the convention first opened at Philadelphia, there were a number of propositions brought forward as great leading principles for the new government to be established for the United States. A copy of these propositions was given to each member, with an injunction to keep everything a profound secret. One morning, by accident, one of the members dropped his copy of the propositions, which, being luckily picked up by General Mifflin, was presented to General Washington, our president, who put it in his pocket. After the debates of the day were over and the question for adjournment was called for the general arose from his seat and, previous to his putting the question, addressed the convention in the following manner:

"Gentlemen, I am sorry to find that some one member of this body has been so neglectful of the secrets of the convention as to drop in the statehouse a copy of their proceedings, which by accident was picked up and delivered to me this morning. I must entreat gentlemen to be more careful, lest our transactions get into the newspapers and disturb the public repose by premature speculations. I know not whose paper it is, but there it is (throwing it down on the table). Let him who owns it take it." At the same time he bowed, picked up his hat and quitted the room with a dignity so severe that every person seemed alarmed. For my part, I was extremely so, for, putting my hand in my pocket, I missed my copy of the same paper, but, advancing up to the table, my fears soon dissipated. I found it to be the handwriting of another person. When I went to my lodgings at the Indian Queen, I found my copy in a coat pocket which I had pulled off that morning. It is something remarkable that no person ever owned the paper.—American Historical Review.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife sunered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills, cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

ROCKDALE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The farmers have been sugar making this week and last.

Master Dannie Youmans had the misfortune to thrust a fork deeply into his foot last week. He is getting over it as fast as can be expected.

Mrs. John Brown is visiting friends at Norwood this week.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. Wm. Cryaler, of Belmont, and Miss M. Ellis, of Victoria, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Sanderson, at the parsonage, Blairton. The young couple are going to live near Campbellford. We wish them happiness and prosperity.

Mr. A. W. Dafoe is lying seriously ill from an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Wm. Stevenson, of Percy, is also dangerously ill at the home of his nephew, Mr. Martin Clarke.

The patrons of the Victoria Point stock factory held a business meeting on Monday last, 21st inst., at which the milk routes were let. Mr. John M. Brown has secured the Rockdale route.

Our settlement was considerably shocked and saddened on hearing of the death of Mr. John Roderick at Norwood. Deceased was well known here and also at Warkton, where he took a prominent part in religious work.

On Thursday night, March 10th, a number of our young people and Christian workers met at Victoria church for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Epworth League. In this they were helped by President Knox, of the Havelock League, and a number of his assistants, who, notwithstanding the bad roads, kindly came down to exemplify and show the importance of the work. At the close of the meeting a league was organized with the following officers:

President—Mr. Adolphus Brown.
1st Vice-President—Miss M. Seeney.
Secretary—Mr. W. Holcomb.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. Holcomb.

As many of the most active workers were absent the other vice-presidents and the committees were not selected. The meeting closed to meet Friday evening, March 18th.

March 18.—The first regular meeting of the new Victoria League was held to-night and it exceeded the expectations of the most hopeful. Every part of it was good; the singing, the prayers, the discussion on the topic were all entered into with an enthusiastic cheerful, vim, that made it a grand success. Mr. R. S. Breckenridge led the meeting. Mr. B. ..wa, the President, took the topic, "How to Keep the Pledge." The discussion on the topic was led by Miss Seeney and carried briskly on by Messrs. Breckenridge and Covert. A large number of new members joined, were received and welcomed into the League. Then after a short business meeting the meeting dispersed, each feeling that a pleasant and profitable evening had been spent.

Wild With Eczema

Hands and Limbs Covered with Blisters, and Great Red Blotches.

Scratched Until Almost Wild. Burned Like Fire. Sleep Impossible.

Cuticura Brings Speedy Relief, and a Permanent Cure at a Cost of $2.

I was a sufferer for eight years from that most distressing of all diseases, Eczema, but can now say truthfully that I am entirely cured. I tried some of the best physicians in the country, but they did me little good. The palms of my hands were covered, and would become inflamed; little white blisters at first would appear, then they would peel off, leaving a red, smooth surface which would burn like fire and itch; well, there is no name for it. On the inside of the upper part of both my limbs, great red blotches, not unlike hives, would appear, and as soon as I became warm, the burning and itching would begin. Night after night I would lie awake all night and scratch and almost go wild. I heard of CUTICURA remedies, got a box of CUTICURA (ointment), a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier), and gave them a thorough trial, and after a few applications I noticed the redness and inflammation disappear; before I had used one box there was not a sign of Eczema left. I can truthfully assert that $5.00 worth of CUTICURA REMEDIES cured me. Any one I meet who has Eczema, I do not hesitate a moment in recommending your remedies.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The bad roads prevented many from attending Saturday's market.

Winter wheat and clover safe here yet.

The Russell election was celebrated Saturday evening by a few Liberals quietly but surely. The supposed "change" influenced many to vote against the Government in the north end of East Victoria, a sting to their conscience, while with a lesser majority. Yet those misled constituents are biting off their finger ends that they did not support, as promised, Mr. Austin and good Government.

Dr. King, of Peterborough, was here to-day in consultation with Drs. Cameron and Caldwell over an unfortunate accident to Mrs. A. E. Byers, from which she will be unable to walk for some time.

The Parkin lumbermen and river drivers are tearing away Cowan's bridge in order to get their logs through. This will necessitate a new bridge, which is much needed.

Mr. Isaac Graham, G.T.R. station agent here, leaves for the Klondyke April 11th, accompanied by a party of five, who intend taking out a quainty of live stock for beef and other purposes.

Mr. Spellman, proprietor of the Spellman House here, is in loud praise of the patronage bestowed on him here, and declares and declares there is no better Irish hearts to be found than in this burg.

Mr. Irwin, travelling agent for Green's pump factory, Peterborough, passed through here to-day and reports business good.

Wm. H. Curry, merchant, with J. D. Thornton, real estate and insurance agent, was in Peterborough Saturday completing the purchase of the Faulkner farm, Emily, from Messrs. Hall & Hayes.

HAVELOCK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We are pleased to learn that Dr. Fowler is in a fair way of recovery.

Mr. Charles Dryden, yard man, had the misfortune of having two of his fingers badly bruised while coupling cars in the yard.

Mr. Irwin, conductor, is off duty, being sick and unable to be out of bed.

Mr. Wm. Hill, fireman, is seriously ill in Shantz's Halls with inflammation and unable to come home. His mother, Mrs. Hill, of Haverhill, is waiting on him. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

Miss Ida Hamilton has gone to Campbellford on a protracted visit to her mother's.

Miss Dunkin has been visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. C. Dunkin, of Omemee.

Mrs. Brady, of Gould has returned to our village. Mrs. John Hutchins died last Sunday morning, at the early age of 25, after an illness of three months. The late Mr. Roderick had been employed until three months ago by Phillips Bros., hardware merchants. Although it was easily seen for some time that he was rapidly sinking, no one expected his death so soon, and the announcement caused quite a shock throughout the village. The funeral took place from his late boarding house on Monday at 2 p.m., and the remains were interred in the cemetery south of the village. The late Mr. Roderick was a member of the Methodist church and took a leading part in the Epworth League, prayer meetings, and was also a member of the choir. He was a general favourite and will be much missed by the people of Havelock. He had no relatives in this country but a mother and sister survive him in London, England.

Master Bert Weese met with an accident last week. He was fooling with a shot gun when it went off, blowing the top off the forefinger of his right hand.

Mrs. H. B. Morrison and children are visiting friends in Campbellford.

The Klondyke Flier from the west was in two divisions to-day (Tuesday). There were nine coaches in the first division and eleven in the second, all heavily laden with passengers for the Northwest.

Baby Eczema and Scald Head.

Infants and young children are peculiarly subject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. Dr. Chase made a special study of Eczema and disease of the skin, and we can confidently recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure all forms of Eczema. The first application soothe the irritation and gives the little sufferer rest.

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. William McLellan received a very painful injury last week. While operating a circular saw two of the fingers of his left hand were almost cut off. He is still able to manage the work on the farm, however.

Mr. Samuel Smitheon sold a team of horses to Mr. Bennett of the Northwest, for which he received a good price.

Mr. Wm. Smith has been unable to saw for some days past, owing to high water. He has done considerable chopping and grinding, so that his mill has been in steady operation.

The roads are in a fearful state at present. The municipal council should make a grant to build sidewalks through the principal streets, as pedestrians find it very difficult to pick their way through the mire.

Syrup making and fall wheat seem to be the principal topic of conversation among the farmers at present. Owing to the exceptionally fine winter, fall wheat has come out wonderfully well, and if it receives no further drawbacks should prove a big crop.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

There have been two destructive fires in this vicinity recently.

The first was that of Mr. John Owens, who had his dwelling totally burned to the ground a few days ago with all its contents. Mr. Owens, formerly of Eniskcrore, came to this township about two years ago and purchased a farm, and was in comfortable circumstances when the fire occurred. Unfortunately he has no insurance to cover the loss.

The next was the large frame house and kitchen owned by Mr. Albert McMahon. The house was occupied by Mr. Joseph Donaldson, and caught fire last Thursday morning immediately after the fire had been kindled. The flames were fanned by such a strong wind blowing from the east that before any assistance arrived the house was so densely filled with smoke that the occupants were forced to retire, and see the contents reduced to ashes. The building is partially insured.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin left on Tuesday morning for Manitoba, where they intend to reside in the future.

Miss McGann went to Lindsay on Wednesday where she will remain for some time.

Mr. James Morrow, of Minden, is spending a few days in the township this week.

We can also record a couple of wood bees and a logging bee this week.

NORTH SMITH.

Politics are growing cold, but the weather is getting warmer since the election.

Mr. Absalom Northey commenced to plough on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Brodie, of Oregon, formerly of Harvey, passed through here on Monday of this week to visit old friends in Harvey. No doubt their many friends will give them a hearty welcome after their fifteen years of absence.

Rev. Mr. Edmison, of Lakefield, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church, here, on Sunday. He took for his text St. John 15, xiv:—"If ye love me keep my commandments." The reverend gentleman preached a forcible and eloquent sermon and was listened to with great attention.

A BONUS ON BUTTER.

Mr. Reid's Proposal Fails to Pass in the Commons.

MR. CHARLTON'S BILL KILLED.

After a Lively Debate on Sunday Legislation the Committee Sends Back the Bill—Mr. Maclean Again Moves for Railway Running Powers—To Control Railway Rates.

Ottawa, March 24.—A proposition was made in the House yesterday to encourage the export trade in creamery butter by granting a bounty of one cent a pound. It was advanced by Mr. Reid of Granville, who represents a dairying district. The Minister of Agriculture, whose interest in the extension of the dairy industry of this country has been evinced in many salutary measures since his assumption of office, was unable to accept the view put forth by the mover of the resolution. The export of butter to Great Britain has doubled in volume every year for three years, while last year it showed an increase of two-thirds over the trade of the previous year. In view of this phenomenal expansion he concluded that Canada would secure the market without any artificial stimulation of the production. The debate on the subject was interrupted by the expiration of the time devoted to the order under which it came up. Mr. Charlton's anti-Sunday newspaper bill met its fate in committee upon a standing vote of 60 to 48. He may move to reinstate the measure.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply to Mr. Britton, said that the question of appointing persons for the revision of the Dominion statutes is now engaging the attention of the Government.

The Minister of Public Works, in answer to the question of Mr. Davin, stated that the departmental estimate of the loss by the fire in the west block is $200,000; that the ceilings in the lower storeys have been replastered, the woodwork repainted and a fire-proof ceiling and door placed over the upper storey and all of the damaged stones replaced. The construction of the iron roof is being done by contract, but the rest of the work by day labor. Part of the new iron roof has arrived, and the Minister said that it is expected that the whole roof will be in position within two months.

Mr Reid (Conservative, Grenville), offered a resolution declaring that the Government should take immediate steps to do something more to assist in the development of our butter trade, "and this House is of the opinion that the Government should place in the estimates for the present session an amount to be paid to the farmers direct, by way of a bonus of one cent per pound, on a specified quality of our finest fresh creamery butter to be exported to Great Britain, while fresh and in condition to secure a reputation for itself, and establish a lasting demand, and that this bonus be continued for three consecutive years. The bonus to be increased at the discretion of the Government on butter made during the winter months. All such butter to be subject to a rigid Government inspection.

"That this bonus be paid to only those farmers who will furnish for export regular supplies."

The mover contended that the Canadian supply of cheese to Great Britain has reached a satisfactory point, and that the best impetus which could be given to dairy farming in Canada would be the encouragement of a butter industry. While the Dominion supplied but a very small portion of the British butter supply, there could be no doubt it was as rich a dairy country as any of those countries from which the bulk of that supply was drawn. He therefore urged a bonus to the manufacturers of butter. That plan had worked well in Quebec, and those who were opposed to it were not farmers, but dealers and exporters, and he wanted the bonus paid to the farmer direct.

Mr. Moore (Conservative, Stanstead) thought it would be unfair to pay the bonus to creameries and leave the dairymen out of consideration. He, however, congratulated the mover of the resolution upon his able advocacy of the farmers' interests in this matter. He suggested that the resolution be amended to have the bonus apply to dairy butter also.

Mr. Davin, supporting the resolution, pointed out that it was by such encouragement as proposed by Dr. Reid that Denmark had built up her splendid export butter trade.

Mr. Fisher replied that the experience of Quebec in bonusing the export butter trade was not such as to lead him to favor the experiment in the Dominion generally. The result had been that the bonus went into the hands of the exporter, and not the farmer. He would point out that Dr. Reid's estimate of Ontario's export of butter was not fair to that province, because much of it went out by way of Montreal and was credited to Quebec. For three years the export of Canadian butter to England had doubled each year. Last year it had increased by two-thirds over the supply of the previous year. Owing to the cold storage improvements, our butter was attaining a high reputation, so we did not need a bonus. It was not by means of a bonus that our cheese trade had been built up. It was, after all, only an artificial stimulus, and did not achieve satisfactory results, the Minister thought. He therefore disapproved of the resolution.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Montague, McMullen, Sproule, Campbell, Henderson, Frost, Taylor, McMillan, Broder, Bain and Pope, who was speaking when the House rose for dinner.

The first hour after recess being devoted to private bills, Mr. W. F. Maclean made a strong protest against the Ontario & Rainy River bill going through unless amended so as to provide that the Grand Trunk, the Government railway system, the C.P.R. and any other railways desiring the privilege, should have running rights over the Rainy River Railway and its western connections. He also favored regulation of the rates to be charged by the company, in order to benefit the western country and the Dominion generally.

Mr. Davis (Liberal, Saskatchewan) supported the contention in the interest of the Northwest.

Mr. Sproule made a vigorous plea for the securing of general advantages to other railways desiring to use this line.

Mr. Charlton moved the third reading of the bill, to which Mr. W. F. Maclean moved an amendment to refer the bill back to committee in order to strike out the subsection which prevents the sale in Canada of any paper published or purporting to be published on Sunday in Canada.

The House divided on the amendment, which was carried by 65 years to 58 nays.

The House then went into committee on the bill. The House having gone into committee on the bill, Mr. Charlton vigorously denounced Sunday newspapers, all and sundry. They were, he held, a violation of divine law. Their publishers were the enemy of every moral and religious sentiment.

Mr. Somerville said that if Mr. Charlton really wanted to strike at Sunday labor he would have to legislate against the Monday morning newspaper.

Mr. Osler objected to all this sort of grandmotherly legislation. He objected to Mr. Charlton posing as if he had a power of attorney from the Almighty to tell the people what they must or must not do.

Mr. Erb also denounced the bill as unnecessary.

After some further discussion Mr. Maclean moved that the committee rise.

The motion carried by a vote of 60 to 48, which effectually kills the bill, unless the House votes to reinstate the bill should Mr. Charlton carry out his threat to make such a motion.

The House adjourned at 11 p.m.

The West Huron Appeal.

Toronto, March 24.—The appeal of J. T. Garrow, Q.C., Liberal candidate in West Huron, against the decision of James Masson, Esq., County Judge of Huron, upon seven ballots disputed in the recent recount, in which Mr. Beck had a majority of 2, came up before Mr. Justice Osler at Osgoode Hall yesterday morning. Of the seven ballots in dispute, the court upheld the decision of the County Judge in five and reserved judgment in two cases. In the afternoon Mr. Beck's counter appeal was heard, the Judge reserving decision upon two ballots in that appeal also.

Two Chatham Men Drowned.

Blenheim, March 24.—A sad drowning accident happened at Rondeau Pier last night, when two men named Washington Nagle and E. Tole, both carpenters, employed by the E. & H. railway, were drowned while attempting to cross the channel. The men were fishing on the Eau, and in attempting to reach the piers the boat was swamped. The men lived in Chatham.

Skaguay Has 12,000 People.

Victoria, B.C., March 24.—A resident of Skaguay, writing respecting the conditions prevailing there, says according to the customs figures, 5,500 people have arrived there since the first of March. It is estimated that the population of Skaguay is about 12,000, and the town is growing rapidly.

SALISBURY'S RETIREMENT.

A London Paper Reports the Premier's Resignation.

MR. GLADSTONE IS VERY ILL.

The Grand Old Man Has Been Confined to Bed Since His Return to Hawarden—He Asks the Press to Refrain From Discussing the Details of His Illness.

London, March 24.—The Daily Chronicle says: "We learn that the long Cabinet Council on Monday considered an intimation from the Marquis of Salisbury of his desire, acting under medical advice, to resign both the Premiership and the Foreign Secretaryship.

"Our news is obtained from a source usually trustworthy, but the crisis may take a few weeks to develop, the Queen being abroad. Lord Salisbury's successors are almost certain to be the Duke of Devonshire as Premier and Mr. Arthur J. Balfour as Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs."

MR. GLADSTONE SUFFERS.

The Grand Old Man Is Much Distressed, But Wants Details Concealed.

London, March 24.—Sir Thomas Smith, surgeon-extraordinary to the queen, and senior surgeon of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, who was called in consultation upon the case of Mr. Gladstone, in an interview said yesterday that after the examination Mr. Gladstone begged him not to say a word about his condition unless the Queen asked for information on the subject. The surgeon confirmed the report that Mr. Gladstone was suffering intense pain and was very ill. He added that Mr. Gladstone would regard it as the greatest kindness if the newspapers and the public would not discuss the details of his sickness.

Mr. Gladstone has remained in bed continuously since his arrival at Hawarden.

FRANCE WAS NOTIFIED.

Two Years Ago Was Told That Britain Claimed African Towns.

London, March 24.—In the House of Lords last evening the Earl of Selborne, Parliamentary Secretary to the Colonial Office, said that the Government had formally notified France in 1895 that the towns of Boussa, on the Middle Niger, and Nikki, west of the Middle Niger, were under British protection, but both had since been occupied by French troops. The British Government, he said, had protested against their occupation by France, and the respective claims of the two Governments would now be settled by the Paris Commission.

It was reported in the lobby of the House of Commons that France had finally admitted the accuracy of the news of the French advance in Sokoto, West Central Africa, last month, which has been formally denied. It is understood that the admission was accompanied by explanations and by an expression of regret.

THE SENATE AND ITS USEFULNESS.

There is a general disposition to disparage the usefulness of the Senate, but the law requires that the senators must be worth something—must have a property qualification of $4,000 over all incumbrances. It is now stated that several of the senators are without the necessary $4,000, and that therefore they are not entitled to seats in the Senate chamber. There is a disposition, it seems, to demand that the law in respect of these impecunious senators be enforced. If the senators are shrewd financiers they might get somebody to stand sponsors for them—by giving a rake-off on their sessional indemnity. An office that brings a thousand dollars a session represents, at current rates of interest, a capital of something like $20,000. It would be quite a stroke for some shrewd financier to set up a senatorial broker shop. An investment of $4,000 in "broken" senators would yield him an income of $200 at five per cent. A senator who isn't worth $4,000, if he were in danger of losing his $1,000 sessional bonus, would be quite willing to compound with fate, and allow the broker a "rake off" of $200 on condition of the latter advancing the $4,000 that would save his seat. Eight hundred a year would be better than losing a seat and getting nothing substantial, not to speak of a long and illustrious political career, closing under the cloud of dismissal from the senatorial precincts—for the worst of modern crimes—poverty.

A PENNY SAVED IS A PENNY GAINED.

The following shows how easy it is to accumulate a fortune, provided proper steps are taken. The table shows what would be the result at the end of fifty years by saving a certain amount each day, and putting it at interest at the rate of 5 per cent.:

Daily Savings.	The Result.
One cent	$ 950
Ten cents	9,504
Twenty cents	19,008
Thirty cents	28,513
Forty cents	38,015
Fifty cents	47,520
Sixty cents	57,024
Seventy cents	66,528
Eighty cents	76,032
Ninety cents	85,537
One dollar	95,041
Five dollars	475,208

Nearly every person wastes enough in twenty or thirty years, which if saved and carefully invested, would make a family quite independent; but the principle of small savings has been lost sight of in the general desire to become wealthy.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE London, Eng., Critic says in a recent issue that "Ontario is one of the best govered bits of the Empire," and the people have decided that this good government shall continue, which will make a round thirty years of first-rate administration.

IN estimating the meaning of the Liberal victory in Russell, it should be remembered that this constituency was always Conservative before Confederation, and from that till 1879. In 1882 Mr. Alex. Robillard was returned as a supporter of the Liberal Government.

THE Conservatives say that the Ontario ballot is not secret. Yet, as the Brantford Expositor points out, not one of their number has ventured to name a single case in the recent, or any other Provincial election contest, in which absolute secrecy was violated, save for the purpose of legal investigation.

SIXTY-EIGHT years ago, when the postal rate for the transmission of one letter was 25 cents for 400 miles, a former postmaster reports that he had at different times received as a just equivalent for this service, either two bushels of oats, five dozen eggs, four pounds of butter, three bushels of wheat, or one and a third pounds of common wool. It is easy to compare the progress which the post office has since made under Government direction.

WHAT is called "one of the most successful sales of Crown lands" took place in Quebec on Tuesday. It is said that unprecedented prices were obtained. Only the figures of one lot of 4¼ miles are given—$526 per square mile, the upset price being $200. These figures are still far below what Ontario realizes from her Crown domain sales, the average per square mile for the limits sold during Hon. Mr. Hardy's tenure of the Crown Lands portfolio, being the high average of $2,634.

This is a proposal that eminates from the great mind of the Bobcaygeon Independent: "A measure was passed at the last session of the Legislature with a view to substituting district for county jails. There is no doubt that the County jails are much too costly for the number of prisoners. How would it do for, say the Counties of Victoria, Peterborough, and Northumberland to send all their prisoners to one jail, and use the other two as Homes for the Aged and Infirm of the three counties. None of these counties have homes for the poor, and this plan would provide ample accommodation for all purposes without any expense."

THE Dominion Franchise Act, after thirteen years' experience, has few friends even among the party that profited by its iniquitous provisions. When it was introduced it met the most determined hostility from the Liberal Opposition, but though they fought it stubbornly stage by stage, the majority prevailed. The experience of the past thirteen years has justified such opposition. It was unfair, inasmuch as it afforded means for disfranchising a large portion of the electors not in sympathy with the Government. And it was exceedingly costly in its operations not only to the country but to the parties. The Franchise Act was so bad that even Sir John Thompson in 1894 brought in a bill for its abolition, but his death prevented proceeding with the measure. Now it it is to be replaced by an equitable bill based upon the provincial lists, and the bill commends itself so strongly to common sense that even Conservative members in the House are only putting up mere accademic opposition to it.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

From time to time reports are published of great success attending the municipalization of public works in different parts of the world. Glasgow has long been looked upon as a model in these respects, but English cities are not much, if any, behind their Scottish sister. Birmingham has made a success of the schemes it has undertaken as a municipality, to the great relief of the taxpayer and the improvement of means of existence. Now comes news of the successful issue of the municipal tramway (street car) system of Sheffield. Some ten years ago, Sheffield, then a town of about 300,000 population, assumed the ownership of the waterworks, which previous to that time had been in the hands of private companies. The undertaking proved a great success. The cost of water was greatly lowered, improvements were made in the supply, and the waterworks committee found themselves usually with a comfortable balance to the good.

Towards the end of 1896 the charter of the Tramways Company had expired. The service was a wretched one, and the city, which had grown to over 400,000, felt the need of an improved method of working the lines. They were taken up by the corporation, with a view of ultimately replacing the horse power with electricity as the propelling force. Ever since, in spite of a better service, reduced fares, and shorter working hours for employees, they have proved a profitable investment, clearly showing the wisdom of the corporation's course. For the past six months the profits were £8,850, an increase of £2,090 over the same period in the preceding year. The profits for the year and a half in which the city has owned the car service was £16,000.

This experiment having been so successful the corporation has now determined to purchase from a company the electric light plant and furnish the citizens with cheaper light. There is no reason to anticipate any other result in this business, than a further success.

Men and medicines are judged by what they do. The great cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla give it a good name everywhere.

WELL-KNOWN TORY, SIR FRANK SMITH,

Makes a Strong Speech in Favor of Yukon Railway.

REASONS FOR HIS PREFERENCE.

The Best Interests of the Country His Only Criterion—He Says the Commons, Which Passed the Bill, More Closely Represents the People Than Does the Senate.

Ottawa, March 24.—The debate in the Senate on the second reading of the Yukon bill was resumed by Sir Frank Smith of Toronto, who said he regarded it as his duty to explain the reasons why he was in favor of the Government measure. He was not acting as a partisan, but in what he considered to be the best interests of the country. He had no friends in the Government, nor was he interested in the contractors securing the contract for this railway, except for public reasons. Speaking as a merchant, he wanted to see the gold fields of the Yukon developed, and in order to secure that, rapid transportation facilities were urgently required. The immediate construction of this railway he regarded as a necessity to the development of that country in the interests of Canada.

It was argued in reply to the plea of urgency for this railway that it could not be finished in time to be of any use next fall before the close of navigation. If that was true it was simply an argument against further postponing the work of construction, which, if left over until next session, would preclude the completion of a railway into that country for three years. He wished to raise his voice in favor of the immediate construction of this railway, because it meant that Canada would be enabled to take advantage of the rush of miners to that country in search of gold, to secure a class of settlers and a mining population of a plucky and sturdy character, which would not only develop the resources of the Yukon, but whose presence there would contribute to the wealth and prosperity of the whole of the Dominion.

He was in favor of an all-Canadian route if it could be accomplished in time to enable Canada to get the advantage of having the first railway communication into the country. The Edmonton route he regarded as the best for the trade interests of Canada, but the objection to it was that it would take four or five years to construct a line of railway over it, and a railway was imperatively needed now.

The Commons, which more closely represented the people of Canada than the Senate, had passed the bill by a large majority.

The excuse advanced in the Senate for throwing out the bill was that the land grant was too large. That all depended on what the land was worth. But no one knows the value of the land. It had a purely speculative value, which might amount in the end to much or little. The whole country was practically unknown, even to those who had been in the country. As for himself, he knew nothing about it. That is true. There is a big risk to be taken, both by the Government and the contractors. That risk is necessary to the development of the country, and I am here to support the Government, which is ready to take that risk in order to open up the gold fields of the Yukon to the miners who wish to go into the country.

When the proposition to construct the Canadian Pacific Railway was first mooted he was considered crazy for the views he expressed about the necessity for the construction of that great national highway. His views had come true, and since that time he had never had occasion to be ashamed of the views he held at first. In providing for the construction of the C.P.R. the Conservative Government and the contractors who built that road had taken an enormous risk. No one could estimate what the extent of that risk was beforehand. This was a similar case. The risk was not so great; the consideration was also smaller.

It was argued that the contractors would be able to take this railway proposition, with its land grant, to the English money market, and float bonds to an enormous amount. He doubted that; but, even if it were so, was it the duty of Parliament to prevent the introduction of an enormous amount of British capital into the Yukon country? The English investors could be trusted to look after themselves, and every dollar they invested in the Yukon, whether through Messrs McKenzie and Mann, or not, would help to develop the country and contribute to the revenue of the Dominion.

Hundreds and thousands of young men all over the world were waiting for the completion of this railway to go to the Yukon to seek their fortunes in the gold fields. These young men were not paupers, but had money with which to purchase outfits and supplies in Canadian markets. They were in every sense a desirable sort of population. For every dollar's worth of gold taken out of the Yukon, 90 cents would be spent in getting it out. If this railway was built, Canada would be able to secure a fair proportion of that trade.

The only object he had in view was to secure for the country the greatest possible advantage from the opening up of the Yukon country. He would be sorry to see the Conservative party of which he had so long been a supporter, use its power in the Senate simply to block a Government measure. He at least was honest in his support of that measure. He wanted to see the railway built at once, and later on, if circumstances warranted it, another constructed over the Edmonton route in order to open up the fertile plains of the Northwest.

Mr. Miller said Sir Frank was so rarely on the wrong side of any question before the Senate that he might well be forgiven. He was sure, however, that Sir Frank was sincere in his convictions. In listening to the speech of the Minister of Justice yesterday he could not but realize that Mr. Mills felt his task was both difficult and disagreeable. The public manifestations in this country were so clearly in opposition to this bill that the Senate surely could not be led to believe by Mr. Mills that this contract was a good one, or that the Government had adopted the best measures for securing the object they all had in view. The measure before the House was unjust, unwise and most objectionable.

Mr. Mills and Mr. Scott, as members of the Government, stood too high in the estimation of the Senate to lead to the suspicion that they had anything but the true interests of the country at heart. The same thing, however, could not be said of their colleague, Mr. Sifton.

The true national policy to pursue regarding this matter was to build a railway from Edmonton. The power of the Senate to reject this bill, or any other of a similar character, was undisputed. It was remarkable to note the conciliatory tone of a certain portion of the press towards the Senate, from which they were accustomed to receive the coarsest abuse. There was a purpose in this changed tone of the newspapers, but neither threats nor coaxing would have any influence in the Senate when called upon to discharge a great and important duty. It was a mistake to say that by rejecting the bill the Senate would be overriding the popular will. On the contrary, the Senate by rejecting this bill, would be protecting the public. He called upon the Senate to fearlessly and unflinchingly exercise its powers by rejecting the bill.

Senator Macdonald (British Columbia) opposed the bill, and concluded by moving the six months' hoist.

Senator Scott, speaking after recess, said he could hardly credit the reports he had heard that the Senate would throw out this bill, but the applause which greeted Mr. Miller's remarks showed that the conclusion of the Senate was a foregone one. Under all circumstances the Stikine route was the best one that could be chosen. The Edmonton route was not what it was claimed to be. The Mounted Police, who had tried to get through that way, had had to kill their horses.

Continuing, he said that Mr Hamilton Smith had made his offer after the contract with McKenzie and Mann had been signed. Lots of people would do the same thing now Messrs. McKenzie and Mann were taking great risks. Indeed, this whole venture was a gamble. He believed 99 per cent. of the land in the Yukon country was valueless; he might even say that not one-half per cent. was valuable. If this project were not carried out it would be a much more serious loss than two or three million dollars.

Mr. Scott declared that not one per cent. of the people of Canada would benefit directly out of the Yukon district. The contractors, however, would employ Canadian labor, and every industry in the Dominion would benefit, and was benefiting, by the demand for supplies.

He did not approve of the attacks made upon the Senate in the newspapers. He believed the Government papers were doing serious harm in criticising the Senate.

He expressed his regret that the service of an American newspaper man, Mr. Livernash, had to be invoked to denounce the Stikine route and boom the American routes. Mr. Slavin, a practical miner from the Klondike, had written a letter in which he pointed out that the miners' delegates were not authorized to deal with anything but the mining regulations.

Senator Scott proceeded to deal with the land subsidy, and combatted the statement of Mr. Livernash that the contractors had the right to take the timber.

Senator Prowse said, after studying the bill carefully, he could not see in it any redeeming feature.

Col. Boulton moved the adjournment of the debate, and the Senate adjourned at 10.15 o'clock.

A COPYRIGHT LAW.

A Publisher's Grievance That Is Being Aired at Ottawa—The Hardships of the Present Law.

Ottawa, March 23.—Publishers are again agitating for the passage of an effective Canadian copyright law that will give them a fair chance in the fight for business. Some very creditable work is now done in the face of great disadvantages. Recently a Canadian publisher brought out an edition of a new and popular novel. The book was scarcely on the market here when an English firm bought sheets of the same work in the United States, took them over to England, bound them and shipped them to Canada under the provisions of the Imperial copyright law as English copyright. This of course destroyed the value of the right of Canadian publication.

Last year Dr. Andrew MacPhail of Bishop's College, Montreal, made a report to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries on the subject of the discoloration of canned lobsters, to which he had given considerable attention previous to his being commissioned by the Government to investigate the matter. In his report Prof. MacPhail gratefully acknowledged his indebtedness to Dr. A. A. Bruere, who was associated with him during a portion of the experiments. But somehow this didn't seem to satisfy Dr. Bruere, who, it is said, has made charges to the Minister against Prof. MacPhail, alleging crookedness of some sort in achieving the satisfactory results of the experiments as reported. But in addition to this quarrel between the doctors, an attempt is being made to drag Prof. Prince, Commissioner of Fisheries, into the matter. Apart altogether of the fact of the Commissioner's unimpeachable character, it is really difficult to see in what the alleged "scandal" can possibly consist, because there is no proprietory claim on anybody's part to the process of prevention alleged to have been discovered by Prof MacPhail. It simply consists in the application of a little extra heat to the cans previous to sealing them up.

A cablegram received yesterday by Sir James Grant announced the death of Lawrence Vankoughnet, ex-Deputy Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs. The late Mr. Vankoughnet was in his 69nd year. He was born at Cornwall, married a daughter of the late Dr. Grant, and sister of Sir James Grant, entering the Civil Service in 1861, was appointed Deputy of Indian Affairs by Sir John Macdonald in 1880, and was superannuated about four years ago, owing to ill-health. Not long afterwards he removed to England. His last illness was not of long duration.

Thackeray as a Diner.

Many worthy and some notable persons have possessed the onion habit now and again. William Makepeace Thackeray, writing of himself in "Lovell the Widower," says, "It is notorious to all my friends there is a certain dish I cannot resist." He referred to stewed tripe and onions, as a proof of which it is narrated of him that on one occasion while on his way to dine with the Marquis of Westminster his eye caught sight of a placard in the window of a London restaurant bearing the legend, "Tripe and onions tonight." Going in, he called for the dish and writing materials, and wrote off as an excuse to his would be host that he had unexpectedly met an old friend that insisted upon detaining him.

Thackeray's favorite edibles were raw oysters and onions, and it may be recalled that he told Mr. Field, the Boston author, who acted as agent in his lecture tour in this country, that his chief purpose in coming to America was to obtain some of the famous large oysters of this land—which he had heard grew to fabulous size—instead of the little coppery things of England. At this first dinner of Boston, therefore, a plate of large "Providence Rivers" was set before him as an appetizer. He partook of one with a surprised look. Being asked how he felt, he replied: "Profoundly grateful. I feel as if I had swallowed a baby." He added that he must eat an onion to digest him.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Scott's Emulsion is not a "baby food," but is a most excellent food for babies who are not well nourished.

A part of a teaspoonful mixed in milk and given every three or four hours, will give the most happy results.

The cod-liver oil with the hypophosphites added, as in this palatable emulsion, not only to feeds the child, but also regulates its digestive functions.

THANK YOU!

It was a pleasure to have so many ladies accept our invitation to our First Spring Millinery Opening.

It was gratifying to know that our efforts to excel in High Class Novelties at popular prices elicited the ecominums of the throngs who passed on out, day and night.

We are safe in claiming that the verdict of visitors was all in our favour.

The exhibit continues all week. Everyone is welcome to come and look as often as convenient. The store will not close before 9 o'clock each evening during Reception Week.

Newer ideas are put on each day. Most of our styles are direct from the hands of the style originators. Our patrons see the largest selection of the genuine Imported Pattern Hats, Bonnets and Capes—French, English and American.

All the latest fashions are presented under conditions of light, colour and elegance, as give a most delightful impression.

Miss Sherlock occupied the chair and a large number of young people were present. Last week a very enthusiastic temperance meeting was held under the direction of Miss Goard, who has charge of that department. Mrs. Paton, President of the local W.C.T.U., delivered an address, which was very much enjoyed by those present. Several readings and recitations were given, and the League choir contributed three rousing temperance glees. All young people are welcomed to these meetings.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

Mr. Ronald McKenzie has a Narrow Escape—The Furniture Ruined and the House Badly Damaged.

A defective chimney was the cause of a most disastrous fire last night in the residence of Mr. Ronald McKenzie, superintendent of the gas works.

The fire broke out between eleven and twelve o'clock at night and was discovered by the Misses Allen, near by who aroused Mr. McKenzie just in time to allow him to escape. His bedroom was just off the dining room and next to the kitchen, with but a thin partition intervening between him and the fire, which would most assuredly have imprisoned him within the next few minutes if he had not been aroused. In making his escape he did not even have time to save his clothing. Fortunately Mrs. McKenzie is at present in Toronto.

The flames had acquired considerable headway before the alarm was sent in and consequently the damage done the furniture and interior of the cottage is very great, the furniture in all the rooms but the parlour being totally destroyed, while that in the later room was rendered almost valueless through the immense amount of water which had to be used in stopping the progress of the fire. This, of course, ruined the piano.

An element of danger had to be contended with by the firemen, as the big gas tank was situated not more than a few feet from the fire, and through some unforseen circumstance it was feared that in some way the contents of the tank might become ignited. Such a catastrophe was fortunately averted.

The house, which is the property of the Gas Company, is insured in the London & Lancashire for $800, and the contents are also insured through Mr. W. H. Hill in the National for $600, although this will not begin to cover the loss.

The Burlesques.

A very large audience, composed exclusively of men, witnessed the performance of the Bon-Ton Burlesques at the Opera House last evening. It was a pity that the company was heralded by posters of an immodest tendency, as through that fact many ladies were doubtless debarred from witnessing the best vaudeville entertainment which has been seen in Peterborough in years. There was not even a suggestion of anything which would cause the most modest to blush. Kennedy and Nestor are a pair of Irish comedians of unequalled wit and genuine humour. Mamie Lamb and Blanche Fawcett did a neat turn which was loudly applauded, and altogether the programme was one which if it appeared here again, would most certainly be as liberally patronized by the fair sex as by the gentlemen.

No Cause for Alarm.

Some persons have opposition engrained in their nature and nothing is so good as not to meet their condemnation. One would think that everybody would approve of the destruction of the caterpillar egg bracelets. The other day a wiseacre accosted a man in charge of egg-gathering operations and solemnly informed him that he was killing the trees by cutting off twigs—the tree "would bleed to death." Of course, if the weather is favourable a good deal of sap will flow from the severed twigs, but that won't kill the tree any more than a man will bleed to death from a pin-scratch. THE EXAMINER a day or two ago mentioned the circumstance of the making of a canoe paddle from a tree that had been tapped with a seven-eighth inch auger. And still the tree did not "bleed to death," but showed a growth of twenty-five or thirty years after being perforated, and would probably have been growing still if it had not been cut for lumber. If cutting or tapping a maple when the "sap is rising" would cause it to "bleed to death," the sugar-making industry would only last one year. Snip away, gentlemen. Better a little of the sap of the sour saccharinum dripping on the walks that the hirsute and hungry caterpillar devouring the leaves of our trees, dropping on the sidewalks or down the back of our necks, and smearing our walks with nauseating abomination.

THE FIFTH IN THE SERIES OF LECTURES

DELIVERED IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH LAST EVENING.

The Rector Delivers a Most Instructive Address in the Absence of Rev. C. B. Kenrick, of Port Hope.

In the unexpected absence of Rev. C. B. Kenrick, of Port Hope, who was to have lectured in St. John's church, the address last evening was delivered by the rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson. The subject was "The Worshipping Church—The Religious Orders," and was founded on the text—Rev. vii. chapter, 11th verse: "And all the angels . . . fell before the throne on their faces and worshipped God."

The Church was placed and left in the world to carry out in all ages and countries the mission which Jesus Christ began in one short age and small country. What was this mission? First, to save sinners. So the Christian's duty is to extend the saving efficacy of Christ's life and death in all directions, but this was only the of Christ's work. He came also to "Glorify God on the earth." His life had also a Godward side. This was the side of worship. It appeared when He prayed on the mountain top or when lifting up His eyes to Heaven, He gave thanks before breaking the bread. This God-word side, or Worship, included much more than the singing of praises. It embraced the solemn offering of all man's powers, affections and possessions to God. After our Lord's ascension the church gladly took up this duty, "praising God daily in the temple," and in the Revelation we have many pictures of the worship of the church—in each case musical, reverent and congregational. During the first three centuries of persecution the church faithfully maintained this worship in the face of great perils and the worship was further beautified when held under the protection of Roman law. Then came the savage inroads of the barbarians from Northern Europe, breaking up the different forms of civilized life. This wild and lawless period cried out for a new type of community life which should be lofty,

PEACEFUL AND SECURE,

and which might form a vantage ground for the operations of the church. This was furnished by Monasticism, the great father of which was St. Benedict. Disgusted, but not disheartened by the religious life of the day he repaired to the forest and there lived a life of severe self discipline, prayer and holiness. This gradually attracted disciples to him and he became the head of the Benedictine order. In addition to the three ordinary monastic vows of chastity, obedience and poverty, he added prayer and work.

After speaking of the self-discipline and devotion of the monks, the speaker went on to narrate some of their works. They were the copyists, teachers and preachers of the Middle Ages, besides which they practised agriculture and dispensed charity and hospitality of which instances were given from the observations of the speaker during his travels abroad. Their usefulness in bygone years was evident by the present condition of Italy where the Government had lately suppressed the monasteries. A national need was felt for the systematic planting of trees and distribution of charity which had previously been done by the monks. Countless beggars had now only the unhappy tourist to appeal to.

of the different orders was then referred to and their vast numbers. Besides self-discipline and work a third part of the monastry life was devoted to the worship of God—the chief object before them. Accoedingly while the cells and other living rooms were plain in the extreme, one part of the monastery was enriched with every decoration which architecture, sculpture and painting could supply—that was the chapel. There the monks assembled for service seven times a day, and thus maintained an almost unceasing worship.

Lastly the speaker described the religious orders as they are found to-day. In the Church of England at the Reformation the monasteries were suppressed, and afterwards did not take root for some time. They had of late years been revived into different forms, corresponding to the needs of the age. There was the Cowley Brotherhood of Oxford, sending forth missionaries throughout the world, the University Settlements in London and many other communities of clergy existing for different purposes. Thousands of women were enrolled in different sisterhoods, following a similar life of self discipline and devotion. In these houses, amidst all the business and pleasure of the world—

The voice of praise is never silent,
Nor dies the power of prayer away.

Baby Eczema and Scald Head.

Infants and young children are peculiarly subject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. Dr. Chase made a special study of Eczema and disease of the skin, and we can confidently recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure all forms of Eczema. The first application soothes the irritation and gives the little sufferer rest.

TORONTO SMELTING COMPANY.

Annual Meeting Yesterday—Election of Officers—Prospects of the Company.

The annual meeting of the Toronto Smelting Company, Limited, was held at their office, Canada Life Building, Toronto, yesterday afternoon.

James Kendry, M.P., Peterborough, was elected president; J. B. Hay, Toronto, vice-president; W. A. Hungerford, Belleville, general manager; F. C. Flannery, secretary-treasurer.

The Board of Directors are: Mr. Alex. Elliott, Peterborough; J. H. Hamilton, Picton, and C. M. Parker, Toronto.

The company propose at once to establish smelting works at Madoc, if satisfactory arrangements can be made; if not, they will establish works at Belmont and Marmora. The company has already a test smelter in full operation at Millbridge, and the results have been so satisfactory that the company has decided to erect a large custom and testing smelter at one of the above places.

This company is now in possession of over 4000 acres of the choicest mineral lands in the Hastings district, which they intend to thoroughly develop. They also intend to pay special attention to arsenic and mineral asbestos wool. The mispickel ores of that region are especially noted for the production of arsenic. The world's supply at the present time being limited, and the company owning some of the best properties in that locality, there is no doubt of success. The company at the present time do not propose to place any stock on the market.

Bishops Dowling, Hamilton, and O'Connor, Peterboro, Mentioned.

Kingston, March 24.—To-day the celebration in memory of the late Archbishop Cleary will occur in St. Mary's Cathedral, to be attended by all the clergy of the diocese, and many of the Canadian archbishops and bishops.

It is stated that a meeting will be held afterwards by the prelates to consider a successor to the deceased prelate. There are various names mentioned. For instance, the names of Bishop Dowling of Hamilton and O'Connor of Peterboro are suggested for elevation to the archiepiscopate, while others mentioned for the place are Vicar-General Gauthier of Brockville and Vicar-General Kelly of the Archbishop's Palace, and late private secretary to the dead prelate. Kingstonians would prefer to see the last named elevated, as his experience of diocesan affairs is wide and his manner most courteous and affable.

The choice of three names is made and sent to Rome for selection.

MR. SPENCE'S LECTURE.

He Speaks in St. Luke's Church on "Solomon and His Temple"—A Careful and Complete Account.

Mr. David Spence was the lecturer at St. Luke's school house last night, and gave a most careful and complete account of Solomon's Temple. In introducing the lecturer, the Rector, who presided, said he was very glad that the fourth lecture on this Lenten course should be given by a member of his own congregation.

Before and after the lecture Miss Porter gave vocal solos, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. A. W. Spence.

Mr. Spence, in commencing his lecture referred to the fact that in olden times different peoples had different deities. Each nation had a national God, and to its honour they erected a magnificent temple. In like manner the Jews erected a temple to their God, Jehovah. Solomon's Temple was preceded by the tabernacle, a structure which was suited to the worship of the people during their wanderings, but when they were settled in the land it was not sufficiently large or imposing for such a people. David wished to build a temple but was not permitted to do so. He, however, collected vast stores for the work, which was undertaken by Solomon. The site of the temple was Mt. Moriah, which overlooked the valley of the Kedron. The top of the hill was levelled so as to form a quadrangle of, perhaps, twelve acres, and upon this the temple was erected. The precipitious rock below was faced with solid masonry, which gave the wall of the temple next the Kedron an appearance of stupendous height. The white limestone, of which the walls were built, was quarried from the temple site. Mr. Spence explained the way in which huge masses of stone, 50 feet in length, were quarried by means of wooden wedges. The surface of these stones was then smoothed so perfectly that when one stone was placed upon another it fitted so closely that the line of unity could not be seen. The woods used in the construction of the interior were red sandal wood and cedar, all overlaid with gold. Solomon employed 30,000 Israelites in the wood cutting and quarrying, but the skilled work was mostly done by Tyrian artificers.

By means of charts the lecturer proceeded to describe the various courts, gates, divisions and contents of the temple, and concluded an interesting address by some appropriate remarks concerning the spiritual significance of the temple.

The hymn "The Church's One Foundation," was then sung, and the benediction was pronounced by the chairman.

The last lecture of this course will be given by Rev. H. Symonds, next Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. The subject will be "The Life of Charles Kingsley."

To morrow night Mr. Symonds will lecture in the church on "St. Paul as a Man."

THE D. R. A.

Minister of Militia to ask for a Grant to Clear the Debt at Bisley—Lee-Enfield Rifle to be Distributed Among Rural Corps.

The Dominion Rifle Association met in annual session yesterday morning in Ottawa.

His Excellency the Governor-General was a welcome guest, sitting on the right hand of the chairman, Hon. Mr. Gibson, of Hamilton.

The President in his annual address dwelt upon the work which has been accomplished. They would, however, have to make another raid upon the Dominion treasury. Their expenses were continually on the increase with the growth of the association. He felt that the only way to meet success in rifle shooting in England is by several weeks practise in the old country. His Excellency was thanked for the interest shown in the Association.

—In reply, His Excellency expressed pleasure at being present for the fifth time at an annual meeting of the D. R. A., and promised his continued support. He had heard the Canadian quarters at Bisley referred to as the Canadian Palace. He was certain it would be a good advertisement for Canada.

Complimentary addresses were passed to the secretary of the association and to the Dominion government.

Hon. Dr. Borden in replying to the latter stated that he would ask from his colleagues an additional grant to liquidate the debt on the Bisley quarters. The Rockliffe range will be ready by July next. Some of the land has been already bought, other pieces expropriated, and the whole is now being laid out. He could not promise any increased grant to the association.

Major General Gascoigne in a short address promised to issue the new Lee-Enfield rifle to all rural corps having quarters to store them. It was also decided to invite the Australian riflemen visiting Bisley next year to return home by way of Canada.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THEN HE PROPOSED.

Unmoved, I saw her feather with the oar
And trim the scull when I was but a lad.
Unmoved, I followed her across the floor
On boxwood wheels when skating was the fad.

I helped her bend the sturdy bow of yew,
Yet did not fear the arrows of her eye.
I saw her mount the bike—in bloomers, too—
Yet did not offer for her sake to die.

Croquet, lawn tennis, billiards, came in season.
But never touched—serene my fancy dozed.
She shot, fished, ran, and still I kept my reason.
At last she took to golf—then I proposed.

AT CHICKAMAUGA.

"This is satanic!"

George Burton was studying for the ministry when the war broke out. He intended to return to the theological seminary if he lived to get back, so Captain Gates of the Third rifles did not regard his first lieutenant's exclamation as at all profane. Sniffing the sulphurous battle odor drifting up from Chickamauga creek, the captain responded:

"Well, old fellow, it certainly smells like it. How are you off for water?"

"Haven't even a canteen. Lost it in our countercharge. Look out, cap! Here she comes!" And the lieutenant pulled the captain closer to the earth on which both lay.

"Hug your mother, boys!" This from the men to the right and left. Behind a hastily constructed breastwork at the base of Snodgrass hill the ragged remnant of the Third rifles flattened themselves, face down, as a shell from Bragg whisked to the earth 50 yards outside and burst with a molten glare and a splintering roar. The dust of four weeks on the red, rough mountain roads had turned the uniforms to a rusty tan. The faces were so brown as to give the light eyed men a wild, uncanny look. In the past 48 hours ammunition had been served six times, and rations—not at all. Three times this Sabbath afternoon of Sept. 20, 1863, Longstreet's veterans, with their hats slouched over their faces like men facing a cutting wind, with the cries of maddened eagles, had rushed against the hill, and each time Thomas' remaining artillery roared defiance from the slopes, held by six shattered brigades of the Army of the Cumberland.

As each charge had been preceded by a fierce cannonading of the Union position, the increasing roar put the rifles on the alert.

"Let 'em come again, hang 'em!"

"Think we're recruits, eh?"

"We ain't to be druv!"

"Not much. When we're ready to leave, they won't be in no humor to follow."

"Wish they'd hurry up and have it over!"

There were other and more forceful expressions from the men peering between the logs through which protruded the muzzles of their rifles. Two young men, lying on their faces to the right of the lieutenant, varied the monotony of dodging shells with a pack of disreputably dirty cards. In lieu of money they used buttons cut from the coats of dead men in blue and dead men in gray. Each player had buttons of one kind, and as they were evenly matched in skill they forgot in their mimic contest the deadly struggle going on to the right and laughed as if in the barn at home.

"Don't go to sleep, boys! They'll be here soon!" The captain's warning was called out by the gradual cessation of the artillery fire over the river. Meanwhile the guns on Snodgrass hill were so silent as to lead some of the men to fear the ammunition was exhausted.

"Wait, boys, till the Johnnies show up, and you'll see Pap Thomas ain't the man to keep guns to the front unless he's got powder fodder to feed 'em," said a grimy sergeant beside the two card players, who were now blowing the dust from the hind sights of their rifles. After an anxious wait and a sigh of relief at the failure of the enemy to try the red experiment again, the captain sat up and said to his lieutenant:

"I think, Burton, the worst is over for to-day. Thank God, the sun will be down soon!"

"It looks red enough to have washed in the Chickamauga. Hello! What's up in the woods out there?" asked Burton.

"I see nothing unusual," said the captain.

Since the failure of the last charge on the center the enemy had been keeping up a close and persistent attack on the right. From this point came the incessant roar and ring of cannon and rifle, cutting through which yells and defiant cheers could be heard. Across the front cottony heaps of powder smoke rolled, growing luminous and crimsoned as if being blood dyed.

"Can't you see the black smoke blending with the white over there?" And the lieutenant pointed to the woods in front.

"Yes; but what of it?"

"You know what it means."

"Like all smoke, it means fire," laughed the captain.

"That's it. It means the woods are on fire. They are as dry as punk. Just think of it, cap!"

"I think we have in all our wounded. What matters it to the dead?"

"Nothing, cap; but the enemy! My God! There are at least 200 wounded men in gray along the edge of that timber! Look at that splintered oak about a hundred yards to the right."

"I see it, and I've noticed through my glass that there is a young officer lying wounded at the foot. He'll crawl in if the fire comes near him," said the captain as he scratched a match on his rusty sword scabbard and lit his pipe.

A few minutes and mourning wreaths of black smoke draped about the barked trees and drifted across the face of the setting sun, hurrying the night. Tongues of flames hissed out from the earth. Snakes of flames licked up the powder dry leaves and coiled up the shot riddled bleak jacks. To the right and left and back and forth the fire fell and rose and roared in red rage under the whip of the increasing wind. Now and then a shell hurled over from Bragg's center and burst before or on Thomas' hill.

If Lieutenant Burton had said, "This is hell!" he would have been nearer the truth than at first. Now many men said it, and all thought it.

"They ain't a-comin!"

"They got enough last time."

"Longstreet's found; he's out west now!"

"Well, his crowd are good fighters."

"Not a bit better'n Bragg's!" shouted a Missourian, who was known to have a contempt for the eastern men on both sides.

Meanwhile unmistakable cries for help and shrieks of agony came from the heart of the conflagration. A horse, with helpless hind legs, drew himself to the edge of the timber and with his fore legs pawing at the ground in front he looked appealingly at the line of heads above the breastworks.

"Shoot him, Dixon! Shoot him!" cried the captain. One of the young card players threw his rifle over the top log. He had often hit a postage stamp offhand at that distance. A flash, a crack, and the poor creature's head fell forward. But such methods could not be used on the men staggering out of the blazing jungle. Nearly all these were in gray. Helpless they lay in the woods, praying for night and the coming of friends, but their only hope now was to reach the lines of the enemy. Some hobbled out, using muskets as crutches; others, with worse shattered limbs, dragged themselves slowly along on back or face. A few, stung to momentary strength, ran and reeled to the works, shouting as each fell: "Don't fire! I surrender!" These were carried inside where they cried piteously for water. On that part of the line the fury of two days of unsurpassed struggle and carnage was forgotten for the time. Had the charging enemy appeared, as was expected shortly before, the Third rifles and the veterans to the right and left would have set their teeth and rejoiced in the death they wrought.

Familiarity with suffering intensifies the sympathies of the true soldier, and the gaunt, bronzed defenders of Snodgrass hill were of this class. The hate of years was burned out by these roaring, dancing flames, and, uncaring for the color of the uniform, an awful anxiety for the men in the furnace took its place. Nearly every man dropped outside the breastwork, and these the rifles, unheeding the still crashing trees, carried in. Lieutenant Burton was the most active in this work. He was about to pick up a young soldier with singed black hair and a splintered knee when the man cried out:

"Don't mind me, but for God's sake save the major!"

"The major!" repeated Burton.

"Yes; Major Shepard of Benning's brigade!"

"Where is he?"

"Over there, shot through the breast!" And the young Confederate pointed back to the oak.

"One thing at a time, my friend," said Burton as he tenderly lifted the man and carried him inside the breastworks.

It was touching to see how the stronger of the wounded held back to help and cheer the weaker. In this way men in gray appeared, helping the blue.

"Cap!"

"Well, Burton?" responded the captain, looking questionably at his lieutenant and mopping the while his brown, powder stained face with a grimy handkerchief, for though the previous night had been frosty this one promised to be hot and parched by the shimmering heat waves rolling up from the woods.

"I'm going to try it!" said Burton, his lips set and a resolute glint in his big gray eyes.

"Try it?"

"Yes, Gates."

Burton buttoned up his blouse, turned up the collar, pulled his black felt close about his ears, then unbuckled his sword and let it fall.

"But what are you going to try?" asked the puzzled captain.

"I'm going to carry that wounded reb in!"

"The one by the tree?"

"Yes."

"Hold up, George! The man must be dead by this time. It's hot as the bob of a furnace over there. Then the enemy's shells are falling short. They are killing their own men. I'm ready to help all we can, but you mustn't be reckless, old fellow. It isn't like you."

"If I don't try it, Gates, I'll never know another happy hour. Here goes!"

The captain reached out his hand to restrain his friend, but with the bound of a staghound Burton had cleared the breastworks. The men saw him dashing down the lurid slope, understood his purpose and cheered to give vent to their feelings rather than by way of encouragement. The two men who had been playing cards begged the captain to let them go to the lieutenant's help, but he refused. By this time all the rifles were on their feet. It was dark to the right and left, but the light of the torch trees flashed on their bronzed faces in a way that intensified the battle expression. Midway Burton came to a sudden halt. That he was not coming back beaten was evident. He tied a handkerchief over his nose and mouth and dashed on again.

The branches of the riddled tree under which the wounded Confederate lay had caught fire, and a rain of sparks was pouring down. How Burton felt or what he said to Major Shepard of Benning's brigade is not known. It is certain, however, that the occasion was not conducive to extended talk. We know from the fact that every faculty of the rescuer was centered in his merciful mission. Strong as an athlete and active as a gymnast, Burton soon had the man on his back and was facing the lines. Captain Gates waved his hat as his friend drew near, and the rifles leaped on the breastworks and cheered as if on a charge. Those of the Confederates who could do so straightened themselves up to look, and, forgetting their sufferings in Burton's splendid effort, they shouted:

"Three cheers for the Yank!"

Two-thirds of the distance was cleared, and the rifles began to breathe easier, when an ominous roar rolled from over the river. A devilish scream came down from the sky, whose black vault was pencilled by a curved streak of sputtering sparks that all understood.

"Here she comes!"

"She'll fall short!"

"Down in front, boys!"

"My God, Burton! Drop him and run for your life!" This last from the captain, who, with his hands trembling on the logs and an awful agony in his eyes, bent toward his friend. Down 15 feet in Burton's front the shell crashed. For fully two seconds it seemed that it would not explode, but still, like a little fire mountain, the crackling sparks shot up from the fuse.

The lieutenant stopped and seemed about to turn to the right, when there came a flash and a crash, and arrows, black or blazing, shot out in every direction. An instant and the wind had swept the smoke to the left, but the man in blue and the man in gray on his back had vanished.

"Where are they?" cried the captain.

"Out there to the left, sir!" And a man pointed to a heap near the shell crater.

Without an order the two card players leaped the breastwork. They were followed by two others, and these carried in the lieutenant and the man he had sought to rescue. The young Confederate's brain had been plowed through by a piece of shell, and, forever out of pain, he lay in the light of the nearing flames with a peaceful look on his fine face.

"Did I save him, cap?" asked Burton, when consciousness returned and a circle of tear stained faces was about him.—Providence Telegram.

WHY NOT BE STRONG.

Men, Women and Children Can Obtain Renewed Health and Strength by Using

Dr. Williams Pink Pills

The Merit of These Pills is Proved by the Fact That They Have Cured Hundreds of Cases After Doctors and Other Medicines Had Failed.

A CRIPPLE FOR LIFE.

So Doctors Said Concerning Richard B. Collins—He Spent Months in the Toronto Hospital Without Any Benefit.

From the Echo, Wiarton, Ont.

The Echo presents to its readers the following plain statement of fact, with the simple comment that a medicine that can perform so remarkable a cure is invaluable, and it is no wonder that the aggregate or its sales throughout the country is enormous.

I, Richard B. Collins, hereby make the following statement, which can be confirmed by any number of witnesses in this section of the country. I first began to complain about five years ago. I had been then working in a fish shanty, and was wet almost the whole time, summer and winter. I was then confined to my house for three months. This was my first attack, and on getting better I commenced work again, and continued at it until the next January, when I took a much worse attack. The doctors pronounced it rheumatism, and after treating me for that disease until about the first of May, they discovered that my trouble was disease of the hip joint, and advised me to go to an hospital. I went to Toronto and stayed in the hospital five weeks and then returned home. I, however, did not recover, and was compelled during the following summer to go back to the hospital, where I remained three months, getting worse all the time. I was told I could not be cured, and when I left was only able to walk by the aid of crutches. I then came home and was not there long before I was taken to my bed. I continued in this state until January following, when I was advised by several friends to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took their advice, and before I had finished the fifth box I began to improve, and by the time I had completed a dozen boxes I was able to walk without crutches, and have never used them since. I was able to do light work in a short time, and in January last (1897) I commenced working in the woods, and have no trouble from the hip unless overexerted. During the last three years I have spent $300.00 in doctors' bills and medicines, trying everything recommended, but without any good results! took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, to which I owe my restored condition, as the doctors gave up all hopes of ever seeing me out of bed alive and well. I may say that before I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills during my last attack, I put in many a night so bad that I never expected to be alive in the morning.

WEAK AND WASTING AWAY.

Miss Josephine Boucher, Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Que., says:—"For two years I was ill and apparently fading away. I lost in weight and my complexion was of a pale waxy color. My nights were a long insomnia, hunted by horrible dreams when I did get to sleep. My mother consulted a doctor who said my trouble was chlorosis—that is the blood was lacking in its essential elements, and he advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. His advice was followed and six weeks later I was fully restored to health."

THE AGONY OF SCIATICA.

Mr. Ronald McCormack, of St. George, P. E. I., an influential, well-to-do farmer says:—"About fifteen months ago I took a heavy cold and as a result sciatica settled in my hip and leg, and for three months I could do nothing. I suffered intense pain and could get no rest, and at times I was fairly doubled up with agony. After trying some other remedies without getting any benefit I decided to give Dr Williams' Pink Pills a trial I bought four boxes, and before they were all gone found they were doing me much good. I then got six boxes more and before they were all used the pain which had caused me such intense agony for months were all gone, and I was again enjoying the blessing of good health. I take much pleasure in endorsing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

IN A DECLINE.

Mrs. W. Goodwin, Argyle Sound, N. S., says:—"After the birth of my first child I was in poor health and unable to recover my strength. I had a severe pain in my left side and lung, which almost made it impossible for me to breathe. I had a bad cough day and night, and on awakening found myself very weak. My complexion was sallow, and my appetite entirely gone. All my friends believed me to be in a decline. Our family physician attended me for a long time but I got no better. Then a friend advised me to try Dr Williams' Pink Pills. Acting on this advice I bought a supply, and continued their use until my health was fully restored I am sincere in saying I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life."

AFTER EFFECTS OF LA GRIPPE.

Miss Langford, an estimable young lady, living near Camilla Ont, is another of those who has been brought from death's door to health by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To a reporter of the Orangeville Banner, Miss Langford told the following story:—"I had la grippe in the spring of 1894. I did not seem to get over the effects of the attack, and as the summer progressed became weak and listless. Any kind of work became a burden to me. After pumping a pail of water from the well, I would have to stand and hold my hands over my heart for a minute or so, it would flutter so violently. I could not go upstairs without difficulty, and towards the last would have to rest on the steps, and when I got to the top lie down until I could recover my breath. I became a mere skeleton, my cheeks were like wax and my lips colorless. I lost all appetite and my meals often went untasted. Medicine seemed to have no effect upon me. I was getting weaker all the time, and at last began to give up hope of recovery. My parents were of course in great distress, and I knew by the looks and actions of friends who called to see me, that they thought I was doomed to an early death Shortly after this an aunt of mine, Mrs. William Henderson, of Toronto, came to visit at our place. My condition troubled her very much and she insisted on my trying Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To please her I consented, but with little hope of any good result. The effect, however, was wonderful and a pleasing surprise to me. I soon began to feel more cheerful and seemed to feel stronger. Then my appetite began to improve and the color return to my cheeks and lips. From that hour I steadily gained strength, and was soon enjoying my former excellent health and I am sincere in expressing my belief that to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do I owe my recovery."

A Depressing Season.

Winter is the most trying season of the year, so far as health is concerned. Confinement indoors, and over-heated and impure air makes even ordinary strong people feel dull, languid, "out of sorts" and generally run down.

What you need is a tonic to aid nature in regaining lost energy. April is the month of all months when a tonic is of most service.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills

is the greatest of all tonic medicines. Through their use ailing, tired and depressed men, women and children, are made bright, active and strong.

BUT YOU MUST GET THE GENUINE.

Do not let any dealer persuade you to take something which he says is "just the same as" or "just as good as" Dr. Williams Pink Pills. All imitations are worthless—many of them dangerous to health. The genuine pills are put up in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark "Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People," printed with red ink on white paper. Inside the wrapper will be found Dr. Williams directions for use.

If your dealer does not keep Dr. Williams Pink Pills they will be sent by mail post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MUZZLED DUCKS.

Not Because They Might Bite, but to Silence Their Quacking.

A baggage man on the Santa Fe who runs into Kansas City from out in the western part of Kansas has lost lots of sleep. It is doubtful if he can ever catch up with it. He leaves Hutchinson at night and reaches Kansas City in the morning. Nearly every night he brings in his car two or three coops of live domestic ducks. During the night, when he has no baggage to deliver at small stations, it has been his habit and privilege to lie down on an improvised couch and doze. With the advent of the ducks the dozing stopped. The almost constant quacking of the ducks, who could not understand their strange environment, would not permit of sleep.

For many nights as he lay awake he planned relief. He thought of strangling the ducks or chloroforming them. But neither expedient seemed good. One night a bright idea came to him. After he had put it into execution the ducks were silent.

The next night he had two coops of unusually vociferous ducks. As soon as it came time for sleep he wrenched a slat from one of the coops, reached in and pulled out a duck. From his pocket he took a small rubber band, which he slipped over the duck's bill just back of the nostrils. The duck tried to quack, but the rubber band, while it stretched a little, would not permit the duck to open its bill far enough to use its tongue. Only a murmur came from it. One by one the ducks were muzzled, and the baggage man rested comfortably.

The commission men were surprised next morning when they received a lot of ducks with rubber bands around their bills, and when the bands were removed the shouts of protest from the ducks were deafening.—Kansas City Star.

"By Hook or Crook."

In old times the poor of a manor were permitted to obtain as fuel the dead wood from the surrounding woodland. The dead twigs and branches which were beyond their reach they were allowed to lop off with a hook or a crook. There is a document among the records of the town of Bodmin which gives the right to the burgesses of the town, under the concession of the prior of Bodmin, "to bear and carry away on their backs and in no other way the lop, crop, hoop, crook and bag wood in the prior's wood of Dunmeer."

Another part of this paper mentions this as "a right with hook and crook to lop, crop and carry away fuel, etc., in the same wood."

The date of this record is 1525.—New York World.

What He Thought.

"I know," said the candidate for the small office to the veteran, "that you wouldn't sell your vote." "No, suh, I wouldn't!" "That you can't be bribed?" "Now yo' talkin, suh!" "But suppose I should make you a present of $10? What would you think?" The voter looked thoughtful, then said, "Well, Marse Jim, jedgin by yo' pas' record, I'd either think yo'd done los' yo' min', or else yo's in de counterfeitin business!"—Atlanta Constitution.

MR. SPENCE'S LECTURE.

He Speaks in St. Luke's Church on "Solomon and His Temple"—A Careful and Complete Account.

Mr. David Spence was the lecturer at St. Luke's school house last night, and gave a most careful and complete account of Solomon's Temple. In introducing the lecturer, the Rector, who presided, said he was very glad that the fourth lecture on this Lenten course should be given by a member of his own congregation.

Before and after the lecture Miss Porter gave vocal solos, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. A. W. Spence.

Mr. Spence, in commencing his lecture referred to the fact that in olden times different peoples had different deities. Each nation had a nations; God, and to its honour they erected a magnificent temple. In like manner the Jews erected a temple to their God, Jehovah. Solomon's Temple was preceded by the tabernacle, a structure which was suited to the worship of the people during their wanderings, but when they were settled in the land it was not sufficiently large or imposing for such a people. David wished to build a temple but was not permitted to do so. He, however, collected vast stores for the work, which was undertaken by Solomon. The site of the temple was Mt. Moriah, which overlooked the valley of the Kedron. The top of the hill was levelled so as to form a quadrangle of, perhaps, twelve acres, and upon this the temple was erected. The precipitious rock below was faced with solid masonry, which gave the wall of the temple next the Kedron an appearance of stupendous height. The white limestone, of which the walls were built, was quarried from the temple site. Mr. Spence explained the way in which huge masses of stone, 50 feet in length, were quarried by means of wooden wedges. The surface of these stones was then smoothed so perfectly that when one stone was placed upon another it fitted so closely that the line of unity could not be seen. The woods used in the construction of the interior were red sandal wood and cedar, all overlaid with gold. Solomon employed 30,000 Israelites in the wood cutting and quarrying, but the skilled work was mostly done by Tyrian artificers.

By means of charts the lecturer proceeded to describe the various courts, gates, divisions and contents of the temple, and concluded an interesting address by some appropriate remarks concerning the spiritual significance of the temple.

The hymn "The Church's One Foundation," was then sung, and the benediction was pronounced by the chairman.

The last lecture of this course will be given by Rev. H. Symonds, next Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. The subject will be "The Life of Charles Kingsley."

To morrow night Mr. Symonds will lecture in the church on "St. Paul as a Man."

THE D. R. A.

Minister of Militia to ask for a Grant to Clear the Debt at Bisley—Lee-Enfield Rifle to be Distributed Among Rural Corps.

The Dominion Rifle Association met in annual session yesterday morning in Ottawa.

His Excellency the Governor-General was a welcome guest, sitting on the right hand of the chairman, Hon. Mr. Gibson, of Hamilton.

The President in his annual address dwelt upon the work which has been accomplished. They would, however, have to make another raid upon the Dominion treasury. Their expenses were continually on the increase with the growth of the association. He felt that the only way to meet success in rifle shooting in England is by several weeks practise in the old country. His Excellency was thanked for the interest shown in the Association.

—In reply, His Excellency expressed pleasure at being present for the fifth time at an annual meeting of the D. R. A., and promised his continued support. He had heard the Canadian quarters at Bisley referred to as the Canadian Palace. He was certain it would be a good advertisement for Canada.

Complimentary addresses were passed to the secretary of the association and to the Dominion government.

Hon. Dr. Borden in replying to the latter stated that he would ask from his colleagues an additional grant to liquidate the debt on the Bisley quarters. The Rockliffe range will be ready by July next. Some of the land has been already bought, other pieces expropriated, and the whole is now being laid out. He could not promise any increased grant to the association.

Major General Gascoigne in a short address promised to issue the new Lee-Enfield rifle to all reral corps having quarters to store them. It was also decided to invite the Australian riflemen visiting Bisley next year to return home by way of Canada.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes. Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills, cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

Omelet Pans.

A French cook never, it is said, washes the pan in which an omelet is made. It is wiped clean with pieces of paper, then rubbed dry with a cloth. In this way the omelets made in the pan are not so apt to burn. These artists in cooking lay great stress upon the quality and the care of their tools.

SHOT BECAUSE HE WAS DEAF.

J. M. Scribner Killed by William Pear, Whose Warning He Did Not Hear.

Brockville, Ont., March 23.—A terrible affair occurred about 12 miles from here last night, J. M. Scribner being shot and killed instantly by William Pear. It appears that Scribner, about 11 o'clock, tried to awaken the Pear family by kicking the front door of their residence.

Pear called and demanded that he should give his name, but Scribner, being deaf, did not hear. Pear then told him he would shoot if he did not say who he was. Getting no response, and thinking him a burglar, he fired, killing him instantly. Scribner and Pear were friends. No further particulars of the case can be learned here.

The Lawyers Don't Agree.

Toronto, March 23.—Mr. J. T. Johnston's appeal in his suit with the Consumers' Gas Co. was heard before the Privy Council at London yesterday, but the reports of the result received did not agree.

Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, who was counsel for the Gas Co., cabled his firm that the appeal had been dismissed without his even being called upon.

On the other hand, Mr. E. B. Byckman, Mr. Johnston's solicitor, received a cable from his solicitor in London stating that judgment had been reserved.

A TALE OF HARD TIMES.

Two soy young frogs from inland bogs,
Had spent the night in drinking;
As morning broke and they awoke,
While yet their eyes were blinking,
A farmer's pail came to the swale,
And caught them quick as winking.
Ere they could gather scattered senses,
Or breathe a prayer for past offences,
The granger grave—that gentleman mean—
Had dumped them in the milkman's can.
The can filled up, the cover down,
They soon are started off to town.
The luckless frogs begin to quake,
And loose up on cold milk shake.
They quickly find their breath will stop
Unless they swim upon the top
They swim for life, and kick and swim,
Until their weary eyes grow dim;
Their muscles ache, their breath grows short,
And, gasping, speaks one weary sport:
"Say, dear old bay, its pretty tough
To die so young, but I've enough
Of kicks for life. No more I'll try it,
I was not raised on a milk diet."
"Tut, tut, my lad" the other cries,
"A frog's not dead until he dies.
Let's keep on kicking, that's my plan—
We may yet see outside this can."
"No use, no use," faint heart replied,
Turned up his toes and gently died.
The braver frog, undaunted still,
Kept kicking with a right good will.
Until, with joy too great to utter,
He found he'd churned a lump of butter.
And climbing on the lump of grease,
He floated round with greatest ease.

MORAL.

When times are hard—no trade in town—
Don't get discouraged and go down,
But struggle still—no murmur utter—
A few more kicks may bring the butter.

PETERBOROUGH PEOPLE

Have Nothing But Words of Praise for Doan's Kidney Pills.

They're Curing Backache and all Kidney Disease, Right Here at Home.

Any one who wants proof of the efficacy of Doan's Kidney Pills does not need to travel far to get it. Plenty of Peterboro' people have been cured of their pains and aches by these conquerors of kidney ills. One of these is Mrs. Sarah Henderson, of 392 McDonnel St.

For a number of years she suffered greatly from pain in the back and terrible headaches. At times she got quite dizzy and a mist would come before her eyes, so that she could scarcely see. Her hands and arms would swell and puff, and she was in a condition of great misery, unable to work and almost in despair.

"I doctored a great deal," said Mrs. Henderson, "and took many medicines, but everything I tried failed.

Mr. David McIlmoyle, of South Monaghan, was in the village on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Brodie, of Portland, Oregon, passed through the village on Monday to visit friends in Harvey.

Mr. John Calder, of Essex, spent a few days in the village last week visiting his father, Mr. Alex. Calder.

Miss Denne, of Peterborough, is visiting friends in the village.

Dr. Johnson, V.S., is in Cobourg this week on business.

Dr. J. R. Fraser, who has been in Chicago for six weeks for the benefit of his health, returned home last week, and has again resumed his practice.

Mr. George Roseborough, of Peterborough, was in the village on Tuesday.

The bridge has been raised up six and a half feet, and the stone cutters are now at work cutting and laying the stone on the piers. The dam has been replanked and all the traffic goes over it until the bridge is placed in proper position.

A special meeting of Clementi Lodge, A. F. & A. M., No. 313, was held on Wednesday evening last, at which quite a number of members were present. The occasion was the annual visit of the D.D.G.M. of Ontario District, Bro. Fitzgerald, of Fenelon Falls. The distinguished visitor was accompanied by a number of Peterborough brethren, and also a number of brethren of other lodges. The D. D. G. M. complimented the lodge on the excellency of their work, more particularly the lodge secretary, whom he spoke of as one of the best in the district. After the business of the evening was over, refreshments were served.

On Wednesday the well-appointed millinery show rooms of R. Graham & Son swarmed with shoppers to inspect and buy the creations in feminine head gear imported from Paris and New York, and admire the artistic efforts of Miss Symington, head milliner, and her assistants. A noticeable feature in shapes is that the bonnets are larger and the hats smaller than in former years. The straws are all in fancy satin braid of every colour. The fashionable shade is trimming is nasturtium or burnt orange, as it is called, turquoise, cornflower blue, geranium pink, in all its shades, violets and fancy purples, and pearly gray.

A great deal of Chiffon in plain and pleated effects, corded silks shredded wheat, handsome ribbons, flowers and feathers are used in trimming, and as ornaments beautiful steel jet and rhinestone buckles are used. The fashionable flowers are roses, lilies of the valley, clover pansies, lilacs and French poppies in different colours. The trimmed hats pleased all who inspected the large assortment. Some beautiful children's hats were displayed in straw, silk and muslin. They are also showing a line of beautifully trimmed capes, also ladies' print wrappers and blouses in the newest effects.

Downstairs is shown a fine assortment of prints, dress goods in all the newest shades, blouse silks, laces, belts gents' furnishings, ties, shirts, collars, cuffs, felt hats, caps, boots and shoes and a fine assortment of groceries, etc. They are this year handling a line of high grade bicycles at the price of medium grade wheels.

Old Age and Spring.

Paine's Celery Compound Invigorates and Strengthens Those Advanced in Years.

If You Feel Old, the Great Medicine Will Give the Vigour and Health of Youth.

Paine's Celery Compound Has Made More Old People Happy Than All Other Combined Remedies.

Every one, as spring approaches, should take time to purify the blood, strengthen the nerves and regulate the digestive organs.

This is the time when old people need a tonic and strength-giver—something that will restore them to that condition of health that conduces to make old age happy, cheerful and bright.

Old people should carry home with them to-day—not by-and by—a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound. It will certainly banish the rheumatism and neuralgia that make life unbearable; it will drive out of the system all impurities and make the life stream flow fresh and pure; it will banish weakness and all languid feelings and impart the vigour and activity of full manhood and womanhood.

Paine's Celery Compound has given new new life and long years to thousands of old people in the past. It is the only medicine that will fully meet the needs and expectations of all in declining years.

An old gentleman, Mr. J. Holdsworth, 104 Claremont St., Toronto, says:

"I was taken sick last summer, and was in bed for five weeks or more, and my physician was attending me all the time. My case was pronounced to be weakness of the heart and old age, for I am now seventy-eight years old.

"I kept getting worse until my recovery was considered hopeless. One of my relatives recommended me to use Paine's Celery Compound, which I did with good results. After the first dose I felt relieved, and after a few days I was able to leave my bed and walk around. I used four bottles, and found your medicine to be a most excellent remedy, as I am now quite well. I hope other sufferers will receive as much benefit as I received.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe, sure and reliable worm expeller. Acts equally well on children or adults. Be sure you get Low's.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Patrick Young, sr., has recovered from his past illness, and is able to be around again.

Miss Josie Phelan, of Lakefield, is visiting friends here.

There is some talk of the electric cars running up here from Peterborough, and we sincerely hope it will not end in talk.

The water is very high around the Point at present. We hope more stop logs will be taken out in Lakefield, or our friends down there will have to come up some day and fish us out.

The ice is out of the river between here and Lakefield, and it is beginning to disappear in Clear Lake also.

Mr. Ed. Lynch, of Orillia, visited the Point Sunday.

Mr. W. J. Doughty, formerly of Warsaw, now of Peterborough, visited the Point this week and did a rushing business in selling three rigs. Go ahead, John, we wish you success.

Quite a number of families are moving from the back country this spring, en route to Manitoba, Minnesota and other points.

Mr Walter Young commenced ploughing here Monday, 21st inst. It is a number of years since farmers have been able to plough so early in the season.

The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts man's capacity for enjoyment. If his body is all out of order and run-down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick, but doesn't feel just right," he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of a way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his capacity for enjoyment be perfect. If this condition doesn't exist, something ought to be done. That means nine cases in ten the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the body. It makes the appetite good, digestion and nutrition perfect and supplies rich, red blood to all the tissues, building up solid, healthful flesh.

Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

HAULTAIN.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stone and family, and Mr. Willard Stone have gone to Deloraine, Manitoba. They will be missed here.

Some of the farmers are making maple syrup and report several good runs.

Our missionary collectors, Miss Amy Hales and Miss Jessie Reid, called for the annual contributions this week.

Mr. Wm. Armstrong left for Chicago March 19th.

From present appearance the ice will be out of the lake early this spring.

Messrs. Israel and Allan Church sold a large drive of logs to Mr. A. McDonald last week.

Here's a Little Nut to Crack.

Just a grain of corn! The principles upon which Putman's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It removes the corn layer by layer, without any pain whatever. I never fails either. Try it.

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs John Quigly, 30 Sheriff Street, St. John N. B. says:—"Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous, and run down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Price Tea store, 328 George street. After critically examining the tea she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another gentleman says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; but, they do tell the people when buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and our own raising of Pickled, Smoked Salted Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and as prices to suit all. Come to the best, get the best, and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 328 George Street.

KINGSTON'S PRIMATE

Succumbs to an Illness of Three Months' Duration.

A BRILLIANT SCHOLAR'S CAREER.

Archbishop Cleary, Who Has Just Passed Away, Came to Canada From Ireland in 1880, and Was Made Archbishop of Kingston Ten Years Later—Funeral on Tuesday.

Kingston, Feb. 25.—After three months' illness His Grace Archbishop Cleary died shortly afternoon yesterday. On February 13 Dr. Ryan succeeded in getting the aged prelate to take a drive, and that was his last appearance in the open air. A day or two later he had to take to his bed, and grew weaker from day to day, being able to take none but liquid nourishment. On Monday he became subject to nausea, and the constant reaching greatly enfeebled him. Tuesday afternoon he grew faint and soon after passed into a semi-conscious state. He was aware on Monday that the change was for the worse, and declined medicine. He said he did not want to torture himself in view of the approaching dissolution. Mgr. Farrelly, Vicar-Generals Gauthier and Kelly, with nurses, were at his side at the last. He died peacefully.

James Vincent Cleary, D.D., was born on Sept. 18, 1828, in Dungarvan, a seaport town in the County of Waterford, Ireland. He was a son of Thomas Cleary and Margaret O'Brien, both natives of

THE LATE ARCHBISHIP CLEARY.

Dungarvan. James Vincent Cleary received his elementary education in a select private school of his native town. The English course embraced Grecian, Roman and English history, which were extensively and accurately taught, also mathematics and literary composition. The Latin and Greek classes, prose and verse, were studied more diligently in that and similar private schools in Ireland in those days than in many colleges of high repute at the present time.

At fifteen years of age, having completed the English and classical curriculum of studies in the Dungarvan school, he was sent by his parents to Rome for his ecclesiastical education. Pope Gregory XVI. then wore the tiara; and Dr. Cullen, subsequently Cardinal Archbishop of Dublin, was rector of the Irish College in Rome, this being an exclusively ecclesiastical seminary, in which every Catholic Bishop in Ireland had the right of placing a certain number of pupils. The Bishop of Waterford, to whom James Vincent Cleary was subjected, recalled the latter from Rome, and placed him in the Royal College of Maynooth. Here he passed five years in the pursuit of ecclesiastical sciences. Philosophy, history, dogmatic and moral theology, scriptural exegesis and canon laws constituted the curriculum. He won the highest prizes at the college in each department of study. His course in Maynooth having been completed in five years, he received the order of deaconship, which bound him irrevocably to the ecclesiastical state, and he returned home to Dungarvan in June, 1851, being still too young to be admitted to the priesthood. In the following September, the day after he had completed his twenty-third year, which is the prescribed age, he was ordained priest in his native town, at the hands of the Bishop of Waterford, and immediately proceeded to Spain, where he entered the famous University of Salamanca.

In 1854 he was summoned home by his bishop to occupy the chair of dogmatic theology and scriptural exegesis in St. John College, Waterford. Soon his health gave way under the strain of excessive labor, and for some years he was compelled to relax his studies. In 1868, after three days public examination, the degree of D.D. was conferred upon him. Ten years after this Dr. Cleary was appointed to the office of president of the Waterford College, and also filled the post of doctrinal expositor in the Cathedral of Waterford. In 1876 he was promoted to the living of Dungarvan, his native parish. It was then that Dr. Cleary first took any part in politics. He deemed it part of his duties to direct and control his parishioners in the discharge of what he propounded as a high conscientious obligation, the honest exercise of the suffrage. His teaching on the grave criminality of giving or accepting bribes in exchange for suffrage attracted attention all over Ireland.

In September, 1880, Dr. Cleary received the appointment as Bishop of Kingston, Ont. He did not want to leave Ireland, and communicated with the Pope. The appointment, however, was not changed, and on Nov. 21, 1880, he was consecrated Bishop of Kingston by Cardinal Simeoni in the chapel of the Propaganda, and on July 28, 1889, was created Archbishop. Upon arriving in Kingston, Archbishop Cleary was given a warm reception. He has labored faithfully, and has done much in the way of organizing missions and keeping the church to the front. He arranged it so that all the priests now live in their parish. By his people and priests Archbishop Cleary was held in affection.

Archbishop Cleary held aloof from politics except when he considered that Roman Catholic education and Separate schools were affected. Then he spoke and wrote with great freedom and force. "He dealt," he said, "not with politics, but with irreligious politicians." About the election time for the Provincial Legislature in 1890, he engaged in public controversy with the hon. leader of the Opposition (now Sir William Meredith) on this subject. His letters were read with lively interest by all classes of citizens, and, referring to them the late Sir Daniel Wilson, President and Professor of English literature in Toronto University, once said to a large assembly, "That for purity of style they are the best specimens of controversial literature given to Canadians in later times." In social life Archbishop Cleary dealt with Conservatives and Reformers as a friend of both, and in matters of purely benevolent or civil character, took a place frequently among the men of action in Kingston, and has delivered some public addresses that have commanded reverent attention from good men of all creeds.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday forenoon next.

GRAND TRUNK DECIDES.

It Will Not Cut Rates in Retaliation, But Will Open a New Line to Manitoba —The Details.

Montreal, Feb. 25.—To-day the Grand Trunk will announce that they will not cut rates, but will open a new line to Manitoba. Free colonist sleepers will be run from Portland, Montreal and Toronto to Winnipeg. Special trains will be run for settlers who may wish to accompany their live stock. The Northern Pacific extends from St. Paul to Winnipeg and other principal places in Manitoba. By an arrangement with the Great Trunk between Chicago and St. Paul the distance of about 400 miles has been bridged and the Grand Trunk system in the east joined with the Northern Pacific system in the West, and active competition at once inaugurated with the Canadian Pacific.

It is claimed this will hurt the Canadian Pacific where it will feel it most, and that new developments will soon follow, aimed to increase the Grand Trunk's earnings from traffic heretofore almost monopolized by the Canadian Pacific.

L. C. R. Extension to Montreal.

Mr. A. H. Harris of the Intercolonial has written the following to the Board of Trade: "The Intercolonial division of the Canadian Government railway has been extended to Montreal, and will be open for traffic on Tuesday, March 1 next. Close connections will be made with the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. express trains to and from all points in the Lower Provinces."

New Zealand Out of It.

London, Feb. 25.—The Daily Mail announces to-day that "New Zealand has deserted the Imperial Institute."

The Imperial Institute of the United Kingdom, the colonies and India, was founded in 1887 as a record of Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee. It has from the first been regarded by the Imperial Government as furnishing one of the strongest bonds between the Mother Country and the colonies, especially the Australian.

THE TRIAL OF ZOLA

Discussed in the French Chamber of Deputies.

MOTION OF CONFIDENCE PASSED

The Radicals and Socialists, However, Protest Against the Attitude of the Generals and Wish a Declaration of the Supremacy of the Civil Over the Military Power—Zola Will Appeal.

Paris, Feb. 25.—The Chamber of Deputies voted confidence in the Government by 416 ayes to 41 nays.

The Chamber of Deputies was thronged yesterday, and it was decided to request the Premier, M. Meline, to discuss immediately the interpellations of M.M. Hubbard and Gautier relative to the conviction and sentence of M. Zola yesterday. M. Hubbard, Radical, asked whether General Pellieux and Boisdeffre had intervened at the trial by authorization or order of the Minister of War. Continuing, the deputy spoke, amid incessant interruptions, on the danger of a religious war and concluded with inviting the Government to end the tumult and rioting in the streets. M. Viviani declared that the Socialists, although they might be divided relative to the Dreyfus case, were in entire accord in regard to the prerogative of civil over military power. The speaker then referred to the "coalition of the chiefs of the army with the clergy," and expressed the belief that liberty was menaced. Therefore he asked the Chamber to protest against the attitude of the generals.

M. Meline's Impassioned Speech.

M. Meline replied: "Popular democratic justice has given a verdict after a military court, and the country will accept it. General Billot (the Minister for War) gave no orders to the generals summoned to testify before the tribunal of the country. Our General had been accused on account of his utterances. Undoubtedly he spoke a word too much, but you must remember the frightful charge thrown in his face." Continuing, M. Meline said that the charges made against the army were unjust, and he asserted that there was not a single officer who had been guilty of plotting against the country, even in his dreams, adding: "Our officers are haunted by other dreams. (Cheers.) If, after yesterday's replies," the Premier further remarked, "the opposition continues we shall know that the matter has been made a party question. Enough injury has already been done to the nation. The life of the nation has been arrested. A portion of the foreign press has gathered all the ill we have been saying among ourselves. It will always be punishable for those who speak ill of France to receive foreign applause. Every day there are cases of espionage abroad. Did the French press get excited about them as the foreign press did about Dreyfus? No. There is a moral to be drawn therefrom, that the present agitation must be ended. (Loud cheers.) Must cease in the interest of the army, in the interest of public tranquility, in the interest of our external safety, and in the interest even of those who embarked so foolishly and audaciously in this campaign which might take us back to the age of intolerance."

A Witness Dismissed.

The Government has dismissed M. Le Blois, one of the witnesses for M. Zola, from the position of Deputy Mayor of the Seventh Arrondissement of Paris.

NEW TRIAL FOR ZOLA.

His Counsel Has Lodged Notice of Appeal Against the Sentence Imposed.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Maetre Laborie, counsel for M. Emile Zola, yesterday lodged a notice of appeal on behalf of M. Zola, from the sentence imposed upon him yesterday of one year's imprisonment and a fine of 3,000 francs. To-day a similar notice will be filed in the case of M. Perrieux, nominal director of the Aurore, in which the alleged libel for which Zola was indicted appeared.

Interviews With Zola.

London, Feb. 25.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News who interviewed M. Zola yesterday says:

"He appeared fatigued, but was quite frank, natural and unconcerned. He did not say a word of regret or bitterness in his conversation, and he expressed great pleasure in knowing that foreign nations almost universally sympathized with him."

Mr. David Christie Murray, who interviewed M. Laborie on behalf of the Daily News, yesterday, says:

"M. Laborie has little hope of a revision of the sentence and no hope whatever of its reversal. M. Zola, however, will be even better treated than first-class misdemeanants in England. He will have a suite of rooms, access to books and newspapers, many personal comforts and the privilege of receiving visits from his wife and friends."

Mr. Murray also interviewed M. Zola. The latter said he did not grieve for himself, but was cut to the heart by the condition of his country that could sanction such a verdict. He declared that he would not abandon the crusade, but said sadly: "Where can we make the next appeal? Our lack of means is obvious. France believes her honor assailed, and therefore she is reluctant to be influenced even by foreign opinion. She would rather resent the attempt to impose foreign judgement upon her own free will. For the present patience is the only wisdom."

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A large number of farmers visited the Peterborough market with their products Saturday, securing good prices.

Mr. W. H. Carry, Merchant, Omemee, has purchased the Faulkner farm in Emily, of 100 acres, for about $3,000.

The funeral of the late Patterson Boyd, living near Mount Pleasant was largely attended by the people of the district. He was a Methodist in religion, the services at the grave being conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilgour.

John Austin, manufacturer and timber merchants, and Liberal candidate for East Victoria, is sure of splendid support from the stalwart sons of Emily. He is sure of a sweeping vote in the north townships.

Mr. Spellman is one of the managers of hotels that should receive a license without objection, as this house has no such record for order and good regulations in the history of the village, and is adding our village materially.

Major Evans is taking his final course in artillery and infantry at Stanley Barracks, and will retire out on the 1st of April one of the best qualified staff officers in the district.

U. S. UNWILLING TO GRANT

Lightering Privileges to Canada in the Case of the Stikine River—Mr. Edward Farrer at Washington Negotiating.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The State Department has informally expressed to the officials of the Treasury Department having the matter in charge that the so-called lightering privileges cannot be claimed by Canada in the Yukon region as one of her rights under treaty arrangements with the United States.

Accordingly the Treasury officials are proceeding in full sympathy with the members of the Senate, who are trying to secure legislation declaring that the lightering privileges shall be withheld from Canada in the case of the Stikine River. The question is under active consideration by the Treasury Department, and there is little chance that the outcome will be favorable to Canada.

The ostensible reason for withholding the privilege is that the Canadian Government made a contract with the promoters of the proposed Stikine Railroad which is unfavorable to this country. The State Department believes firmly that the bonding privilege, which would, if extended, allow British and other vessels to proceed to the still waters of the Stikine, and there transfer their cargoes to river boats, can be withheld at the discretion of this Government, and that it is not a privilege which Canada is entitled to under treaty rights.

Nevertheless, it is evident that the Department does not expect to maintain this point without some diplomatic protests on the part of Canada.

Edward Farrer of Toronto is here in consultation with Senator Hansborough and several other members of the Public Lands Committee, in regard to bonding privileges at Wrangel, which the Alaska bill refuses unless the Dominion Government rescind the monopoly given to the Yukon Railway. On Tuesday Mr. Farrer addressed the committee and made a very plausible case.

The Book of Job.

A story told of Carlyle in an English review forcibly recalls the days when in England religious services were long enough to test the zeal of the worshipers.

According to the story Carlyle had been asked to take the reading at family prayers during a short visit paid to his friend, the provost of Kirkcaldy. The Bible chanced to open at the first chapter of the book of Job, and Carlyle immediately became absorbed in his subject and read on and on to the end of the last chapter, when, closing the volume, he remarked:

"That is a marvelous, lifelike drama, only to be appreciated when read right through."

It is fair to infer that it was appreciated for once. Any one who has taken a long, solitary afternoon and attempted to give the book of Job an opportunity to be appreciated by reading it honestly through at one sitting can realize the consternation of the provost. Such a one will not be likely to wonder, with Carlyle, why he was not asked again to assist at family prayers in that household.

Interesting Relics.

A couple of interesting relics are in the possession of Albert Turner of 151 York street. One of them, and that which Mr. Turner prizes probably as much as anything he owns, is a brick from the old house that stood on Water street, New Castle, Del., from 1687 until torn down in 1894, and which was the home of the Dutch governors of the three lower counties for 100 or more years. The bricks of which the old house was constructed were brought over from Holland and, like all bricks of that time, were yellow in color. The relic Mr. Turner has, and which, by the way, is one of very few in existence, is in a good state of preservation, and, barring its slightly crumbled edges, shows but few signs of its two centuries and more. The other relic is a quaint old Revolutionary sword, carried and used with deadly effect by Captain Cunda, Mrs. Turner's great-grandfather, at the famous battle of Bemis Heights.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE HATED SPANIARD

Must Be Driven Out of Cuba if Ohio Can Do It.

WAR BETWEEN SPAIN AND U. S.

Has Not Been Declared, But, if Some Methods in Both Countries Get Their Way the Fighting Will Not Long Be Delayed.

A Warning From a Wise Man.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 25.—Senator Fick (Democrat) yesterday introduced a resolution in the Senate setting forth that the preponderance of evidence shows that the battleship Maine was blown up by Spaniards, and expressing to the Ohio Representatives and United States Senator and President McKinley that the sense of Ohio people is that the time for interference on behalf of Cuba has come. The resolution seeks to pledge the Administration unqualified support, with men and money, to accomplish the desired ends, be the consequences what they may, and if need be that this nation be drenched with blood and her treasury poured out that the hated Spaniards may be driven from Cuban soil.

The resolution was made a special order for next Tuesday.

Axline Is for War.

Cleveland, Feb. 25.—In a speech delivered last night before the Western Reserve Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, H. A. Axline, Adjutant-General of Ohio, who was Adjutant-General of the State when McKinley was Governor, declared that if he could have his way he would level Morro Castle to the ground and erect on its ruins the American flag as a monument to the sailors of the Maine.

A MILD BULLETIN.

President McKinley Says if the Emergency Arises He Will Act in a Manner to Win Loyal Approval.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The following official bulletin was sent out from the White House yesterday: "Late reports from Havana have not changed in any degree the views of the high officials of the Government as to the probably cause of the disaster to the Maine. It can be stated on the highest authority that absolutely nothing of a disquieting nature has been received at the White House, nor is important news of any character expected until the court of enquiry shall have completed its investigation and submitted its report."

What the President Said.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 25.—General William H. Powell of Belleville, who was in command of the regiment in which President McKinley served during the civil war, and who was recently appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the Southern Illinois district, returned from Washington yesterday. The General, who is a personal friend of President McKinley, said that while at the capital he discussed the Maine incident and its possible results with the Chief Executive.

"The President stated to me," said the General, "that he was only waiting for a complete report of the Naval Board of Enquiry, and that should it report that our sailors had met their death through Spanish treachery, he was prepared to act at once, and in a manner which would meet the approval of every loyal American citizen."

General Powell said preparations for war were being pushed with the utmost vigor.

Norfolk, Feb. 25.—The monitor Terror left Norfolk at 10.15 a.m. yesterday on her way to sea under sealed orders. Her departure created considerable excitement, and thousands witnessed it.

Mr. Boutelle Talks Sense.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 25.—Representative Boutelle, Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, referring to the rumors of treachery in connection with the Maine disaster, said yesterday:

"I feel that any man, who, by spoken or written utterance, adds a spark to inflame public sentiment at this juncture, is as guilty as the man who would touch a match to the powder magazine of a vessel. This is a time for the calmest judgment, instead of unguarded talk, wholly without basis of established fact, of a war which would entail the loss of thousands of our people."

Torpedo Boat Sent Out.

Elizabeth, N.J., Feb. 25.—The submarine torpedo boat Holland started shortly after noon yesterday on her initial trial trip. She was in tow of the tug boat Triple, and was taken in the direction of Perth Amboy. The ultimate destination of the torpedo boat was supposed to be Sandy Hook, where it was said the trial trip would take place. The Erie is said to have supplies and also torpedoes on board for the use of the Holland. It is expected the latter will be away from Nixon's shipyards for some days. The Holland boat is being closely watched by a police launch, containing eight officers sent to Elizabethport by Chief of Police McCullough.

SPAIN IS NOT IDLE.

Arranging to Send a Squadron to Cuba—Admiral Villamil and the Queen.

New York, Feb. 25.—A despatch to the World from Madrid says: The Queen invited to lunch with the royal family Captain Villamil, the commander of the Spanish squadron about to start for Cuba. He had called at the palace to take leave of the regent.

After lunch the Queen talked a long time with Villamil, enquiring into all the details of the contemplated cruise. He left last night for Cadiz, where he will spend three days to complete the preparations for departure.

The squadron will be composed of three torpedo destroyers—the Pluton, the Terror and the Furor—and the torpedo vessels Rayo, Alcor and Ozor. These crafts will be accompanied by the steamer City of Cadiz, conveying coal and provisions. The vessels will stop at the Canary Islands and also at Porto Rico before reaching Cuba. It is officially announced that there is no hurry for their joining the cruisers Oquendo and Vizcaya at Havana.

Hypocritical Yankee Policy.

Madrid, Feb. 25.—The United States Minister, General Stewart L. Woodford, gave a banquet yesterday in honor of the new Spanish Minister to Washington, Senor Polo y Bernabo.

Much political importance was attached here to the incident, and the banquet, "coupled with the peaceful utterances of President McKinley," according to a semi-official report, have been "optimistically utilized by the Ministerial press," but the Imparcial yesterday takes the Spanish Government to task for its apathy, "contrasted with the patriotic feeling of the country," and warns the nation against the "hypocritical Yankee policy, which really aims at the independence of Cuba."

Continuing, the Imparcial remarks: "President McKinley may make and reiterate protestations of friendship and pacific intentions, but his actions contradict his words.

Must Prepare for War.

"We must prepare for war. There is no time to acquire warships, but we should fit out immediately what we have, sending the Pelayo, Colon, Carlos V. and Maria Teresa to follow the Almirante, Oquendo and Vizcaya to Cuban waters, and the rest of the fleet to guard the peninsula. Other policy than preparedness is only to play the American's game, which is to exhaust our resources and gain the independence of Cuba without risking anything. How long does the Government intend to favor the American plans? How long will the agonizing nation tolerate the apathy of the Government?"

Cuban Independence Imminent.

This language, from a semi-official organ, is much commented upon. The Heraldo frankly declares that Cuban independence is imminent.

Went Through Without a Word.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The increase of artillery force of the country by two regiments, as provided for in the Senate bill, was agreed on by a sub-committee of the House Military Affairs Committee yesterday and will be reported to the full committee at the regular meeting to-day without the change of a word.

Dr. Evans and the Emperor Frederick.

Dr. Evans was more than a friend of the late Emperor Frederick and his wife. But he was annoyed at the confidence they placed in Sir Morell Mackenzie, about whose treatment he had strong views. Evans' opinion greatly influenced the opinion of the old emperor and empress, of Bismarck and of the Berlin physicians about the throat doctor from London. Evans was originally a Quaker. The theatrical and society tastes of Sir Morell Mackenzie were repugnant to him. His feeling about them made him scrutinize keenly the man and his treatment. But the crown princess had a strong bias and followed it. Dr. Evans was given impressions of all the photos taken of Frederick during his illness. The later ones, which were signed by him, were impressively sad. The signature was bold, free, characteristic and written sparingly in gold ink across the lower part of the image. Above it were a few friendly words. In the photos taken at San Remo martyrdom was stamped on the face. The crown prince then could not speak. He generally wrote on a slate.

Dr. Evans asked him to write on black cards or tablets the size of a slate when he had occasion to communicate with him. "Why?" asked the prince. "I want to have them as a precious relic for my wife." The request was complied with. Very seldom, indeed, did the handwriting betray weakness, but it became sharp and attenuated.—London Truth.

You need it to bear the daily burdens of life. If your back's weak—Doan's Kidney Pills will strengthen it. If it pains and aches—Doan's Kidney Pills will cure it. No use to experiment in taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured hundreds of weak, aching backs long before other kidney pills were dreamed of.

Mr. James Row, Belleville, Ont., suffered for nine years with terrible pain in the back, rheumatic pains, and pains in the bladder. He spent $300 doctoring, but got little relief. Doan's Kidney Pills have completely cured him, banished the back pains, and all the other pains and aches.

Mr. Wm. Ryan, 60 Cornwallis Street, Halifax N.S., said he had very severe pain in the back. If he stooped over it was hard to straighten up. Since taking Doan's Kidney Pills the pain in his back has disappeared, and his general health has greatly improved.

No remedy like Doan's Kidney Pills for Backache and Kidney trouble, so be sure you get DOAN'S.

GROWING!

Of course we are growing, but we'll never get too big for our business. Why would'nt we grow? GOUGH BROS'. CONQUESTS have, from the start, been a series of successes along the line of the Best Clothing, levelling high prices and giving the people the best value for their money in Clothing, Hats, Boots, Shoes and Furnishings. And as the People have grown to know this, our Sales have kept on increasing and our business expanding. It's a case of

Two for One.

It's a case of getting TWO Dollars' worth for ONE in buying what you require amongst the many stocks that this big concern captures. For instance—

LOOK AT OUR SUCCESSES!

THE OAK HALL CONQUEST.—We are entering the Fourth week of this Sensational Sale. The phenomena price at which the Sanford Company surrendered this stock to Gough Bros. enable us to give the people values that continue to bring crowds to this sale. As we have only a limited time to clear this stock, the prices must continue to suit buyers—not us—until not a vestige is left.

THE ARMY AND NAVY CONQUEST—This lucky purchase is the cream of the mammoth stock of the "Army and Navy" Clothing House of Toronto, which was forced into liquidation, and at the sale in Toronto last week was knocked down to Gough Bros for 51 Cents on the Dollar. Bargain lovers will be glad to know that this great snap has been placed on Sale at our Big Store on George street, where the Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes are also sold.

THE JUBILEE CLOTHING CONQUEST—Another of our recent winnings, amounting to $21,000 secured at 55 cents on the Dollar. In this case, as in the others, the figure was less than the cost of manufacture. The pinched manufacturer cried for help, we appeared on the scene, and our customers are getting the benefit to the tune of TWO FOR-ONE.

F. & A. SMALL & CO. CONQUEST—This big Montreal strike of a few weeks ago started the liveliest boom of the mid-winter season. It, too, was a close Half-Price deal and gave Clothing buyers an appetite for cheap snaps that only the Gough's could satisfy.

TRADE AT EITHER OF OUR STORES.

Buyers who patronize Gough Bros. at their Big Store on George street or their Oak Hall store, can always rely on their interest being well looked after. Our grasp on the markets and our big syndicate of stores enables us to handle stocks that smaller dealers never get their eyes on.

TOO GOOD HEARTED.

Mr. Lem Felcher Loses $100 Through Being Too Obliging.

A few weeks ago two carloads of horses passing through on the C.P.R. for Boston from the west, were laid off here in order that they might be fed and watered.

The owner stating that he had made no provision for purchasing hay, oats, etc., for the horses, explained his dilemma to Mr. Lem Felcher, with whom he was formerly acquainted. Lem went down into his pocket and lent the man $100. He received in return two drafts on a Boston firm for $25 and $75 respectively.

A few days afterwards the drafts which were sent to Boston for collection were returned with the information that the firm on which they were drawn had no existence.

Mr. Felcher has ascertained the number of the cars in which the horses were shipped and the name of the consignee and he proposes to make a big effort to square things with the man who has treated him so generously after being helped out of a difficulty.

Junior League Work Discussed—What is to be Taught—The Newly Elected Officers—Rev. J. S. I Wilson, the President.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Most of the afternoon was devoted to Junior League work. The 5th Vice-President, Mrs. J. R. Real, conducted the proceedings. The first paper was read by Miss Werry, Tyrone, on the "Qualifications, Duties and Opportunities of a Junior League Superintendent." Miss Werry presented a splendid paper, which was well received by the large audience. "Has the League a place of worth in connection with our church? Many speak of the home as the proper place for the child to be trained. Others state that the Sunday school is the place. But here we find they are instructed what to do, while some one does the work for them. In the Junior League they do the work themselves. The successful superintendent must be energetic, persevering, full of push and courage. In the second place there must be tact used. 3rd. "Good Principle," engage in your work trusting in the Lord for success."

Miss L. W. Brooking, of Cobourg, gave a most valuable paper on "What shall we teach in the Junior League?" This was one of the many helpful suggestive addresses given during the convention. We would be glad to have them printed in full for future reference.

Mrs. Jordan, of Fenelon Falls, had been selected to give a paper on "The Necessity and Value of Junior League Work." Mrs. Brown, of Peterborough, read the paper in the absence of Mrs. Jordan. We should aim directly after the conversion of the children. The paper was inspiring.

How to teach the juniors to testify without making a false profession was interestingly presented by Miss Minnie Lloyd, of Belleville. There are three classes of influences the child will meet. (a) Home. (b On the playground. (c) Other companions. Nothing should ever be said in the home that will give the child false ideas of integrity

Before this paper had been given, the boys and girls from the different schools had taken their places in the church and were for thirty minutes addressed by Rev. S. T. Bartlett. All were delighted with the address.

EVENING SESSION.

After the opening services the newly-elected officers were announced as follows:

President—Rev S T Bartlett.
1st Vice President—Rev J S I Wilson.
2nd " —Mrs (Rev) J R Real.
3rd " —Miss Lasier.
4th " —Dr Totten.
5th " —Miss Lambly.
Secretary—Rev J G Lewis.
Treasurer—Miss Might.
Representative to General Conference—Rev D M McCamus.

Short addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Bartlett and Mrs. Real.

Rev. P. Berry, of Toronto, brought before our notice the Forward Missionary movement, and urged increased earnestness and liberality on the part of Leaguers of the Conference. The object is three-fold: 1 To study. 2 To pray. 3 To pay.

Following this was an energetic address by Rev. C. W. Watch, Brighton. Subject, "The League as a means of Educating the Social Emotions." If the Epworth Leaguer fails to be sociable he fails to receive great blessings he might otherwise have.

"Social Mission of Christianity" was well dealt with in a paper given by Mr. M. B. Jamieson, Belleville.

The subject of "Social Amusements" was discussed by G. E. Deroche, Deseronto. It was an interesting address, but regret was expressed that no time for public discussion could be allowed.

A number of resolutions were passed—one thanking the friends of Peterborough for their kindness and hospitality to the speakers and others taking part in the convention, and a second resolution thanking the members of the Executive for the efficient way in which they arranged for the convention.

A resolution on temperance pledging the members of the convention to continue an increased interest in this great work was passed.

The convention proved a most enjoyable and inspiring one.

The singing of Miss Hendren and the Rines Bros. added much to the enjoyment of the meetings.

ROMANCE NIPPED IN THE BUD.

A Runaway Couple from Fenelon Falls Succeed in Getting as far as Little Britain.

On Monday last a man and woman sought shelter at Mr. Joseph Jenkins' hospitable temperance hotel at Little Britain, Victoria County, and representing to be a married couple, were assigned a room. Next morning the man enquired the whereabouts of a certain farmer, whom he wished to see, and procuring a horse and cutter he started off. A few hours later another man drove up to the hotel in haste, he quired for the first-comer and was told where he had gone, the informant adding "his wife is upstairs, if you would like to leave a message." "Wife!" ejaculated the newcomer, and then continued in bloodcurdling tones—"if he has married her I'll—" The remainder of the sentence was not heard by the by-standers, as the excited young man lashed his horse and headed up the road in the direction taken by—we will call him Smith. An hour later pursuer and pursued returned together, the latter seeming to be in considerable fear of his companion who kept one hand in his pocket as if fondling a weapon. The pair set out for Lindsay without holding any communications with the lady upstairs, who was later on informed of the peculiar condition of affairs by Proprietor Jenkins, coupled with a polite hint that an explanation should be forthcoming. She refused to offer any, however, but left next day, purchasing a ticket for Rochester. We understand that her companion is betrothed to a young lady in Fenelon Falls, but was on the point of skipping out with the fair Yankee when collared by his fiancee's big brother.—Lindsay Post.
